ON THE

ADMINISTRATION OF MYSORE

FOR THE YEARS

1881–82 TO 1885–86.

PART I.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

This Report deals with the Administration of the Mysore State by His Highness the Maharaja SRI CHAMARAJENDRA WODAYAR Bahadur, K. C. C. S. I., during the 5 years from 1881–82 to 1885–86 inclusive.

2. Form of Administration.—The administration during the period under report has been conducted upon the same principles as those followed by the British Government prior to the Rendition. At the head of the Executive Administration is the Dewan. The Council of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore which was constituted by His Highness' Proclamation, dated 25th March 1881, consists of the Dewan for the time being as Ex-officio President and 3 Members. It is the duty of the Council to submit for His Highness' consideration their opinions on all questions relating to legislation and taxation and all other important measures connected with the administration of the State. The various Departments maintained for the transaction of business have been nearly the same under Native rule as under the British Administration of the State. The Chief Court of Mysore, however, which up to the 28th May 1884 had been presided over by one Judge, was on that date constituted into a Court of 3 Judges. Towards the close of the period under report, new offices of "Inspector General of Forests and Plantations", "Inspector General of Police" and "Director of Statistics and Agriculture" were created as the work relating to them required the special care and attention of a separate officer. A new Department for Archæological Research was also created towards the close of the period under review.

3. One peculiar institution connected with the administration of Mysore and introduced under Native rule is an Assembly which consists of representatives from the Local and Municipal Boards and of important land-holders, ryots and merchants in the Province. The Assembly meets at Mysore during the Dasara festivities and the Dewan in a speech places before it the results of the previous year's administration and a programme of proposed measures. The representatives state the requirements of the several Districts with their suggestions and these are discussed. The representatives have evinced a lively interest in these discussions and their suggestions have been characterized by practical good sense.

4. Changes in the Administration.—Mr. C. Rangacharlu, C. I. E., the first Dewan of Mysore after the Rendition, died on 20th January 1883 after having been at the head of the Administration for nearly two years. Mr. K. Sheshadri Iyer, B. A., B. L., was appointed Dewan of the State on 12th February 1883, and he has since been appointed by Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India to be a COMPANION OF THE MOST EXALTED ORDER OF THE STAR OF INDIA.

5. Foreign Relations.—His Highness the Maharaja has political relations only with the British Government. These relations and the conditions which have to be observed by His Highness in the administration of the State are contained in the document known as the Instrument of Transfer by which the Administration of the Province was transferred to His Highness on the 25th March 1881.

6. On 24th March 1884, Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India was graciously pleased to appoint His Highness the Maharaja a KNIGHT GRAND COMMANDER OF THE MOST EXALTED ORDER OF THE STAR OF INDIA.

7. Civil Divisions of Territory.—Previous to the Rendition, the Province had been divided for administrative purposes into 8 Districts and 69 Taluks. In 1882, a thorough revision of the territorial divisions of the State was carried out. The number of Taluks was reduced to 60, while 17 Sub-Taluks with smaller areas were created and placed under Deputy Amildars. The two Districts of Hassan and Chitaldroog were abolished; while at the same time, 3 new Sub-Divisions were created and placed under the charge of Assistant Commissioners. Thus at the close of the period under report there were 6 Districts and 3 Sub-Divisions as named on the margin, 60 Taluks and 17 Sub-Taluks.

1. Bangalore.
2. Kolar.
3. Tumkur (with the Chitaldroog Sub-Division).
4. Mysore (with the French Rocks Sub-Division).
5. Shimoga.
6. Kadur (with the Hassan Sub-Division).

8. Topographical Survey.—The Topographical survey of the Province which had been commenced in 1875—76 by officers of the Survey of India was near completion at the close of the period under report. The survey was made on the scale of 1 inch to the mile except in the case of State forests which were surveyed on the scale of 4 inches to the mile. Seventy standard sheets exhibiting the results of the survey of the Province were mapped and submitted to Government. The topography of the Town of Mysore and of the Town and the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore was completed and maps were drawn and submitted to Government. The total cost of the Department from 1875—76 up to the end of the period under report amounted to Rs. 8,75,260.

9. Revenue Survey and Settlement.—The office of the Survey and Settlement Commissioner was abolished on the 1st April 1881 and the Department placed under the control of Colonel J. P. Grant, Superintendent of Revenue Survey. A few Native officers selected from among the Amildars of the Province have, after a period of probation, been drafted into the Department to take the places of some of the European officers whose services were dispensed with. There are 5 such Native officers and 1 Probationer now in the Department and their work is reported as being very satisfactory.

10. The extent of land surveyed by the Measuring establishments was 537,355 acres in 1881, 746,176 acres in 1882, 532,086 acres in 1883, 584,955 acres in 1884 and 691,163 acres in 1885. One Measuring establishment was during the years 1883 and 1884 engaged in re-surveying the coffee lands in the Province under the new system of settlement of such lands. Considering the number of establishments at work and the number of days lost owing to sickness and other causes the quantity of measurement work got through during the period under report was very satisfactory. The mean average difference between test and original work was 28—40 of an acre in 1881, 27—40 of an acre in 1882, 28—40 of an acre in 1883, 29—40 of an acre in 1884 and 32—40 of an acre in 1885. All villages in which there were large errors were re-measured. The test work was got through by Native Surveyors, a percentage of whose work again was tested by European Officers.

11. The extent of classification work got through by the Department was 637,571 acres in 1881, 609,853 acres in 1882, 1,084,588 acres in 1883, 734,843 acres in 1884 and 731,252 acres in 1885. In 1883—84, the number of classing establishments was increased from 3 to 4 as the work of measurement was found to be considerably in advance of that of classification. The mean difference between test and original classification work was 4 pies in the years 1881, 1882, 1883 and 1884 and 3 pies in 1885.

12. From the commencement of Survey operations in 1863—64 up to the 31st March 1886, 17,057,020 acres have been measured and 15,215,011 acres have been classified. The cost of the Department was Rs. 2,29,849, Rs. 2,38,131,

Rs. 2,40,050, Rs. 2,44,792 and Rs. 2,35,078, respectively, in the years 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884 and 1885.

13. During the period under report the Survey settlement was introduced into the following Taluks :—

| 1881. | 1882. |
|---|---|
| Dodballapur.Mudgere.Hassan (part).Kunigal. | Manjarabad.Hassan.Kadur. |
| 1883. | 1884. |
| The late Arkalgud Taluk, excepting the portion transferred to Yedatore Taluk.The old Narsipur Taluk.Chikballapur. | Heggaddevankote.Hunsur.Yedatore (portion of Arkalgud). |
| 1885. | |
| Channaraypatna.Yedatore.Bagepalli. | Sidlaghatta.Late Devanhalli (portion transferred to settled Taluks). |

14. Survey and settlement operations are now in progress in the Bangalore, Mysore and Kolar Districts, and it is believed that they will be brought to a close about the year 1890.

15. Inam Settlement.—The settlement work of the Inam Department was completed in the year 1879—80, but a small office establishment is still entertained at Head-Quarters under the Superintendent of Revenue Survey as Inam Superintendent for the preparation and issue of final title-deeds and quit-rent registers and for otherwise winding up the business of the Department. Meanwhile any errors or discrepancies in the settlement effected that may be brought to light are examined and rectified, and any cases of inams that may be newly discovered are investigated and disposed of.

16. On the 2nd September 1881, His Highness Government passed an order to the effect that for the calculation of the quit-rent and the local cesses on inam and kayamgutta villages, such villages should be valued at the survey assessment on the lands under cultivation with 25 per cent of the assessment on the arable waste on account of prospective improvements together with a reasonable pasture rent on the unarable waste. Under these orders, the valuation of certain villages which had formerly been made at the full assessment of the whole culturable area had to be revised. Such a revision was made during the period under report in regard to 407 whole villages, with the net result that the combined quit-rent on them has been enhanced on the whole by Rs. 373. There still remain 1,688 villages for similar valuation and settlement.

17. During the 3 years from 1881—82 to 1883—84, 7,971 final title-deeds in the case of minor inams had been issued, but towards the close of 1883—84 the question of charging for the excess found in such inams was re-opened and the further grant of title-deeds was suspended, pending the decision of His Highness' Government on the point. Orders on the subject having since been passed, the issue of title-deeds will now be proceeded with as rapidly as possible. 29,741 printed quit-rent registers were compared with their originals at the head office at Bangalore and despatched to the Districts concerned during the 5 years ending 31st March 1886. 949 new cases of land inams, bearing an assessment of Rs. 156—9—0, were disposed of during the same period and a quit-rent of Rs. 271—12—5 was imposed on them. 57 inams were settled as cash payments amounting to Rs. 860—15—0; but they are commutable into land inams at the Survey settlement. 25 kayamgutta villages were revised during the period, 16 being confirmed, 8 resumed and 1 struck off.

There were resumptions in 49 cases, 37 being due to non-existence of temples and non-rendering of services therein, and the rest to the inams having been proved invalid. 66 cases of cash payments disposed of under the Muzrayi Rules were revised. Of these, 51 cases were confirmed and 15 resumed.

18. The additional permanent revenue derived from the operations of the Department during the years under review amounted, in all, to Rs. 4,821—2—5. The aggregate cost of the Department from the commencement of operations in 1868 up to the close of the period under report was Rs. 9,96,411 and the total addition to the revenue during the same period was Rs. 8,59,139, or 81 per cent of the total cost.

19. Legislature.—The laws and rules which were extended to Mysore during the British Administration, have been enumerated in the schedule attached to the Instrument of Transfer. Rules for the interpretation of these laws under the altered circumstances of the Province, consequent upon the transfer of the State to Native rule, were laid down in Notification No. 153, dated 2nd September 1881, and amended by Notification No. 92, dated 31st July 1885. A careful examination of all the Acts in force is being made so as to render their language strictly applicable to the present circumstances of the State.

20. The following Regulations were passed by His Highness during the period under report :—

(1). Regulation I of 1883, (The Mysore Civil Courts' Regulation).
(2). Regulation I of 1884, (The Mysore Chief Court Regulation).
(3). Regulation II of 1884, (Extending Act XIV of 1882, the new Code of Civil Procedure).
(4). Regulation III of 1884, (The Mysore Legal Practitioners' Regulation).
(5). Regulation I of 1885, (The Yelandur Jahagir Regulation).
(6). Regulation II of 1885, (Extending Act XVI of 1863, relating to the levy of the excise duty payable on spirits used in arts and manufactures or in Chemistry).
(7). Regulation III of 1885, (Extending the Excise Act XXII of 1881 as amended by Act VI of 1885).
(8). Regulation I of 1886. (Extending Act X of 1882, the new Code of Criminal Procedure).

21. Two important drafts (1) the Mysore Local Boards Regulation and (2) the Mysore Land Revenue Code have been prepared by the Durbar and forwarded for the consideration of the Government of India. Several other drafts of Regulations have been prepared for the improvement of the existing law in force in the State and are under consideration.

22. Police.—The control of the Police in Mysore which was vested in the executive head of the Government till recently, was transferred in 1885 to a separate officer under the designation of Inspector General of Police. About the same time the offices of Police Assistant Commissioners which had been abolished in the reduction of establishments consequent on the Famine were revived. The present strength of the Police Force exclusive of the Police of the important towns of Mysore and Bangalore is 651 officers and 3,619 constables. This gives a proportion of one Policeman to 6·3 square miles of area and 1,006·9 souls of population of the Province. The strength of the Police of the Towns of Bangalore and Mysore is 63 officers and 783 men. The total annual cost of the Police borne by the Provincial revenues is Rs. 4,78,057, or one anna per head of the population. The annual charges of the Mysore Town Police amount to Rs. 25,881, or 7 annas per head of its population.

23. Policemen are instructed in the Head-Quarter Police School at Bangalore and in 3 minor schools at Shimoga, Hassan and Chikmagalur in the rules of criminal law and procedure, in drill and in musketry. The number annually educated in these schools is about 15 officers and 200 men. About 450 officers and 1,400 constables in the whole force are able to read and write.

24. The cognizable offences, both true and false, reported to the Police numbered 5,863 in 1881, 6,994 in 1882, 5,834 in 1883, 6,000 in 1884 and 6,795 in 1885. The number of the more serious offences against person ranged from 228 to 396 and those against property from 885 to 1,028. Out of the total number of cases reported, false cases which the Police refused to investigate and cases reported to and declared by the Magistracy as false, were 2,007, 3,109, 2,465, 2,358 and 2,719 in 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884 and 1885 respectively. The numbers of cases resulting in conviction were 1,895, 2,066, 1,629, 1,813 and 2,042 in the years embraced in this Report. These, when compared with the total number of cases reported and pending, showed percentages between 23 and 28 and, when compared with the number of true cases investigated, showed percentages ranging from 73 to 79. The number of persons sentenced ranged from 2,452 to 3,460 being in the proportion of 49 to 61 per cent of the total number of persons arrested. In regard to non-cognizable offences, the Police were employed by order of the Magistracy in cases ranging from 281 to 544, and a fair percentage (about 40 per cent) of convictions was obtained in them.

25. During the past five years, 365 persons in all or an annual average of 73 persons were arrested by the Police in their preventive capacity for bad livelihood, of whom 207 persons or an average of 41 per year were convicted.

26. During the period under report some desparate dacoit gangs, residing beyond the Mysore Frontier, which had, for a number of years before and after the Rendition, been committing serious depredations in this Province, were broken up and the majority of their members brought to justice. The entrance of similar gangs into Mysore has been to a large extent barred by the establishment, wherever practicable, of Police outposts for the protection of ghats and passes and for watching the movements of foreign predatory gangs. Village patrols and village night watches have been reduced to system. The subordinate ranks in the Police Force are being gradually strengthened and efforts are being made for ensuring more satisfactory detection by securing better and more disciplined material.

27. Criminal Justice.—The Chief Court of Mysore was re-constituted on 28th May 1884, so as to admit of the appointment of three Judges. This is the highest Court of appeal and its decisions are final. The District and Sessions Court of the Nundydroog Division was abolished on 28th May 1884 and its jurisdiction transferred to the Chief Court. The number of Criminal Courts subordinate to the Chief Court was 125 in 1881, 132 in 1882, 129 in 1883, and 124 in 1884 and 1885. Munsiffs in Mysore, in addition to their civil duties, exercise Magisterial powers ordinarily of the 2nd class. There were 15 such Magistrates in 1885.

28. The total number of offences of all classes reported was 11,418 in 1881, 13,466 in 1882, 12,022 in 1883, 12,665 in 1884 and 11,949 in 1885. Of the various classes of offences reported those affecting the human body were largest in number and those affecting property next in order. The number of offences returned as true was about 75 per cent of the number reported. Cases varying in number from 9,030 to 10,790 were brought to trial before the Magistrates. The number of persons involved in these cases ranged from 18,059 to 21,702. Of these 10,327 to 13,914 persons were discharged or acquitted and 6,006 to 7,940 convicted. 11 European British subjects were brought to trial in 1881, 10 in 1882, 8 in 1883, and 6 in 1885. Of these 6, 6, 5 and 3 persons respectively were convicted.

29. In the Sessions Courts 399, 328, 260, 189 and 167 persons were brought to trial in the years 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884 and 1885 respectively, and of these 236, 193, 109, 80 and 74 persons were convicted. The small figures for 1884 and 1885 are due to the abolition of the Sessions Court of the Nundydroog Division and the transfer of its jurisdiction to the Chief Court. Sentences of death were passed upon 19, 15, 14, 9 and 8 persons respectively in the years 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884 and 1885; those sentenced to transportation numbered 22, 14, 13, 9 and 3 respectively; rigorous imprisonment was inflicted upon 1,438, 1,563, 1,149, 1,451 and 1,579 persons and simple imprisonment upon 178, 192, 131, 148 and 270 persons. Fines were imposed upon persons varying in number from 4,959 to 6,573. Whipping was inflicted upon 174, 163, 116, 139 and 120 persons during the years under report.

30. The total number of criminal appeals heard by Magistrates of all classes was 373, 463, 626, 585 and 990 in the 5 years under report. Of these the sentences appealed against were confirmed in 177, 220, 242, 272 and 454 cases. The Sessions Judges tried 166, 183, 322, 168 and 180 cases, and in 84, 116, 119, 91 and 135 cases they confirmed the sentences of the lower Courts.

31. The Chief Court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction tried 32 sessions cases involving 108 persons in 1884 and 46 cases involving 69 persons in 1885. Of the 177 persons tried, 72 were convicted. Sentences of death were passed upon 9 persons, of transportation on 27 and of imprisonment on 36.

32. In the Chief Court 5 appeals against orders of acquittal were preferred by Government during the period under review. The Court set aside the order of acquittal in 3 of these cases and convicted and sentenced the persons concerned in them. The total number of appeals disposed of by the Chief Court was 89, involving 153 persons in 1881, 81 with 105 persons in 1882, 52 with 72 persons in 1883, 91 with 132 persons in 1884 and 113 with 218 persons in 1885. The number of persons in whose cases the sentences of the lower Courts were confirmed (including appeals rejected) was 117, 75, 41, 84 and 132 respectively in 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884 and 1885. As a Court of Revision the Chief Court dealt with 174 cases in 1881, 219 in 1882, 254 in 1883, 230 in 1884 and 301 in 1885. The persons involved in these cases numbered 310, 417, 445, 355 and 540. The sentences of the lower Courts were not interfered with in regard to 128, 248, 205, 211 and 368 persons.

33. Prisons.—There were 9 prisons in the Province at the Rendition, but soon after the revision of Districts and Taluks in 1882—83 the number was reduced to 3. Rules were framed at the same time specifying the Prisons to which persons sentenced by the several Criminal Courts in the Province should be sent for incarceration. Besides the large Prisons there are Lock-ups at the Head-quarter Stations of Districts, Taluks and Sub-Taluks.

34. The number of prisoners (convicts, under trial and civil) that remained in the Prisons at the close of each of the 5 years under report was 1,772 in 1881, 1,558 in 1882, 1,309 in 1883, 1,136 in 1884 and 1,166 in 1885. The number of convicts received in the Prisons which steadily decreased from 8,509 in 1880 to 4,760 in 1883 rose to 5,614 in 1884 and 6,719 in 1885, owing probably to the bad agricultural prospects of those years. The percentage of persons released as compared with the total number of under trial prisoners disposed of was 52·7 in 1881, 57·4 in 1882, 57·6 in 1883, 56·1 in 1884 and 57·5 in 1885.

35. The total number of female convicts in the Prisons declined from 395 in 1880 to 247 in 1885; the total number of male convicts too declined by so much as 45 per cent during the period under report although during the last two years it showed a tendency to increase. 15 convicts escaped from Prison during the period under report, and of these 6 were captured. The number of persons executed for the offence of murder was 13 in 1881. It is however satisfactory to note that the number has since then fallen off, being between 5 and 7 in the following years. In 1882, the practice of sending to the Andamans prisoners sentenced to transportation by the Courts in Mysore was stopped owing to the heavy cost of their up-keep in the penal settlement. Such prisoners are now kept in the Central Jail at Bangalore. The greater number of Mysore convicts in the Andamans were brought back to Mysore and incarcerated in the Central Jail, Bangalore. The number of recommittals of prisoners fell from 177 in 1881 to 158 in 1885. The juveniles recommitted numbered 9, 9, 4, 7 and 10 in the years under report. The number of offences committed by convicts while in Prison decreased considerably except in the year 1884, when there was a rising in the Central Jail at Bangalore of the life convicts who had been brought back from the Andamans and who demanded to be released basing their claims upon some indistinct promise alleged to have been held out to them before they left the penal settlement. The rising was put down with a strong hand and there has been no repetition of such bad conduct since then.

36. The mark system by which prisoners sentenced to long periods of imprisonment earn a remission of their sentence and small money gratuities for good conduct in jail has been in force in the State since 1879. The number of persons who obtained remissions of terms of imprisonment was 51 in 1881, 43 in 1882, 29 in 1883, 32 in 1884 and 33 in 1885, while the number of those who obtained money gratuities in those years was 46, 83, 77, 85 and 34. The longest remission of sentence gained by any one convict during the 5 years under report was 351 days and the highest gratuity earned Rs. 5.

37. The general health of the prisoners during the 5 years under report was on the whole good. In the years 1883 and 1884, however, there was some increase in sickness and mortality, chiefly in the Shimoga Jail, owing to the prevalence of fever and bronchial complaints.

38. Civil Justice.—For the administration of Civil Justice there were in the Province at the time of the Rendition the Chief Judge's Court, 3 District Judge's Courts, 1 Court of Small Causes at Bangalore, 8 Sub-Judge's Courts and 22 Munsiff's Courts. The Court of Small Causes at Bangalore was abolished on the 16th May 1881 and on the 28th May 1884 the District Court of the Nundydroog Division was abolished and its jurisdiction transferred to the Chief Court of 3 Judges which was formed on that date. Most of the Subordinate Judge's Courts were abolished and the number of Munsiff's Courts reduced so remained 1 Sub-Judge's Court and 18 Munsiff's Courts at the close of the period under report.

39. The number of civil suits filed in the different classes of courts subordinate to the Chief Court was 14,596 in 1881, 14,557 in 1882, 14,535 in 1883, 14,418 in 1884 and 14,616 in 1885. In the year 1883 the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Munsiff's Courts was raised from Rs. 500 to Rs. 1,000 and the files of those courts rose accordingly. From the same year the file in the Subordinate Judge's Courts began to go down and that of the District Courts rose in consequence of the abolition of many Subordinate Judge's Courts and the transfer of their work to District Courts.

40. About 85 per cent of the total number of suits were for money or movable property, and more than 60 per cent was based upon contracts relating to money or movable property.

41. Out of the total number of 14,500 suits no less than 13,000 were of value below Rs. 500, 10,000 below Rs. 100 and 7,000 below Rs. 50. Out of the total number of cases for disposal inclusive of the cases pending at the commencement of each year 14,351, 14,411, 14,085, 13,969 and 14,885 cases were disposed of in the year under review. Of these 88 per cent on an average were adjudicated upon by Munsiffs, more than 11 per cent by Subordinate Judges and less than 1 per cent by District Judges. Between 30 and 35 per cent of the cases disposed of were contested. The cost of litigation in regard to original suits was on an average Rs. 18 per suit. The total number of miscellaneous cases disposed of was 5,211 in 1881, 5,635 in 1882, 6,078 in 1883, 5,991 in 1884 and 6,924 in 1885. Applications for execution of decrees ranged from 16,000 and 17,000 and the number disposed of was about 15,000 each year.

42. There were 935, 1,106, 1,056, 675 and 735 appeals for disposal during the 5 years under report in the Subordinate Judge's and District Courts, of which 866, 1,005, 936, 496 and 555 were disposed of. Over 90 per cent of the number of appeals were contested and the rest uncontested. In about 40 per cent of the number of appeals decided, the decisions of the lower courts were interfered with. The average cost of each appeal to parties was a little over Rs. 30.

43. The number of miscellaneous appeals disposed of by Courts subordinate to the Chief Court was 81 in 1881, 95 in 1882, 79 in 1883, 39 in 1884 and 38 in 1885.

44. On the original side of the Chief Court there were 16 suits for disposal in 1884 and 11 in 1885. Of these the Court disposed of 12 and 7 cases respectively in those years. Regular appeals for disposal in the Chief Court were 5 in 1881, 10 in 1882, 14 in 1883, 249 in 1884 and 408 in 1885, and the number disposed of was 5, 7, 8, 199 and 325 respectively during those years. The large increase in the years 1884 and 1885 is due to the Chief Court taking up the work of the District Judge's Court at Bangalore from the 28th May 1884. The large majority of the appeals disposed of were contested. In only 20 per cent of the appeals disposed of was the decision of the lower courts reversed.

45. The number of second appeals for disposal during the 5 years under report was 148, 212, 222, 175 and 156 respectively, of which 118, 185, 186, 153 and 129 were disposed of. The largest number of appeals came from the Mysore District where litigation prevails to a greater extent than in the other Districts of the Province. Of the number of second appeals preferred to the Court 20 in 1884 and 47 in 1885 were filed under Clause D of Section 584 of the Code of Civil Procedure as extended to Mysore by Regulation No. II of 1884, which allows second appeals on a material question of fact when the lower appellate Court differs from the Court of first instance. The number of miscellaneous appeals disposed of by the Chief Court on the appellate side was 13 in 1881, 22 in 1882, 38 in 1883, 37 in 1884 and 55 in 1885.

46. Registration.—The Registration Districts and Sub-Districts in the State were revised in 1882—83 so that they might accord with the territorial changes made in that year. The number of Registration Districts was fixed at 9 and the number of Sub-Districts at 77, 56 being placed under Amildars, 16 under Deputy Amildars and 5 under Special Sub-Registrars. The number of registrations of all classes steadily increased from 16,815 in 1881—82 to 20,945 in 1885—86. The number of optional registrations relating to immovable property steadily increased during the period showing that the people appreciate the security afforded by the Department. More than half the number of such registrations related to immovable property of and below the value of Rs. 50 and the large increase in them (from 3,842 in 1881—82 to 4,883 in 1885—86) is due to the reduction of the registration fee in those cases from Re. 1 to annas 8 in 1878—79. The aggregate value of property transferred annually by registered documents was about 50 lakhs in the case of immovable property. In 1881—82 however the value of immovable property transferred reached the high figure of 88 lakhs owing to the registration in that year of a large number of conveyances relating to Gold Mining lands in Kolar and of several documents affecting coffee lands assigned or mortgaged for large sums. The average fee for each registered document decreased from Rs. 3—11—9 to Rs. 2—12—1 in the case of documents registered compulsorily and from Rs. 0—14—5 to Rs. 0—12—9 in the case of those registered optionally. The penalties recovered by the Department for late presentation of documents and delay in the appearance of executants ranged from Rs. 949 to Rs. 1,283. It is satisfactory to note that more than 90 per cent of the number of documents registered were registered within 2 days from the date of presentation.

47. The Department has been yielding a surplus of about Rs. 20,000 annually, the large surplus of Rs. 26,907 in 1881—82 being an exceptional one owing to the extensive transfer of Gold Mining lands in that year.

48. The number of Joint Stock Companies that were in existence during the period under report was 70 in 1881—82, 72 in 1882—83, 61 in 1883—84, 68 in 1884—85 and 92 in 1885—86. Of the 92 Companies which were in existence at the close of the year 1885—86, 65 were working Companies with a nominal capital of Rs. 24,64,500, 7 with a nominal capital of Rs. 2,60,000 were not working and 20 with a nominal capital of Rs. 13,20,000 were in course of liquidation either voluntarily or under orders of the Court.

49. Of the 65 Companies that were working 56 were Banking or Loan Companies with a nominal capital of Rs. 22,69,500 and paid up capital of Rs. 5,81,469, 5 were Banking and Insurance Companies with a nominal capital of Rs. 85,000 and paid up capital of Rs. 41,701 and the remaining 4 were Trading Companies with a nominal capital of Rs. 1,10,000, and paid up capital of Rs. 36,475.

50. Municipal Administration.—The number of Municipalities in working in the year 1881—82 was 83 against 84 in the previous year, the Municipality of the Cantonment of Bangalore having been transferred to the jurisdiction of the Resident at the Rendition. At the close of the period under report there were 93 Municipalities. In 48 of the above Municipalities in 1885—86, there were Boards consisting of ex-officio and non-official members nominated under the orders of the Government. The Bangalore Municipal Board was governed by the Municipal Regulation of 1871 as amended by the Government Notification No. 108, dated 6th April 1883, its executive charge being vested in the Vice President nominated by the Government. All the other Municipalities were worked under orders of the District and Sub-Division Officers subject to the general control of the Government. According to the Census estimate of 1881, the population within Municipal limits in 1885—86 consisted of 438,569 persons.

51. The income of the Municipalities from all sources amounted to Rs. 4,70,105 in 1881—82, Rs. 4,81,131 in 1882—83, Rs. 5,17,934 in 1883—84, Rs. 5,56,406 in 1884—85 and Rs. 5,84,704 in 1885—86, and the expenditure in those years Rs. 2,56,682, Rs. 2,61,544, Rs. 2,68,035, Rs. 2,94,412 and Rs. 3,08,595, leaving a balance of Rs. 2,76,109 at the close of the year 1885—86.

52. It having been found that the octroi duty, the levy of which is attended with much complication and annoyance, was not sufficiently productive in minor Municipalities, the Government in 1882 observed that it was better for all the Municipalities excepting those at Provincial head-quarters to dispense with the octroi and to look to a fair house tax and to the growth of a proper Municipal spirit for conservancy and other town improvements. In 1885 therefore the duty was altogether abolished in all minor Municipalities and retained in large towns on a few productive articles only.

53. In 1883—84 the Bangalore City Municipality was relieved of the cost of its Police and was made to bear the more appropriate charges connected with medical and other local charities and Educational grants-in-aid.

54. In the same year the Municipality established a school of its own in the Town of Bangalore. Under the recent orders of Government, English education entirely at Government cost is confined to the Head-quarters of Districts and their Sub-Divisions except French-Rocks. The charge on account of the classes for English instruction established at Taluk head-quarters is borne by the Government and the Municipalities in the proportion of one-fourth and three-fourths respectively, the revenue from fees in these classes being entirely credited to Municipal Funds. These institutions are subject to the direction and inspection of the Educational officers of the State.

55. Since 1881—82, medical aid was gradually extended to several Municipalities so that there were 37 Dispensaries in Municipal Towns in 1885—86.

56. The conservancy and cleanliness of Municipal Towns was generally well attended to and the general health of the Municipal population was good throughout the period under report. A scheme for the better sanitation of the Fort of Mysore was sanctioned towards the latter part of the period under report and considerable improvements are in the course of progress in that Municipality.

57. Military.—The Mysore local force consisted till recently of 3 Regiments of Siladar Cavalry and 3 Regiments of Barr Infantry. The Cavalry Regiment used to be stationed at Bangalore, Mysore and Shimoga, furnishing detachments to the other Districts. In 1885, with the view of bringing the force as much as possible within the control of the Military Secretary for the purpose of inspection, drill and discipline, the 3 Regiments were formed into two and stationed at Bangalore and Mysore. The strength of the force at the close of the period under report was 1,171. A Regiment of Siladar Horse which was furnished by the Mysore Government for service at the British Camp of Exercise held at Krishnarajpuram in January 1884 acquitted itself very commendably. An establishment for the breeding of horses for the ranks is maintained at Kunigal, and from it 104 young horses were transferred to the ranks during the period under report.

58. The three Regiments of Mysore Infantry consist of 1,917 officers and men of all ranks. The Barr sepoys are largely used for guarding Treasuries, Jails, in escorting treasure, &c.

59. Agriculture.—The extent of land under cultivation which had fallen off greatly during the Famine, increased steadily during the years under report, excepting in the year 1884—85 when the rain-fall was very poor. In 1885—86, 4,882,140 acres of land were under cultivation. As a means of popularizing improved agriculture in the Province, His Highness' Government have made large grants of land near Bangalore to the extent of 2,685 acres to the Eurasian and Anglo-Indian Association on very favorable terms of tenure. The cultivation of silk, which had all but died out during the late Famine in consequence of the deterioration of the worm, has fortunately now revived of itself. Experiments are being made with the view of importing some specimens of wild silk-worm from Assam and elsewhere. With the view of improving agriculture in the Province, a European officer has recently been appointed Director of Agriculture and a number of young men who have gone through a course of professional study in the College at Saidapet near Madras have been appointed Agricultural Inspectors, one for each District. With the view of improving the breed of country sheep, the experiment of importing rams from Australia was tried, but it failed partly owing perhaps to difference of climate and the small scale in which the experiment was tried. Thirteen rams were ordered, of which 4 died on the way and the remainder a few months after arrival, leaving but one which is in good condition at Tumkur. Some interesting experiments in preparing ensilage which were made at Kunigal and Hunsur, were attended with success.

60. Horticulture.—The Lal-Bagh at Bangalore has, during the period under report, kept up its reputation as being the best pleasure garden and the chief centre of horticulture in Southern India. The experimental cultivation of foreign plants and their propagation has engaged much attention. Some of the most important species that were tried and found successful during the period under report were the Ceara rubber tree, India rubber, African rubber plant, the Arabian date palm, the Litchi, a superior variety of Loquat, the Maltese Fig Cactus, the Cochin China vine, the Amoy Pumelo, the Bamiah, Upland American, Fiji, Nankeen, South-sea island and Peruvian varieties of cotton, the Erythroxylon Coca, and the Swietenia Mahogany. Two fruit and flower Shows are held every year at the Lal-Bagh and the successful results obtained by the Lal-Bagh have tended to create among the people a taste for horticulture.

61. Weather and Crops.—The average rain-fall gauged in the Province was 23·49 inches in 1881—82, 42·23 in 1882—83, 43·62 in 1883—84, 30·33 in 1884—85 and 32·34 in 1885—86. In 1881 the rain-fall was very poor and the failure of the south-west monsoon gave room to apprehensions of distress, which however was happily averted by a good fall of rain in the latter part of the year. In 1882 and 1883, the rain-fall was very fair, but again in 1884 the south-west monsoon was a failure more or less throughout the greater part of the Districts of Tumkur, Chitaldroog, Bangalore, Kolar and Mysore, but the north-east monsoon proving favorable a harvest sufficient to avert immediate distress was secured. In 1885 again the unfavorable conditions of the first half of 1884 repeated themselves in a more aggravated form. The south-west monsoon began very well in May and continued to promise fair during that month and June. In July however it showed signs of failing and as the season advanced the drought became greater and more general and there was every sign that the Province was in a most critical condition and it was at one time thought necessary to organize measures for relief. At this crisis, however, plentiful showers fell all over the Province, dispelled all causes of anxiety to Government and rendered measures for relief of distress unnecessary.

62. Forests.—The management of the Forests in the Province which had vested in the Dewan was transferred in 1885—86 to a separate officer under the designation of Inspector General of Forests. Since 1880—81 an area of 159 square miles of new forest has been reserved and 135 square miles of forest added to the existing reserves. Deducting 13 square miles for rectification of boundaries the total area of Reserved forests was increased from 643 to 924 square miles during the period under report. There are also District or Unreserved forests in almost all the Districts, but their areas have not as yet been ascertained. It is under consideration to constitute some of these into Reserved forests. Good success was obtained in the protection of forest reserves from fire, so far as such protection was attempted. Plantation work progressed satisfactorily. The number of regular plantations increased from 33 to 55 and their area at the close of 1885—86 was 9,582 acres. Besides these there are Revenue Plantations under the management of Amildars of which the area has not been ascertained.

63. The total yield of the forests excepting wood fuel during the period under report was timber 735,687 cubic feet, bamboos 886,129 in number and sandalwood 9,799 tons. The sales from depôts aggregated 661,588 cubic feet of timber, 840,924 bamboos and 8,980 tons of sandalwood. It appears that timber sales would have been more favorable if the Department had not to contend with private depôts established all along the Tungabhadra which compete with Government by underselling their timber.

64. The revenue has increased in 5 years from Rs. 7,05,619 in 1881—82 to Rs. 8,83,098 in 1885—86 although the charges have been more or less the same. The average percentage of surplus on expenditure during the period under report was Rs. 213.

66. The total area of lands leased for gold mining purposes up to the close of the period under report is 67 square miles.

67. In the Kolar gold fields the Mysore Gold Mining Company is carrying on active operations, and has achieved considerable success. The royalty paid by that Company from the commencement of operations up to May 1886 amounted to Rs. 33,368, thus showing that gold of the value of Rs. 6,67,377 was extracted and shipped to England. Extensive Rock Drilling Machinery has been recently set up by the Company and there is every reason to hope that there will be an improvement in the yield of gold hereafter. The successful results achieved by the Mysore Gold Mining Company have induced other Companies to start work in the neighbourhood.

68. Public Works.—The total expenditure on Public Works under all heads incurred in the period under report, was Rs. 72,89,994. The grant from the revenues of the State which prior to 1883—84 varied from 7 to 9 lakhs, was fixed in that year at 9½ lakhs of rupees. In 1885, the grant was raised to 12 lakhs. The total outlay incurred from the State Funds amounted to Rs. 32,20,344: Rs. 18,44,784 were spent on original works and Rs. 13,75,560 on repairs. Among the original works constructed, were a new range of rifle butts at Hebbal, a Siladar Stables at Shimoga, 11 new Taluk Cutcherries, 2 new Dispensaries, and 3 new School houses. Rs. 2,18,184 were expended on the extension and improvement of irrigation channels and Rs. 4,30,030 on the restoration of irrigation tanks. A sum of Rs. 5,58,393 was spent upon the improvement of communications, chiefly in the malnad. Under "Miscellaneous Public Improvements" Rs. 1,52,823 were spent, the chief projects being the water-supply of the Bangalore and Mysore towns. Nearly ¾ths of a lakh of rupees were spent on improvements to His Highness the Maharaja's Palace at Bangalore. The repairs of buildings, communications, &c., cost in all Rs. 13,75,560. The total grant from District Funds during the period under review was Rs. 31,04,219, and the expenditure Rs. 27,90,691. Of this expenditure Rs. 5,64,000 were spent on original works, Rs. 17,39,000 on repairs and Rs. 4,86,000 on establishment. The total expenditure on irrigation works paid from the Irrigation Funds amounted to Rs. 11,73,152, of which Rs. 8,77,888 were spent on tanks and Rs. 2,95,624 on channels.

69. Railways.—The construction of the Railway between Bangalore and Mysore was commenced as a Famine Relief Work in 1877. A portion of the line (from Bangalore to Channapatna) was opened for traffic on 1st February 1881 and from Bangalore to Mandya (58 miles) on 20th March 1881. The whole line between Bangalore and Mysore was opened for passenger traffic on 25th February 1882 and proving the efficiency of the Local Postal Department and affording the rural population better facilities for communication. The Department was revised in 1882, and unnecessary cost reduced. The number of Anche offices rose from 180 in 1881—82 to 412 in 1885—86, the increase being due to the gradual extension of the system by which Hobli-School masters in important villages have been appointed Anche Mutsaddis with a small additional remuneration. These cheap offices rose from 30 in 1881—82 to 231 in 1885—86.

73. Owing to the increase in the number of Anche offices and the introduction of British quarter anna post cards, private correspondence sent through the post has largely increased. The total number of private communications rose from 1,231,516 in 1880—81 to 1,606,289 in 1885—86. While the number of registered letters more than doubled itself during the period under report owing to the reduction of the rate of registration fee from 4 to 2 annas as in British India, official correspondence which is carried by the Department free of charge has also considerably increased. The number of letters mis-sent by the Anche decreased from 533 in 1880—81 to 146 in 1885—86, and the number of complaints of loss of registered letters or of abstraction of their contents was very small, viz. 4, 8, 1, 2 and 0 in the years under report. There were 2 cases of robbery of mails in the period under report; in one case one of the accused persons was convicted and sentenced, in the other the culprits have not been found.

74. Revenue.—During the five years since the Rendition the annual revenue demand, exclusive of uncollected arrears, rose steadily year by year, notwithstanding that the years 1881—82, 1884—85 and 1885—86 were not favored with good rain-fall. Large remissions had to be granted during 1881—82 and 1882—83. These included considerable arrears for the Famine years (1876—78). The average revenue demand of the 5 years under report, exclusive of the receipts under Railway, was less than the demand for the year preceding the Famine by about three-fifths of a lakh. The land revenue demand which stood at 69 lakhs in 1880—81 gradually rose during the period under report as the effects of the disastrous Famine of 1876—78 began to wear away and stood at Rs. 77,96,000 in 1885—86. The extent of land under cultivation on money assessment gradually increased from 4,090,402 acres in 1881—82 to 4,825,025 acres in 1885—86. Garden cultivation has also shown a considerable increase. The halat duty on coffee was abolished in 1881—82 and an acreage assessment substituted. Batayi cultivation is as much as possible discouraged and is only allowed in exceptional cases. The revenue from the sale of sandalwood which forms the most important item of Forest revenue was over 5 lakhs in 1880—81, but it has since fallen, being 4¾ lakhs in 1885—86. The next important item of Forest receipts is the revenue from the sale of timber, and it has been improved by Government supplying fuel to the State Railway. Abkari has been the earliest to recover from the effects of the Famine, and forms a steadily increasing source of revenue. The demand under this head rose from Rs. 11,84,000 in 1881—82 to Rs. 13,83,000 in 1885—86. Mohatarfa which consists of a tax on the houses of non-agriculturists and on shops, looms and oil-mills, also gradually rose from 2½ lakhs to 3 lakhs during the period under report, showing a steady increase in the population. The only article now directly subject to the sayer duty is supari or arecanut. The present revenue demand under this head is Rs. 3,90,000, while the income prior to the Famine was so much as 6 lakhs. It will take considerable time before it attains the pre-famine figure as the trees which have replaced those that died during the drought would take more than 12 years to come to bearing. The revenue under salt is derived from the manufacture of earth-salt and is in the nature of a land tax and not an excise-duty. The manufacture has now greatly declined; it is prohibited within a radius of 5 miles of the British frontier in compliance with the wishes of the Government of India.

75. Finance.—On the assignment the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore to the British Government on the date of the Rendition, the administration of the tract was transferred to the Resident, but the collection of the revenues continued in the hands of the Durbar officials, and they were credited in His Highness' Treasury till the close of the official year 1883—84, when under instructions from the Government of India the collection was thenceforth directed to be made by British officers themselves and lodged in the Resident's Treasury. The surplus revenue up to the date of this transfer was permitted to be retained by Mysore, the same being thereafter treated as Imperial revenue. The British subsidy was at the time of the Rendition raised from 24½ to 35 lakhs, but its collection was deferred for the first 5 years on a consideration of the financial condition of the Province. In 1885 again the British Government was pleased to waive the increased subsidy for a further period of 10 years. The loan of 80 lakhs made by the British Government to Mysore to meet the expenditure of the Famine of 1876—78, has by means of the sinking fund allowed by the Government of India been now reduced to a little over 76 lakhs. By the arrangements made for the transfer of the State Railway to the Southern Mahratta Railway Company, the whole of this balance can be repaid, and the construction of the railway from Gubbi to Harihar provided for. In 1882, a loan of 20 lakhs at 5 per cent was raised in India by the Durbar for the construction of the Tumkur section of the State Railway. The amount raised has been wholly spent on the railway. The debentures sell at a premium.

The total revenue of the State rose from Rs. 1,06,82,000 in 1881—82 to Rs. 1,14,30,000 in 1885—86, but in the years 1882-83 and 1884-85, it fell to Rs. 1,03,48,000 and Rs. 1,00,70,000 respectively. The actual income from the land revenue rose from 71 lakhs in 1880—81 to 73¼ lakhs in 1885—86 exclusive of arrears. This is due to expansion of cultivation consequent upon a succession of fairly prosperous years. The improvement however received a serious check in 1881—82 and 1884—85 owing to partial drought. The land revenue now stands at 73 lakhs. Other items of revenue have also shown an increase to a small extent. Gold Mining forms a new and promising item of revenue

76. The total expenditure of the State which was Rs. 1,03,33,000 in 1881—82 was gradually brought down to Rs. 1,01,20,000 in 1885—86. The expenditure has been kept at as low a figure as possible and all surplus spent chiefly on the Railway. In 1885 when the prospect of the seasons was unfavorable and widespread distress was apprehended, the Public Works grant was raised from 9½ to 12 lakhs and this increased provision has since been kept up for expenditure on Irrigation Works. Retrenchments were made by a careful revision of almost all the Administrative Departments of the State and by reductions consequent on the abolition of 2

Districts and 9 Taluks. A Chief Court with 3 Judges was formed in 1884—85, but it did not entail additional expenditure owing to the abolition on the other hand of the District and Sessions Court of the Nundydroog Division and of some Sub-Judges' Courts.

77. The general financial results of the Administration during the quinquennial period under report may thus be summed up. Starting with a surplus of 24 lakhs on the 1st April 1881 about 23½ lakhs were added, being the surplus of current revenue which accrued during the whole period. The income from the open line of Railway during the 5 years amounted to 16 lakhs. Against this total revenue of 63 lakhs an expenditure of 51 lakhs was incurred on account of Railway construction and management, leaving thus a surplus of a little over 12 lakhs on 1st April 1886. The Railway loan of 20 lakhs of 1882 is not here taken into account either under receipts or expenditure.

78. Births and Deaths.—Offices for the registration of births and deaths are located at the Head-quarters of all the Taluks and Districts and in important towns and are under the management of Municipalities wherever they exist. The total number of births was greatest in the years 1882 and 1883 being 100,755 and 100,903 respectively, while in 1885 it was lowest being 90,591. The number of deaths steadily decreased year by year from 71,240 in 1881 to 62,531 in 1884, but in 1885 it increased to 65,112 owing to the prevalence of cholera. The number of deaths from cholera was greatest in 1885 and consisted of 1,503 males and 1,174 females. The disease is reported to have shown itself in 455 villages chiefly in the Mysore District. Small-pox appeared in an epidemic form in 1882 and carried off nearly 8,000 souls. The deaths from this disease greatly diminished during the last 2 years of the period under report.

79. Medical Relief.—At the close of the period under report there were 40 Medical Institutions, of which 2 were Hospitals of the first class, 6 Hospitals of the second class and 32 Dispensaries. The 2 first class Hospitals in the Province are the Maharaja's Hospital at Mysore and the Civil Hospital at Shimoga, and the 6 second class Hospitals are located at the head-quarters of the Districts of Bangalore, Kolar, Tumkur, Chitaldroog, Kadur and Hassan. Of the 32 Dispensaries 27 are located at head-quarters of Taluks and 5 at other important towns. These Dispensaries which were only 12 in 1880 have been gradually raised to 32 in 1885 with the view of bringing medical relief as near as possible to the homes of the people.

80. The number of in-patients treated in the Hospitals increased from 3,114 in 1881 to 3,284 in 1884: but in 1885 the number treated fell to 1,976 owing to the exclusion of the figures of the Bowring Civil Hospital in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, the management of which had remained in the hands of the Mysore Medical Department up to the close of 1884 and which was on that date transferred to the Resident in Mysore. The number of out-patients increased from 180,355 in 1881 to 236,398 in 1885. Surgical operations have, during the period under report, increased from 2,994 in 1881 to 4,456 in 1885. Very recently a new Hospital under the designation of St Marthas' Hospital was opened in Bangalore Town by the Roman Catholic Mission in a spacious building erected by them for the purpose. His Highness the Maharaja's Government aided this highly laudable work by granting the building site which was purchased from private proprietors for Rs. 5,000 and by sanctioning a grant of Rs. 200 a month from the Municipal Funds of the Town of Bangalore. The institution supplies a greatly felt want and though but recently opened has already become popular.

81. The Medical Department of the State was re-organized in May 1884. Local grades of Surgeons and Assistant Surgeons were established, to which graduates from the Madras and Bombay Universities have been appointed.

82. The number of Lunatics remaining in the Lunatic Asylum at Bangalore was 147 in 1881, 140 in 1882, 147 in 1883, 151 in 1884 and 158 in 1885. Nine criminal lunatics were sent to the Asylum during the period under report and 17 were left in the Asylum at the close of the year 1885. The number of admissions into the Leper Asylum at Bangalore was 12 in 1881, 13 in 1882, 8 in 1883, 16 in 1884 and 12 in 1885. The Maternity Hospital at Bangalore and Her Highness the Maharani Female Hospital at Mysore were both opened in 1880. The former was transferred to the management of the Bangalore Town Municipality in 1883. The number of in-patients treated has steadily increased during the period under report from 47 in 1881 to 114 in 1885 in the case of the Maternity and from 46 to 77 in the case of the Maharani Hospital. The number of out-patients has likewise increased from 1,944 in 1881 to 3,732 in 1885 in the Maternity Hospital and from 3,772 to 6,026 in the Maharani Hospital. The increasing number of patients treated during the period under report indicates of the growing popularity of these institutions.

83. Vaccination.—Vaccine operations in Mysore are carried on by Vaccinators appointed by Government except in the Towns of Bangalore and Mysore where the Municipalities provide the Vaccinators. The number of persons vaccinated by Government Vaccinators rose from 98,765 in 1881—82 to 101,053 in 1885—86 and likewise the number successful from 79,375 to 79,965. The number of persons successfully vaccinated per 1,000 of the population during the period under report was on an average 19·04. The number of persons vaccinated by the Municipal Vaccinators of Bangalore increased from 2,887 in 1881—82 to 4,162 in 1884—85; in the next year the number fell to 2,020 owing to the exclusion of the figures relating to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore. To ensure better supervision over the working of the Department and greater correctness in the returns, 4 Deputy Inspectors of Vaccination have recently been appointed as a tentative measure for the Districts of Bangalore, Tumkur, Mysore and Shimoga. Animal vaccination was carried on to some extent in 1884 and 1885. The number of deaths from small-pox was 2,566 in 1881—82, 7,940 in 1882—83, 4,840 in 1883—84, 3,241 in 1884—85 and 3,624 in 1885—86. The large increase in 1882—83 was due to the prevalence of the disease in an epidemic form in several parts of the Province in that year.

84. Education.—The number of Government institutions imparting education increased during the period under report from 923 in 1881—82 to 1,021 in 1885—86, and that of aided schools from 124 to 127. At the close of the year 1885—86, there were 35,119 pupils in Government institutions and 8,121 in aided schools, giving a total of 43,240 pupils against 43,126 in 1881—82. While the number of pupils in aided schools has increased that in Government institutions declined and this is in a great measure due to the action of Government in abolishing all the junior classes of the two principal Colleges and transferring the students to schools under native management supported by grants-in-aid.

85. The income from Local Funds allotted to education is entirely spent on Vernacular instruction, secondary and primary, but chiefly the latter. Originally it was applied only to village schools, but now the whole of the Vernacular instruction is paid for from this source except what is given in Colleges and High Schools and in aided schools. The Municipal contributions meet all the grants-in-aid in Bangalore and one-fourth of the expenses of the English schools in Taluk stations. With this exception English education and that alone is paid for from the State Funds except in a few aided schools.

86. Besides a first grade College at Bangalore, second grade Colleges at Shimoga and Mysore and High Schools at the Head-quarters of Districts, the Government maintains schools at 21 other stations which impart education in English up to the Middle School standard. There are also 3 High Schools and a number of Middle and Primary schools supported by grants-in-aid. The amount paid as grants-in-aid was in 1885—86 Rs. 34,184, of which Rs. 26,424 were from the State Funds, the remainder being from Municipal Funds.

87. Higher education has been advanced by improvement of the staff of teachers by the appointment of well educated men, and by the improvement of the pay of school masters by a system of periodical increments. At the Central College at Bangalore special provision has been made for instruction in Physical Science. A liberal system of scholarships is provided for this and the other Colleges to enable students of ability to meet the annually increasing expense of higher education.

88. The study of Sanskrit has been revived by the establishment of a Sanskrit College at Mysore which is maintained out of the fixed allotment from Muzarayi (charitable and temple) grants. Examinations in the higher branches of Sanskrit learning are held annually, at which scholars from all parts of Southern India compete for prizes.

89. The study of the Vernacular language of the country (Kanarese) has been stimulated by the patronage extended to new literary works and translations of English works and by the recent institution of a Mysore Local Examination in that language.

90. In female education one of the principal steps taken has been the establishment of the Maharani Girls' School at Mysore which has during the period under report attained great success and is now a High School for girls. It imparts instruction in a manner not inconsistent with the religious and other prejudices of the Hindus and the example thus set has had an effect in lessening some of the prejudices entertained on the subject and is calculated to promote the education of girls on national lines. Besides this there are other Girls' schools in the Province worked either by Missionaries or Government. Altogether 4,743 girls are under instruction.

91. For the encouragement of special branches of study, scholarships are given to selected youths from Mysore to study in the Colleges of British India. As an encouragement to technical education, 13 young men are granted scholarships and receive instruction in the Railway Work-shops.

92. Archæology.—Mr. L. Rice, C. I. E., Secretary to the Mysore Government in the Educational Department, was appointed Director of Archæological Researches in Mysore. Upwards of 1,500 inscriptions have already been collected by him and they are being examined and translated for publication. The Jain inscriptions at Sravana Belgolá, which are of special importance, are already in the Press. Notes have been taken of typical buildings and some striking specimens of sculpture which have been met with will be photographed.

I. PHYSICAL AND POLITICAL GEOGRAPHY.

PHYSICAL FEATURES OF THE COUNTRY, AREA, CLIMATE AND CHIEF STAPLES.

1. Full information under the above heads is given in pages 1—4 of the Administration Report of Mysore for the year 1872—73.

POLITICAL.

HISTORICAL SUMMARY.

2. The ancient history of Mysore is briefly recited in pages 5 to 20 of the Administration Report for 1872—73, and a brief sketch of the administration of the Province by the British Government during the 50 years from 1831 to 1881 is given in pages 1 to 8 of the Administration Report of Mysore for the year 1880—81. The present report deals with the administration of the Province during the 5 years immediately following the Installation of His Highness the Maharaja on the throne of Mysore on the 25th March 1881.

FORM OF ADMINISTRATION.

3. During the period under report the Mysore State has been administered on the same principles as those which were followed by the British Government during its tenure of power, with the difference that there is under Native Rule a larger proportion of Native officers than there was under the British Administration. At the head of the executive Administration is the Dewan. The "Council of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore," which was constituted by His Highness' Proclamation dated the 25th March 1881, consists of the Dewan for the time being as Ex-officio President and three Members. The Members of the Council are, Mr. T. R. A. Thumboo Chetty, a Judge of the Chief Court of Mysore, and Rai-Bahadur P. Krishna Rao and Rai Bahadur A. Sabhapati Mudaliar, both retired officers of high position in the Mysore State. The duty of the Council as recited in the Proclamation is to submit for His Highness the Maharaja's consideration their opinions on all questions relating to legislation and taxation, and all other important measures connected with the good administration of the State and the well-being of His Highness' subjects.

4. The various departments maintained for the transaction of business connected with the Administration have been nearly the same under Native Rule as they were under the British Government immediately before the Rendition. A few changes that have been made are detailed below.

5. In 1882, the eight Districts into which the Province had been divided for administrative purposes were reduced to six with three Sub-Divisions, and sixty-nine Taluks to sixty Taluks. After three years experience, the eight Districts have been restored and the Sub-Divisions abolished and the number of Taluks has been raised to sixty-six. This was required in the interests of efficient administration. The Chief Court of Mysore, which had up to the 28th May 1884 been presided over by one Judge, was on that date constituted into a Court of three Judges. Towards the close of the period under report new offices of 'Inspector General of Forests and Plantations', 'Inspector-General of Police' and 'Director of Statistics and Agriculture', were created as the work of these offices which had all been vested in the executive head of the Administration, required the special care and attention of a separate officer. These offices are all held by an experienced British officer who for many years was the Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore. A new Department for Archæological Research was created and placed under Mr. L. Rice, C. I. E., who is specially qualified for the work.

6. The following list shows the several departments of the Administration and the officers by whom they were presided over at the close of the period under report :—

Mr. J. Cook, M. A., Principal, Central College, Bangalore.
Mr. H. J. Bhabha, M. A., Principal, Maharaja's College, Mysore.

7. One peculiar institution connected with the Administration of Mysore which was introduced under Native Rule is the annual meeting of ryots and merchants known as the "Representative Assembly." The scope and objects of this institution are described in the Proceedings of the late Dewan No. 4394-4401—G. 120, dated 25th August 1881, in the following terms :—

'His Highness the Maharaja is desirous that the views and objects which his 'Government has in view in the measures adopted for the administration of the Province should be better known and appreciated by the people for whose benefit they 'are intended, and he is of opinion that a beginning towards the attainment of this 'object may be made by an annual meeting of the representative land-holders and 'merchants from all parts of the Province, before whom the Dewan will place the 'results of the past year's Administration, and a programme of what is intended to 'be carried out in the coming year. Such an arrangement by bringing the people 'in immediate communication with the Government, would serve to remove from 'their minds any misapprehension in regard to the views and action of the Govern-'ment, and would convince them that the interests of the Government are identical 'with those of the people.

'This annual meeting will be conveniently held at Mysore immediately 'after the close of the Dasara Festival, which occasion will offer an additional in-'ducement to those invited to attend the meeting. For the present the Local Fund 'Boards of the several Districts will be asked to select from among themselves and 'others of the District the persons who are to be deputed to represent their respect-'ive Districts at the meeting. In order to represent the landed interests of all the 'Taluks, as well as the interests of trade, there should be sent one or two cultivating 'land-holders from each Taluk, possessed of general information and influence 'amongst the people, and 3 or 4 leading merchants for the District generally. A 'list of them should be sent beforehand to this office, in order to arrange for their 'accommodation at Mysore. They may be allowed a small sum from the Local Funds 'to meet the actual expenses of their travelling.

'The attendance at the meeting is intended to be entirely voluntary. In 'making the selection, therefore, the wishes and convenience of the persons invited 'should be consulted.'

8. The Assembly consists of Representatives from the Local Boards and Municipal Boards in the Province as also of important land-holders and merchants. The Assembly meets at Mysore during the Dasara festivities, and the Dewan places before them the results of the previous year's Administration and a programme of future proposed measures. The Representatives through their spokesmen state the requirements of the several Districts with their suggestions, and these are discussed. The discussions last nearly a week and the proceedings of these meetings are printed and published. The Representatives have evinced a lively interest in the discussion of public questions and their suggestions have been characterized by practical good sense. The discussions are confined to matters of real public interest and do not descend to personal grievances.

9. The reports on the Administration read by the Dewan for the 5 years under report are printed as an Appendix to this report.

CHARACTER OF LAND TENURES.

10. The land tenures in the Province are fully described in pages 23 to 32 of the Administration Report of Mysore for the year 1872—73.

SYSTEM OF SURVEY AND SETTLEMENTS.

11. The system of Survey and Settlements in force in Mysore is described in pages 32 to 41 of the Administration Report for the year 1872—73.

CIVIL DIVISIONS OF TERRITORY.

12. Previous to the Rendition the Province was divided for administrative purposes into 8 Districts as noted on the margin, consisting of 69 Taluks. In 1882, as a part of the scheme of retrenchment which had been commenced in Mysore by the British Administration soon after the Famine, with the view of reducing the expenditure so as to bring it within the diminished revenue of the State, and also with the object of providing an annual surplus for expenditure on the State Railway, a thorough revision of the territorial divisions of the Province was carried out. The number of Taluks was reduced from 69 to 60, while 17 Sub-Taluks with smaller areas were created and placed under Deputy Amildars. At the same time the Districts of Hassan and Chitaldroog were abolished. The latter District with the exception of the Davangere Taluk (which last was transferred to Shimoga) was added to the Tumkur District, and as its Sub-Division was administered by an Assistant Commissioner with independent powers, unencumbered with the charge of a Treasury and Jail. The four Taluks forming the northern half of the Hassan District, viz. Manjarabad, Hassan, Belur and Arsikere, were similarly formed into a Sub-Division and placed under an Assistant Commissioner and added on to the District of Kadur. The remaining Taluks of the Hassan District (with the exception of Holé-Narsipur which was transferred to the Mysore District) and the Taluks of Seringapatam and Mandya were formed into another Sub-Division with head-quarters at French Rocks and added on to the Mysore District. After these territorial changes the Province consisted of 6 Districts, viz. Bangalore, Kolar, Tumkur with the Chitaldroog Sub-Division, Mysore with the French Rocks Sub-Division, Kadur with the Hassan Sub-Division and Shimoga, the whole forming 60 Taluks with 17 Sub-Taluks. These divisions were in existence up to the close of the period with which this report deals.

DETAILS OF THE LAST CENSUS.

14. The results of the Census taken in February 1881 are given at pages 58 and 59 of the Administration Report of Mysore for the year 1880—81. The details of the Census are shown in Statement I, D. (Population) among the Appendices to this report.

TRIBES AND LANGUAGE.

15. These are enumerated in pages 43 and 44 of the Administration Report for 1872—73.

CHANGES IN THE ADMINISTRATION.

16. Mr. C. Rangacharlu, C. I. E., the first Dewan of Mysore after the Rendition, was at the head of affairs for nearly two years. He breathed his last on 20th January 1883. The following Notification was published in the Mysore Gazette expressing His Highness the Maharaja's deep regret at the death of that able administrator.

"His Highness the Maharaja notifies with the deepest regret to the Chiefs and "people of Mysore the sad intelligence of the death at Madras on the night of the "20th instant of Gettipuniam Viravalli Rangacharlu, C. I. E., Dewan of Mysore.

"By the death of this valued public servant, His Highness the Maharaja feels "that he has been deprived of an able, faithful and devoted counsellor and that the "people of the State have lost a true and sympathetic friend.

"As a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased Dewan, His Highness "the Maharaja directs that all the Courts and Public Offices throughout the State "shall be closed on Monday and Tuesday, the 29th and 30th instant."

17. In consideration of the eminent services rendered by Mr. Rangacharlu to the State for a period of 15 years, His Highness the Maharaja was pleased to grant a bonus of one lakh of rupees to his family.

18. Mr. Rangacharlu was succeeded on 12th February 1883 by Mr. K. Sheshadri Iyer, B. A., B. L., the present Dewan, who has since been appointed by Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India to be a Companion of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India.

FOREIGN RELATIONS.

19. His Highness the Maharaja has political relations only with the British Government. These relations and the conditions which have to be observed by His Highness in the administration of the State are contained in the document known as the * "Instrument of Transfer" by which the Administration of the Province was made over to His Highness on the 25th March 1881.

20. The British Government is represented at the Court of Mysore by a Resident of the 1st class with an Assistant. The undermentioned officers have held the position of Resident and Assistant to the Resident during the period under report :—

Residents.

Sir James D. Gordon, K. C. S. I., B. C. S.
Mr. J. D. Sandford, M. A., Barrister-at-Law, B. C. S.
(acted twice during Sir James Gordon's absence on leave).

Mr. J. B. Lyall, B. C. S.
Colonel T. G. Clarke, (acted for Mr. Lyall for 3 months).
Mr. C. E. R. Girdlestone, B. C. S., (acted for one year during Mr. Lyall's absence).

Assistants to the Resident.

Mr. W. J. Cuningham, Bo. C. S.
Major H. Wylie, C. S. I.
Mr. A. H. T. Martindale, M. C. S.
Major J. H. Newill.
Major E. A. Fraser.

21. On the 24th May 1884, Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India was graciously pleased to appoint His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore a Knight Grand Commander of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India.

II. ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

TOPOGRAPHICAL SURVEY.

22. A topographical survey of the Province of Mysore was commenced during the British Administration in the year 1875—76. The survey was conducted by officers of the Survey of India selected by the Surveyor General of India. The preliminary triangulation of the Province was completed in the year 1884—85, and the detailed topographical survey was near completion at the end of the official year 1885—86. The survey was made on the scale of 1 inch to the mile except in the case of tracts covered by State-forests which were surveyed on the scale of 4 inches to the mile. Seventy standard sheets exhibiting the results of the survey of the Province have been mapped and submitted to Government.

23. The topography of the Town of Mysore and of the Town and the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore has been completed and maps drawn and submitted to Government.

24. The following statement shows the work of the Department during each of the five years under report :—

| Year. | Area previously surveyed up to close of October. | | Cost per mile. | | Surveyed during the official year. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Trigonometrically. | Topographically on 1 inch scale. | Trigonometrical. | Topographical. | Trigonometrical. | Topographical on 1 inch scale. |

| 1885—86 | 32,689 | 28,767 | ... | 26-0-7 | ... | 2,570 at Rs. 22-5-0 per square mile. |

25. The cost of the operations of the Department was Rs. 73,570 in 1881—82, 81,957 in 1882—83, 84,285 in 1883—84, 80,483 in 1884—85, and 65,391 in 1885—86. The total cost of the Department from the commencement up to the close of operations amounted to Rs. 8,75,260.

REVENUE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT.

26. A full description of the system of Revenue Survey and Settlement in force in Mysore is given in pages 32—37 of the Administration Report for the year 1872—73.

27. The office of Survey and Settlement Commissioner, which had prior to the Rendition been held by the Honorable Colonel W. C. Anderson, was abolished on the 1st April 1881 and the charge of the Department given to Colonel J. P. Grant, who had been Superintendent of Revenue Survey.

28. With the progress of Survey operations, the services of the European officers attached to the Department are being gradually dispensed with. Several European officers accordingly left the Department during the period under report. With the view of training Natives for the higher branches of the Department, a system has of late years been introduced under which young Native officers selected chiefly from among the Amildars of the Province are attached to the Department and, after a period of probation and passing a Departmental examination, are entrusted with independent charge of Survey Establishments. There are 5 such Native officers in charge of Establishments and 1 Probationer attached to the Department. The work of the Native officers is very satisfactory.

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|

30. The decrease in the number of Measuring Establishments from 7 to 5 in the years 1883 and 1884 was due to the fact that one establishment was engaged in re-surveying the coffee lands in the Province under the new system of settlement, and that another establishment was absorbed in the others on the score of economy. The increase to 6 establishments in 1885 was owing to the completion of the re-survey of coffee lands and the return of the establishment engaged on that work to its original work of measurement. The number of Measurers in each establishment has gradually been raised from 26 in 1881—82 to 32 in 1885—86. The extent of land measured is very satisfactory, considering the number of establishments worked and the number of days lost in each year owing to sickness and other causes as shown below :—

| Items. | For the year ending 31st October— | | | | |

31. The ryots in many cases constructed their own boundary marks for their fields.

32. The boundary disputes disposed of during the 5 years under report were 41, 94, 67, 61 and 99. Almost all the disputes were of a trivial nature.

33. The mean average difference between test and original work was $\frac{28}{40}$ of an acre in 1881, $\frac{27}{40}$ of an acre in 1882, $\frac{28}{40}$ of an acre in 1883, $\frac{29}{40}$ of an acre in 1884 and $\frac{33}{40}$ of an acre in 1885. In 1881 the measurement of 7,275 fields was tested and it was found that the mistakes in 5,115 cases were within 1 percent and in 1,545 cases within 2 per cent. Out of 9,028 fields tested in 1882, 6,375 were within 1 per cent and 1,827 within 2 per cent. During 1883, 6,676 fields were tested, of which 4,782 were within 1 per cent, 1,439 within 2 per cent and 334 within 3 per cent. The errors above 3 per cent were few and they were submitted to further test. In 1884, 6,604 fields were tested, 4,527 of them being within 1 per cent, 1,595 within 2 per cent and 363 within 3 per cent. In 1885, out of a total number of 8,129 fields tested, 5,357, 2,012 and 519 were within 1, 2, and 3 per cent respectively. All villages in which there were large errors were re-measured. The test work was got through by Native Surveyors, a percentage of whose work again was tested by European officers.

34. The following statement shows the out-turn of the classification work for 5 years :—

| Year ending 31st October. | No. of Establishments. | No. of Classers per Establishment. | Fields. | Arable Acres. | Unarable Acres. | Total Area classed. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 |
| 1881 ... | 3 | 13·37 | 74,358 | 369,768 | 267,803 | 637,571 |
| 1882 ... | 3 | 15·98 | 78,166 | 399,893 | 209,960 | 609,853 |
| 1883 ... | 3 | 18·58 | 80,915 | 453,460 | 631,128 | 1,084,588 |
| 1884 ... | 4 | 14·17 | 93,406 | 361,257 | 373,586 | 734,843 |
| 1885 ... | 4 | 15·86 | 103,579 | 371,620 | 359,632 | 731,252 |

35. As the measurement of fields was considerably in advance of the classification it was found necessary to increase the number of Classing establishments from 3 to 4 in 1883—84.

36. The distribution of the days of the working season devoted to classification was—

|---|---|
| In 1881 ... ... ... ... ... | 86·44 |
| In 1882 ... ... ... ... ... | 81·92 |
| In 1883 ... ... ... ... ... | 79·20 |
| In 1884 ... ... ... ... ... | 85·73 |
| In 1885 ... ... ... ... ... | 86·91 |

37. The mean difference between test and original work was 4 pies in the years ending 31st October 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884, but in 1885 it fell to 3 pies which is satisfactory.

38. From the commencement of the Survey operations in 1863—64 up to the end of the official year ending 31st March 1886, 17,057,020 acres have been measured and 15,215,014 acres have been classified.

39. The subjoined statement shows the cost of the operations of the Survey Department for the 5 years under report :—

| | For the year ending 31st October— | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1881. | | 1882. | | 1883. | | 1884. | | 1885. | |
| Cost of the Department ... | 2,29,848 11 3·0 | | 2,38,130 9 11·0 | | 2,40,049 11 4·0 | | 2,44,791 11 5·0 | | 2,35,078 5 4·0 | |

| Cost per acre for Classification and Measurement | 0 6 6·4 | | 0 5 5·0 | | 0 5 1·7 | | 0 5 4·52 | | 0 5 3·66 | |

40. The increased expenditure of the year 1882 was due to an increase in the construction of field boundary marks in Government waste lands, and to the fact that some of the Survey Assistants attained higher grades in the service in the year. The increase in 1883 was due to larger expenditure on supervision and that in 1884 to the formation of an additional Classing establishment. The decrease in 1885 was due to cheaper supervision, several European officers having left the Department.

41 Settlement.—The annexed table shows, for the several years under review, the total number of taluks in the Province and the number of them measured, classed and settled :—

| No. of Taluks in the Province. | Name of Work. | During the year ending 31st October. | Number of Taluks completed. | Number of Taluks in progress. | Not commenced. |

42. About the end of 1882, the re-adjustment of District and Taluk boundaries was begun and completed and the number of taluks in the Province reduced from 69 to 60. This renders comparison of the settlement of the several years difficult. In order to render the figures of any value, all taluks, the major portion of which was either 'completed' or 'in progress' or 'not commenced,' have, from the year 1883, been entered under these respective heads in the foregoing table. Thus under the head of measurement for the year 1883 ten taluks are entered as 'not commenced,' whereas as a matter of fact in 5 of those 10 taluks, there are some measured maganis and some channel irrigated lands which have been surveyed. In the same way although 23 taluks are entered as unsettled, in reality no less than eight of these were partially settled.

43. During the period under report, the Survey Settlement was introduced into the following taluks :—

| 1881. | 1882. |

44. Survey and settlement operations are now in progress in the Bangalore, Mysore and Kolar Districts and it is believed that they will be brought to a close about the year 1890.

INAM SETTLEMENT.

45. The past history of the Inam Settlement of the Province is given fully in Sections 76 to 85 of the Administration Report of Mysore for the year 1872—73, and the result of the operations of the Department from 1868 when it was organized down to the date of the Rendition, is described in Sections 62 to 71 of the Administration Report for 1880—81.

46. The settlement work of the Department was completed in the year 1879—80, but a small office establishment is still entertained at Head Quarters under the Superintendent of Revenue Survey as Inam Superintendent for the preparation and issue of final title-deeds and quit-rent registers and for otherwise winding up the business of the Department. Meanwhile errors or discrepancies in the settlement effected are examined and rectified, and cases of inams newly discovered are investigated and disposed of.

47. In September 1881 an important * order was passed by His Highness the Maharaja's Government regarding the mode of the valuation of inam and kayamgutta villages for the purpose of calculating the quit-rent and Local Fund cess chargeable on them. It was observed that the quit-rent on inam villages, for which title-deeds had been issued before the 12th October 1872, had been calculated on their valuation as recorded in the old accounts, which was incorrect and often grossly underestimated. It was therefore afterwards provided that the Local Cess on all the inam and kayamgutta villages, and the quit-rent on those of them for which title-deeds had not been issued prior to the above date, should be calculated upon a valuation based on a survey. The Survey Department under these orders valued the villages at the full assessment of the whole culturable area, cultivated and waste, with an addition varying from 2 to 5 annas per acre on the unculturable lands. This valuation was justly complained of by the inamdars as not properly representing the present value of the villages, or even their prospective value in the immediate future, as it was not to be expected that all the culturable lands could be brought under cultivation for years to come any more than in the Government villages. His Highness' Government was therefore pleased to direct that for the calculation of the quit-rent and the cesses, these villages should be valued at the survey assessment on the lands under cultivation with 25 per cent of the assessment on the arable waste on account of prospective improvements together with a reasonable pasture rent on the unarable waste. The Survey Superintendent was requested to revise the valuation of the inam and kayamgutta villages accordingly and to submit a statement showing the details of the former and the revised valuation for each village and the quit-rent and Local Fund Cess as originally imposed and as now altered. Pending such re-valuation it was directed that the increased quit-rent hitherto charged on inam and kayamgutta villages on the basis of the survey assessment should be held in abeyance, and that both the quit-rent and the Local Fund Cess should be collected on the old recorded valuation only.

48. During the past five years* 407 whole villages were settled on the revised valuation made by the Survey Department in accordance with the order above quoted, with the result that the combined quit-rent on them has been enhanced on the whole by Rs. 372—12—0. This revised settlement showed decreases in the combined quit-rent of Rs. 335, 1,074 and 659 during the years 1882, 1883 and 1884 respectively, but the large increase of Rs. 2,440—12—0 in the settlement of 1885—86 caused the net increase of Rs. 372—12—0 referred to above. There still remain 1,688 whole villages for similar valuation and settlement out of the total number of such villages in the Province which number 2,095 in all, and new title-deeds have yet to be issued in all these 2,095 cases.

| 1884—85 | 128 | do |
| 1885—86 | 152 | do |

49. The measurement and valuation by the Revenue Survey Department of the large number of minor inams in Government villages already settled by the Inam Department on ad interim quit-rent and the issue of final title-deeds for them were carried out up to the end of the year 1883—84, when the question of charging for the excess found in these inams was reopened and the further grant of final title-deeds held in abeyance pending the decision of the Government on the point. During the 3 years from 1881—82 to 1883—84, 7,971 final title-deeds were issued for this class of inams, and there are 46,439 still to issue. Orders having recently been passed by the Dewan as to the disposal of the excess in minor inams, the issue of final title-deeds for them will be proceeded with as rapidly as possible. It will at the same time be found necessary to recall a considerable number of final title-deeds already issued and to replace them by new ones under the recent orders.

50. Twenty nine thousand seven hundred and forty-one printed quit-rent registers were compared with the original registers at the Head Office at Bangalore and despatched to the Districts concerned during the 5 years ending 31st March 1886. There are still 17,175 cases of land inams for which printed quit-rent registers have to be similarly disposed of, the total number of such cases for the whole Province being 61,928.

51. During the 5 years under review *949 new cases of land inams were enquired into and disposed of. The total area confirmed during the five years was khandis 177, kolagas 3, padis 7, bearing an assessment of Rs. 156—9—0. A quit-rent of Rs. 271—12—5 has been imposed on these lands which together with the above jodi amount has raised the sum payable to Government to Rs. 428—5—5 or 25 per cent of the full recorded assessment. The appended table gives details:—

52. Fifty-seven inams were settled as cash payments which amounted to Rs. 860—15—0. But these are commutable into land inams at the survey settlement. In 1883—84 one inam was settled as land inam.

53. Twenty-five kayamgutta villages were revised during the five years, of which 16 were confirmed, 8 were resumed and 1 was struck off.

54. The details of the area, assessment, &c., of the resumed lands are shown below :—

55. There were resumptions in 49 cases in all, 37 being due to non-existence of temples and non-rendering of services therein, and the rest to the inams having been proved invalid.

56. The extent of inam lands struck off the registers as not identifiable was khandis 25, kolagas 3, padis 3¼, assessed at Rs. 667—10—4, with a jodi of Rs. 362—15—1.

57. Sixty-six cases of cash payments disposed of under the Muzarayi Rules were revised. Of these, 51 cases valued at Rs. 1,385—15—0 were confirmed and 15 cases valued at Rs. 70—11—5 were resumed.

58. The additional permanent revenue derived from the operations of the Department during the years under review amounted in all to Rs. 4,821—2—5 as shown below :—

| | | | |
| In 1881—1882 | .. | .. | Rs. 467 6 7 |

59. The cost of the Department was Rs. 10,838 in 1881—82, Rs. 7,892 in 1882—83, Rs. 7,804 in 1883—84, Rs. 8,000 in 1884—85 and Rs. 8,295 in 1885—86, in all Rs. 42,829 ; the cost during the years 1880—81 and 1879—80 having been Rs. 37,419 and Rs. 55,552 respectively. The aggregate cost of the Department from the commencement of operations in 1868 up to the 31st March 1886 amounted to Rs. 9,96,411 and the total addition to the revenue during the same period was Rs. 8,59,139 or 86 per cent of the total cost.

60. The following statement shows the extent of culturable waste land available forcultivation at the beginning of each year, the extent of land resigned and the extent taken up for cultivation during each of the 5 years under report:—

III. PROTECTION.

LEGISLATURE.

61. The Schedule of laws in force in Mysore at the Rendition, which has been attached to the Instrument of Transfer under Article 19 of that document, is printed in this report as one of the Appendices for the year 1881—82.

62. With the view of providing rules of interpretation for the British laws extended to Mysore previous to the Rendition, it was ruled by Notification No. 153, dated 2nd September 1881, issued by the Mysore Government, "that in all Acts, Rules and "Regulations now in force in Mysore the expressions 'The Government of "India,' 'The Governor-General of India in Council' and 'Local Government' shall "denote the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore." This Notification was considered by the Government of India to be too general and to be inapplicable to certain specified enactments, and it was suggested that a careful revision word by word should be made of all the Acts in force in Mysore with the view of making such alterations in them as were called for by the altered circumstances of the State, and that pending such revision a further Notification explaining the scope of that of the 2nd September 1881 should be issued by the Durbar. Such a Notification, No 92, dated 31st July 1885, was issued by the Government of Mysore with the approval of the Government of India in the following terms :—

"His Highness the Maharaja is pleased to point out that the Rules of interpret-"ation laid down in Notification No. 153, dated 2nd September 1881, published at "page 124 of the Mysore Gazette of 3rd September 1881, do not apply to those parts of "the Acts of the British Legislature which apply in terms to British subjects in the "dominions of Princes and States in India in alliance with Her Majesty, and which, "for that reason and to that extent, have the force of law in Mysore by virtue of the "authority of the British Legislature.

"His Highness is further pleased to direct that the above mentioned Notification "No. 153, dated 2nd September 1881, shall not apply to the General Clauses "Act I of 1868 or to Section 230 of the Indian Penal Code as amended by Act XIX "of 1872 or to the Indian Coinage Act XXIII of 1870."

63. A careful examination word by word of almost all the Acts in force in Mysore was subsequently made and embodied in a Regulation designated "The Mysore Law Amendment Regulation" and submitted for the approval of the Government of India, but that Government has since suggested the advisability of publishing the Acts themselves with the necessary verbal modifications. This work is now under preparation.

64. Since the Rendition new legislative enactments required for Mysore have been from time to time drafted by the Durbar and, after consultation with the local officers and publication in the local official Gazette with the view of obtaining suggestions from the public, have under the title of 'Regulations' been passed into law, with the previous consent of the Government of India, by His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore. The following Regulations were thus issued during the 5 years under report:—

(1) Regulation I of 1883. The Mysore Civil Courts Regulation (to consolidate and amend the law relating to the constitution, powers and jurisdiction of the Civil Courts in the Territories of Mysore). This Regulation was brought into force on 1st July 1883.

(2) Regulation I of 1884. The Mysore Chief Court Regulation (to amend the constitution of the Chief Court of Mysore). This Regulation was passed so as to provide for a Chief Court of three Judges, and was brought into force on the 28th May 1884.

(3) Regulation II of 1884. (A Regulation to apply to the Territories of Mysore the Code of Civil Procedure, Act XIV of 1882, in supersession of Act X of 1877 as amended by Act XII of 1879). This Regulation was brought into force on the 1st July 1884.

(4) Regulation III of 1884. The Mysore Legal Practitioners' Regulation (to amend the law relating to Legal Practitioners practising in the Courts of Mysore.) This came into force on the 1st September 1884.

(5) Regulation I of 1885. "The Yelandur Jahagir Regulation" (to regulate the succession to, and define the mode of enjoyment of, the Jahagir of Yelandur, and to make adequate provision for the maintenance of the dignity of the head of the family of the late Dewan Purnaiya, and for the support of the subordinate members thereof). This Regulation was brought into force on the 23rd May 1885.

(6) Regulation II of 1885 applying to the Territories of Mysore Act XVI of 1863 relating to the levy of the excise duty payable on spirits used exclusively in arts and manufactures or in chemistry. This came into force on 1st October 1885.

(7) Regulation III of 1885. A Regulation to amend the law relating to the Excise Revenue in the Territories of Mysore. By this Regulation the Excise Act XXII of 1881 as amended by Act VI of 1885 was introduced into Mysore with effect from the 1st October 1885.

(8) Regulation I of 1886. A Regulation introducing into the Territories of Mysore the Code of Criminal Procedure, Act X of 1882, in supersession of Act X of 1872. This was brought into force on the 1st July 1886.

65. The Government of India have now before them two very important drafts prepared by the Durbar, of Regulations intended for introduction into Mysore. These are—

1. The Mysore Local Funds Regulation.
2. The Mysore Land Revenue Code.

66. By the first of these drafts it is proposed to remedy several shortcomings in the constitution and working of the District Committees established in the Province for the administration of Local Funds by the late Chief Commissioner's Notification No. 110, dated the 4th July 1874. The Regulation has been drafted somewhat on the lines of the Marquis of Ripon's scheme of Local Self-Government for India and provides for the formation of two classes of Boards, one for each taluk, to meet purely local wants, and the other for each District for the discharge of functions concerning larger areas. The Boards will, under the Regulation, have a corporate constitution and be invested with definite duties and powers and will have a large degree of independence in the administration of Local Funds.

67. The second Regulation (The Mysore Land Revenue Code) was urgently called for owing to the unsatisfactory condition of the Revenue Law in Mysore. The British Government intended to frame a Land Revenue Code for Mysore, but the measure was postponed owing to various causes and was left to be carried out by the Native Administration. The unsatisfactory nature of the Revenue Law in Mysore is thus described in the Statement of Objects and Reasons appended to the first publication of the Draft of the Land Revenue Code in 1883 :—

"The Revenue Law in Mysore is at present in a very unsatisfactory condition. "It consists partly of Bombay Acts I of 1865 and IV of 1868 and of the Guaran- "tees and Rules published thereunder, and partly of executive orders passed by the "Chief Commissioner either for general guidance or as decisions in particular cases. "Whether such executive orders have the force of law is a question of considerable "doubt and uncertainty. As an instance of such uncertainty, it may be mentioned "that one of these executive orders gave to the Revenue authorities power to try "and adjudicate upon cases involving proprietary and sub-proprietary title, and though "the validity of such power has not been formally impugned, yet it has been held "that Civil Courts have concurrent jurisdiction with Revenue tribunals in the cases "above referred to. Again, the law relating to acquisition of occupancy rights rests "upon an executive order, the force of which is frequently called in question. The "Rules relating to the realization of land revenue and recovery of rent are imper- "fect. No definite procedure is laid down for Revenue officers in the investigation "of matters requiring their decision and no express rules exist as to the rights "and obligations of land-lord and tenant. Under these circumstances, His Highness "the Maharaja's Government are of opinion that the passing of a Land Revenue "Code is a measure which is urgently required."

68. The Draft Code which has been prepared is based on the Bombay Land Revenue Code of 1879 with such additions and modifications as local circumstances have rendered necessary. It was carefully examined by a Committee of local officers and, after undergoing several revisions and publications in the local official Gazette, was recently submitted through the Resident in Mysore for the approval of the Government of India.

69. Draft Regulations on the following matters have also been framed by the Durbar and are under consideration :—

(1) To introduce into the Territories of Mysore Act VI of 1882, the Indian Companies Act;

(2) To amend the law relating to Prisons;

(3) To provide facilities for obtaining the evidence and appearance of prisoners and for service of process upon them;

(4) To substitute penal servitude for the punishment of transportation in respect of persons liable to be sentenced to transportation by the Courts in the Territories of Mysore;

(5) For the regulation and control of the hackney carriages in the City of Bangalore;

(6) For the regulation of weights and measures of capacity in Mysore;

(7) To amend Regulation I of 1886 introducing the Code of Criminal Procedure, Act X of 1882, into Mysore;

(8) To make better provision for the constitution and administration of Municipalities in the Territories of Mysore;

(9) Rules for the administration of Forests in Mysore; and

(10) Rules under the Mysore Land Revenue Code.

70. The large amount of work connected with the revision of laws in Mysore has led to the formation, on the 1st January 1886, of a new Legislative Department attached to the Dewan's Office with an experienced Native officer as Legislative Secretary.

POLICE.

71. Some time before the Rendition, the Judicial Commissioner in Mysore, who was ex-officio Inspector General of Police, was divested of the charge of the Police administration, the control of which was thenceforward assumed by the Chief Commissioner. The direction of the Police in Mysore continued after the Rendition in the hands of the executive head of the Government till last year, when the obvious disadvantage of this arrangement under which the close supervision of many and complex departmental details devolved upon the Dewan, had to be removed by the re-constitution of the office of the Inspector General of Police.

72. In the general reductions of establishments in 1879 and 1880, and the consequent re-organization of the graded service, the appointments of Police Assistant Commissioners were abolished and District Officers were placed in direct charge of the Police of their respective Districts. Experience since gained having proved that Deputy Commissioners could not devote the requisite time and attention to their Police work, the offices of Police Assistant Commissioners were revived in 1885.

73. The force during the last five years has not undergone any material change. The present strength, exclusive of the Police of the important Towns of Mysore and Bangalore, is 651 officers including Daffadars or minor officers and 3,619 constables. This gives a proportion of one Policeman to 6·3 square miles of area and 1,006·9 souls of population of the Province. The present strength of the Municipal Police of the Towns of Bangalore and Mysore is 63 officers and 783 men. The total annual cost of the Police borne by the Provincial revenues, which defray the charges of the Bangalore Town Police under certain arrangements made in 1883, is Rs. 4,78,057 or one anna per head of the population. The annual charges of the Mysore Town Police amount to Rs. 25,881 or 7 annas per head of the population.

74. Policemen are instructed in the Head-quarter Police School at Bangalore and in 3 minor schools at Shimoga, Hassan and Chikmagalur, in the rules of criminal law and procedure, in drill and in musketry.

75. The number annually educated in these schools is about 15 officers and 200 men. About 450 officers and 1,400 constables in the whole force can read and write.

76. The fluctuations in departmental and judicial punishments are given below :—

| | 1881. | | 1882. | | 1883. | | 1884. | | 1885. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Officers. | Men. | O. | M. | O. | M. | O. | M. | O. | M. |
| Departmental .. | 146 | 1,260 | 68 | 1,401 | 64 | 1,273 | 76 | 1,576 | 101 | 1,190 |
| Judicial .. | 7 | 49 | 5 | 51 | 1 | 21 | 2 | 32 | 2 | 23 |

77. The majority of departmental punishments inflicted on men consist of fines for neglect of beat duty and overstaying leave.

78. Particulars of reward by promotion and in money were as follows :—

| | 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| By promotion | 156 | 153 | 136 | 86 | 115 |
| In money | 3 | 6 | 3 | 8 | 14 |

79. Reward by promotion depends of course upon the number of vacancies available.

80. During the past five years, 365 persons in all or an annual average of 73 persons were arrested by the Police in their preventive capacity for bad livelihood, of whom 207 persons or an average of 41 persons per year were convicted.

81. The fluctuations in cognizable crime generally, during the past five years, are given below :—

| | 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. |
| Cognizable crime reported both true and false. | 5,863 | 6,994 | 5,834 | 6,000 | 6,795 |

82. Entering into the details of the more serious offences against person and property we find the following results :—

| | 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Murder, attempt at murder and culpable homicide. | 74 | 66 | 78 | 56 | 94 |
| Grievous hurt, kidnapping, &c. | 157 | 182 | 193 | 172 | 302 |
| Dacoity.. .. | 60 | 60 | 39 | 47 | 61 |
| Robbery and theft, &c. | 825 | 968 | 847 | 854 | 903 |

83. The rise in the number of offences against property was partly due to the unfavorable season which prevailed during the first three quarters of 1885 which, at one time it was apprehended, might lead to a severe scarcity.

84. In the matter of dacoities and other organized crime, our difficulties chiefly arise from robber gangs and bad characters from the surrounding British Districts who enjoying the advantages of Extradition law often successfully elude the vigilance and efforts of the Mysore Police.

85. Out of the total number of cases annually reported, false cases which the Police refused to investigate, and cases reported to and declared by the magistracy as false are particularised below :—

| 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. |
| 2,007 | 3,109 | 2,465 | 2,358 | 2,719 |

86. The results of the operations of the Police in regard to crime generally were as follows :—

Cases.

| Reported and pending. | | | | | Resulting in conviction. | | | | | Percentage of conviction to cases reported and pending. | | | | | Percentage of conviction to true cases investigated. | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 |
| 7,407 | 8,708 | 6,158 | 6,760 | 7,273 | 1,895 | 2,066 | 1,629 | 1,813 | 2,042 | 25·5 | 23·7 | 26·2 | 26·8 | 28·07 | 76·9 | 75·0 | 79·4 | 78·11 | 79·66 |

Persons.

| Arrested. | | | | | Sentenced. | | | | | Percentage. | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 |
| 5,172 | 5,721 | 4,972 | 5,568 | 6,443 | 3,176 | 3,223 | 2,452 | 2,987 | 3,460 | 61·4 | 56 | 49·3 | 53·6 | 53·7 |

87. It will be seen from the above that the percentage of cases in which conviction was obtained to the total number of cases reported and pending steadily increased during the period, and that in 1885, while the number of reported cases greatly increased, a better percentage of convictions in investigated cases was secured. The percentage of convictions to true cases investigated was on the whole satisfactory.

88. In regard to persons arrested, the percentage of convictions to arrests exhibits average results.

89. In considering the results of the action of the Police relative to the more serious offences against person and property, we find the following particulars :—

| | Reported and pending. | | | | | Resulting in conviction. | | | | | Percentage of conviction to cases reported and pending. | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 |
| Murder, &c. | 107 | 101 | 84 | 75 | 101 | 29 | 41 | 22 | 19 | 16 | 27·1 | 40·5 | 26·1 | 25·3 | 15·8 |
| Grievous hurt, &c. | 197 | 221 | 200 | 191 | 317 | 59 | 57 | 55 | 51 | 80 | 29·9 | 25·7 | 27·5 | 26·7 | 25·2 |
| Dacoity. | 133 | 124 | 40 | 50 | 62 | 15 | 9 | 7 | 6 | 7 | 11·2 | 7·2 | 17·5 | 12 | 11·2 |
| Robbery, and theft, &c. | 1,302 | 1,491 | 918 | 1,030 | 1,049 | 123 | 160 | 105 | 100 | 141 | 9·4 | 10·7 | 11·4 | 9·6 | 13·4 |

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 |
| Murder, &c. | 110 | 133 | 125 | 108 | 122 | 40 | 62 | 36 | 27 | 29 | 36·1 | 46·6 | 28·8 | 25 | 23·7 |
| Grievous hurt, &c. | 197 | 178 | 198 | 231 | 316 | 102 | 92 | 98 | 107 | 130 | 51·7 | 51·6 | 50 | 46·3 | 41·1 |
| Dacoity. | 194 | 105 | 44 | 95 | 92 | 67 | 22 | 15 | 20 | 26 | 34·5 | 20·9 | 34·09 | 21·05 | 28·2 |
| Robbery, &c. | 329 | 475 | 376 | 355 | 410 | 180 | 250 | 166 | 174 | 222 | 54·7 | 52·6 | 46·7 | 49·01 | 54·1 |

90. The efforts of the Police in regard to cases of murder and culpable homicide had average success in the years 1881, 1883 and 1884, and good results in 1882; but in 1885 they were not as effective as they might have been. In regard to dacoities nearly the same percentage of convictions was maintained throughout the past five years while the results steadily improved in respect of robberies and other serious offences against property. In regard to arrests in these cases the results show varying percentages.

91. The results of Police operations in the matter of recovery of property lost in cognizable cases are given below :—

| Property stolen or lost. | | | | | Recovered. | | | | | Percentage. | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 |
| 1,16,809 | 1,22,556 | 77,552 | 83,329 | 95,682 | 39,385 | 44,583 | 19,665 | 16,380 | 18,876 | 33·7 | 36·3 | 25·3 | 19·6 | 19·7 |

92. The loss of property was highest in 1881 and 1882 and lowest in 1883. The percentage of recovery has fallen from 36 per cent in 1882 to 19 per cent in 1884 and 1885.

93 Recovery of lost property depends considerably upon lucky chances ; some times the best directed efforts, though they succeed in bringing the offenders to justice, fail in discovering stolen property which may have meanwhile been dissipated. It is not therefore a safe criterion of the energy or intelligence of the Police.

94. The Police were engaged by order of the magistracy in the investigation of non-cognizable cases as shown below :—

| | 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Number of cases in which the Police were employed. | 329 | 433 | 464 | 281 | 541 |
| Number of such cases in which conviction was obtained. | 123 | 165 | 188 | 129 | 133 |

95. The number of these cases steadily increased year after year excepting in 1884, a fair percentage of convictions was obtained in them.

96. Police administration in Mysore during the past five years has not on the whole been unsatisfactory. Some desperate dacoit gangs, residing beyond the Mysore frontier, which had, for a number of years before and after the Rendition, been committing serious depredations in this Province, were broken up and the majority of their members brought to justice. The great success that attended the capture and prosecution of these gangs is anticipated to yield good results in lessening organized dacoities in future. The entrance of similar gangs into Mysore has been, to a large extent, barred by the establishment, wherever practicable, of Police out-posts for the protection of ghats and passes and for watching the movements of foreign predatory gangs. Village patrols and village night watches have been reduced to system. The subordinate ranks in the Police force are being gradually though slowly strengthened, and efforts are being made for insuring more satisfactory detection by securing better and more disciplined material.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE.

97. At the Rendition the Administration of Justice in Mysore was presided over by an officer styled the Chief Judge, his Court exercising the powers of a High Court as described in the Codes of Civil and Criminal Procedure. On 28th May 1884 a Chief Court of three Judges was formed and its constitution and powers defined by the Chief Court Regulation No. I of 1884. At the same time the District and Sessions Court of the Nundydroog Division (which included the Districts of Bangalore, Kolar and Tumkur) was abolished and the powers of that Court over that tract vested in the Chief Court of Mysore. The Sessions work arising in the tract above named is disposed of by one of the Judges of the Chief Court sitting in rotation and the appeals from his sentences are heard and determined by the Full Bench of the Chief Court.

98. The Chief Court is presided over by Mr. C. G. Plumer, late of the Madras Civil Service, as the Chief Judge, and by Messrs. T. R. A. Thumboo Chetty and A. Ramachandra Iyer as Judges.

99. The Criminal Courts in the Province consist of the Courts of the Magistrate of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd classes, the Courts of District Magistrates, the Courts of Session and the Chief Court. The Amildars and Deputy Amildars of Taluks are ordinarily Magistrates of the 3rd class; the Munsiffs in addition to their Civil powers are generally Magistrates of the 2nd class, and the General Assistant Commissioners are ordinarily Magistrates of the 1st class.

COURTS SUBORDINATE TO THE CHIEF COURT.

100. The following table shows the number of Criminal Courts of the several classes subordinate to the Chief Court which were in existence during the several years under report :—

| Grades of Courts. | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884. | 1885 |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Deputy Amildars ... ... | 1 | 16 | 17 | 17 | 17 |
| Amildars ... ... ... | 69 | *61 | *61 | *61 | *61 |
| Munsiffs ... ... ... | 21 | 21 | 16 | 15 | 15 |
| Town Magistrates ... ... | 1 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 1 |
| Subordinate Judges ... ... | 6 | 6 | 3 | .... | ... |
| General Assistant Commissioners ... | 16 | 16 | 22 | 22 | 22 |
| Deputy Commissioners ... ... | 8 | 8 | 6 | 6 | 6 |
| Sessions Judges... ... ... | 3 | 3 | 3 | 2 | 2 |
| Total..... | 125 | 132 | 129 | 124 | 124 |

* Includes the Court of the Amildar and 3rd Class Magistrate of the Yelandur Jahgir.

101. The total number of Criminal Courts in the Province at the time of the Rendition was 125. The increase of this number to 132 in 1882 was the result of the revision of Taluks and the appointment of a number of Deputy Amildars with 3rd class Magisterial powers, which took place in that year. The number of Courts was reduced to 129 in 1883 by the reduction of 5 Courts of Munsiff Magistrates, by the abolition of 3 Subordinate Judges' Courts and 2 District Magistrates' Courts (the last consequent on the abolition of the Hassan and Chitaldroog Districts), while on the other hand 6 General Assistant Commissioners' Courts and 1 Deputy Amildar's Court were added during the year. In 1884 the number of Criminal Courts was further reduced to 124 by the withdrawal of magisterial powers from another Munsiff and from all the Subordinate Judges and by the abolition of the separate Sessions Court for the Nundydroog Division and the transfer of its powers to the Chief Court. There was no change in the number of Criminal Courts during the year 1885.

102. The subjoined statement shows the number of offences reported and the number of cases returned as true during the 5 years under report :—

| Years. | Number of offences reported. | Number of offences returned as true. | Percentage of offences returned as true to cases reported. |
| 1881 ... ... ... ... | 11,418 | 8,813 | 78·1 |
| 1882 ... ... ... ... | 13,466 | 10,437 | 77·5 |
| 1883 ... ... ... ... | 12,022 | 9,128 | 75·9 |
| 1884 ... ... ... ... | 12,665 | 9,514 | 75·1 |
| 1885 ... ... ... ... | 11,949 | 10,247 | 85·7 |

103. The decrease in the number of cases reported in the year 1885 is due to the fact of the District Magistrates of Shimoga and Kadur not having included therein the complaints rejected by the Magistracy as groundless and the cases struck off as false on the report of the Police. Explicit instructions have since been issued by the Chief Court to prevent such mistakes in future.

104. The following comparative statement shows the description of offences reported, the number returned as true, the number brought to trial and the number of persons concerned therein :—

| 1885 ... ... ... ... | 6 | 3 | 3 | ... | ... |

111. Sessions Courts.—The work of the Sessions Courts in the Province during the 5 years under report is shown below :—

| Year. | Persons brought to trial. | Dischaged or acquitted. | Convicted. | Died, escaped, &c. | Pending trial. |
| 1881 ... ... ... ... | 399 | 142 | 236 | 1 | 20 |
| 1882 ... ... ... ... | 328 | 131 | 193 | ... | 4 |
| 1883 ... ... ... ... | 260 | 132 | 109 | ... | 19 |
| 1884 ... ... ... ... | 189 | 106 | 80 | ... | 3 |
| 1885 ... ... ... ... | 167 | 93 | 74 | ... | ... |

112. The percentage of persons convicted to the number brought to trial was as follows:—

|---|---|
| 1881 ... ... ... ... ... | 62·4 |
| 1882 ... ... ... ... ... | 59·5 |
| 1883 ... ... ... ... ... | 45·2 |
| 1884 ... ... ... ... ... | 43·0 |
| 1885 ... ... ... ... ... | 44·3 |

113. The decrease of the file of the Court of Sessions during the last 2 years under report is due to the fact that all the Sessions cases of the Bangalore, Kolar and Tumkur Districts are committed to the Chief Court Sessions, since the abolition in May 1884 of the Sessions Court of the Nundydroog Division

114. The following table gives the results of trials conducted with the aid of assessors :—

| Year. | No. of Cases tried with the aid of Assessors. | No. of Cases in which the Judge differed— | | No. of cases in which he agreed with the Assessors. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | From one Assessor. | From both Assessors. | |
| 1881 ... ... ... ... | 160 | 7 | 24 | 129 |
| 1882 ... ... ... ... | 179 | 6 | 28 | 145 |
| 1883 ... ... ... ... | 116 | 9 | 25 | 82 |
| 1884 ... ... ... ... | 88 | 4 | 12 | 72 |
| 1885 ... ... ... ... | 67 | 9 | 7 | 51 |

The figures in the foregoing table do not include the cases in which the Judge did not take the opinion of assessors.

115. The average duration of Sessions cases during the several years under report was 3·6 days in 1881, 2·45 days in 1882, 3·03 days in 1883, 2·26 days in 1884 and 2·5 days in 1885.

116. Punishments.—The subjoined statement shows the nature of punishments inflicted by the various tribunals in the Province during the 5 years under report:—

| Year. | Total number of persons punished. | Number of persons sentenced to— | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Death. | Transportation. | Imprisonment. | | Fine. | | Whipping. | | Persons ordered to give security or recognizance. | Imprisoned in default of security for good behaviour. |
| | | | | Rigorous. | Simple. | Rupees 50 and under. | Above Rs. 50. | Ten stripes and under. | Above 10 stripes. | | |
| 1881 ... | 8,539 | 19 | 22 | 1,438 | 178 | 6,460 | 113 | 35 | 139 | 89 | 46 |
| 1882 ... | 8,061 | 15 | 14 | 1,563 | 192 | 6,040 | 74 | 26 | 137 | 73 | 41 |
| 1883 ... | 6,382 | 14 | 13 | 1,149 | 131 | 4,904 | 55 | 18 | 98 | 47 | 36 |

| 1885 ... | 8,211 | 8 | 3 | 1,579 | 276 | 6,142 | 83 | 34 | 86 | 51 | 43 |

117. It is satisfactory to note from the above that there has been a gradual decrease in the number of persons sentenced to capital punishment and to transportation.

118. The statement appended shows the duration of imprisonment inflicted during the period under report.

| Year. | Fifteen days and under. | Six months and under. | Two years and under. | Seven years and under. | Above 7 years. | Total imprisoned. |

CHIEF COURT.

122. Original Jurisdiction.—The Chief Court began to exercise original jurisdiction in criminal cases in the Bangalore, Kolar and Tumkur Districts on the 28th of May 1884, when the Court of the Sessions Judge of the Nundydroog Division was abolished.

123. The sessions work of the Chief Court for the year 1884 was dealt with by 29 Benches occupying 25 days and for 1885 by 54 Benches occupying 54 days.

124. The subjoined table shows by Districts the commitments made to the Chief Court and the persons concerned therein during the years 1884 and 1885 :—

| | 1884. | | 1885. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Number of Cases. | Number of Persons. | Number of Cases. | Number of Persons. |

| Total ... ... | 32 | 108 | 46 | 69 |

126. Several gangs of dacoits who had been committing depredations for years in the Tumkur District and elsewhere, were arrested in His Highness the Nizam's Dominions and put upon their trial in the year 1884. Hence the large number of persons shown under that year.

127. The results of the trials in the cases above referred to are shown below:—

| Year. | Cases. | Persons. | Pending from previous year. | | Persons. | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | | Cases. | Persons. | Acquitted. | Convicted. | Pending trial. | |
| 1884 | 32 | 108 | ... | ... | 68 | 37 | 3 | |
| 1885 | 46 | 69 | 3 | 3 | 35 | 35 | 1 | 1 died. |

128. The persons convicted during the years 1884 and 1885 were awarded punishments as detailed below :—

| | 1884. | 1885. |
|---|---|---|
| Sentenced to death . . .. | 1 | 8 |
| „ to transportation .. .. .. | 26 | 1 |
| „ to imprisonment .. .. .. | 10 | 26 |
| Total.... | 37 | 35 |

129. In 1884 one person was sentenced to whipping in addition to imprisonment and one person was fined Rs 100. In the succeeding year fines of Rs. 10 and 25 were imposed in two cases.

130. The number of witnesses examined during the Sessions in the years 1884 and 1885 were 165 and 437 respectively; and the cost of dieting the witnesses was Rs. 316—8—0 in 1884 and Rs. 146—9—6 in 1885.

131. The following table gives the results of trials conducted with the aid of Assessors :—

| Years. | Number of cases tried with the aid of Assessors. | Number of cases in which the Judge agreed with the Assessors. | Number of cases in which the Judge did not agree with the Assessors. |
| 1885 | 43 | 37 | 6 |

132. Appellate Jurisdiction.—No separate Benches are formed for the disposal of criminal work; the Benches that sit for Civil Appellate work also dispose of Criminal appeals. As a rule appeals against the decisions of the Chief Court on the original side are disposed of by a Full Bench, and other appeals are disposed of by a Divisional Bench consisting of 2 Judges. The number of Benches engaged as Courts of Appeal during the latter half of the year 1884 was 65, of which 7 were Full Benches and the remaining 58 Divisional Benches. In the year 1885, 110 Benches sat, of which 9 were Full Benches and the rest Divisional Benches.

133. In 1881 there was one appeal filed by the Government Advocate to the Chief Court from the sentence of acquittal passed by the Sessions Judge of the Nundydroog Division in the case of Gollanayak, one of the accused in a Tumkur dacoity case. The Chief Judge set aside the sentence of acquittal, and convicted the prisoner for retaining property obtained by dacoity. No appeal was preferred by Government in 1882, but in 1883 and 1884 two appeals, one in each year, were preferred against orders of acquittal passed in two murder cases by the Sessions Judge of the Nagar Division. In both these cases the orders of acquittal were set aside and the accused persons convicted of murder and sentenced to transportation for life. In 1885 two such appeals were preferred against orders of acquittal passed by the Sessions Judge of Nagar in a case of Criminal misappropriation and one of murder. Both the appeals were rejected by the Chief Court.

134. The appeals disposed of during the 5 years under report are classified below according to the manner of their disposal:—

| | 1881. | | 1882. | | 1883. | | 1884. | | 1885. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | No. of Appeals. | No. of Persons. | No. of Appeals. | No. of Persons. | No. of Appeals. | No. of Persons. | No. of Appeals. | No. of Persons. | No. of Appeals. | No. of Persons. |

| Total..... | 89 | 153 | 81 | 105 | 52 | 72 | 91 | 132 | 113 | 218 |

135. The average duration of the appeals disposed of during the years under report was as follows:—

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881 | .. | 12·0 days. | 1884 | .. | 22·82 days. |
| 1882 | .. | 13·4 „ | 1885 | .. | 41·53 „ |
| 1883 | .. | 20·7 „ | | | |

136. The high average noticeable against 1885 is due to the fact of holidays not being excluded in calculating the period of pendency of appeals as in previous years.

137. The following statement exhibits by Sessions Divisions the number of cases submitted to the Chief Court as a Court of Reference, for confirmation of capital sentences:—

| | 1881. | | 1882. | | 1883. | | 1884. | | 1885. | |

PRISONS.

143. The Jails in Mysore are controlled ex-officio by the Chief Judge of Mysore under the designation of "Inspector General of Prisons."

144. At the time of the Rendition there were 9 Jails in the Province, one at the Head-Quarters of each of the 8 Districts into which the Province was divided, and an additional one at Kukarhalli near Mysore, which last had been kept up temporarily for providing labor for the construction of a large tank near Mysore for improving the water-supply of that town. The temporary Jail at Kukarhalli was abolished on the 1st June 1881. Soon after the revision of Districts and Taluks in 1882—83 the number of District Jails in the Province was reduced from 8 to 3. Rules were framed at the same time specifying the Jails to which persons sentenced by the several Criminal Courts in the Province should be sent for incarceration. From 1st August 1883 therefore there have been only 3 District Jails in the Province, viz. the Central Jail at Bangalore, and the District Jails at Mysore and Shimoga. Besides these there are lock-ups at the Head-Quarters of all the Taluks and Sub-Taluks in the Province.

145. The subjoined table shows the total number of persons incarcerated in the Jails in the Province under the several heads of convicts, under-trial prisoners and civil prisoners during the 5 years under report as compared with the year 1880 :—

146. The falling off in the number of persons admitted into the Jails which is observed during the first three years of the period under report shows that the decrease of crime observable so soon as the pressure of the famine was somewhat removed has steadily continued. A small increase is however observed in the last two years, and this was probably due to the bad agricultural prospects of those years.

147. The annexed statement shows the manner in which the under-trial prisoners were disposed of :—

| | 1880. | 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. |

| Total ..... | 4,503 | 3,779 | 4,089 | 2,781 | 3,180 | 3,911 |

148. The percentage of persons released as compared with the total number of under-trial prisoners disposed of was 55·1 in 1880, 52·7 in 1881, 57·4 in 1882, 57·6 in 1883, 56·1 in 1884 and 57·5 in 1885.

149. The subjoined comparative statement shows the manner in which the convicts in Jail were disposed of during the 5 years under report :—

150. It is satisfactory to note that the total number of female convicts in the Jails has gradually declined from 395 in 1880 to 247 in 1885. The total number of male convicts too has declined by so much as 45 per cent during the period under report, although during the last two years it showed a tendency to increase. The total number of convicts who escaped during the whole of the period under report was 15, of whom 6 were recaptured. There are at present 41 escaped prisoners yet to be captured. The number of persons executed for the offence of murder was largest in 1881, being 13; it is however satisfactory to note that it has since then fallen off, being between 5 and 7 in the following years. The mortality in the Jails has also considerably fallen during the period under report.

151. It will be seen in the foregoing statement that from the year 1882 no persons are shown as having been transported beyond the seas. This is due to the fact that from the year 1882 it was arranged, with the approval of the Government of India, that no more convicts from Mysore sentenced to transportation should be sent to the Andamans, considering the heavy cost of their up-keep there. Under the arrangements then made, all the Mysore convicts in the Andamans with the exception of a small number, who were left behind owing to their dangerous character, were brought back to Mysore after paying the cost of their up-keep which had accumulated to Rs. 1,03,252, and they have since been incarcerated in the Central Jail at Bangalore. Since then the prisoners sentenced to transportation by the Courts in Mysore have been kept in the Central Jail at Bangalore.

152. The following statement gives particulars regarding the religion, age and previous occupation of the convicts remaining at the end of each of the years under report:—

154. The following statement shows the number of re-committals of prisoners during the 5 years under review :—

| | Number of re-committals during the year. | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Once. | Twice. | More than twice. | Total of adults. | Juveniles. | Grand Total. |

| 1885 ... ... ... | 60 | 50 | 38 | 148 | 10 | 158 |

155. From the above it will be seen that of those that were recommitted to prison, by far the largest number consisted of persons who had been once previously convicted, but it is satisfactory to see that the number of convicts of this class which was 95 in 1881 has gradually gone down to 60 in 1885. The number of juveniles recommitted to prison were 9, 9, 4, 7 and 10 in the years 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884 and 1885, respectively.

156. The following statement shows the nature and number of offences committed by convicts while in Jail during the 5 years under report :—

157. The number of Jail offences has been on the decrease, but in the year 1884 there was a rising in the Central Jail at Bangalore of the life convicts who had been brought back from the Andamans, and who demanded to be released, basing their claims upon some indistinct promise alleged to have been held out to them before they left the penal settlement. The rising, in which a good many who had never been transported joined, was put down with a strong hand and there has been no repetition of such bad conduct since then.

The punishments inflicted for Jail offences are shown below :—

158. Much is done in the Central Jail at Bangalore and to a small extent in the Jails at Mysore and Shimoga towards educating the convicts, especially those of youthful age. The language chiefly taught is Kanarese, the vernacular of the country. A Hindustani class was opened in the Mysore Jail in 1881. The following table exhibits the state of knowledge of the convicts when they were released from Jail :—

159. The mark system by which prisoners sentenced to long periods of imprisonment earn a remission of their sentence and small money gratuities for good conduct in Jail has been in force in Mysore from the year 1879. The following figures show the number of persons who obtained remissions of terms of imprisonment and those who obtained money gratuities alone :—

| 1883 ... .. | 29 ... ... | ... 77 |
| 1884 ... ... | 32 ... ... | ... 85 |
| 1885 ... ... | 33 ... ... | ... 34 |

160. The longest remission of sentence gained by any one convict during the 5 years under report was 351 days and the highest gratuity earned was Rs. 5.

161. The aggregate cost and the cost per head of average strength incurred in guarding and maintaining the prisoners of all classes during the period under report are shown in the following statement :—

| | Cost per head of average strength. | | | Total Cost. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Rs. | A. | P. | |
| 1881 ... ... ... ... | 77 | 6 | 2 | 1,58,507 |
| 1882 ... ... ... ... | 85 | 12 | 2 | 1,44,432 |
| 1883 ... ... ... ... | 90 | 10 | 6 | 1,25,163 |
| 1884 ... ... ... ... | 96 | ... | 1 | 1,19,659 |
| 1885 ... ... ... ... | 102 | 13 | 5 | 1,19,404 |

162. There has been a perceptible decrease in the total cost owing chiefly to the reduction in the number of Jails effected in 1883 and to the diminution in the number of prisoners incarcerated. The cost per head has however gradually risen, and this is explained as being due to " the heavy charges of establishments which had to be " retained on their former strength notwithstanding the decrease in the Jail popula-

"tion, and to the nominal heavy cost of fixed Police guards charged to Taluk Lock, "ups, without regard to the number imprisoned, but with reference to the proportion- "ate distance of the Taluk Lock-up from the nearest Jail." Another reason for the increased cost per head is that "in consequence of the return of many life term "prisoners from the Andamans and their consequent incarceration in the Central Jail, "an increase in the strength of the Jail establishment, as well as an increase in "the rates of pay, was sanctioned by Government."

163. The convicts under sentence of labor in the Jails in the Province are employed in cleaning and grinding ragi, on prison duties, such as prison warders, prison servants and gardeners, and in the preparation of articles for use or consumption in the Jails; on Jail buildings; on manufactures; and on public works. The chief industries followed are printing, carpet, tent and blanket making, cloth weaving, gunny and coir work, carpentry and blacksmithery in the Central Jail at Bangalore, carpentry and smithery in the Shimoga Jail and weaving and spinning, basket and mat making and pottery in the Mysore Jail. The carpets manufactured at the Central Jail are of very high quality and in much demand. A few of the smiths in the Shimoga Jail are employed on silver and gold work, such as making bangles, brooches and other ornamental work. The Superintendent states that the European residents in and out of the Province have a great fancy for this kind of work and that their orders are promptly executed. The manufacture of soda water which was carried on for some years in the Shimoga Jail was given up recently as there was no adequate demand for it.

164. The proceeds of the manufacturing industries are exhibited below :—

| | Debits. | Credits. | Apparent Profits to Government. |
|---|---|---|---|
| | Rs. | Rs. | Rs. |
| 1881 .. ... ... | ... | ... | 12,194 |
| 1882 .. .. ... | 45,294 | 60,132 | 14,838 |
| 1883 .. ... ... | 38,415 | 52,275 | 13,860 |
| 1884 ... ... ... | 31,102 | 39,537 | 8,435 |
| 1885 ... .. .. | 29,227 | 38,311 | 9,084 |

165. The apparent profit to Government is the amount of excess credited to Government after deducting the credits from debits, and includes the value of unsold manufactured articles, of raw materials for manufacture, of plant and machinery, of outstanding bills due to the Jails, and the cash in hand at the end of the year. The excess of money paid into the Treasury over the amount drawn therefrom or the actual cash profit to Government was Rs. 10,374, 17,655, 12,174, 11,979 and 8,885 respectively in the years 1881, 1882, 1883, 884 and 1885. Deducting the cash profit to Government in each year from the cost of guarding and maintaining the prisoners in the Jails and Lock-ups in the Province, the net cost to Government was Rs. 1,48,133 in 1881, Rs. 1,26,777 in 1882, Rs. 1,12,989 in 1883, Rs. 1,07,680 in 1884, and Rs. 1,10,519 in 1885.

166. The general health of the prisoners during the 5 years under report was on the whole good In the years 1883 and 1884, however, there was some increase in sickness and mortality chiefly in the Shimoga Jail owing to the prevalence of fever and bronchial complaints.

CIVIL JUSTICE.

167. The Civil Courts in Mysore are of four classes :—

(1) The Court of the Munsiff.

(2) The Court of the Subordinate Judge.

(3) The District Court.

(4) The Chief Court.

168. The constitution, powers and jurisdiction of the Civil Courts subordinate to the Chief Court were consolidated and amended by the Mysore Civil Courts Regulation I of 1883. The constitution of the Chief Court was amended, so as to admit of the appointment of 3 Judges to that Court, by the Mysore Chief Court Regulation I of 1884. The jurisdiction and powers of the different classes of Courts are specified below :—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| (1) | The Court of the Munsiff. | Exercises original civil jurisdiction up to .. ..Rs. 1,000 |
| (2) | The Court of the Subordinate Judge. | Exercises original civil jurisdiction up to .. ..Rs. 5,000Hears appeals from the decisions of Munsiffs when transferred to it by the District Judge. |
| (3) | The District Court. | Exercises original civil jurisdiction to an unlimited extent.Hears appeals from the decisions of Munsiffs and also from those of Subordinate Judges when the value of the suit does not exceed ..Rs. 3,000 |
| (4) | The Chief Court. | By one of its Judges sitting for the purpose, exercises the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of a District Court in the Districts of Bangalore, Kolar and Tumkur (including the Chitaldroog Sub-Division). Sitting as a Full Bench hears appeals from the decrees and orders of a single Judge of the Court and sitting as a Bench of not less than two Judges, disposes of every other appeal brought before it. |

169. The Munsiffs in Mysore exercise the powers of a Court of Small Causes up to a limit of Rs. 50 and Subordinate Judges up to Rs. 100.

170. Prior to the Rendition there were in the Province, besides the Judicial Commissioner's Court at Bangalore, 3 District Courts stationed at Bangalore, Mysore and Shimoga, 8 Subordinate Judge's Courts, one for each District of the Province, and 22 Munsiff's Courts situated at important centres of business in the State. The District Court of the Nundydroog Division, stationed at Bangalore, was abolished on the 28th May 1884 and its jurisdiction transferred to the present Chief Court of three Judges which was formed on that date.

171. With the abolition of the Revenue Districts of Hassan and Chitaldroog in 1882—83, the Subordinate Judge's Courts of those Districts were abolished, and that at Kolar was done away with at the same time owing to the proximity by rail of that District to Bangalore. In 1883 the Subordinate Judges' Courts at Bangalore and Shimoga were abolished, and on the formation of the Chief Court with 3 Judges in May 1884, the Courts at Tumkur, Mysore and Chikmagalur were abolished while that of the Bangalore District was revived. There was thus only one Subordinate Judge's Court, the one at Bangalore, left at the close of the period under report.

172. The Munsiff's Court at Chellakere was abolished in 1881 owing to the paucity of work in that Court and the inconvenience of its situation, while at the same time an Additional Munsiff's Court was established for the Town of Bangalore. At the time of the reconstitution of Districts and Taluks in 1882—83, the Munsiff's Courts at Closepet, Chintamani, Hunsur and Shikarpur were abolished. Again on 1st August 1885 the Additional Munsiff's Court at Bangalore was abolished and an Additional Court established at Mysore. There were thus 18 Munsiff's Courts in the Province at the close of the period under report with head-quarters and territorial jurisdiction as shown below :—

COURTS SUBORDINATE TO THE CHIEF COURT.

173. The following statement shows the number of suits instituted in the several Courts in the Province subordinate to the Chief Court during the 5 years under report and in the year just preceding that period:—

| Class of Courts. | 1880. | 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| *Bangalore Court of Small Causes ... | 3,849 | 754 | ... | ... | ... | ... | * Abolished on the 16th of May 1881. |
| Munsiffs ... ... ... | 11,057 | 11,801 | 12,351 | 13,794 | 13,049 | 12,619 | |
| Subordinate Judges ... ... | 2,270 | 2,026 | 2,185 | 624 | 1,285 | 1,886 | |
| District Judges ... ... | 27 | 15 | 21 | 117 | 84 | 111 | |
| Total..... | 17,203 | 14,596 | 14,557 | 14,535 | 14,418 | 14,616 | |

174. There was a fall in the number of suits from 17,203 in 1880 to 14,596 in 1881, and from that year the number of suits has not exceeded 15,000. The decrease is attributed to the assignment at the time of the Rendition of the Bangalore Cantonment and its suburbs under the designation of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore to the management of the British Government.

175. There has been an increase in the number of suits instituted in the Munsiff's Courts from the year 1883, owing to the pecuniary jurisdiction of those Courts having been raised from Rs. 500 to Rs. 1,000. From the same year the number of suits instituted in the Subordinate Judge's Courts shows a considerable decrease while a large increase is observed in the District Courts. These results are attributable to the gradual abolition of Subordinate Judge's Courts and the transfer of their work to District Courts.

176. In the following statement the suits instituted are classified according to their subject-matter:—

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| I. Suits for money or movable property. | On contract. | In writing ... ... | 8,386 | 8,271 | 7,792 | 7,885 | 7,905 |
| | | Not in writing ... | 1,204 | 1,346 | 1,013 | 1,029 | 972 |
| | Goods sold ... ... | | 774 | 1,064 | 1,122 | 993 | 988 |
| | Rent ... ... | | 464 | 461 | 689 | 625 | 564 |
| | Movable property or its value ... | | 626 | 477 | 574 | 496 | 394 |
| | Other suits .... ... | | 1,405 | 901 | 1,038 | 1,317 | 1,277 |
| II. Title and other suits. | Suits for real property ... ... | | 1,097 | 1,224 | 1,608 | 1,273 | 1,840 |
| | Declaratory decrees ... ... | | 88 | 120 | 126 | 176 | 111 |
| | Other suits under the Specific Relief Act ... | | 30 | 107 | 58 | 54 | 81 |
| | Other suits ... ... | | 522 | 586 | 515 | 570 | 484 |
| Total..... | | | 14,596 | 14,557 | 14,535 | 14,418 | 14,616 |

177. About 85 per cent of the total number of suits was for money or movable property and the rest consisted of claims to immovable property and other suits. More than 60 per cent of the suits was based upon contracts relating to money or movable property.

178. The subjoined statement shows the graded value of the suits instituted during the period under report:—

| Grades of Value. | 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Not exceeding Rs. 10 ... ... ... | 1,321 | 1,482 | 1,626 | 1,748 | 1,611 |
| Above Rs. 10 and not exceeding Rs. 50 ... | 6,370 | 6,626 | 6,309 | 6,226 | 6,284 |
| „ 50 „ „ 100 ... | 3,812 | 3,013 | 3,244 | 3,119 | 3,329 |
| „ 100 „ „ 500 ... | 3,012 | 2,853 | 2,755 | 2,710 | 2,729 |
| „ 500 „ „ 1,000 .. | 264 | 240 | 257 | 221 | 276 |
| „ 1,000 „ „ 5,000 ... | 137 | 138 | 122 | 116 | 124 |
| „ 5,000 „ „ 10,000 ... | 5 | 13 | 14 | 7 | 6 |

| Not estimable in money ... | 167 | 186 | 200 | 267 | 253 |

179. Out of a total number of about 14,500 suits, no less than 13,000 were of value below Rs. 500, 10,000 below Rs. 100 and 7,000 below Rs. 50.

180. The following statement shows the number of suits for disposal in the various classes of Courts in each of the years under report, the number disposed of and the manner of disposal :—

| | Class of Courts. | Number for disposal. | Number disposed of— Without Contest. Without trial. | Compromised. | Decreed on Confession. | Decreed ex parte. | Dismissed ex parte. | By Arbitration. | With Contest. For Plaintiff. | For Defendant. | Total Number disposed of. |

| | District Courts ... | 101 | 8 | 5 | 1 | 4 | ... | ... | 25 | 8 | 51 |
| 1885. | Munsiff's Courts ... | 14,558 | 2,408 | 587 | 1,635 | 3,289 | 83 | 9 | 3,717 | 1,103 | 12,831 |
| | Subordinate Judge's Courts ... | 1,968 | 385 | 15 | 166 | 973 | 9 | ... | 241 | 106 | 1,895 |
| | District Courts ... | 161 | 22 | 9 | 4 | 17 | ... | ... | 54 | 23 | 129 |

181. It will be seen that a large majority of the cases was disposed of by the Courts, leaving but a small number pending at the close of each year. Of the total number of cases disposed of, 88 per cent on an average was adjudicated upon by Munsiffs, more than 11 per cent by Sub-Judges and the rest (less than 1 per cent) by District Judges. Out of the total number of suits disposed of, from 16 to 20 per cent was dismissed without trial, 45 to 50 per cent disposed of without contest and 30 to 35 per cent with contest. It is observed that while the numbers of suits disposed of without trial and without contest have shown a tendency to diminish, the contested cases have slightly risen during the period under report.

182. Applications to set aside ex parte decrees were made in 257, 478, 305, 360 and 453 cases in the years 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884 and 1885 respectively. Of these applications 143, 396, 180, 207 and 263 were granted, and the rest rejected. The numbers of applications for review of judgment and for permission to sue in formâ pauperis and the mode of their disposal are shown below :—

| 1882 | 174 | 68 | 220 | 87 |
| 1883 | 164 | 56 | 214 | 70 |
| 1884 | 126 | 51 | 248 | 115 |
| 1885 | 166 | 66 | 211 | 84 |

183. The average duration of contested and uncontested cases in the several Courts is shown in the following table :—

| Class of Courts. | Contested. | | | | | Uncontested. | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885. |
| Munsiff's Courts ... ... ... | 32 | 33 | 36 | 39 | 47 | 22 | 19 | 20 | 22 | 24 |
| Subordinate Judge's Courts ... ... | 31 | 33 | 36 | 28 | 33 | 10 | 18 | 18 | 16 | 18 |
| District Judge's Courts ... ... | 58 | 145 | 64 | 100 | 73 | 40 | 72 | 20 | 72 | 42 |

184. It is reported that these averages are much more favorable than those of Courts of similar status in the Madras Presidency.

185. The total number of witnesses who attended the Courts and the period of their detention are shown below :—

| Years. | Total Number of Witnesses examined. | Witnesses discharged after attendance for— | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | 1 Day. | 2 Days. | 3 Days. |
| 1882 | 37,915 | 35,340 | 2,150 | 335 |
| 1883 | 35,677 | 32,802 | 2,505 | 430 |
| 1884 | 35,708 | 32,871 | 2,218 | 529 |
| 1885 | 43,138 | 38,608 | 3,816 | 638 |

186. The total value of the suits disposed of during the three years 1883, 1884 and 1885 was in round numbers Rs. 16,82,000, 13,24,000 and 16,88,000 respectively, or an average value of Rs. 119, 95 and 114 per suit. The cost to parties during the same period ranged from Rs. 2,41,000 to Rs. 2,72,000, giving an average of Rs. 18 per suit.

187. Miscellaneous Cases.—The following statement shows the number of miscellaneous cases that were disposed of and the manner of their disposal during the five years under report :—

| | Classes of Courts. | Cases disposed of— | | | | Total disposed of. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Without Trial. | Without Contest. | With Contest. | | |
| | | | | For Plaintiff. | For Defendant. | |
| 1881. | Munsiff's Courts ... ... ... | 871 | 1,104 | 890 | 364 | 3,229 |

| | District Judge's Courts ... ... | 676 | 78 | 166 | 123 | 1,043 |

188. Four hundred and ninety-five miscellaneous cases were left pending at the close of the year 1885. The average duration of miscellaneous cases ranged from 16 to 20 days in contested, and from 6 to 12 days in uncontested, cases during the period under report.

189. Execution of decrees.—The following statement shows the number of applications for execution of decrees and the manner of disposal together with the amount realized in satisfaction of the decrees:—

| | Total number of applications for the year. | Number disposed of— | | | | Amount realized | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | By transfer. | Satisfied in part. | Satisfied completely. | Wholly infructuous. | With the issue of process. | Without the issue of process. |

| 1884 ... ... | 16,923 | 840 | 3,522 | 3,225 | 7,536 | 2,64,900 | 34,199 |
| 1885 ... ... | 17,188 | 612 | 3,558 | 3,916 | 8,101 | 3,41,636 | 47,723 |

190. The execution of the decrees was carried out in the various modes authorized by law. The cases in which judgment-debtors were arrested and imprisoned are shown below:—

| | 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Judgment-debtors arrested but released without imprisonment ... ... | 1,308 | 1,380 | 1,041 | 922 | 1,178 |
| Judgment-debtors imprisoned ... | 188 | 182 | 102 | 106 | 106 |

191. One thousand nine hundred and one applications were pending disposal at the close of the year 1885.

192. Appeals.—The following statement shows the number of appeals disposed of by the courts subordinate to the Chief Court and the manner of their disposal:—

| Year. | Number for disposal. | Number disposed of— | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Confirmed. | Modified. | Reversed. | Remanded. | Without trial. | Total. |
| 1881 ... ... | 935 | 480 | 127 | 175 | 52 | 32 | 866 |
| 1882 ... ... | 1,106 | 593 | 150 | 185 | 48 | 29 | 1,005 |
| 1883 ... ... | 1,056 | 476 | 138 | 174 | 63 | 85 | 936 |
| 1884 ... ... | 675 | 269 | 67 | 92 | 40 | 28 | 496 |
| 1885 ... ... | 735 | 363 | 75 | 83 | 16 | 18 | 555 |

193. It will be seen that the number of appeals has fallen off greatly from the year 1884. This is due to the fact that the Chief Court now exercises first appellate jurisdiction over the large tract comprised within the Districts of Bangalore, Kolar and Tumkur and the appeals filed in that court are not included in the foregoing statement. Over 90 per cent of the number of appeals were contested and the rest disposed of without contest. The decisions of the lower courts were modified in about 40 per cent of the number of appeals, and it is satisfactory to see that this percentage has declined of late.

194. The distribution of the appeals among the Courts of Subordinate Judges and District Judges is shown below :—

| Year. | Subordinate Judge's Courts. | District Judges' Courts. |
|---|---|---|
| 1881 | 737 | 130 |
| 1882 | 901 | 104 |
| 1883 | 502 | 434 |
| 1884 | 103 | 393 |
| 1885 | 21 | 534 |

195. The decrease of the number of appeals in Subordinate Judge's Courts from 737 in 1881 to 21 in 1885 and the increase in the District Judge's Courts from 130 to 534 during the same period is due to the gradual reduction of Subordinate Judge's Courts from 8 to 1 and the transfer of appeals lying to these abolished courts to District Courts. The average cost of each appeal to parties was a little over Rs. 30.

196. The average duration of appeals ranged from 30 to 60 days, the largest duration being in the Court of the District Judge of Nagar, whose work is retarded by his periodical visits to Chikmagalur for the work of criminal sessions.

197. Miscellaneous Appeals.—The numbers of miscellaneous appeals disposed of by the courts subordinate to the Chief Court were 81 in 1881, 95 in 1882, 79 in 1883, 39 in 1884 and 38 in 1885. The average duration of these appeals ranged from 20 to 44 days during the 5 years under report.

CHIEF COURT.

198. The Chief Court of Mysore did not exercise original civil jurisdiction up to the 28th May 1884 when the Chief Court of 3 Judges was formed. Subsequent to that date 12 original suits were filed in the Chief Court in 1884 and 11 in 1885. These, added to the 4 original suits which were received by transfer on the abolition of the District Judge's Court at Bangalore, left 27 cases in all for disposal. Of the original suits instituted, 1 was between Rs. 500 and 1,000 in value, 9 between Rs. 5,000 and 10,000, 12 above Rs. 10,000 and one was not capable of being valued. Of these, 12 were disposed of in 1884 and 7 in 1885, leaving 8 pending at the close of the last named year. Of the number disposed of, 16 were contested and the rest uncontested. For the disposal of these suits 42 Benches, presided over by one Judge, sat in 1884 and 44 in 1885.

199. Twenty applications for execution of decrees were filed in the Chief Court in 1884 and 12 in 1885. Of these ,17 were disposed of in 1884 and 11 in 1885, leaving 4 applications pending at the close of the latter year.

200. The number of miscellaneous cases for disposal in the Chief Court in 1884 and 1885 and the number disposed of are shown below :—

| | Number for disposal. | Number disposed of. |
|---|---|---|
| 1885 | 172 | 154 |

201. For the disposal of appeals, 85 Benches of Judges including 15 Full Benches sat in 1884 and 115 Benches including 6 Full Benches sat in 1885. The following statement shows the number of regular appeals disposed of by the Chief Court during the 5 years under report and the manner of their disposal :—

| | Total number for disposal. | Number disposed of— | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Without trial. | Confirmed. | Modified. | Reversed. | Remanded. |
| 1881 ... ... ... | 5 | ... | 2 | 1 | 2 | ... |
| 1882 ... ... ... | 10 | ... | 2 | 3 | 2 | ... |
| 1883 ... ... ... | 14 | ... | 4 | 2 | 1 | 1 |
| 1884 ... ... ... | 249 | 14 | 100 | 35 | 44 | 6 |
| 1885 ... ... ... | 408 | 17 | 179 | 50 | 64 | 15 |

202. The large increase in the years 1884 and 1885 is due to the Chief Court taking up the work of the District Judge's Court at Bangalore from the 28th May 1884. The large majority of the appeals disposed of were contested. Twenty per cent of the appeals disposed of resulted in reversal of the decrees of the lower courts, the rest having been confirmed or modified.

203. Second Appeals.—The following statement shows the number of second appeals disposed of during the period under report:—

| | Total number for disposal. | Number disposed of— | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Without trial. | Confirmed. | Modified. | Reversed. | Remanded. |
| 1881 ... ... ... | 148 | 8 | 71 | 12 | 23 | 4 |
| 1882 ... ... ... | 212 | 13 | 106 | 7 | 40 | 19 |
| 1883 ... ... ... | 222 | 7 | 116 | 10 | 38 | 15 |
| 1884 ... ... ... | 175 | 9 | 109 | 7 | 22 | 7 |
| 1885 ... ... ... | 156 | 2 | 92 | 15 | 17 | 3 |

204. The largest number of second appeals came from the Mysore District where litigation prevails to a greater extent than in the other Districts of the Province. The decrees of the lower courts appealed against were confirmed in a large number of cases. Twenty seven second appeals were pending at the close of the year 1885.

205. Of the number of second appeals preferred to the Court, 20 in 1884 and 47 in 1885 were filed under Clause D of Section 584 of the Code of Civil Procedure as extended to Mysore by Regulation No. II of 1884, which allows second appeals on a material question of fact when the lower appellate court differs from the court of first instance.

206. The following statement shows the number of miscellaneous appeals disposed of during the period under report:—

| | Number for disposal. | Number disposed of. |
|---|---|---|
| 1881 ... ... ... ... ... ... | 16 | 13 |
| 1882 ... ... ... ... ... ... | 28 | 22 |
| 1883 ... ... ... ... ... ... | 41 | 38 |
| 1884 ... ... ... ... ... ... | 49 | 37 |
| 1885 ... ... ... ... ... ... | 60 | 55 |

207. Five miscellaneous appeals were left pending at the close of the year 1885.

208. The receipts and charges of the Civil Courts in the Province during the 5 years under report are shown in the following table :—

| | 1881 | 1882 | 1883 | 1884 | 1885 |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Receipts ... ... ... | 2,39,212 | 2,10,511 | 2,14,684 | 1,70,560 | 2,03,639 |
| Charges ... ... ... | 3,45,232 | 3,10,107 | 2,45,872 | 2,23,990 | 2,48,152 |

209. The process serving establishment attached to the Courts in the Province at the close of the period under report was composed of 110 Amins and 318 Peons. The following statement shows the number of processes issued, the fees collected, the cost of the establishment and the saving effected during the years under report :—

| | Number of Processes. | Total amount of Fees collected. | | | Total Expenditure. | | | Savings. | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881 ... ... ... ... | 112,144 | 59,790 | 4 | 0 | 50,203 | 9 | 7 | 9,586 | 10 | 5 |
| 1882 ... ... ... ... | 122,692 | 64,406 | 4 | 0 | 50,273 | 14 | 5 | 14,132 | 5 | 7 |
| 1883 ... ... ... ... | 122,535 | 60,895 | 4 | 0 | 42,674 | 14 | 7 | 18,220 | 5 | 5 |
| 1884 ... ... ... ... | 126,419 | 61,755 | 4 | 0 | 41,405 | 14 | 3 | 20,349 | | 9 |
| 1885 ... ... ... ... | 132,406 | 65,064 | 6 | 6 | 44,150 | 6 | 0 | 20,914 | 0 | 6 |

210. It is observed that the number of processes has increased year by year, and that the savings have doubled themselves during the period under report.

211. By Notification No. 112, dated the 27th July 1878, issued by the late Chief Commissioner of Mysore under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, which Notification has still the force of law in Mysore, it was provided that the decrees of Civil Courts in British India and the civil processes issued by such courts should be executed by the Courts in Mysore. Subsequent to the Rendition the Government of India * was pleased to declare under Section 650 A of the Civil Procedure Code that "summonses "issued by any Court in Mysore may be sent to the "Courts in British India and served as if they had "been issued by such courts." Again under Section 434 of the Civil Procedure Code † it was declared by the Government of India that "decrees of the Civil and Revenue Courts of Mysore "may be executed in British India as if they had been "made by the Courts of British India." There is thus complete reciprocity between Mysore and British India in the matter of execution of decrees and service of processes.

* Notification by the Government of India, Foreign Department, No. 232 I. J., dated the 25th November 1881.

REGISTRATION.

212. The registration of documents in Mysore is conducted under the provisions of the Indian Registration Act III of 1877 as amended by Act XII of 1879.

213. During the whole of the period under report the Department was under the direction of Mr. H. Hudson, Inspector General of Registration, who was also Comptroller of Mysore. Up to the close of the year 1882 there were 8 Registrars of Districts and 74 Sub-Registrars, but on the 1st January 1883, the Registration Districts and Sub-Districts were reconstituted so as to agree with the change then made in the territorial divisions of the State. The number of Registration Districts was fixed at 9 so as to correspond with the number of new Districts and Sub-Divisions, and the number of Sub-Districts at 77, 56 being placed under Amildars, 16 under Deputy Amildars and 5 under Special Sub-Registrars. The last named offices are stationed at Bangalore (Town), Seringapatam, Mysore, Yedatore and Tirumakudlu-Narsipur. The offices of the Registrar and the Special Sub-Registrar of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore continued to be under the supervision of the Inspector General of Registration in Mysore up to the close of the year 1883—84.

214. The number of registrations has steadily increased under all heads during the period under report as will be seen from the following table :—

| Class of Documents. | 1881—82 | 1882—83 | 1883—84 | 1884—85 | 1885—86 |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Gifts | 88 | 136 | 166 | 108 | 1216 |
| Sales | 8,830 | 9,779 | 9,460 | 9,817 | 10,935 |
| Mortgages | 6,112 | 6,660 | 6,786 | 6,766 | 7,749 |
| Acknowledgment of consideration | 13 | 15 | 23 | 19 | 31 |
| Perpetual leases | 137 | 170 | 163 | 257 | 215 |
| Leases exceeding one year | 380 | 472 | 463 | 363 | 476 |
| Other optionally registrable leases | | | | 50 | 54 |
| Authorities to adopt | 8 | 5 | 5 | 4 | 9 |
| Wills | 83 | 94 | 92 | 81 | 105 |
| Awards | 639 | 711 | 724 | 2 | 6 |
| Certified copies of Decrees and Orders | | | | 11 | 13 |
| Miscellaneous Documents | | | | 672 | 710 |
| Bonds, Contracts, &c. | 525 | 574 | 543 | 489 | 521 |
| Total..... | 16,815 | 18,616 | 18,425 | 18,639 | 20,945 |

215. The following statement shows the number of documents registered "compulsorily" and "optionally" :—

| | Compulsory Registration. | Optional Registration. | | Wills and Authorities to adopt. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Relating to immovable Property. | Relating to movable Property. | |
| 1881—82 ... | 10,406 | 5,793 | 525 | 91 |
| 1882—83 ... | 11,413 | 6,530 | 574 | 99 |
| 1883—84 ... | 11,011 | 6,774 | 543 | 97 |
| 1884—85 ... | 10,967 | 7,098 | 489 | 85 |
| 1885—86 ... | 12,183 | 8,127 | 521 | 114 |

216. The most remarkable point in this statement is the steady increase year by year in the number of optional registrations of immovable property ; and it shows that the people appreciate the security. More than half the number of such registrations relate to immovable property of and below the value of Rs. 50, and the large increase in them (from 3,842 in 1881—82 to 4,883 in 1885—86) is due to the reduction of the registration fee in those cases from Re. 1 to 8 annas in 1878—79.

217. The aggregate value of property transferred annually by registered documents was about 50 lakhs in the case of immovable property and 3 lakhs in the case of movable property. In the year 1881—82, however, the value of immovable property transferred reached the high figure of 88 lakhs, owing to the registration during that year of a large number of conveyances relating to Gold mining lands in Kolar and of several documents affecting coffee lands assigned or mortgaged for large sums.

218. The following statement shows the percentage of the fees realized calculated on the total value of the property involved and also on the number of documents registered :—

| | Average Fee on value of Property. | | | | | | Average Fee for each registered Document. | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Immovable. | | | Movable. | | | Compulsory. | | | Optional. | | |
| | Rs. | A. | P. | Rs. | A. | P. | Rs. | A. | P. | Rs. | A. | P. |
| 1881—82 ... ... ... | 0 | 7 | 7 | 0 | 6 | 2 | 3 | 11 | 9 | 0 | 14 | 5 |
| 1882—83 ... ... ... | 0 | 12 | 0 | 0 | 7 | 8 | 2 | 14 | 8 | 0 | 13 | 7 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... | 0 | 11 | 5 | 0 | 6 | 2 | 2 | 14 | 4 | 0 | 13 | 2 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... | 0 | 11 | 8 | 0 | 6 | 1 | 2 | 12 | 4 | 0 | 13 | 4 |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... | 0 | 12 | 1 | 0 | 5 | 6 | 2 | 12 | 1 | 0 | 12 | 9 |

219. The following statement shows the number of refusals to register, the number of appeals against such refusals and the manner in which such appeals were disposed of :—

| | Total No. of Refusals. | No. of Cases in which there were Appeals. | No. in which the Order was confirmed. | No. in which the Order was reversed. | No. in which registration was ordered by the Civil Court. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 ... ... ... | 97 | 15 | 2 | 13 | ... |
| 1882—83 ... ... ... | 151 | 33 | 12 | 21 | ... |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... | 152 | 24 | 1 | 20 | 3 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... | 187 | 34 | 9 | 22 | 3 |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... | 229 | 26 | 4 | 21 | 1 |

220. The large number of reversals in appeal of the orders of refusal passed by Sub-Registrars shows that these officers are still inexperienced.

221. The number of documents admitted to registration on payment of penalty and the amount of fees recovered are shown below :—

| | Number of late Presentations. | No. of Cases of delay in the appearance of Executants. | Amount of Penalties recovered. | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 ... ... | 70 | 106 | 949 | 4 | 0 |
| 1882—83 ... ... | 87 | 163 | 1,150 | 4 | 0 |
| 1883—84 ... ... | 76 | 169 | 1,283 | 6 | 0 |
| 1884—85 ... ... | 62 | 168 | 996 | 10 | 0 |
| 1885—86 ... ... | 101 | 158 | 1,227 | 4 | 0 |

222. The number of court sale certificates received from the Courts and filed in Registration Offices and the number of such certificates presented by holders and registered are shown below :—

| | Court Sale Certificates. | |
|---|---|---|
| | Received and filed. | Presented for registration. |
| 1881—82 ... ... ... ... ... | 508 | 481 |
| 1882—83 ... ... ... ... ... | 840 | 507 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... ... ... | 660 | 396 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... ... ... | 568 | 329 |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... ... ... | 579 | 373 |

223. The following statement shows the number of documents impounded by the Registration Offices and the amount of deficient stamp duty and penalty recovered thereon :—

| | No. of Documents impounded. | Deficient Stamp Duty and Penalty recovered. | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | ₹ | | |
| 1881—82 ... ... ... | 101 | 1,066 | 10 | ... |
| 1882—83 ... ... ... | 64 | 357 | 8 | ... |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... | 80 | 634 | 14 | ... |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... | 97 | 3,450 | 12 | ... |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... | 106 | 1,127 | 12 | ... |

224. There was only one prosecution under the Act during the period under report. It occurred in 1882—83 in the Mysore District, but the charge which was one of false personation was not substantiated.

225. The registered documents which were left unclaimed in the Registration Offices for more than two years and which were destroyed under the provisions of the Act numbered 64 in 1881—82, 71 in 1882—83, 103 in 1883—84, 65 in 1884—85 and 96 in 1885—86.

226. It is satisfactory to note that more than 90 per cent of the number of documents registered were registered within two days from the date of presentation.

227. The following statement shows the financial results of the Registration Department during the 5 years under report :—

| | Receipts. | | | | Expenditure. | | | | Surplus. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Fees. | Penalties. | Miscellaneous Receipts. | Total. | Salary and Establishment allowances. | Commission to Sub-Registrars at 40 per cent. | Contingencies, &c. | Total. | |
| | ₹ | ₹ | ₹ | ₹ | ₹ | ₹ | ₹ | ₹ | ₹ |
| 1881—82 ... | 51,107 2 | 949 4 | 117 1 | 52,173 7 | 11,909 0 | 12,763 5 | 593 5 | 25,265 11 | 26,907 11 |
| 1882—83 ... | 46,228 12 | 1,150 4 | 131 4 | 47,510 4 | 12,070 14 | 14,021 10 | 633 10 | 26,726 3 | 20,784 1 |
| 1883—84 ... | 44,377 6 | 1,283 6 | 283 10 | 45,944 6 | 13,338 0 | 12,111 6 | 736 3 | 26,185 11 | 19,758 11 |
| 1884—85 ... | 42,365 14 | 996 10 | 156 4 | 43,518 12 | 14,383 8 | 10,291 9 | 603 7 | 25,283 10 | 18,235 1 |
| 1885—86 ... | 47,257 2 | 1,227 4 | 190 12 | 48,675 2 | 14,181 3 | 11,321 9 | 831 1 | 26,333 14 | 22,341 0 |

228. The Department has, it will be seen, been yielding a surplus of about Rs. 20,000 annually, the large surplus of Rs. 26,907 in 1881—82 being an exceptional one owing to the extensive transfer of Gold Mining lands in that year.

REGISTRATION OF COMPANIES.

229. The registration of Joint Stock Companies in Mysore is conducted under the provisions of the Indian Companies Act X of 1866 which was extended to Mysore in 1868. It is in contemplation to introduce into the Province the provisions of the new Companies Act VI of 1882 of the British Indian Legislature.

230. Up to the close of the period under report the office of Registrar of Companies was held by Mr. H. Hudson, Comptroller of Mysore.

231. The following table shows the total number of Joint Stock Companies that were in existence during the five years under report, the number that were actually working and the number that were being wound up :—

| | At the close of the year— | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1881—82. | 1882—83. | 1883—84. | 1884—85. | 1885—86. |
| Banks carrying on operations ... | 34 | 32 | 28 | 44 | 65 |
| Do in existence but not working ... | 19 | 18 | 17 | 7 | 7 |
| Do winding up voluntarily ... | 8 | 12 | 7 | 7 | 20 |
| Do do by order of Court ... | 9 | 10 | 9 | 10 | |
| Total..... | 70 | 72 | 61 | 68 | 92 |

232. The figures given in the foregoing statement for the years 1881—82 and 1882—83 include the Companies in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore. The large increase in the number of Companies for the year 1885—86 is due to the registration of 24 new Companies under the Act during the year.

233. Of the 92 Companies which were in existence at the close of the year 1885—86, 65 were working Companies with a nominal capital of Rs. 24,64,500, 7 with a nominal capital of Rs. 2,60,000 were not working, and 20 with a nominal capital of Rs. 13,20,000 were in course of liquidation either voluntarily or under orders of the Courts.

234. The Joint Stock Companies in Mysore are mostly small native money lending concerns. The nature of the working Companies at the close of the year 1885—86 and the amount of nominal and paid up capital of each class of Companies are shown in the following statement :—

| Nature of Companies. | Number. | Nominal Capital. | Paid up Capital. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Banking or Loan Companies ... ... ... | 56 | 22,69,500 | 5,81,469 |
| Banking and Insurance Companies ... ... | 5 | 85,000 | 41,701 |
| Trading Companies ... ... ... | 4 | 1,10,000 | 36,475 |
| Total..... | 65 | 24,64,500 | 6,59,645 |

MONEY ORDER DEPARTMENT.

235. Since the transfer in British India of Money Order work from the Treasuries to the Post Office early in 1880, the business of the Mysore Money Order Department has been on the decline. What with the various conveniences afforded to the public by the Postal Department by delivering remittances free of charge, and conveying parcels under the value payable system, Money Order work has rapidly increased under its management and the British Post Offices at Bangalore, Kolar, Mysore and Hassan have engrossed all the Money Orders issued as between these stations. The local Anche (Post) Offices in Mysore are as yet unequal to a similar task, and Money Order transactions therefore still continue to be conducted through the District and Taluk Treasuries in the State. At these treasuries certificates of credit are given for the issue by the Bangalore Post Office of Money Orders for the payment outside the Province of remittances from the interior of Mysore, and also for the payment at the Taluk Treasuries in the State of Money Orders from British India transferred by the Bangalore Post Office for payment. For these certificates of credit the Mysore Government receives a moiety of the amount of commission realized by the British Government.

236. The following statement shows the number of local Money Orders and certificates of credit issued by the Treasuries in Mysore from 1879—80, the year at the close of which the Money Order Department was transferred to the Post Office in British India :—

| Year. | Local Money Orders issued. | | Treasury Certificates of Credit issued. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | No. | Amount. | No. | Amount. |
| 1879—80 ... ... ... | 3,674 | 1,08,569 | 3,310 | 1,01,875 |
| 1880—81 ... ... ... | 2,285 | 59,347 | 1,267 | 48,875 |
| 1881—82 ... ... ... | 2,271 | 54,792 | 1,748 | 54,616 |
| 1882—83 ... .. ... | 2,142 | 47,566 | 1,732 | 50,853 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... | 1,973 | 52,262 | 1,871 | 59,544 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... | 2,028 | 45,956 | 1,895 | 48,055 |
| 1885—86 .. ... ... | 1,916 | 36,682 | 2,217 | 53,375 |

237. It will be seen from the foregoing statement that there was a sudden fall in the number and value of local Money Orders in 1880—81, and that they have since gradually declined. This is accounted for by the fact that since the reduction of the rate of fee for registration of letters from 4 to 2 annas, people find it cheaper and more expeditious to make remittances in currency notes by post than to resort to Treasuries for Money Orders. The number and value of Treasury certificates of credit too experienced a sudden fall in 1880—81 ; they have since then gradually increased.

238. The receipts and charges of the Money Order Department during the five years under review are shown in the following table, from which it will be seen that notwithstanding the several drawbacks mentioned above, the Department has yielded a small but gradually increasing annual surplus during the period in question :—

MUNICIPAL ADMINISTRATION.

239. The number of Municipalities in working in the year 1881-82 was 83 against 84 in the year previous, the Municipality of the Cantonment of Bangalore having been transferred to the jurisdiction of the Resident after the Rendition. The number remained unchanged in 1882—83. In the year 1883—84, the Municipality at Maddur which had been closed in 1877—78 for want of funds was reopened and four new * Municipalities were established. During the year 1884—85, Municipal operations were extended to the three towns of Molakalmuru, Jagalur and Arsikere. In 1885—86 two more towns—Pavagada and Mudgere—were added to the list of Municipalities, making in all 93 Municipalities at the close of the period under report. The following statement exhibits the number of Municipalities during the years 1884—85 and 1885—86:—

*Chellakere.

240. In forty-eight of the above Municipalities during 1885-86, there were Boards consisting of ex-officio and non-official members nominated under the orders of the Government. The Bangalore Municipal Board continued to be governed by the Municipal Regulations of 1871 as amended by the Government Notification No. 108, dated 6th April 1883, its executive charge being vested in the Vice-President nominated by the Government. All the other Municipalities worked under orders of the District and Sub-Division officers subject to the general control of the Government.

241. According to the Census estimate of 1881, the population within Municipal limits in 1885—86 consisted of 438,569 persons.

242. The subjoined comparative abstract exhibits the financial results of the Municipalities in the Province during the past six years :—

243. The decrease in Municipal revenue and expenditure in 1881—82 as compared with those of the previous year is mainly due to the transfer of the Bangalore Cantonment Municipality to the jurisdiction of the Resident since the Rendition.

RECEIPTS.

244. Octroi.—During the revision of sayer and octroi in 1879—80, the octroi tax was abolished on arecanut which was declared subject to the usual sayer duty collected at the place of production. On the other hand, the levy of sayer was discontinued on betel-leaves, cocoanuts, dry and green, and tobacco which were transferred to the list of articles liable to octroi at combined rates, so as to include the old sayer and octroi rates—to be shared by the Government and Municipalities in specified proportions. Further, the octroi realized in Bangalore on the imports from Her Majesty's territories of betel-leaves, cocoanuts, dry and green, and tobacco, was left to be entirely appropriated by the Municipality. In order to secure proper data to judge of the effects of these alterations, it was directed that octroi should be levied on the sayer articles, viz. betel-leaves, cocoanuts, dry and green, and tobacco, at the combined rates authorized in all Municipal towns without exception, the taxation of other dutiable articles being left to the discretion of Municipal Boards subject to the sanction of the Government.

245. It was however found after some experience that the octroi tax, the levy of which is attended with much complication, was not sufficiently productive in minor Municipalities. The Government, therefore, in 1882 observed that it was better for all the Municipalities excepting those at Provincial head-quarters to dispense with the octroi and to look to a fair house-tax and to the growth of a proper Municipal spirit for conservancy and other town improvements. Accordingly, the levy of octroi except on cloth was discontinued in all the Municipalities of the Shimoga District except Shimoga, from the commencement of 1883—84.

246. In 1884-85, the Government share of octroi on betel-leaves and cocoanuts in Mysore was ceded to the Municipality at that station to supplement its revenue.

247. During the past year, it was observed that the octroi revenue in many Municipal towns was very much on the decline, and sanction was accorded to the recommendations made by the District and Sub-Division officers to abolish the tax generally in minor Municipalities and to retain it in large towns only on a few productive articles.

248. House Tax.—During the revision of 1879—80, the separate collection of Municipal house-tax as kachara terige in addition to the Government mohatarfa house-tax in Municipal towns was given up, and all the Municipalities were authorized to levy house-tax at uniform rates together with the mohatarfa on shops, looms, oil-mills and carts, paying one half of the realizations to Government and retaining the other half; the head-quarters of Districts and of the Sub-Divisions of Hassan and Chitaldroog and the town of Seringapatam being left to enjoy the entire proceeds from these sources of revenue on the condition as usual of their defraying the cost of their Police, and Chikmagalur the cost also of the District High School at that station.

EXPENDITURE.

249. Collection.—Establishments for collection of Municipal taxes were maintained at the head-quarters of Districts and the Sub-Divisions of Hassan and Chitaldroog and a few other towns. The work of collection in the other Municipalities was generally managed through the agency of the local revenue officials, a percentage remuneration being allowed to them for collection of octroi in some places.

250. Head Office.—The charge under "Head Office" was on account of the small establishments maintained in the District and Sub-Division Offices for the examination of their Municipal accounts.

251. Public Works.—Under "Public Works" expenditure was mainly incurred on the construction and maintenance of roads and drains and in some places of wells and other local sources of water-supply.

252. Education.—In the year 1883—84, the Bangalore City Municipality was relieved of the cost of its Police and instead thereof it was directed to bear the more appropriate charge on account of the marginally noted items of Government expenditure. In the same year, the Municipality also established a school of its own in the city.

I Medical Charity—
  (1) Town Civil Dispensary.
  (2) The Maternity.
II Other Local Charities—
  (1) Orphanages.
  (2) Government Chuttrum.
  (3) Langarkhana.
III Local Educational grants-in-aid.

253. From 1st April 1883, the receipts and expenditure connected with the District High School at Chikmagalur were re-transferred to Provincial Funds, leaving the Municipality at that station to bear only the cost of the local Police.

254. Under the recent orders of Government, English education entirely at Government cost is confined to the head-quarters of Districts and their Sub-Divisions except French Rocks. The charge on account of the classes for English instruction established at Taluk head-quarters is borne by the Government and the Municipalities in the proportion of $\frac{1}{4}$th and $\frac{3}{4}$ths respectively, the revenue from fees in these classes being entirely credited to Municipal Funds. These institutions are subject to the direction and inspection of the Educational officers of the State.

255. Dispensaries.—Since 1881—82, medical aid was gradually extended to several Municipalities so that there were 37 Dispensaries in Municipal towns in 1885—86.

256. During the period under report Municipal administration has on the whole been prosperous. The conservancy and cleanliness in Municipalities were generally well attended to and the general health of the Municipal population was good in spite of the slight appearance of cholera in 1884—85 in a few places where vigorous measures were successfully adopted against its spread. A scheme for the better sanitation of the Fort of Mysore and general improvement in the town was sanctioned towards the latter part of the period under report and considerable improvements are in the course of progress in that Municipality.

MILITARY.

257. As before the Rendition the Mysore Local Force consisted till recently of 3 Regiments of Siladar Cavalry and 3 Regiments of Barr Infantry. The command of the Force has, from time to time during the 5 years under report, been held by the officers named below :—

Colonel R. C. Stewart, up to the 6th April 1881.
Colonel C. A. Benson, up to the 25th December 1881.
Colonel J. O. Travers, up to the 10th August 1883.
Colonel A. C. Hay, up to date.

258. Lieutenant (now Captain) R. G. Jones of the 1st Regiment, Madras Light Cavalry, was appointed Staff Officer of the Mysore Troops on 18th August 1883.

Cavalry.—The 3 Regiments of Cavalry were stationed at the following places :—

1st Regiment—At Bangalore with detachments in the Bangalore and Kolar Districts.
2nd Regiment—At Mysore with detachments in the Tumkur and Kolar Districts.
3rd Regiment—At Shimoga with detachments in the Hassan and Chitaldroog Districts.

259. In 1883 the 1st Regiment was sent from Bangalore to Shimoga and the 3rd Regiment brought up from Shimoga to Bangalore for instruction in drill and discipline. Early in 1885, however, with the view of bringing the Force as much as possible within the control of the European officers for the purpose of inspection, drill and discipline it was resolved to concentrate it at Bangalore and Mysore. The three Regiments were therefore made up into two and stationed at Bangalore and Mysore, the Bangalore Regiment furnishing detachments for duty in the Bangalore, Kolar, Tumkur and Chitaldroog Districts and the Mysore Regiment those for the Mysore, Hassan and Shimoga Districts. No reduction has been made in the total number of the rank and file, but the scheme involves the removal of a number of commissioned and non-commissioned officers of one Regiment. It has been ordered that these extra officers be retained at present as supernumeraries, absorbing them gradually into the Force as vacancies occur. It has been calculated that these reductions will eventually result in a saving of Rs. 25,000 per annum.

260. The strength of the Force which prior to the change was 1,224 has now been reduced to 1,171. The strength of the outposts which before the amalgamation of the Regiments was 109 has, upon a due consideration of the requirements of the Districts, been since reduced to 73. The number of Siladars employed in patrolling the roads has been reduced from 139 in 1881—82 to 51 in 1885—86, it being found sufficient to have patrols only on 6 important roads in the Province.

261. Since the appointment of Captain Jones as Staff Officer of the troops, much attention has been paid to the drill and discipline of the Regiments stationed at Bangalore and Mysore and much improvement effected.

262. The general equipment of the Siladars has received attention. Saddles and bridles of the English pattern have been supplied to all the Regiments and woollen clothing issued from the Military Stores at Bangalore. Kaki drill blouses have recently been issued to the 2nd Regiment of Siladars.

263. Great care has been used in the selection of horses for the Siladar Force, the wants of the Department being supplied by purchases and from the Government Stud at Kunigal.

264. A well selected Regiment of Siladar Horse was furnished by the Mysore Government for service at the Camp of Exercise which was held in January 1884 at Krishnarajapuram near Bangalore. The Regiment took an active part in the operations and manœuvres of the camp, and His Excellency the Commander-in-chief of Madras was pleased to express himself in terms of high commendation of the appearance and efficiency of the Siladars.

265. An establishment for the breeding of horses for the ranks is kept up by Government at Kunigal. There were 8 stallions (7 Arabs and 1 Australian) at the close of the year 1885—86. The following statement shows the number of young horses transferred to the ranks from the Kunigal Farm, during the five years under report:—

| Year. | Number. |
|---|---|
| 1881—82 .. .. .. .. .. | 14 |
| 1882—83 .. .. .. .. .. | 12 |
| 1883—84 .. .. .. .. .. | 31 |
| 1884—85 .. .. .. .. .. | 4 |
| 1885—86 .. .. .. .. .. | 43 |
| Total. .. | 104 |

Two hundred and sixty four colts, fillies and foals were left in the Farm at the close of the year 1885—86.

266. The Kunigal Farm has 256 acres of land attached to it, on which crops of hay, ragi, cholam, oats, maize, &c., are raised for the use of the animals in the Farm. Several experiments have been made of late years on the Farm for the preservation of hay and other green fodder by means of silos. The experiments have met with complete success. The details of the experiments are given in an Appendix to this Report.

267. A fund called the "Chanda Fund" has been in force in connection with the Siladar Horse for several years past. Under that system each Siladar pays on enlistment a sum of Rs. 250, and continues paying Rs. 2 per month towards the fund, from which fresh horses are maintained and, on the death or rejection of his horse, each Siladar on making a further contribution of a month's salary is allowed a fresh horse. The system is popular and works satisfactorily. The total receipts in connection with the Chanda Fund in 1885—86 was, inclusive of the opening balance on 1st April 1885, Rs. 1,13,608 and the disbursements Rs. 82,851, leaving a balance at the credit of the fund of Rs. 30,757 on 1st April 1886.

Infantry.—The 3 Regiments of Mysore Barr Infantry were distributed as follows:—

1st Regiment—Stationed at Bangalore with detachments in the Bangalore and Kolar Districts.

2nd Regiment—Stationed at Shimoga with detachments in the Tumkur and Chitaldroog Districts.

3rd Regiment—Stationed at Mysore with detachments in the Hassan and Kadur Districts.

268. The Force consists of 1,917 officers and men of all ranks. The recruits attached to the several Regiments are regularly instructed in drill, but the Military Secretary regrets that the same has not been practicable so far as the regular Battalions are concerned, owing to the heavy duties which the men are required to perform and the small number generally found off duty at the head-quarters of the Regiments. Men from these Regiments are largely used for guarding Treasuries and Jails, in escorting treasure, &c.

269. Several steps have been taken during the period under report to improve the condition of the men in the Mysore Local Force and to popularize the service. With the view of making some provision for the widows and families of deceased officers and men of the Force, sanction was given by the Government to the entertainment of a number of orphan sons of officers and men who had died in the service as recruits on a small monthly allowance. The boys are instructed in drill and will be drafted into the Force on attaining proper age. In 1884 a rule was passed for granting wound pensions to Siladars and Sepoys who become unfit for service from injuries sustained in the execution of public duty. The scale of pensions regulating such cases in the British Native Army was adopted and one such pension was granted to a Siladar in 1884.

270. Again in 1885 sanction was given to the extension to the Siladars of the order relating to the payment of gratuities when their service is more than 5 years and less than 20 years and to the introduction of an order of the British Army as noted on the margin, which has for its object the pensioning or otherwise disposing of men disqualified for active service though not entitled to the usual medical certificate that they are physically disabled.

Para 2705 of the Regulation and Orders of the army of Bengal Presidency, 1st January 1873.

IV. PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

AGRICULTURE.

271. The following statement shows the extent of land, in acres, under cultivation during each of the 5 years under report as compared with 1880—81 :—

| Years. | Rice. | Wheat. | Other food grains. | Oil-seeds. | Coffee. | Cocoanut and Arecanut. | Other Cultivation. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1880—81... | 554,752 | 21,058 | 3,139,560 | 147,464 | 159,165 | 135,542 | 123,133 | 4,280,674 |
| 1881—82... | 554,554 | 19,053 | 3,271,771 | 133,433 | 140,501 | 138,264 | 96,430 | 4,354,006 |
| 1882—83... | 599,934 | 20,433 | 3,340,084 | 162,296 | 146,044 | 139,933 | 106,575 | 4,515,299 |
| 1883—84.. | 626,794 | 21,740 | 3,414,409 | 180,495 | 142,303 | 142,724 | 130,606 | 4,659,071 |
| 1884—85... | 597,443 | 20,378 | 3,329,457 | 163,877 | 141,717 | 131,689 | 89,496 | 4,474,057 |

272. It will be seen from the above that since the Rendition of the Province there has been steady increase in the extent of land under cultivation under all heads except in the year 1884—85 when the rain-fall was very poor. The highest figure which was reached prior to the Famine, viz, 5,530,020 in 1876—77, has however not yet been attained.

273. Rates of rent and produce vary in each District. During the 5 years now under report the rent paid per acre of land under rice cultivation ranged between Rs. 6—4—9 and Rs. 4—1—9 in the Tumkur District; between Rs. 4—10—0 and Rs. 5—0—6 in the Mysore District and between Rs. 4—8—0 and Rs. 4—5—6 in the Shimoga District; while in the Districts of Bangalore and Kolar it was Rs. 6—6—3 and Rs. 6—0—0 respectively throughout the period. The subjoined statement exhibits the average rent per acre of land during the period of report as compared with that for the year 1880—81 :—

| Years. | Rice. | Wheat. | Inferior grains including Ragi. | Cotton. | Oil-seeds. | Fibres. | Sugar-cane. | Tobacco. |

275. The Government Farm near the Lal-Bagh in Bangalore and the Government Cinchona Plantation on the Bababudan hills were both sold in the first year after the Rendition as they were complete failures.

276. The Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore have during the period under report made efforts to improve the primitive method of agriculture followed in the Province. The late Dewan imported some new ploughs of an improved kind into Mysore and had them distributed among the Districts. A few were bought and tried. The ryots have not sufficiently appreciated them.

277. A new impetus was given to the coffee industry by the substitution of an acreage assessment on coffee lands (in lieu of the old halat) at the rate of 1 rupee or Rs. 1—8—0 per acre when a permanent settlement was desired, due provision being made for granting temporary remission of assessment in the case of ill-cultivated or ruined estates.

278. As a means of popularizing improved agriculture in this Province His Highness' Government have made large grants of land near Bangalore to the extent of 2,685 acres and 44 guntas to the Eurasian and Anglo-Indian Association on very favorable terms, viz., free of assessment for the first 2 years, ¼ assessment for the 3rd and 4th years ; ½ assessment for the 5th and 6th years and full assessment from the 7th year. Should the efforts made by members of this class prove a success, it will have an important bearing on the general agriculture and industry of the country by inducing Native ryots to adopt the improved methods of European agriculture.

279. The most important industry peculiar to this Province is the cultivation of silk. It had all but died out during the late famine in consequence of the deterioration of the worm, but it has fortunately now revived of itself probably owing to some climatic change. The chief silk-producing places at present are the Taluks of Hoskote, Devanhalli, Dodballapur, Kankanhalli, Magadi, Closepet and Anekal in the Bangalore District and Talkad in the Mysore District. Experiments are being made with the view of importing some specimens of wild silk worm from Assam and elsewhere, one of which the Eria silk worm (Attacus Ricini), which is reared upon the leaves of the castor-oil plant so extensively grown in the Province, appears to be peculiarly suited to it. It is a hardy species and the produce is considerable.

280. The establishment of the Maharaja of Mysore Spinning and Weaving Company will give an impetus to the cultivation of cotton. The cultivation of indigo, cardamoms and cinchona has also received attention.

281. With the view of improving agriculture in the Province, an experienced European officer has recently been appointed Director of Agriculture and a number of young men who have gone through a course of professional study in the College at Saidapet near Madras have been appointed Agricultural Inspectors, one for each District.

282. The following statement shows the average prices of some of the chief articles of produce per maund of 80 lbs. during each of the 5 years under report together with those in 1880—81 :—

289. In 1881, the year of Rendition, the rain-fall was very poor and the failure of the south-west monsoon gave room to apprehensions of distress, which however was happily averted by a good fall of rain in the latter part of the year. In 1882 and 1883, the rain-fall was fair, but again in 1884 the south-west monsoon was a failure more or less throughout the greater part of the Districts of Tumkur, Chitaldroog, Bangalore, Kolar and Mysore. In the Mysore District, except in a few Taluks nearly the whole of the early crop was lost; the later and more important dry crop throughout the whole of the affected area was in a precarious condition; cattle began to suffer from want of fodder and prices showed a tendency to rise. The north-east monsoon however proved favorable and was sufficient to save a portion of the standing crops, though insufficient to fill the tanks or to allow of more than one-half of the usual amount of wet cultivation under them. The dry crops in the north-eastern and eastern Districts yielded only a harvest which varied from ¼ to ½ of the usual average. On the whole a harvest sufficient to avert immediate distress was secured. In 1885 again the unfavorable conditions of the first half of 1884 repeated themselves in a more aggravated form. The south-west monsoon began very well in May and continued to promise fair during that month and June. In July however it showed signs of failing and as the season advanced the drought became greater and more general till about the end of September, the rain which fell was extremely scanty. The dry crops began to wither from the long continued drought. The early crops were entirely lost in parts of Mysore, Chitaldroog and Tumkur. In parts of Kolar and the Maidan portions of Kadur the early rains were so scanty as not to allow of sowings to the usual extent. The tanks everywhere were empty and no kartik wet cultivation was carried on under them; and even in the Malnad, the rains were insufficient for the paddy crops. In Maidan Taluks the springs rapidly dried up, and much difficulty was experienced as regards drinking water. Fodder for cattle became scarce, and the Government had to open its Reserved Forests for purposes of pasture. Prices began to rise, and the mortality among cattle sensibly increased. There was thus every sign that the Province was in a most critical condition and it was at one time thought necessary to organize measures for relief, and for concerting such measures the Dewan visited several places where the distress was reported to be greatest. At this crisis, however, plentiful showers fell all over the Province and dispelled all causes of anxiety to Government and rendered measures for relief of distress unnecessary.

HORTICULTURE.

291. The Lal-Bagh at Bangalore has during the past five years kept up its reputation as being the best pleasure garden and the chief centre of Horticulture in Southern India. It contains a large collection of tropical and sub-tropical plants and indigenous and foreign fruit trees, and is the favorite resort of Europeans and Natives.

292. A reduction in the establishment of the Lal-Bagh was made in 1879, but as this told upon the appearance of the garden, additional labor to the amount of Rs. 600 per annum was sanctioned in 1883. This together with a small complement of convict labor has been found ample for keeping the garden in a flourishing condition. The pay of the Superintendent (Mr. J. Cameron of Kew) was raised from Rs. 200 to Rs. 300 in 1882.

293. During the period under report, the seasons proved favorable for cultivation in the garden, except in the years 1881 and 1884, when the south-west monsoon partially failed and many annual and herbaceous plants died in consequence.

294. Various improvements were carried out during the five years under review, the chief of them being the remodelling of the garden in 1882, the substantial addition, last year, to the fernery at a cost of Rs. 500, and the labelling of trees and plants with their scientific and popular names at a cost of over one thousand rupees. This last work has rendered the Lal-Bagh specially interesting to the students of Botany who appreciate the improvement.

295. The experimental cultivation of foreign plants and their propagation has engaged much attention, and the following extracts from Mr. Cameron's Report for 1885—86 show the results arrived at:—

* * * * * *

11. Rubber Plants.—Further experience has justified my opinion that the Ceara rubber tree is adapted to the climate. Its cultivation progresses so favorably that every encouragement is offered to plant on an extensive scale. As mentioned in last report, the tree loses its leaves during the driest period of the year, and is thus preserved in a semi dormant state until the vernal showers excite growth again. Irrespective of their commercial value, deciduous trees of this class are much needed, and in the rocky maidan regions of Southern India would be invaluable. Judging from our own experience, the Ceara rubber tree requires no pampered treatment, although, like most plants, it prefers a little kindness to starvation and utter neglect. It grows very rapidly in vegetable mould, but planted in any ordinary soil, at the break of the south-west monsoon, the seedling will shift for itself and possibly have taken such a hold on the ground that no artificial watering is required during the subsequent dry season. This is what I have done with a hundred seedlings six months old, on poor gravelly soil, and I am certain that nearly the whole will burst forth into fresh growth when the rains set in. At present they look like so many dead canes. In open land the tree will attain an average height of 30 to 35 feet, with a diameter through the branches of 15 to 20 feet. Seedlings might therefore be planted uniformly at 18 feet apart each way. The latter are ready for the field when six months old and about 15 inches high, with a woody base. Planting is best done on a rainy day, or shortly after rain while it is still cloudy. Large pits are not required, but the natural soil should be well loosened to the depth of one foot. This gives the young roots an easy passage in their early development. The local distribution of this useful plant, from our own stock, has assumed the following proportions:—

* * * *

The seeds of the Ceara rubber tree are exceedingly hard, and to expedite germination, they should be filed and then soaked for three days in water. But perhaps the most effective method of treating the filed seeds is to make them vegetate or sprout before they are sown, the 'modus operandi being exactly similar to what is done with rice seed in this country. The seeds will germinate within ten days and should at once be planted in boxes of good soil (placed under partial shade) at 3 inches apart.

* * * *

12. India Rubber.—Ficus elastica.—A number of plants have been propagated by layers, but the demand for this useful plant is almost nil. I am surprised that planters have not utilized it more freely on their estates where, in addition to giving shade to coffee, it would afford a paying product of its own. The tree loves moisture and would not suffer at Koppa or Manjarabad. Efforts to root small cuttings have been unavailing, but this is possibly due to the want of bottom-heat, which is an indispensable factor in the propagating pits of European gardens.

13. Landolphia Kirkii.—This African rubber plant continues to thrive, but its slow growth does not predict a speedy commercial value even if the milky juice was more abundant in its tissues. It is a twiner.

14. Fruiting Plants.—Acting on the suggestion of Dr. Bonavia, Civil Surgeon at Ettawah, who is an authority on the subject, I applied to Government and obtained sanction for the expenditure of Rs. 200 on introducing the Arabian date palm (Phœnix dactylifera) direct from the Persian Gulf. This work has been promptly and so far successfully carried out; thanks to Mr. Girdlestone, the Acting British Resident, who kindly gave me a letter of introduction to Colonel Ross, the British Resident at the Persian Gulf. In October we received 116 offsets of the finest varieties of date, and excepting 6 which I believe are dead, the offsets are doing fairly well. Being unrooted, the present dry season is much against them, but when the rains set in, I hope to see a decided improvement in their condition. Last January we received from the Persian Gulf 41 lbs. of seed in pulp, and these, as directed in the Dewan's Proceedings No. 6527—517, dated the 28th February 1886, have been distributed among District officers and private gentlemen owning Farms, reserving 20 lbs. for use in the Lal-Bagh.

* * * *

The offsets and seeds arrived in capital order, and I am indebted to Mr. A. R. Hakim, Khan-Bahadur, Assistant to the Political Resident, for much valuable information which accompanied them. But prior to receiving the above consignments, I had obtained some seeds from Mr. Ridley, Superintendent of the Horticultural Gardens. I acknow. where the date palm is already domesticated through the efforts of Dr. Bonavia and Mr. Ridley. This seed produced 63 healthy seedlings which are now growing vigorously. An attempt was made to introduce the date palm in 1872—73, which resulted in failure, but Dr. Bonavia is sanguine of success and I shall do every thing in my power to support such a worthy object.

* * * *

15. The Litchi.—Nephelium litchi.—Nearly a thousand plants of this Chinese fruit-tree have been raised from seed. The pulpy arillus of the fruit is cooling and exceedingly pleasant, when well ripened. To encourage distribution, Government might offer plants free of charge, as otherwise, there is very little demand for them.

16. The Loquat.—Eriobotrya Japonica.—Plants of a new variety have been propagated from seed kindly presented by Mr. T. F. Leonard, who also sent me fruit to taste. The fruit is much superior in size and flavour to the old variety cultivated in local gardens.

* * * *

17. The Maltese Fig Cactus.—I am indebted to the Agri-Horticultural Society of Madras for a number of leaves of the above plant, a few of which have struck root and are now growing nicely. As a near ally of the country prickly pear, it is proposed by Dr. Bonavia to graft the good fruiting varieties from Malta, on to the common plant, and so convert great tracts of useless cacti into a source of fruit for the million. Dr Bonavia has so far succeeded in his proposal to the Government of Madras that I believe the latter has ordered a large number of plants to be sent out from Malta for experiment. But "fine fruit requires fine cultivation," and reflecting on the truth of this maxim, I fear the Malta figs will soon degenerate when left to struggle for existence on the barren plains of India. This opinion may be wrong however, and the plants now introduced will form a nucleus from which further experiments can be made.

18. Of other new fruiting plants received during the year, I have to mention the "Cochin China Vine" and the "Amoy Pumelo," both of which are growing well. The former is a very curious vine with tuberous roots and annual stem. It has not borne fruit.

19. Cotton Plants.—The cotton plants referred to in last report have continued to thrive, and seeds have been issued to several persons for trial.

We have added three new kinds to cultivation and the total number of varieties (from which I am collecting seed as fast as possible) are now as follows:—

1. Bamiah ... ... ... ... ...
2. Upland American ... ... ... ...
3. Fiji ... ... ... ... ...
4. Nankeen ... ... ... ... ...
5. South sea Island ... ... ... ...
6. Peruvian... ... ... ... ...

The three last named are not sufficiently advanced in growth to enable me to form an opinion about them, but I shall submit my views in due course.

The "Bamiah" and "Uplands American" should, I find, be treated as annuals, i. e. cultivated from seed every year, as they are not nearly so productive in the second year of growth as they are in the first. The Fiji, on the other hand, attains to a large spreading bush which is the most productive in the second year of cultivation. But as remarked before, the capsules are very small, and I do not think this form will prove of much value to the cultivator.

20. Attention having been called to the increasing demand for vegetable silk in Europe, enquiries were set on foot to compare market prices with our own produce and the probable cost of delivey from this Province.

Samples of silk-cotton obtained from the Eriodendron anfractuosum (Bili Burgada Mara) were favorably reported on at London and Amsterdam, but the sparsity of the tree is supposed to prevent it being utilized for commercial purposes at present. District reports show, however, that the tree is sufficiently common to afford material for cultivation on a wide scale if the measure should ever be deemed expedient. Seeds have been distributed to District officers.

We also learned that the vegetable-silk afforded by such plants as Calotropis gigantea (Yekkagida) and Wrightia tinctorea (Hále Mara) is in demand and that considerable prices are being offered for it.

Of local plants which afford silk-cotton in varying quantity, I may be permitted to name the following:—

|---|---|---|
| Bombax Malabaricum | ... | (Burga.) |
| Eriodendron Anfractuosum | ... | (Bili Burga.) |
| Cochlospermum gossypium | ... | Do. |
| Calotrapis gigantea | ... | (Yekka Gida.) |
| Wrightia tinctorea | ... | (Hále Mara.) |
| Hoya viridiflora | ... | (Climber.) |
| Cryptostegia grandiflora. Ceropegia juncea | ... | (Climbers.) |

21. Cereals.—The special kinds which I have cultivated on a small scale, in view chiefly to raising seed for the ryots, are "Zulu Corn" (Zea mays) "Sweet Sorgho" (Sorghum saccharatum) and "Branching Doora" (Sorghum vulgare). Seeds of the latter were presented by Mr. Nepean Smith with a very flattering report, and subsequent cultivation proved that this variety of jola or cholum is superior to what is usually grown in the fields. At an early period of growth, the seedlings throw out many side shoots, which attain a large size and fruit abundantly. Five seers of seed have been submitted for distribution.

Small quantities of Zulu corn have been given to local cultivators. The Chinese sugar-cane (Sweet sorgho) has not had a fair chance owing to one cause or another, but its cultivation deserves every encouragement in the field, the straw being excellent forage for cattle while the grain affords food for man.

22. Erythroxylon Coca.—This new plant continues to thrive and a few seedlings have been raised. The latter are subject to damp off at a tender age if they are overwatered. They should be very carefully nurtured for six months.

23. Swietenia Mahogany.—Seeds of the Mahogany tree have been received from Madras and Ootacamund, and I am glad to report that 180 seedlings are now in stock. The parent tree in the garden has also flowered for the first time, and I am anxious to see if the species will remain seedless as it has persistently done at Madras. In its native country (The West Indies) this tree ascends to 3,000 feet. Judging from the condition of plants under cultivation, Mahogany has every prospect of doing well here. It is perfectly hardy.

24. Of other rare plants under trial, the following are the most important:—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Eucalyptus Calophylla | ... | Red gum tree. |
| Do leucoxylon | ... | Iron bark tree. |
| Do siderophloia | ... | White Iron bark tree. |
| Do diversicolor | ... | The karri tree. |

296. Free issues of plants and seeds are made to various industrial and charitable Institutions, and also to other gardens in exchange for similar presents from them. They are also largely sold to the public.

297. Interchange of correspondence and other good offices are maintained with many similar Institutions elsewhere, such as the Royal Botanical Gardens at Kew, the Horticultural Gardens of Madras, Ootacamund, Lucknow, Calcutta and Nagpore, and those of Guiana, Queensland &c.

298. Two Fruit and Flower Shows are held every year at the Lal-Bagh, one in July or August and the other in January. The winter (or January) shows are generally the most successful. No summer Shows were held in 1881 and 1884 owing to drought, and the Show of July 1883 was somewhat marred by rainy weather. About Rs. 600 are given away at these Shows as prizes for the best specimens. These Shows and the successful results obtained by the Lal-Bagh have tended to create among the people a taste for horticulture, and in consequence the number of florists and seedsmen in Bangalore is increasing year by year. The monopoly in plant trade which the Lal-Bagh once enjoyed does not therefore now exist, but this is not a matter for regret.

299. A Botanical Class was till recently in existence at Bangalore at which Mr. Cameron, under orders of the Mysore Government, delivered tri-weekly lectures on Botany and cognate subjects and also taught practical gardening at the Lal-Bagh. The class consisted of the students of the upper forms of the Central College and a few outsiders who had a taste for the subject, and the lectures were very popular. The results in Botany of the candidates who appeared from Bangalore for the B. A. Degree Examination were very favorable, but owing to a change in the University Curriculum the Botanical Class was recently abolished.

300. The Lal-Bagh fairly distinguished itself at the International Exhibition lately held at Calcutta, securing a 2nd class certificate and bronze medal for "collection of fibres" and a silver medal and 2nd class certificate for "preparation of sago." A series of 24 models of Indian fruits was prepared under Mr. Cameron's superintendence by Mysore artizans and despatched with other Exhibits for the recent London Exhibition.

301. The receipts and expenditure in connection with the Lal-Bagh during the past five years are shown in the following table :—

| | Receipts. | Expenditure. | Net Cost to Government. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 ... .. ... | 3,002 | 10,754 | 7,752 |
| 1882—83 ... ... ... | 1,773 | 11,478 | 9,705 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... | 2,759 | 12,081 | 9,322 |
| 1884—85 ... ... .. | 2,093 | 12,923 | 10,830 |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... | 1,987 | 14,138 | 12,151 |

302. The receipts represent the cost of plants, seeds and other garden produce sold, and do not include the value of plants and seeds issued gratis. The increase in expenditure in 1882—83 is due to the increase of pay given to the Superintendent, and that in 1885—86 to higher charges under contingencies and to the fact that the Government grant of Rs. 500 for the Horticultural Show was for the first time included in the Budget of the Lal-Bagh. The Menagerie and Aviary attached to the garden cost about Rs. 3,000 per annum.

303. Cubbon Park.—The Cubbon Park in Bangalore is next in importance to the Lal-Bagh. It comprises over 100 acres within its bounds, and the Public Offices and the Museum are situated within it. A set of fine lawn tennis courts made and maintained by the members of the Gymkhana Club is a source of great attraction. The Bamboo island in its improved state presents a lovely appearance, and the rich avenue of Java figs in front of the statue of Sir Mark Cubbon is perhaps the finest avenue in Bangalore. The situation of the Museum within its precincts draws a large number of visitors to the Park.

304. A large Fair similar to the annual People's Park Fair at Madras was held in the Cubbon Park in July 1882 for the amusement of the public at a cost to Government of Rs. 7,731. Another Fair on a smaller scale was held during Christmas time in 1885, when the Mysore Government contributed Rs. 500 towards the cost.

305. The receipts which consisted of the sale proceeds of fruits, hay and firewood amounted to Rs. 677 in 1881—82, Rs. 572 in 1882—83, Rs. 1,080 in 1883—84, Rs. 803 in 1884—85 and Rs. 428 in 1885—86. The expenditure in the years above named amounted to Rs. 1,487, Rs. 879, Rs. 1,216, Rs. 957 and Rs. 931.

FORESTS.

306. In 1878—79, the office of the Conservator of Forests was abolished and the general supervision devolved upon the Head of the Administration. This arrangement continued until the latter part of 1885—86, when the office of Inspector General of Forests and Plantations was created to secure greater efficiency of the Department by its being placed under the control of a separate officer who would be able to inspect the forests and to devote attention to the operations in them.

307. Reserved Trees.—Under Section 21 of the Forest Rules, Bili and Kari Matti trees were added to the class of Reserved trees in the Province, which in consequence make 11 kinds, as mentioned below:—

(1) Sandalwood.—(Santalum album).

(2) Teak.—(Tectona grandis).

(3) Poon.—(Calophyllum elatum).

(4) Blackwood.—(Dalbergia latifolia).

(5) Honne.—(Pterocarpus Marsupium).

(6) Lac, Jalari.—(Vatica laccifera).

(7) Nandi.—(Lagerstræmia Microcarpa).

(8) Wild Jack, heswa, heb-halasu.—(Artocarpus hirsuta).

(9) Karachi, Kummar, Arsina.—(Hardwickia binata).

(10) Bili Matti.—(Terminalia Arjuna).

(11) Kari Matti.—(Terminalia Tomentosa).

308. Reserved or State Forests.—The number of reserved forests has undergone a material change in consequence of the amalgamation and constitution of two or more small contiguous forests into one and the exclusion of unreserved forests in the Mysore District whose areas have yet to be ascertained. The actual number of reserved forests including additions at the end of 1885—86 was 44, covering altogether an aggregate and approximate area of 924 square miles against 643 recorded in the Report for 1880—81. Since the Rendition, seven more forests have been reserved in the Bangalore, Shimoga and Hassan Districts, covering an area of 159 square miles. While the additions to the existing forests in the Bangalore, Tumkur and Hassan Districts have amounted to 135 square miles, the deficiencies in the recorded areas of certain forests in the Kolar and Hassan Districts have been shown to be 13 square miles. There is therefore a net increase of 281 square miles of Reserved forests during the past 5 years.

309. Unreserved or District Forests.—There are several Unreserved or District forests in almost all the Districts, managed either by Forest Officers or by Deputy Commissioners themselves assisted by their Civil establishments. In the Mysore District there are 19 such forests under the management of the Forest Officer, their areas are not known with accuracy, not being demarcated or surveyed. Proposals have been received for the constitution of some of these forests into Reserved or State forests in the Bangalore, Kolar, Mysore, Hassan, Shimoga and Kadur Districts.

310. The settlement of the Huliyurdurga Forest was completed in 1881—82, and it is satisfactory to note that the demarcation of forests in the Bangalore District progressed evenly with their settlement which resulted in the addition of 74 square miles of forest land to the several forests in the District, which are now completely demarcated with mile and furlong stones placed on their boundary lines. In the other two Districts where similar additions were secured to forests, their demarcation has but partially been done in the one, while in the other it has yet to be commenced. The new large hill forest of Hirikalgudda, comprising an area of 92 square miles, in the Hassan District, has been conserved, and almost completely demarcated, excepting at the points where private rights interfere with the line, and which await settlement.

311. Demarcation.—About 300 miles of demarcation lines have been cut in the several forests of the Province during the last 5 years at a total cost of Rs. 4,672, which includes the outlay on the preliminary lines subsequently widened to 22 yards. This system of demarcation was first introduced in the 3 Districts of the late Nundydroog Division, as serving the purposes both of a boundary and fire line, and it has been followed in regard to all the forests subsequently reserved in the Bangalore District. With the exception of the Hirikalgudda Forest, in which the demarcation line has been cut according to the above standard, the old demarcation lines of the more important forests in the Shimoga, Kadur and Mysore Districts still retain their original width of 7 yards. There is yet a large number of forests to be demarcated in those Districts and the work that was done in the past years was chiefly clearing of old lines.

312. In the Shimoga District, Government and private forests are in some parts interwoven and the limits of such private forests are so undefined that sometimes trespass is committed upon Government forests and felling carried on either through ignorance or pretended ownership. An act of this kind was recently detected ; but it could not be decided at once, owing to the thick growth of jungle, whether the felling was on the Government or private forest until the whole line was surveyed and cleared. Measures have been taken to establish permanent boundary lines between Government and private forests.

313. Fire Protection.—The areas of forest tracts placed under fire protection in all the Districts, excepting Chitaldroog where there are no Reserved forests, during each of the past 5 years are given below :—

| Years. | Area attempted to be protected. | Failures. | Area actually protected. | Cost. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Sq. M. | Sq. M. | Sq. M. | Rs. |
| 1881—82... ... ... ... ... | 307½ | 8 | 299½ | 2,939 |
| 1882—83... ... ... ... ... | 456 | 39½ | 416½ | 3,353 |
| 1883—84... ... ... ... ... | 539 | 33¼ | 505¾ | 1,917 |
| 1884—85... .. ... ... ... | 513¾ | 2 | 511¾ | 1,627 |
| 1885—86... ... ... ... ... | 637 | 40 | 597 | 2,358 |

314. A system of granting bonus to Forest subordinates has gained ground in the Tumkur District under which the Devarayadurga and Maddagiri forests have continued to be fire-protected by the permanent watching establishment alone. This system appears productive of good results inasmuch as the Forest subordinates who get the bonus greatly interest themselves in conserving their respective charges from fire and if the same measure can be introduced, at least experimentally, in some of the selected forests in the Bangalore, Shimoga, Kadur and Mysore Districts, fire conservancy may prove equally effectual and at the same time less expensive.

315. The outlay under this head in 1885—86, in proportion to the area conserved gives 3 and odd rupees a square mile, against Rs. 9 and odd in 1881—82, showing thereby a decrease of about 65 per cent, but which for the reasons stated above cannot be adopted for the purpose of comparison. It should be noted, however, that when once fire lines are cut the initial outlay thereon ceases and the annual clearing of such lines is either performed by the permanent watching establishment, wherever it is possible, or by the temporary fire guards employed for the season, aided of course by additional labor when required. Hence the decrease of cost.

316. In order to ascertain the results of fire protection, a small experiment was conducted by the Assistant Conservator of Shimoga, under instructions from the Inspector General. For this purpose an acre of forest was selected at random both in the fire-protected Sakrebail State Forest and in the adjoining non-fire-protected District or Unreserved forest and valuation of both taken. In the fire-protected area 43 seedlings, 35 reserved and unreserved trees and 8 bamboo clumps were found, while in the non-fire-protected area, only 19 seedlings were found; but the trees both reserved and unreserved numbered 40 and bamboo clumps 20, out of which 9 trees had been wholly or partially burnt. One great advantage of fire exclusion has been that seedlings spring up in abundance. The soil which formerly was baked and perhaps deteriorating annually, instead of improving, is gradually enriched by the decaying leaves, becomes porous, absorbs more moisture and air and thus causes a more vigorous vegetation. On the other hand, fire exclusion has the effect of producing a dense growth of grass, thorns and briars which prevent proper ingress and inspection and probably stifle numerous seedlings in their early growth.

317. The area affected by fire was greater in 1885—86, than in 1882—83, and 1883—84, in consequence of the Bukkapatna Forest in the Tumkur District having been burnt to a larger extent than usual. No fire protection measures have been introduced into the forest since its reservation, and villagers around having free permission to graze their cattle in parts of the forest, wilfully set fire to the old grass in it with the object of promoting an early and fresh growth of tender blades. This unqualified permission will therefore have to be considerably modified so as to ensure efficient measures being adopted to stop the recurrence of these fires. The Inspector General of Forests' attention is invited to this important point.

318. Deducting the area thus burnt, the area burnt in the fire-protected forests in 1885—86 was only 6 square miles. The destruction caused by these fires was on the whole insignificant, as the fires were early and effectually put out. It is observed that annual fire has been regular in the Basavanbetta Forest in the Bangalore District, on account of its being contiguous to Muttatti, which is visited by pilgrims, though sometimes the fire is caused by incendiaries. The fire-protection of Lakvalli Forest, which was unfortunately burnt to the extent of 5 square miles in 1881—82, became more difficult in 1885—86, owing to the continued presence of wild elephants and want of labor. Licenses to shoot these animals were granted, but none of them was killed, though wounded.

319. Cattle grazing.—In slight departure from former practice, some of the forests, save the planted parts or parts treated for reproduction, have been thrown open for cattle grazing (goats excepted) on payment of the prescribed fee, which for the present varies from 2 to 4 annas in some Districts, per head per season, which generally closes with the monsoon period. This permission is regarded as a great boon especially by those who rear and speculate in fine breeds of cattle, which often involve the prosperity of whole village communities. This is however a temporary permission and the Government would be glad to know its result.

320. Fuel Plantations.—All the fuel plantations in the Bangalore and Kolar Districts, aggregating 11 square miles and the teak and sandal plantations in the Mysore, Hassan, Shimoga and Kadur Districts, have been generally protected from fire.

321. The number of plantations in all the Districts, exclusive of the three sold in Shimoga and Kolar, has increased from 33 to 55, due to the formation of new plantations both in forests as a reproductive measure and in open places and also to certain Revenue plantations in Taluks of the Bangalore District, being brought on the general list. There are some plantations whose areas have yet to be ascertained and the remaining comprize an aggregate area of 9,582 acres. Of these 7 are teak, 4 sandal, 2 cardamom, and 42 mixed, containing casuarina and other fuel bearing trees, sandal, fruit and other trees. The cost on all these plantations during the past 5 years has amounted to Rs. 75,311, and the total area brought under planting in the fuel plantations alone amounted to 1,312 acres representing probably some 7,04,500 trees. The Revenue plantations are not so costly at the outset as the regular plantations, where the system of pitting and transplanting prevails, while in the former, which are generally under the management of Amildars, the land is ploughed and the seed of trees, indigenous to the country, sown in drills, in the monsoon season. The cost of ploughing and sowing an acre is shown to be Rs. 1—10—8, against Rs. 24—4—0, incurred for pitting and planting an acre on the plantation system. The two systems are very unlike, one aims at raising trees which are indigenous to the country and most of which will admit of coppicing hereafter. It has the advantage of cheapness; but is mainly dependent upon the individual exertions or proclivities of the Revenue officers. The plantation system works on a regular plan of operations as regards nurseries, pitting, planting and subsequent pruning and thinning. It is almost independent of individual tastes and results in a dense growth of fine trees (almost too good for firewood) to be worked out in compartments by rotation and then after a slight rest and perhaps the raising of a green crop, the ground is again ready to be planted up.

322. Cardamoms.—The two cardamom plantations belonging to the State in the Hassan District were commenced in 1882—83, as an experimental measure and their present area is about 40 acres, of which 30 acres have been stocked at a total cost of Rs. 1,588, up to 31st March 1886. These plants have made good growth and many of them have come into bearing.

323. Exotics.—The experiment with exotics in the Devarayadurga Forest is not hopeful, as out of 600 transplanted in 1881—82, nearly half died from the effects of that year's drought. Of those experimented with in the Casuarina plantations on the line of the Madras Railway, Dalbergia Sisoo made the best growth of those put out. The old trees of Ceretonia Siliqua in the Kadgodi Plantation have not fruited, while the Eucalypti in the same plantation began to bear seed. The Ceara rubber planted out in several places in the Bangalore District and elsewhere has been a success so far as growth is concerned; but the economic results have yet to be tested. The Eucalyptus plantation at Santaveri in the Kadur District has proved a failure.

324. Teak and other Plantations.—A comprehensive and systematic system of planting teak and other valuable timber producing trees has been inaugurated which in the course of a few years will give, in a small, compact and easily worked area, more timber than is now to be found scattered over scores of miles of State forests. In fact, in the future, any large and steady demand (which in the course of events is likely to occur) for marketable timber will have to be met in great measure by artificial planting; the State and other forests, still performing their important functions of natural reproduction, regulating the fall of rain, the flow of rivers, the temperature or in other words the climate. Minor forest produce is also capable of much development, while there is much grass in them invaluable to cattle—the mainstay of an agricultural community—especially in years of drought.

325 In the neighbouring forests of Canara in the Bombay Presidency, a large revenue is realized from gallnuts, myrobolams (Terminalia Chebula) and measures have been taken to develope Forest revenue under this head especially by forming extensive plantations of the tree.

326. Forest Offences.—The following figures give an abstract of the prosecutions, convictions and acquittals of Forest offences during the last 5 years, and scarcely call for explanation:—

| Year. | Number of Persons | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Prosecuted. | Convicted. | Acquitted. | Percentage of acquittals on prosecutions. |
| 1881—82 ... ... ... ... | 273 | 219 | 54 | 20 |
| 1882—83 ... ... ... | 106 | 75 | 31 | 29 |
| 1883—84 ... ... .. .. | 132 | 99 | 33 | 25 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... ... | 253 | 229 | 24 | 9½ |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... ... | 258 | 204 | 54 | 21 |

327. The majority of prosecutions were for unauthorized felling and grazing cattle.

328. Timber Fellings.—The subjoined statement shows the quantity of timber, &c., felled in the several Forests and collected at the Depôts in the past 5 years:—

| Years. | Timber of all kinds. | | | Bamboos. | | | Railway fuel, including nakara. | | |

*Includes Rs. 9,444 paid for teak collected in the previous year.

329. As compared with the last two years, the quantity of timber felled in 1881-82, to 1883—84, was small. In the first two years hardly new timber was cut, excepting old decaying trees in the Lakvalli Forest of the Kadur District, where a large quantity of small timber was prepared either from branches or parts of trunks of trees that had been felled some years back and left to waste, as being too small to be collected at depôts. The collection of such small timber was encouraged by the growing requirements of the new lines of Railway in Dharwar and Bellary and when disposed of at auction the timber fetched good prices. In the subsequent year, a larger quantity of inferior timber was collected from the several dry and dead trees and a restriction was imposed as regards the size of mature trees to be cut with reference to their age, growth and girth. Rough roads or cart tracks were opened to some of the inaccessible virgin forests in the malnad which continue to be explored and worked and the river way was somewhat improved by blasting of stone boulders where most obstructive to timber rafts. The fellings in the Mysore District were also comparatively small, excepting in the year 1881—82, in which the supply of timber to Public Departments was large and the quantity that was felled in 1882—83, was the lowest owing to large balance of felled stock on hand which had to be removed. Fellings were, however, increased from 1884—85, when a large quantity of big teak had to be supplied for the construction of Her Highness the Maharani's Girl School and of Rangacharlu Memorial Hall. Similarly, the felling of teak was increased in 1885—86 in the Kadur District and collected from distant and hilly forests in the Lakvalli and Koppa Taluks, in view to their being used for Railway sleepers on the Gubbi-Harihar line.

330. Timber Sales.—The following statement shows the quantity of timber, &c., sold from the several depôts and the value realized therefrom in the past 5 years:—

| Years. | Timber of all kinds. | | Bamboos. | | Wood fuel delivered to Railway. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Quantity. C. Ft. | Value. Rs. | Quantity. No. | Value. Rs. | Quantity. Tons. | Value. Rs. |
| 1881—82 ... ... | 93,471 | 66,435 | 134,527 | 3,019 | 7,655½ | |
| 1882—83 ... ... | 107,205 | 84,239 | 78,856 | 2,466 | 3,248½ | |
| 1883—84 ... ... | 116,113 | 74,596 | 184,792 | 5,244 | 2,568 | 1,30,543 |
| 1884—85 ... ... | 176,066 | 1,36,761 | 199,274 | 7,169 | 6,759 | |
| 1885—86 ... ... | 168,733 | 1,31,048 | 243,475 | 8,699 | 6,470½ | |

331. The revenue from timber though less in 1881-82, as compared with 1880-81, has continued to increase owing to larger collection and sale of teakwood. In respect of other classes of timber, private depôts, which are established all along the Tungabhadra river, from near Shimoga to within a few miles of Bellary, and stocked from private forests, compete seriously with Government Depôts by underselling them in the prices fixed on different kinds of timber.

332. Timber Depôts.—As a rule only large sized timber logs are carted to depôts, where small wood hardly finds a sale. As a matter of convenience to the rural population, whose requirements are small, a new measure—in lieu of the license system was organized in 1882—83, under which temporary depôts continue to be opened annually in places where they are required and stocked with small timber and dry and fallen trees from the nearest jungles. These temporary depôts are not provided with any establishment, but are looked after by Foresters in addition to their other duties. So far as the results are concerned, these depôts have proved convenient and remunerative and out of them, the depôt at Ainur in the Shimoga District and Kanabur on the river Tunga, in the Kadur District, may be specially mentioned, in which the receipts in 1885—86 amounted to Rs. 4,861 and 16,030 respectively. In the latter depôt, collections are made for auction sales, which are generally attended by traders who import timber to foreign countries.

333. Bamboo Sales.—The sale of bamboos on licenses, generally at the conclusion of auction sales of timber in the Shimoga and Kadur Districts, has tended to increase the quantity and receipts, year after year. The timber purchasers go in for large quantities of bamboos for the construction of rafts to float their timber down the Tungabhadra river.

334. Railway Sleepers.—The resources of the Mysore Teak forests were further utilized in the supply of stunted teak for Railway sleepers. Fellings were commenced about June 1878, and from this time to end of March 1886, about 647,413 c. ft. were felled, of which about 512,342 c. ft. were utilized for sleepers and 6,444 c ft. transferred to the ordinary stock, as being too good for that purpose. At the endof 1885-86, there were 66,341 c.ft. at the Mysore Woodyard, 22,492 c.ft. in the jungle depôts and 39,794 c. ft. in forests, or in all 128,627 c. ft. The revenue from this source, including the receipts from (1) end pieces of sleeper logs, (2) unsound sleepers (3) rejected logs, (4) logs sold as class timber at higher rates, has amounted to Rs. 2,54,108. To this being added the estimated value of the stock on hand, both in the forests and the depôts, amounting to Rs. 84,970 and the unadjusted items involving Rs. 32,374, the value of the whole transaction may be put down at Rs. 3,71,452, against an expenditure of Rs. 1,62,849, and the net sum of Rs. 2,08,603, regarded as the result of the undertaking.

335. In addition to the above, 7,487 c. ft. of good seasoned teak were supplied from the Lakvalli Depôt, for the construction of wagons and carriages and 4,460 Karachi wood sleepers from the Basavanbetta Forest in the Bangalore District, which were manufactured by a contractor.

336. Comparing the relative merits of the depôt and license system, it may be stated that the former is preferable to the latter. There are many abuses inherent in the license system, especially if the forest staff be deficient in strength or trustworthiness, which are not found in the depôt arrangement. Still, unless the wood sold at depôts is of the size and description to meet ordinary reqirements and above all, unless the wood is sold at cheap rates, the ryots prefer the license system as they use their own carts and labor and thus are not put to much extra expense beyond payment of the license fee.

337. Sandalwood.—The quantity and cost of sandalwood collected at the several Kotis were as follows:—

| Years. | Good wood. Tons. | Inferior wood. Tons. | Cost of collection & preparation. Rs. | Average cost per Ton. | Remarks. |
| 1881—82 ... ... | 1,813½ | 337 | 56,536 | 26 | |
| 1882—83 ... ... | 1,942¾ | 503 | 52,441 | 21¼ | |
| 1883—84 ... ... | 1,489 | 379 | 37,768 | 20 | |
| 1884—85 ... ... | 1,524 | 522 | 41,291 | 20 | |
| 1885—86 ... ... | 1,011 | 277¾ | 33,648 | 24 | |

338. The average cost of collection and preparation, in 1881-82, was Rs. 26 per ton and this continued to fall till 1885-86, when it rose again to Rs. 24, owing partly to higher rate of contract in the Hassan District for better preparation of wood in the jungles and partly to the collection of sandal in distant localities and in the frontier parts, by extra Departmental agency. This increased cost per ton still compares very favorably with the cost that used to be incurred previous to 1881—82, and in fact shows a decrease of 66 per cent on the cost of that year and which was lower than previous years. This improvement in the reduction of cost was effected after getting a ton of sandal in every koti worked under the personal supervision of the Forest officer and thus ascertaining the actual cost per ton.

339. The following statement shows the quantity and value of sandalwood sold from the several kotis :—

| Years. | Good wood. Tons. | Inferior wood. Tons. | Amount. Rs. | Average rate per ton on both good and inferior wood. |
| 1881—82 ... | 1,571½ | 281¼ | 5,09,137 | 275 |
| 1882—83 ... | 1,434¾ | 350½ | 4,70,966 | 263 |
| 1883—84 ... | 1,456 | 481 | 4,36,739 | 225 |
| 1884—85 ... | 1,043¾ | 317½ | 3,19,713 | 235 |
| 1885—86 ... | 1,563 | 481 | 5,14,862 | 252 |

340. The quantity sold in 1885-86, was greater than that disposed of in 1881-82; but when compared with the good wood sold, the result is reversed. In the years 1882—83 to 1884—85, during which the sandal market remained rather dull, a large quantity of superior classes was in one year withheld on account of the low offers and the same had to be sold in more or less quantity in the next year, for comparatively low prices, to prevent deterioration and loss from dryage which would have counterbalanced the difference in value. Hence the sandal revenue in those years diminished. In 1885—86, however, the prices obtained generally for superior classes were in most respects better and the rate obtained on an average was Rs. 342 a ton, as against Rs. 317 in 1880—81; but when the prices realized for inferior wood, which generally consists of white chips are added, the above rate is reduced to Rs. 252 a ton, or by about 22 per cent. The loss from dryage during the past 5 years has amounted to 393½ tons and this is only 4 per cent on the total collection during that period. There was a balance of 919¼ tons, inclusive of old stock, in all the kotis in the Province, at the end of 1885—86 valued at Rs. 2,31,650, at the mean rate of Rs. 252 per ton.

341. The sandalwood sales of this year (1886—87) have already commenced and the first auction, viz. at Sorab, resulted in very good rates and higher than those of the previous 4 or 5 years. The extension of Railways in the Bombay Presidency to nearer the Mysore frontier, may account in part for this brisker demand, though the chief reason will probably be found in the general revival of trade which is now observable. French Chemists have been making enquiries about sandalwood oil, which it would appear is now being used with great success in a certain class of disease. Whatever tends to raise the price of sandalwood is a matter of great moment in a revenue point of view, as it is never sought to supplement low prices by offering increased quantities for sale. What is wanted is high prices for a comparative small quantity. The policy of the Maharaja's Government, as was also the case under British Administration, has invariably been not to glut the market for the sake of increased revenue in any particular year; but to annually offer for sale only that quantity which experience has shown can be cut down without imperilling a future steady and fixed supply. Sandalwood is a State monopoly and is a most important and profitable item of revenue to the State, and unique too in some respects, inasmuch as highly scented wood grows but in few places out of the Mysore country.

342. In view therefore to ensure the permanence of the existing revenue, if not to increase the same, sandalwood plantations have been formed in several places and with (notably in the Nelamangala Taluk) very favorable results. It was at one time thought that the sandal did not thrive under artificial conditions of sowing, &c., but it is pretty certain that this was an error. It is easy to rear sandal, especially if seeds of other trees be sown along with it to act as nurses. The only doubt seems to be whether the wood of the artificially grown tree will be as highly scented as that of the self-sown tree. It is almost certain that sandalwood, grown in rich soil and rapidly, has nothing like the scent of the tree, self-sown and growing slowly and it may be in poor and even rocky soil. The solution of the difficulty would therefore appear to be to form plantations in the poorer descriptions of soil and not to spoil the trees by too much care.

343. Receipts and Expenditure.—The receipts and disbursements under all heads for 5 years are given below:—

| Years. | Receipts. | Disbursements. | | | Surplus. | Percentage of Surplus on Expenditure. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Conservancy Charges. | Establishment Charges. | Total Charges. | | |
| | Rs. | Rs. | Rs. | Rs. | Rs. | Rs. |
| 1881—82 ... ... | 7,05,619 | 1,55,091 | 68,005 | 2,23,096 | 4,82,523 | 216 |
| 1882—83 ... ... | 6,88,248 | 1,33,957 | 65,290 | 1,99,247 | 4,89,001 | 245 |
| 1883—84 ... .. | 6,27,283 | 1,87,084 | 61,221 | 2,48,305 | 3,78,978 | 152 |
| 1884—85 ... ... | 6,57,560 | 1,86,417 | 61,845 | 2,48,262 | 4,09,298 | 164 |
| 1885—86 ... ... | 8,83,098 | 1,62,685 | 63,850 | 2,26,535 | 6,56,563 | 289 |

344. The percentage of surplus was greater in 1885-86, than in all the preceding years, due to larger revenue realized under timber, sandal and minor forest products, which however are fluctuating items. In 1885-86, the value recovered for stunted teak supplied for sleepers contributed very largely to the additional revenue and there was a balance of Rs. 79,178 under all heads, recoverable at the end of that year. The receipts in 1883-84 and 1884-85, fell off chiefly owing to smaller realizations from sandal, which forms the backbone as it were of the forest revenue.

345. Elephant Catching.—Elephant catching operations in the Mysore District were renewed in 1885-86 on the pit system in the Kakankote and Begur Forests which are frequented by elephants and these operations under the District Forest officer, aided by his own subordinate staff and some mahouts, proved so far successful that 14 elephants were in all trapped up to the end of the year, or during a period of 6 months. Within the next 6 months from that period, eleven more were caught, making in all 25 elephants. These consisted of 4 large females of over the height of 7 feet, 3 half grown and small females over 4½ feet, 6 female calves of and under 4½ feet, 7 half grown and small males over 4½ feet and 5 male calves of and under 4½ feet, in height. Of these, 2 elephants valued at Rs. 750 were made over to the Palace, 15 were sold both by auction and private sale for a sum of Rs. 8,460, six died and 2 large females, worth Rs. 3,000, were kept for being trained for elephant catching, in the place of those lent by the Palace. The cost of feeding the large number of lent tame elephants and the captives, amounted for the whole period of one year to Rs. 6,616. Although the mortality among the captured elephants, amounted to 24 per cent, yet the measure on the whole resulted in a net gain of about Rs. 5,600, or 85 per cent on the outlay.

346. Railway Fuel.—Another additional source of Forest revenue was the supply of sawn fuel, of specified kinds by the Forest Department to the Mysore State Railway which commenced to run from February 1881. For some time the Bangalore-Mysore line continued to be supplied with fuel both from the Bangalore and Mysore District Forests. Owing to the comparatively distant situation of forests in the Mysore District, the cost incurred per ton by the Forest Department was in fact more than what the Railway paid for it and the supply from Mysore was therefore discontinued. Ever since, the Forests in the Bangalore District have continued the supply for the whole line of nearly 86 miles, the monthly consumption being over 350 tons. Fuel felling is conducted on the coppice system. Felling, sawing and stacking are done at specified rates and after the sawn billets are stacked they are made over to the Railway. The rate originally fixed was Rs. 6 per ton of 68 c ft., which was subsequently reduced to Rs. 5 and Rs. 5½ in case of certain fuelling stations, while the quantity per ton was raised to 80 c. ft. This rate was again reduced to Rs. 3—4—0, and afterwards raised to Rs. 4—8—0, on the representation of the Forest Department, which rate remained until the end of June 1886, when it was further raised to Rs. 5—8—0. One fact is certain, that as felling recedes into the interior of forests, the charges, especially of carting, become greater and at no distant date even the present enhanced rate will be found not paying. To ensure a more regular supply of fuel on the Mysore line, the Government sanctioned in 1884—85, a sum of Rs. 5,819 being laid out in the purchase of carts and bullocks and other appliances. This arrangement still exists, though the fuel supply is partly supplemented by private collection, which costs Rs. 4 per ton, against Rs. 2—13—0 incurred by the Department. For the Bangalore-Gubbi section opened in 1884, fuel is supplied from the Tumkur District Forests at Rs. 4½ a ton, which requires to be raised for the same reasons as those assigned for Bangalore. The greater part of the Devarayadurga Forest has already been worked for fuel supply and felling in that forest will have to be stopped before long. The monthly consumption on this line is over 150 tons and the cost averages from Rs. 2—12—0 to Rs. 3—0—0 per ton.

347. Owing to the varied and in some instances insufficient rates, as above, the total receipts from Railway fuel supply during the past 5 years amounted only to Rs. 1,30,543 against an expenditure of Rs. 1,03,508, resulting in the net income of Rs. 27,035.

348. Seigniorage on Firewood.—At the close of 1885—86, the seigniorage duty levied on firewood and charcoal felled and burned in Government jungles situated in a particular part of the Bangalore District, was introduced into the remaining forests of that District. The financial results of this measure, which was brought into effect in the following year, will be detailed hereafter.

349. Charges for Conservancy.—The greater conservancy charges for the years 1883—84 and 1884—85, were owing to the cost of sleeper felling incurred in previous years and held in suspense, having been debited to the Forest account in those years. In 1885—86, the charges were slightly greater, as compared with 1881—82, owing to extended planting operations, establishment of certain experimental depôts and the renewal of elephant catching operations. But looking at the charges under both heads of conservancy and establishment, the net increase is very little.

350. Establishment Charges.—Under establishment, which was generally revised after the Rendition, the charges have fallen, as compared with 1880—81; but in the year 1885—86, in which the superior staff of the Department was increased by the appointment of an Inspector General, whose pay and fixed travelling allowance are charged to Forests and Police in equal proportions, and also by the appointment of an Apprentice, the charges have slightly risen.

351. Constitution of the Department.—The present personnel of the Forest Department consists of 1 Inspector General, 1 Superintendent, 2 Assistant Conservators, 2 Probationers, 1 Apprentice, 9 Rangers, 37 Foresters, 8 Sandal Koti Darogas and 8 Depôt Mutsaddis, with office and watching establishments. There is yet unequal distribution of superior staff among the Districts and this, it is hoped, will be remedied when the three students, whom the Government are now training, pass out of the Forest School at Dehra Dun.

373. Iron is smelted in various parts of the Province especially in the Magadi, Chiknayakanhalli, Malvalli, Heggaddevankote, and Harnhalli Taluks and in the southern and central parts of the Chitaldroog District and the eastern parts of the Shimoga and Kadur Districts. The iron goods manufactured are chiefly of a nature suited to husbandry such as pickaxes, mamaties, hammers, country cutlery, &c. Steel is made especially in the Heggaddevankote, Malvalli, Koratagere and Maddagiri Taluks. Steel wire of a superior description is manufactured at Channapatna for the purpose of providing strings for musical instruments, and is in high demand. The following figures show the value of iron goods manufactured in the Province during the five years now under report :—

| | | | | Rs. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 | .. | .. | .. | 45,214. |
| 1882—83 | .. | .. | .. | 78,834. |
| 1883—84 | .. | .. | .. | 79,148. |
| 1884—85 | .. | .. | .. | 64,035. |
| 1885—86 | .. | .. | .. | 59,438. |

374. The manufacture of brass and copper vessels is to a great extent in the hands of the Jains, one of the chief seats of the manufacture being at Sravan-belgola in the Hassan District. Brass is also used for making lampstands, musical instruments, and images of the gods ; and bell-metal for the bells and gongs used in the temples and in religious services, and by mendicants.

375. The manufacture of gold and silver jewelry is almost restricted to Banga-lore and Mysore and other Head-Quarters of the Districts and some other towns where also are made thread and lace of the same material for ornamenting different fabrics. Electro-plating to a small extent is done in Bangalore.

376. The textile fabrics manufactured in the Province are of cotton, wool and silk, and the following are the estimated values of the fabrics annually produced under each head for the five years from 1881—82 to 1885—86 :—

| | Cotton Fabrics. | Woollen Fabrics. | Silk Fabrics. | Other Fabrics. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 | 21,18,490 | 2,66,525 | 1,61,800 | 32,470. |
| 1882—83 | 17,52,400 | 3,30,060 | 1,57,550 | 19,480. |
| 1883—84 | 17,33,340 | 4,13,950 | 1,36,500 | 38,124. |
| 1884—85 | 27,12,799 | 2,51,630 | 1,07,500 | 67,556. |
| 1885—86 | 18,53,082 | 2,03,195 | 52,500 | 64,356. |

377. The foregoing figures, which cannot be considered strictly accurate, represent only the value of manufactured articles and do not include the value of raw materials sent out of the Province for manufacture. This is specially the case with silk which in its raw condition is exported in large quantities to Southern India. The kinds of fabrics manufactured from cotton are tape (navar) for bedding, carpets, tent cloth, articles of apparel, and certain coarse fabrics. Of woollen fabrics the kambli is an indispensable article of covering for almost all classes. Its manufacture is a characteristic industry more especially of the Districts of Chitaldroog and Kolar and of Mandya in the Mysore District. Some of the finest kinds, the best of which are of very high value and rarely make except to order, are manufactured in the Chitaldroog District. The carpets of Bangalore are well known for their durable quality, and for the peculiarity of having the same pattern on both sides. The pile carpets made in the Central Jail at Bangalore from Persian and Turkish designs are of a superior nature. Silk fabrics of stout texture and excellent designs are made in Bangalore and at Molkalmuru in the Chitaldroog District.

378. It may not be out of place here to mention that in the Town of Bangalore have recently been established a woollen manufactory and a factory for spinning and weaving cotton. The foundation stone of the latter was laid by H. H. the Maharaja. As an encouragement to the enterprise the Mysore Government have taken 250 shares amounting to Rs. 25,000, and the working of the concern is supervised by officers of Government. The building and machinery of the last named factory are in excellent condition and it is reported that 3,000 lbs. of cotton are daily used and 300 workmen employed. There is no doubt that the results achieved at these factories will prove beneficial to the country.

379. The process of dyeing cloths chiefly with vegetable products is carried on with great success in Bangalore, and the permanence and brilliancy of the colors, especially as applied to silk clothes and carpets are remarkable, and contrast very favorably with the fading aniline dyes of Europe.

380. Oils of various kinds are extracted for domestic purposes all over the Province by means of the old native oil mills of the country. The expression of juice from the sugar-cane and the manufacture of jaggory therefrom are largely carried out in the Province. A factory known as "the Ashtagram Sugar Works" had been at work at Palhalli near Seringapatam for several years from 1847, in the preparation of crystalized sugar of a superior description. It is to be regretted that the enterprise has of late years been given up. The estimated value of the manufacture of oil and sugar, &c., is exhibited below :—

| | Oils. | Sugar, &c. |
|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 .. .. | 6,53,184 .. .. | 8,44,175 |
| 1882—83 .. .. | 4,31,113 .. .. | 5,34,150 |
| 1883—84 .. .. | 5,78,588 .. .. | 13,88,218 |
| 1884—85 .. .. | 5,39,835 .. .. | 14,30,472 |
| 1885—86 .. .. | 6,62,176 .. .. | 18,73,554 |

381. The art of glass-making is principally, if not entirely, applied to the manufacture of bangles or glass rings, worn on the wrists like bracelets by all classes of women. The chief seat of the trade, which has almost gone down, is Maltod, but some glass is also made at Channapatna, part of which is formed into small bottles.

382. The ordinary carpenters are engaged chiefly in making carts and agricultural implements. In Bangalore and some other large places cabinet work of great excellence and copied from English designs, is turned out. Coach and carriage building is also successfully carried on in Bangalore and Mysore.

383. The toys for which Channapatna in the Bangalore District is famous are much sought after by Europeans as well as Natives. Miniature imitations of native vessels and implements are made and coated with lac of bright colors. These toys are strong and smooth and the color never comes off. Larger toys, representing various animals and fruits are made, and they are elaborately painted by hand. In the International Exhibition recently held at Calcutta these toys secured a 2nd class certificate and Bronze Medal.

384. Leather dressing is carried on at Bangalore. A very pretty kind of red morocco is manufactured at Harihar by a set of people called Munchikar. Government factories connected with the Commissariat were long maintained at Hunsur consisting among other things of a tannery and leather Manufactory. Although these have now been abolished, the District continues to reap the advantage which they conferred in training workmen after the European model.

385. The manufacture of earth salt in the Province, which was once considerable, has greatly declined. In compliance with the wishes of the Government of India, the manufacture of the salt within 5 miles of the British frontier has been prohibited in view to prevent the smuggling of the salt into British Territories. The measure is attended with some hardship to the classes who have hitherto lived by the manufacture as well as to the people in remote parts who altogether depend on this salt for their consumption.

386. The preparation of coffee is also an important industry. The following table shows the value of this manufacture during the five years from 1881—82 to 1885—86:—

|---|---|
| 1881—82 .. .. .. .. | 11,14,488 |
| 1882—83 .. .. .. .. | 15,67,192 |
| 1883—84 .. .. .. .. | 11,88,308 |
| 1884—85 .. .. .. .. | 32,87,869 |
| 1885—86 .. .. .. .. | 27,33,207 |

A factory for the preparation of coffee has of late years been established at Bangalore by Messrs. Binny and Co. of Madras.

387. Last and not the least important of the industries of the Province is that of wood carving. Mysore is famous for its ornamental sandalwood carving and it procured many medals and certificates in the recent International Exhibition at Calcutta. The carving is done by a class called Gudigars who are settled in the Shimoga District, chiefly at Sorab. The designs with which they entirely cover the boxes, desks, and other articles made, are of an extremely involved and elaborate pattern consisting for the most part of intricate interlacing foliage and scrawl work, pictures of Gods, &c.

388. A proposal for the establishment of a Paper Mill fell through in spite of the liberal concession promised by Government because the projectors were of opinion that the undertaking was not likely to pay so well as others. A few native gentlemen of Bangalore set on foot a project to spin and reel silk by machinery, but it fell through owing it is believed, to want of thoroughness in the scheme.

389. The Government of His Highness the Maharaja is anxious to give all the aid in its power to the development of the industries of the Province and it is believed that with the extension of railways and the increase of trade, those industries will so improve as materially to advance the prosperity of the country.

TRADE.

390. The following remarks taken from the Administration Report of Mysore for the year 1880—81 represent almost exactly the state of trade in the Province at the present day :—

"The trade of the Province is of a very limited character, the exports consisting chiefly of food grains and other articles of local produce. This is as might be expected in an agricultural country like Mysore ; the exports of food grains by Rail to British Territory are not only large but on the increase. Coffee also, which is extensively cultivated towards the west of the Province, is largely exported to the western coast and shipped to European markets where it is in great demand. Bangalore however, which is the entrepot of commerce for the whole Province, is indeed the only place where any thing like trade is carried on ; the trade in the other towns is not brisk and remains for the most part in the hands of a few who do a remunerative, if small, business. The weekly markets and annual fairs or santés, in many places continue to play an important part in supplying the rural population, in the place of shops, with their simple wants.

As regards imports, they consist of articles of European manufacture, such as cotton and woollen piece goods, hardware, &c., as well as wheat, dál and cotton, which are largely imported from Dharwar, Mangalore and other places in British Territory.

Fuller details regarding the trade of the Province will be found in the statistical tables on the subject appended to this report.

It should, however, be explained with reference to those two tables that the quantity and average value of the various commodities referred to are only approximate, there being, as remarked in the preceding section regarding manufactures, no record of trade systematically kept ; the taluk officials by whom the particulars are collected depend solely on information afforded them by the traders and merchants themselves."

391. The opening of 140 miles of Railway from Mysore to Gubbi during the period under report has done something towards stimulating trade, but it is believed that the proposed extension of the Mysore State Railway from Gubbi to Harihar and its connection with the Southern Mahratta Railway will be productive of a marked increase in trade, as the line will pass by the great coffee and arecanut producing Districts of Hassan, Kadur and Shimoga and bring all remote parts of the Province within easier reach of Bangalore, the entrepot of trade for the whole Province.

PUBLIC WORKS.

392. The subjoined table gives the Budget grant, with the corresponding outlay, on account of Public Works, for each year of the quinquennial period under review:-

| Year. | Grant. | Outlay. |
|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 ... ... ... | 15,33,121 | 14,91,961 |
| 1882—83 ... .. ... | 14,47,797 | 13,62,264 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... | 15,07,000 | 14,24,572 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... | 15,57,350 | 13,64,487 |
| 1885—86 ... .. ... | 18,62,500 | 16,46,660 |
| Total Rs..... | 79,07,768 | 72,89,944 |

393. The above includes the grant and expenditure under all of the following funds:—

Provincial Fund,
District Funds,
Palace Fund, and Provincial Irrigation Fund, or Irrigation Cess Fund (so termed prior to April 1884.)

394. In addition to the regular Budget grant, a sum averaging Rs. 60,000 annually has been placed at the disposal of the Public Works Department, from several sources for expenditure on miscellaneous works.

PROVINCIAL FUND.

395. The grant under this head, which, prior to 1883—84, varied from 7 to 9 lakhs, was fixed during that year at 9½ lakhs of rupees.

396. The principal works executed under this head, between the years 1881 and 1886, are detailed below under the sub-heads "Military" and "Civil Buildings," "Irrigation Channels and Tanks, Communications," and "Miscellaneous Public Improvements."

ORIGINAL WORKS.

Military.

397. Under this head a total expenditure of Rs. 21,135 was incurred on the following major works:—

(a) Constructing a new range of Rifle Butts at Hebbal, including compensation for land taken up.

(b) Reconstructing Siladar Stables at Shimoga.

(c) Improving the place of arms in the Siladar Lines at Bangalore.

All these works were satisfactorily completed and made over to the Military Department.

CIVIL BUILDINGS.

398. The total outlay on major works, under this head, was Rs. 2,64,219 as shown below:—

(a) Law and Justice.—Eleven new Taluk Cutcherries were constructed at the marginally noted stations.

|---|---|
| Kankanhalli. | Channagiri. |
| Tirthahalli. | Chintamani. |
| Arsikere. | Mudgere. |
| Dodballapur. | Shikarpur. |
| Chikballapur. | Sagar. |
| Yedahalli. | |

(b.) Medical.—Two new Dispensaries at Kalsa and Belur, and Nurses' Quarters to the Civil Hospital at Mysore were built. The Maternity or Lying-in-Hospital at Bangalore was completed and the travellers' bungalow at Chikmagalur was converted into quarters for a Civil Surgeon.

(c.) Revenue.—Additions were made to the Distillery building at Shimoga.

(d.) Education.—Three new school houses were built at Shikarpur, Honnali and Yedahalli. The Bangalore High School, now known as the Central College, was largely extended and improved.

(e.) Miscellaneous.—The barracks and hospital at French Rocks were purchased for use as offices; improvements were made to the Public Offices at Bangalore, and the restoration of the Daria Daulat Bungalow at Seringapatam was undertaken.

IRRIGATION.

Channels.

399. The annual expenditure upon these important works, since the Rendition, is given below :—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| 1881—82 .. .. .. .. | 77,687 |
| 1882—83 .. .. .. .. | 56,191 |
| 1883—84 .. .. .. .. | 44,388 |
| 1884—85 .. .. .. .. | 26,419 |
| 1885—86 .. .. .. .. | 13,499 |
| Total Rs.. | 2,18,184 |

400. More than half that amount, viz. (Rs. 1,48,766), was laid out on the extension and improvement of the Ramaswami, Devaray and Mandigere channels, which together irrigate 10,758 acres of land, and yield an annual revenue of Rs. 41,219.

401. An outlay of Rs. 55,495 was incurred on the Chikdevaraysagar channels, the Viziyanadi channels and Maddur Ane channels, the Krishnaraj anicut and channels, the Belur channels, the Lakshmanpur anicut, the Hirejehalli channels, the Hanagod main channels, the Changravalli anicut and channels, the Abbur anicut and channels, the Salur anicut and channels, and the Yegati, Girsi and Bramhasandra anicuts.

402. Irrigation Tanks.—The following figures show the outlay on this class of works between the years 1881-82—1885-86 :—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| 1881—82 .. .. .. .. | 58,179 |
| 1882—83 .. .. .. .. | 25,786 |
| 1883—84 .. .. .. .. | 12,209 |
| 1884—85 .. .. .. .. | 54,628 |
| 1885—86 .. .. .. .. | 2,79,228 |
| Total Rs.. | 4,30,030 |

403. In the Bangalore Division 15 tanks were restored at a cost of Rs. 53,342 :—

| | 5,92,148 | 5,58,393 |

407. The most important works of this class were as follows :—

Improving and bridging the Mysore-Manantadi road at an outlay of Rs. 1,31,131.

Improvements to the Manjarabad ghat, on the Bangalore to Mangalore line, at a cost of Rs. 47,246. Constructing a pack bullock road on the Bisle ghat for Rs. 61,547.

Completing and opening out the Koppa-Sringeri road at an expenditure of Rs. 93,441.

Bridging, tunnelling and opening out the Umblibail-Yedahalli road at an outlay of Rs. 55,473.

Completing the Vastara-Hariharpur main line at a cost of Rs. 2,07,186.

Constructing two Railway feeders, viz : one from Closepet to Kankanhalli and a second from Channapatna to Satnur for Rs. 30,743 and Rs. 17,297 respectively.

Bridging and opening the Shimoga-Umblibail road at a cost of Rs. 40,804.

Bridging and improving the Iyahalli Bisle ghat road at an outlay of Rs. 25,593.

Opening out the Yellampalli-Chelur road, Kolar District, at an expenditure of Rs. 17,960.

Constructing on the Hyderghar-Shimoga road, a masonry bridge (over the Sarasvati river near Sita) for Rs 42,781 and an iron bridge (over the Haridravati river, near Gavatar) for Rs. 24,522. With these works the bridging of the rivers and streams on the Hyderghar ghat was completed, and through communication established between Shimoga and Nagar..

408. In addition to the foregoing works, a sum of Rs. 1,19,712 has been expended in constructing various minor iron and masonry bridges throughout the Province.

409. Under the same head, sanctions have recently been accorded to the following :—

A 1st class Travellers' Bungalow at Chikmagalur, 3rd class Travellers' Bungalows at Yedeyala and Heggaddevankote. A Railway feeder from Closepet to Magadi, a bridge over the Hebhalla (estimate Rs. 16,738).

Improving the Urigam gold fields Railway feeders, Kolar.
Improving the Mysore-Manantadi road (estimate Rs. 52,000).
Completing the Chikmagalur Yedahalli road (estimate Rs. 44,306).
Bridging the Settihalla stream (estimate Rs. 5,145).

Miscellaneous Public Improvements.

410. The yearly grant and outlay under this head since the Rendition are given below :—

| Year. | Grant. | Outlay. |
|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 ... ... ... ... | 28,900 | 29,331 |
| 1882—83 ... ... .. ... | 23,248 | 22,217 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... ... | 31,565 | 31,422 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... ... | 30,000 | 26,373 |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... ... | 45,415 | 43,480 |
| Total Rs..... | 1,59,128 | 1,52,823 |

411. The principal projects of this class are as follows :—

(a) The Bangalore Water Supply.—The original estimate for this work was Rs. 5,46,649 ; the expenditure incurred upon it since 1881—82 is Rs. 27,599.

(b) Water Supply of the Mysore Town.—The original estimate for this undertaking amounts to Rs. 4,20,823 ; the outlay incurred since the Rendition is Rs. 99,250. This work is still in progress.

(c) Improving the storage capacity of the Dharmambudhi tank, Bangalore, at a cost of Rs 4,992.

(d) Diversion of the Sampangi tank feeder into a supply channel to Miller's Reservoir at an expenditure of Rs. 3,101.

PALACE DIVISION.

PALACE FUND.

412. Out of a grant of 1 lakh, an outlay of Rs. 73,624 was incurred upon the following works : —

(a) Extending the Palace at Bangalore.
(b) Constructing a cottage in the Palace grounds.
(c) Building new cooking and dining apartments in the Palace grounds.
(d) Improving the water supply to the Palace and Gardens.

PROVINCIAL FUND.

REPAIRS.

413. The total grant under this head for the five years under review amounted to Rs. 14,18,248, and the recorded outlay against it is Rs. 13,75,560.

The subjoined table gives the annual grant and outlay under the service heads Buildings, Communications and Miscellaneous Public Improvements:—

| Year. | Buildings. | | Communications. | | Miscellaneous Improvements. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Grant. | Outlay. | Grant. | Outlay. | Grant. | Outlay. |
| 1881—82 | 17,000 | 16,743 | 2,69,130 | 2,72,439 | 1,800 | 1,580 |
| 1882—83 | 57,650 | 52,372 | 2,22,199 | 2,23,569 | 166 | 205 |
| 1883—84 | 71,333 | 71,333 | 2,25,500 | 2,25,605 | 883 | 821 |
| 1884—85 | 60,000 | 53,659 | 2,00,000 | 1,85,367 | 5,000 | 1,962 |
| 1885—86 | 74,622 | 63,695 | 2,07,965 | 2,04,458 | 5,000 | 2,752 |
| Total, Rs... | 2,80,605 | 2,57,802 | 11,24,794 | 11,11,438 | 12,849 | 6,320 |

414. The bulk of the grant for repairs was employed in maintaining in trafficable order the main lines of road throughout the Province, of which there are 1,068 miles now open to traffic.

DISTRICT FUNDS.

415. The annual grant and outlay under this budget head for the past 5 years is given below:—

| Year. | Grant. | Outlay. |
|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 ... ... ... ... | 6,32,587 | 5,84,089 |
| 1882—83 ... ... ... ... | 7,11,500 | 6,39,934 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... ... | 8,78,300 | 7,95,595 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... ... | 4,57,350 | 3,91,512 |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... ... | 4,24,482 | 3,79,561 |
| Total Rs..... | 31,04,219 | 27,90,691 |

416. Of the whole outlay given above, the sum of Rs. 5,64,837 has been expended on original works; Rs. 17,39,421 on repairs and Rs. 4,86,433 on establishment and plant. The outlay on original works was distributed as follows:—On civil buildings Rs. 13,498, on miscellaneous public improvements Rs. 21,420, and on communications Rs. 5,29,919.

417. The following is a list of the principal District Fund roads which have been opened out, or improved since the Rendition:—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| The Chintamani-Bagepalli road | .. .. | for Rs. 39,261 |
| The Mulbagal-Srinivaspur do | .. .. | 31,369 |
| The Chitaldroog-Ujani do | .. .. | 21,338 |
| The Hunsur-Yedatore do | .. .. | 11,185 |
| The Kaulandi-Santimaranhalli do | ... .. | 10,632 |
| The Sowlinga-Harikoppa do | .. .. | 17,458 |
| The Benhatti-Sagar do | .. .. | 8,975 |
| The Siralkoppa-Hangal do | .. .. | 28,516 |
| The Benkipur-Dumi do | .. .. | 18,000 |
| The Chikmagalur-Yedahalli do | .. .. | 26,794 |
| The Sringéri-Begur do | .. .. | 27,961 |
| The Koratagere-Kalasa do | .. .. | 18,548 |
| The Magunda do | .. .. | 12,708 |
| The Shimoga-Sorab-Sirsi do | .. .. | 11,386 |
| The Ramanathpur-Fraserpet do | .. .. | 6,312 |
| The Anekal-Bannergatta do | .. .. | 6,249 |
| The Bababudan Hill do | . . | 9,332 |
| The Bellavi-Chellur do | .. .. | 7,323 |
| The Mandya-Melkote do | .. .. | 8,743 |
| The Anantapur-Tirthahalli do | .. .. | 5,657 |
| The Holalkere-Huliyar do | .. .. | 5,659 |

The total length of District roads annually maintained from this Fund is now 3,598 miles.

Irrigation Cess and Provincial Irrigation Funds.

418. The annual outlay on the repair of Irrigation works for the past five years is given below :—

|---|---|
| 1881—82 .. .. .. .. | 2,02,428 |
| 1882—83 .. .. .. .. | 2,20,385 |
| 1883—84 .. .. .. .. | 3,06,744 |
| 1884—85 .. .. .. .. | 2,71,455 |
| 1885—86 .. .. .. .. | 1,72,140 |
| Total Rs. .. | 11,73,152 |

Of this amount, the sum of Rs. 8,77,888 was expended on tanks, and Rs. 2,95,624 on channels.

419. The total expenditure for five years on Irrigation repairs in each District is shown below :—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| Bangalore .. .. .. .. | 94,717 |
| Kolar .. .. .. .. | 1,58,643 |
| Tumkur .. .. .. .. | 2,72,672 |
| Mysore .. .. .. .. | 2,47,584 |
| Hassan .. .. .. .. | 97,845 |
| Shimoga .. .. .. .. | 61,916 |
| Kadur .. .. .. .. | 86,259 |
| Chitaldroog .. .. .. | 45,403 |
| French Rocks .. .. .. .. | 56,665 |

420. Establishment.—The annual outlay on establishment together with percentages on total outlay, and on works alone, for the past five years was as follows :—

| Year. | Outlay. | Percentage on total outlay. | Percentage on works only. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 ... ... ... | 3,48,652 | 21·3 | 27·1 |
| 1882—83 .. ... ... | 3,26,005 | 22·8 | 29·4 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... | 3,09,486 | 21·73 | 27·76 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... | 2,89,739 | 21·23 | 27·11 |
| 1885—86 ... ... .. | 3,13,219 | 18·97 | 23·52 |

421. The works above enumerated have, with few exceptions, been creditably carried out, and the roads, tanks, and channels have on the whole been efficiently maintained. In their execution there have been no special engineering difficulties to contend with, but what has been done is evidence that the locally trained engineering staff which has since the Rendition been entrusted with the inauguration and up-keep of Public Works in the Province, has been equal to the task, and affords promise that they will in the future be able to deal economically with ordinary requirements, necessitating the employment of more expensive European agency for special projects only, and, for a time, for administrative purposes and general superintendence. The upper subordinate staff has, however, it must be observed, proved weak, and endeavour is specially required to improve the tone of the lower subordinate staff, which, as a body, is deficient in the qualifications necessary for the work falling to them.

RAILWAYS.

422 On 1st April 1870, the Government of India directed that surveys for Railways in Mysore shall be commenced, Mr. Bowring being then the Chief Commissioner.

423. A Railway report with plans and estimates of various routes was prepared by Captain Lindsay, R. E., and these were submitted to the Government of India in December 1870 by Major Sankey, R. E., Chief Engineer.

424. A revised estimate for the Bangalore-Mysore direct line was prepared and submitted to the Government of India on 22nd December 1871.

425. On 20th April 1872, the Government of India ordered that the proposal regarding a Railway should be held in abeyance for want of available funds.

426. On the 8th August 1877 (the famine year), the Government of India sanctioned the commencement of the Bangalore-Mysore line as a relief work.

427. On the 4th February 1878, the earth-work for 14 miles was far advanced and the alignment located for 40 miles.

428. On 3rd February 1879, provisional sanction was accorded to the estimates for work between Bangalore City Station and Channapatna, and Mr. W. Henderson was appointed Engineer-in-Chief.

429. The estimates for the remaining portion of this line from Channapatna to Mysore Town were sanctioned in June 1879. Major A. LeMessurier R. E., succeeded Mr. Henderson on his retirement in November 1879 as Engineer-in-Chief.

430. A portion of the line from Bangalore to Channapatna was opened for traffic on 1st February 1881, and from Bangalore to Mandya (58 miles) on 20th March 1881, just before the Rendition of Mysore to His Highness the Maharaja on 25th March 1881.

1881.

431. The outlay on Railways at the end of 1881 amounted to Rs. 36,00,827 and the line was completed with the exception of a few large bridges.

1882.

432. The first through train with passengers from Bangalore to Mysore was run on the 25th February 1882, on completion of the bridges over the Cauvery river and goods trains commenced to run on 1st June 1882.

433. This line was constructed almost entirely out of current revenues.

The following table gives the result of the working of the open line up to date of latest returns :—

| Year. | Section of Line. | Mileage. | Capital outlay in rupees. | Net earnings in rupees. | Percentage on outlay. | Remarks. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881 ... | Bangalore to Mandya ... | 58 | 36,00,827 | 53,753 | 1·50. | Opened during portion of the year only. |
| 1882 ... | Mysore to Bangalore ... | 86 | 42,90,214 | 1,03,495 | 2·42 | Opened on 25th February 1882. |
| 1883 ... | Mysore to Bangalore ... | 86 | 43,08,795 | 99,675 | 2·31 | |
| 1884 ... | Mysore to Gubbi ... ... | 140 | 62,64,620 | 1,65,479 | 2·64 | |
| 1885 ... | Mysore to Gubbi ... ... | 140 | 64,89,346 | 2,07,784 | 3·20 | |

434. The surveys were completed, and plans and estimates for a line of Railway from Bangalore to Tumkur were sent to the Government of India ; and sanction was conveyed by telegram from the Government of India dated 7th October 1882 ; construction was begun, a loan of 20 lakhs of Rs. (sanctioned by the Government of India) having been raised for the purpose, bearing interest at 5 per cent per annum, and during the year about $\frac{1}{3}$rd of the earthwork was completed, and bridging well advanced.

435. Surveys were also begun on the proposed extensions from Tumkur to Tiptur (44 miles) and from Mysore to Nanjangud (Vide table at end giving expenditure for 5 years).

436. During this year the construction of the line from Bangalore to Tumkur was well advanced, all the earthwork with the exception of rock cuttings being completed, and laying of permanent way started.

1883.

437. The plans and estimates for the extension from Tumkur to Tiptur were sanctioned by the Government of India under No. 229, dated 18th January 1884, the estimates amounting to Rs. 19,84,960 or Rs. 45,185 per mile.

438. Surveys were also begun for the extension from Tiptur to the Mysore frontier at Harihar (130 miles), and the survey of the short extension from Mysore to Nanjangud (14 miles) with plans and estimates were completed; the estimate amounts to Rs. 6,52,661 or Rs. 45,481 per mile.

439. A survey was also begun for a line of Railway from Dodbele on the Tumkur line to Hindupur to join on to a Railway which is to come from Guntakal; but the project has since been abandoned and a line direct from Bangalore to Hindupur substituted.

1884.

440. The section of line from Bangalore to Tumkur (43 miles) was opened for traffic on 11th August 1884 and a further extension to Gubbi (11 miles) was opened on 26th December 1884. Gubbi is at present the terminus of the open line.

441. The surveys, plans and estimates for the extension from Tiptur to Harihar were nearly completed.

1885.

442. Plans and estimates of the proposed Railway from Tiptur to Harihar were completed and submitted to the Government of India through the Resident on 2nd July 1885. The estimate amounts to Rs. 49,29,939 for 124½ miles at the rate of Rs. 39,607 per mile.

443. Proposals made by the Government of India that the extension from Gubbi to Harihar should be executed with Foreign Capital were accepted by the Mysore Durbar and negotiations were carried out between the Secretary of State for India on behalf of Mysore and the Southern Mahratta Railway Company, whereby the present open line of 140 miles was to be hypothecated for the amount of its cost to the Company, the Company also to raise the necessary capital to carry out the extension to Harihar. The terms under which the Company is to construct the extension and maintain, manage, and work the whole system of the Mysore State Railway, were to be similar to those of the existing contract between the Secretary of State and the Company as regards the Deccan Railways.

444. The following table gives the expenditure incurred up to the end of 1885-86 (official year) on carrying out surveys for future extensions of the Railway system.

| Official year. | Gubbi to Harihar. | Mysore to Nanjangud. | Bangalore to Hindupur. | Birur to Shimoga. | Dodbele to Hindupur. | Total. | Remarks. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 ... | ... | 52 | ... | ... | ... | 52 | |
| 1882—83 ... | ... | 2,298 | ... | ... | ... | 2,298 | |
| 1883—84 ... | 32,678 | 3,764 | ... | †1,963 | ... | 38,405 | *Since abondoned. |
| 1884—85 ... | 30,999 | 76 | ... | ... | 3,784 | 34,859 | |
| 1885—86 ... | 18,351 | †1,572 | 10,423 | ... | *6,277 | 36,623 | †Preparation of estimates, plans, &c. |
| Total..... | 82,028 | 7,762 | 10,423 | 1,963 | 10,061 | 112,237 | |

445. In addition to this, 108,500 teak sleepers were collected at Gubbi for use on extension to Harihar, and the booked value of these is Rs. 2,35,803.

446. The total expenditure therefore on Railways in Mysore has been as under :—

| | | Rs. |
|---|---|---|
| 1. | Expenditure on open line (Capital) at end of December 1885.. | *64,89,346 |
| 2. | Expenditure on surveys for extensions to end of March 1886.. | 1,12,237 |
| 3. | Cost of sleepers collected for Harihar extension.. .. | 2,35,803 |
| | | 68,37,386 |

ANCHE OR MYSORE LOCAL POST.

447. The postal arrangements in Mysore have remained the same as before the Rendition, but much has been done during the period under report towards improving the efficiency of the Department and affording the rural population better facilities for communication.

448. The Department was revised by the Dewan's Proceedings No. 5090-5100—27, dated 15th November 1882. By that revision the establishments of clerks and runners which had been maintained on an extravagant scale quite out of proportion to the receipts of the Department and the requirements of work, were reduced, and Anche lines kept up on roads which had ceased to be of importance, were closed, and new lines established in more suitable localities.

449. The total length of Anche lines (2,433 miles in 1885—86) has been retained at nearly the same figure (2,477) as in 1880—81, but the gradual extension of the State Railway from Mysore to Gubbi and the changes effected in 1882 have tended to reduce the number of runners' miles from 2,442 to 2,293.

450. The number of Anche offices, however, has been largely increased as will be seen from the following table :—

| | No. of Offices. | | No. of Offices. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1880—81 ... ... | 180 | 1883—84 ... ... | 369 |
| 1881—82 ... ... | 182 | 1884—85 ... ... | 390 |
| 1882—83 ... ... | 186 | 1885—86 ... ... | 412 |

451. The increase is due to the gradual extension of the system by which Hobli schoolmasters in important villages have been appointed Anche Mutsaddis with a small additional remuneration of Rs. 1 to 3 per mensem. These cheap offices have tended to bring the benefits of the Department within the reach of the rural population and have become very popular. Their number which in 1881—82 was only 30 has now reached 231, the total number of Post offices in the State being 412 last year against 180 in 1880—81.

452. Owing to the large increase in the number of Anche offices and to the introduction into the State of British quarter anna post-cards by means of an arrangement under which the Mysore State is paid one pie by the Imperial Post Office on each *Expenditure incurred up to end of March 1881, on open line, was Rs. 25,76,570.

British post-card used purely within the limits of the State, private correspondence has increased considerably within the last 5 years as will be seen from the subjoined table:—

| Years. | Letters. | Packets and Newspapers. | Parcels. | Total. | Registered letters included in col. 2. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1880—81 ... ... ... | 1,167,425 | 56,079 | 8,012 | 1,231,516 | 14,278 |
| 1881—82 ... ... ... | 1,256,621 | 69,624 | 8,721 | 1,334,966 | 18,611 |
| 1882—83 ... ... ... | 1,329,495 | 79,309 | 8,809 | 1,417,613 | 23,789 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... | 1,348,310 | 65,465 | 9,679 | 1,423,452 | 23,446 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... | 1,439,900 | 64,447 | 10,052 | 1,514,399 | 26,962 |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... | 1,519,469 | 76,676 | 10,146 | 1,606,289 | 30,387 |

453. The fee for the registration of letters at the Post Office having been reduced from 4 to 2 annas in British India, the same reduction was made in Mysore with effect from the 1st August 1881. This concession which is greatly appreciated by the people has led to an increase in the number of registered letters from 14,278 in 1880—81 to 30,387 in 1885—86 and the revenue from registration has, notwithstanding the great reduction in the rate of fee, gradually come up to the same amount as in 1880—81.

454. Official correspondence too has gradually risen as will be seen from the following statement:—

| Years. | Letters. | Parcels. | Gazettes. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1880—81 ... ... ... ... | 1,160,337 | 38,470 | 22,463 | 1,221,270 |
| 1881—82 ... ... ... ... | 1,223,590 | 36,371 | 21,546 | 1,281,508 |
| 1882—83 ... ... ... ... | 1,245,739 | 33,555 | 21,924 | 1,301,217 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... ... | 1,263,785 | 34,870 | 20,447 | 1,319,102 |

All official correspondence, parcels and Gazettes are carried by the Department free of charge.

455. The subjoined statement shows the number of letters mis-sent and the number undelivered by the Department during the period under review:—

| Years. | Letters mis-sent. | Letters undelivered. |
|---|---|---|
| 1880—81 ... ... ... ... ... | 533 | 324 |
| 1881—82 ... ... ... ... ... | 400 | 257 |
| 1882—83 ... ... ... ... ... | 331 | 364 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... ... ... | 192 | 562 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... ... ... | 184 | 595 |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... ... ... | 146 | 805 |

456. It is satisfactory to note that notwithstanding the large increase in private and official correspondence during the last 5 years, the number of letters mis-sent by the Anche has fallen from 533 in 1880—81 to 146 in 1885—86, showing that the efficiency of the Department has been greatly improved. The number of undelivered letters shows an increase year by year, but it includes a considerable number of letters (chiefly notices by pleaders) which are refused by the addressees on presentation by the Anche Department.

457. Interchange of covers with the British Post has been carried on under the same arrangements as were in force prior to the Rendition. Letters received from Post Offices in British India are conveyed by the Local Post and delivered through the local Anche Offices and similarly letters posted at the last named offices in Mysore Territory for places beyond the limits of the Province are conveyed by the local Anche and made over to the nearest British Post Offices in Mysore wthout any additional charge other than the British postage stamps used on the letters in question. The Mysore Anche gets no compensation for the good offices rendered by it to the Imperial Post in these cases, but it gets half the amount of the postage recovered on " bearing" letters, and it also levies additional postage at half the Imperial rates on bhangi parcels weighing more than 40 tolas transmitted to or received from British Post Offices and conveyed and delivered by the local Anche. The following statement shows the number of covers thus interchanged, and it will be seen from it that the number sent from Mysore for delivery in British India and the number sent from British India for delivery in Mysore have both of them risen largely during the five years under report.

| Sent to Imperial Post for delivery in British India ... ... | 152,624 | 180,604 | 190,028 | 207,137 | 214,165 | 219,627 |
| Received from Imperial Post for delivery in Mysore ... ... | 216,509 | 290,000 | 300,642 | 327,215 | 348,215 | 366,563 |

458. Complaints of loss of registered letters or of abstraction of their contents and of non-delivery or delay in delivery of ordinary letters have been very few in number as will be seen from the following :—

| | Complaints of loss of registered letters or of abstraction of their contents. | Complaints relating to non-delivery or delay in delivery of ordinary letters. |
|---|---|---|
| 1880—81 ... ... | 5 | 42 |
| 1881—82 ... ... | 4 | 61 |
| 1882—83 ... ... | 8 | 48 |
| 1883—84 ... ... | 1 | 62 |
| 1884—85 ... ... | 2 | 66 |
| 1885—86 ... ... | ... | 44 |

459. There were only two cases of highway robbery of mails during the 5 years under report, one in 1881—82 when the Anche runners were attacked near Seringapatam and currency notes to the value of Rs. 1,235 were stolen, and the other on 1st December 1884 when two parcels containing jewels and cloths were robbed near Benkipur on the Bangalore-Shimoga Anche line. In the first case one of the accused persons was arrested in 1884 and sentenced to one year's rigorous imprisonment. The culprits in the second case have not yet been brought to justice.

The financial results of the working of the Anche Department during the period under review are shown in the following statement :—

| | Cash Receipts. | Disbursements. | Deficit made up by Government. | If nominal charges on official correspondence is included, nominal income to Government. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1880—81 ... | 51,826 | 1,59,653 | 1,07,827 | 15,282 |
| 1881—82 ... | 55,089 | 1,58,489 | 1,03,400 | 21,400 |
| 1882—83 ... | 58,027 | 1,42,636 | 85,400 | 38,352 |
| 1883—84 .. | 58,608 | 1,26,674 | 68,006 | 60,038 |
| 1884—85 ... | 61,667 | 1,25,900 | 64,232 | 66,064 |
| 1885—86 ... | 65,261 | 1,26,683 | 61,423 | 77,183 |

460. It will be seen from the foregoing table that while the cash receipts of the Department have steadily increased from Rs. 51,826 in 1880—81 to Rs. 65,261 in 1885—86, the cost of the Establishment has, owing to the reduction effected in 1882 and to the extension of the State Railway, diminished from Rs. 1,59,653 to Rs. 1,26,683 these results are based on the actuals of receipts and expenditure. If, however, the nominal postage at Imperial rates on the official correspondence carried by the Anche be calculated and carried to the credit of the Department, there appears a nominal saving to Government of Rs. 15,282 in 1880—81 rising to Rs. 77,183 in 1885—86.

461. The Anche Department in Mysore still labors under the inconvenient system of levying postage in cash and granting receipts for the same and keeping individual registers of letters received and delivered. The system adds unnecessarily to the work of the establishment and, owing to the additional cost it entails, is in the way of further expansion of postal communication in the Province. The question of introducing into Mysore the system of paying postage by means of labels formed on more than one occasion the subject of correspondence with the Government of India during the period of the British Administration of Mysore, but without success. The subject is now again engaging the attention of the Mysore Government.

462. In 1885 two alternative proposals were made to the Durbar through the British Resident by the Director General of the Post Office of India. The first was that the complete control of Postal arrangements in Mysore should be surrendered by the Durbar to the Imperial Postal Department, that the Department should take over the whole of the Mysore Postal establishments, pay them from Imperial revenues and treat Mysore in all postal matters exactly as if it were a British Province, the service correspondence of the State being carried at the cheap official postage rates prepaid by service stamps. The other alternative proposal was—

1stly. that Mysore should adopt all British rules and rates of postage, using British Postage Stamps over-printed "Mysore," which would be supplied to it for the mere cost of manufacture;

2ndly that all paid inland correspondence, official or non-official, transferred from Mysore to British Post offices or vice versâ, should be delivered free, each post office keeping whatever it collects in stamps or bearing letters; and 3rdly. that Mysore should introduce the Money Order, Insurance, Value-payable parcel, Postal note and other systems peculiar to the British Indian Post Office retaining any fees it earns on account of them.

463. On a careful consideration of the subject the Government of His Highness informed the British Resident that it considered it inexpedient to transfer the local post to the Imperial system, but that it was ready to accept the other alternative proposal and to introduce into Mysore all the rules of the Imperial Postal system and ensure complete reciprocity between the two Departments. To this communication a reply has been received to the effect that the alternative proposal in question has led to some practical inconvenience in the States to which it has been applied, and that until further experience of the system has been obtained it will not be introduced elsewhere. The question therefore has had to be dropped for the present.

V. REVENUE AND FINANCE.

REVENUE.

464. The total demand, collection and balance under all sources of Revenue during each of the years under report are compared in the following statement with those of 1880—81:—

| Years. | Opening Balance. | Demand. | Total. | Collection. | Remission. | Outstanding Balance. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1880—81 ... | 27,93,612 | 100,93,246 | 128,86,858 | 102,70,383 | 2,57,089 | 23,59,386 |
| 1881—82 ... | a 23,60,568 | 107,25,162 | 130,85,730 | 108,04,993 | 3,23,591 | 19,57,146 |
| 1882—83 ... | 19,57,146 | 109,03,778 | 128,60,924 | 106,42,511 | 2,56,400 | 19,62,013 |
| 1883—84 ... | b 19,56,783 | 110,10,353 | 129,67,136 | 108,62,655 | 68,017 | 20,36,464 |
| 1884—85 ... | c 20,36,328 | 113,97,576 | 134,33,904 | 105,58,235 | 94,275 | 27,81,394 |
| 1885—86 ... | d 27,83,999 | 122,16,253 | 150,00,252 | 120,29,793 | 64,314 | 29,06,145 |

NOTE.—a. The increase of Rs. 1,182 over the balance at the end of the previous year, is due to the transfer of amounts from the Municipal and Local Funds and to the alteration of balance with reference to the actual kulwar baki patti.

b. The decrease of Rs. 5,230 is mainly due to the transfer of the amount merged in wet assessment to the head Irrigation Cess in the Bangalore District.

c. The decrease of Rs. 136 is owing to the transfer of amounts to the Municipal and Local Funds.

d. The increase of Rs. 2,605 is due to the remission of Rs. 1,609 being disallowed in the Kadur District and to the alteration of the balance as per kulwar baki patti.

465. It is satisfactory to see that the annual revenue demand exclusive of uncollected arrears has steadily and gradually risen year by year during the period under report notwithstanding the fact that 3 of them (1881—82, 1884—85 and 1885—86) were not years of agricultural prosperity.

466. The following statement shows under the various important heads, the amount of remissions granted during the several years extending from 1880—81 to 1885—86:—

| Particulars. | 1880—81. | 1881—82. | 1882—83. | 1883—84. | 1884—85. | 1885—86. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Land Revenue ... | 1,99,766 | 2,94,552 | 2,42,230 | 66,139 | 85,791 | 60,322 |

| Total..... | 2,57,089 | 3,23,591 | 2,56,400 | 68,017 | 94,275 | 64,314 |

467. The amounts of remissions granted were very large in the years 1881—82 and 1882—83, but they included large sums due for the famine years 1876—78. These long standing arrears were for the most part remitted.

468. The following is a comparative statement of the revenue demand under all heads for the years 1880—81 to 1885—86 and for 1875—76, the year previous to the famine :—

469. Deducting the Railway receipts, which were not formerly an item of revenue to the State, it will be observed that the revenue demand of the Province has risen from Rs. 1,09,76,668 in 1875—76, the year immediately preceding the famine, to Rs. 1,17,51,693 in 1885—86, i. e. by about 7¾ lakhs of rupees. The average of the revenue demand, after deducting the Railway receipts for the five years under report, is however less than the demand for 1875—76 by about ⅘ths of a lakh, thus showing that the Province has only just recovered from the effects of the disastrous famine of 1876—78, and but for the partial drought of 1884—85 and 1885—86 the results would have been much more favorable.

470. Land Revenue.—The revenue from land is the mainstay of the Government in Mysore as elsewhere in India. It shows very considerable fluctuations during the past 80 years, having been during the first ten years of the late Maharaja's Administration 65¾ lakhs, during the next ten years 57½ lakhs and in the first three decades after the British Assumption 47½, 50¾ and 57¾ lakhs respectively. In 1862—63 the revenue stood at 66½ lakhs. In the next year 1863—64 there was a sudden rise to 72 lakhs as the prices of all agricultural produce began to rise in that year owing to the unusually large exports of grain to the northern Districts of the Madras and Bombay Presidencies where the impetus for the cultivation of cotton which realized unprecedentedly high prices induced the agriculturists of those Districts to neglect the cultivation of food grains and to draw their supply from Mysore. In the next year it rose further to 73 lakhs and this high figure was very steadily maintained till 1875—76 when the revenue stood at 73¾ lakhs. The famine of 1876—78 so completely disorganized the revenue administration of the Province that the next figure of any importance is that for 1879—80 when and in the following year the land revenue demand was 69, lakhs. During the five years under report the land revenue demand has been, roughly, 70½, 72½, 74½, 74, and 78 lakhs respectively.

471. The details of the land revenue demand in the Province during the 5 years under report are shown in the appended comparative statement :—

474. It is satisfactory to observe the gradual increase, notwithstanding the partial drought of recent years, in the area cultivated under the heads "Dry" and "Wet." The extent of land now under cultivation under both these heads is greatly in excess of what it was before the famine. Encouragement for the growing of Mulberry was given in 1883—84 by exempting the owners of the gardens from the payment of the "Charki tax." Garden cultivation has increased from 1,95,623 acres in 1880-81 to 2,19,981 acres in 1885—86, while before the famine it was 1,72,234 acres. In 1881—82, the substitution of an acreage assessment in lieu of the Halat duty was ordered. Further as an encouragement to the planters half the full assessment was authorized to be levied for the first 5 years in cases in which estates required to be worked up.

475. The extent of land under Batayi tenure was in acres 4,469 in 1880—81; 2,501 in 1881—82; 5,284 in 1882—83; 4,777 in 1883—84; 2,375 in 1884—85; and 2,619 in 1885—86. Under this system of tenure the Government and the cultivator share the crop equally and the revenue therefore varies with it. This system is, as much as possible, discouraged and only resorted to in a very few and exceptional cases. The Survey settlement does away with this tenure.

476. The following statement gives the particulars of the demand under the head "Land Revenue Miscellaneous" for the 5 years 1881—82 to 1885—86:—

477. Forests.—The forests in Mysore form an important source of revenue because of the sandalwood of superior quality which they produce. The sandal, which is collected by Government and sold at the depôts established in various parts of the Province, is carried to Bombay by the purchasers and thence exported to China and other foreign countries. The income from sandal depends upon the uncertain demand for the article in foreign markets and it is subject to considerable fluctuations. It stood at a little over 5 lakhs in 1880—81, but during subsequent years it has always been less than that amount, standing at 4¾ lakhs in 1885—86.

478. The next important item of forest receipts is the revenue from the sale of timber. Before the famine it varied between ½ and ¾ lâkh, but since the Rendition the Government have improved this source of income by supplying fuel for consumption on the State Railway from specially reserved fuel tracts.

479. The total revenue demand under "Forests" was Rs. 6,97,779 in 1880—81, Rs. 7,18,593 in 1881—82, Rs. 6,74,913 in 1882—83, Rs. 6,17,450 in 1883—84, Rs. 7,04,484 in 1884—85 and Rs. 8,43,607 in 1885—86.

480. Abkari.—The following statement shows the Government demand under the head "Abkari" for each of the 5 years under report as also for 1880—81 :—

481. "Abkari" has been the earliest to recover from the effects of the famine. This revenue is chiefly realized in the larger towns, which suffered least in the famine and which have rapidly recovered since. It is a steadily increasing source of revenue, though the increase indicating a larger consumption of the spirits is not altogether a matter for congratulation.

482. Mohatarfa.—The next important item of revenue is mohatarfa or assessed taxes, taxes levied upon the houses of non-agriculturists, shops, &c. The income from this tax previous to 1831—32 was on an average about 1½ lakhs. In the first 3 years of the British Administration it was under one lakh, but in 1834—35 it rose to nearly 3 lakhs. During the 13 years 1841—42 to 1854—55 it was on an average about 6½ lakhs. In subsequent years it fluctuated between 4½ lakhs and 5 lakhs until in 1862—63 it again fell to 3½ lakhs owing to the abolition of numerous petty imposts included under this head and the restriction of this tax to the following four principal items :—

(1) Non-agriculturists' houses except in Municipalities where all houses are taxed without exception ;
(2) Shops ;
(3) Looms ; and
(4) Oil-mills.

483. The subjoined comparative statement shows the revenue demand from each item included under this head during the 5 years under report :—

| | 1880—81 | 1881—82 | 1882—83 | 1883—84 | 1884—85 | 1885—86 |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|

| „ Looms ... ... ... | 41,025 | 43,236 | 45,381 | 47,417 | 48,286 | 49,492 |
| „ Oil-mills ... ... | 10,113 | 10,087 | 9,979 | 10,231 | 10,355 | 10,543 |
| „ Carts ... ... | 22,194 | 26,931 | 28,218 | 31,181 | 32,404 | 33,285 |
| Miscellaneous ... ... ... | 262 | 230 | 461 | 302 | 253 | 1,08[illegible] |
| Total..... | 2,52,826 | 2,64,164 | 2,69,364 | 2,86,779 | 2,89,210 | 3,05,845 |

484. The decrease in mohatarfa from what it was previous to the famine represents the heavy mortality amongst the weaver class who largely contribute to the loom tax. A loss has also been incurred in house tax in consequence of a moiety of it in the towns having been given up to the Municipalities to prevent their levying a separate tax under this head. Nevertheless it is satisfactory to observe that the demand under this head has gradually increased from Rs. 2,52,826 in 1880—81 to Rs. 3,05,845 in 1885—86, showing a steady increase in the population of the miscellaneous classes generally and the improved condition of weavers in particular.

485. Customs or Sayer.—The revenue from sayer was very considerable under the late Maharaja's Administration and varied from 10 to 11¼ lakhs. It is a very ancient impost and consisted of—1st, a transit duty on goods passing along all roads; 2nd, a duty on goods produced and manufactured in the country levied previous to their exportation; and 3rd, a duty levied on goods at the time of their sale. After the assumption of the Administration by the British Government, these duties were very greatly reduced and their collection was undertaken by departmental officers. In 1864 the number of excisable articles was reduced from 24 to 11 by the abolition of the duty upon 13 excisable articles such as earth salt, iron, ghee, chillies, cotton, &c. The duties on imports and exports were abolished in 1865. In 1866—67 the duties on cardamoms and silk were remitted, and in 1875 that on piece-goods and pepper, besides a reduction of duty on supari and tobacco. These measures reduced the revenue from 10¼ lakhs in 1864—65 to 6 lakhs in 1875—76. In 1879—80 the duties were further revised by the abolition of the duty on tobacco, cocoanuts, and betel-leaves beyond the limit of Municipal towns, and Municipal bodies were allowed to levy the duty on these articles by way of an octroi and to pay one half of the net collections to the Provincial revenue. Thus the only article which now pays a sayer duty is 'supari' or arecanut.

486. The Government demand under the head 'Sayer' during the 5 years under report as compared with that for 1880—81 is shown in the following comparative statement:—

487. The revenue under this head, which before the famine stood at 6 lakhs, now stands at about Rs. 3,90,000. During the years 1882—83 and 1883—84, it showed considerable decrease owing to the prevalence of "Kole-roga"—a disease brought on by excessive rain-fall—among the areca trees of the Malnad. The produce was thus considerably below the average during these years; but the garden owners were compensated for their loss of crops by the unusually heavy prices at which the article was sold. It is not to be expected that the revenue from this source will be anything more than 4 lakhs for some time to come as the areca gardens suffered severely during the late famine and the trees which have replaced those that died during that severe and continued drought would take more than 12 years to come to bearing.

488. Salt.—The revenue under this head is derived from the manufacture of earth-salt and is in the nature of a land tax and not an excise duty. The manufacture of this salt in the Province which was once considerable has greatly declined. In compliance with the wishes of the Government of India its manufacture within a radius of 5 miles of the British Frontier has been prohibited in view to prevent the smuggling of the salt into British Territories. The measure is attended with some hardship to the class who have hitherto lived by the manufacture as well as to the people in remote parts who altogether depend on this salt for their consumption.

489. The revenue demand from this source was—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| In 1880—81 | ... | ... | Rs. 23,358 |
| 1881—82 | ... | ... | 10,798 |

490. It is reported that the present population of Mysore consume annually about 600,000 maunds of the excised salt imported from the adjoining British Districts. The earth-salt manufactured in the Province is chiefly used for cattle.

491. The other items of revenue which are comparatively of an unimportant nature call for no special remarks in this part of the report.

492. The actual realizations under all heads of revenue are dealt with in the following section on "Finance."

FINANCE.

493. In connection with the Financial administration of Mysore during the past five years, the following facts are worthy of notice.

494. Transfer of the Revenues of the Civil & Military Station of Bangalore.—On the assignment by His Highness the Maharaja of the tract known as the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore to the British Government on the date of the Rendition, the administration of that tract was transferred to the British Resident, but, as a matter of convenience, the collection of the revenues of the tract continued for a period to be carried out by the officers of the Durbar. The realizations from the Civil and Military Station were credited in His Highness the Maharaja's Treasury and all payments relating thereto were made by the Comptroller of Mysore under the orders of the Resident. Early in 1884, however, the Government of India decided that the revenue collections of the Civil and Military Station should in future be made by British officers and lodged in the Resident's Treasury and that, until further orders, the surplus revenues of the Assigned Tract should be considered as part of the Imperial revenues of the British Government. At the same time the Government of India permitted the Durbar to retain the surplus revenues of the tract for the years 1881-82, 1882-83 and 1883-84, during which the Revenue administration of the Station had been in the hands of the Durbar. These instructions were carried out on 1st April 1884 and from that date the income and expenditure of the Civil and Military Station have been excluded from those of the Mysore State. From the 1st April 1884 therefore the net annual revenues of the Mysore State have been diminished by over 1½ lakhs of rupees.

495. Subsidy to the British Government.—The subsidy payable by the Mysore State to the British Government was 24½ lakhs of rupees per annum from the date of the Fall of Seringapatam in 1799 up to the date of the Rendition in 1881. On the latter date, however, it was, by Article 5 of the Instrument of Transfer, raised to 35 lakhs per annum, but in consideration of the financial difficulties of the Province the collection of the higher rate of subsidy was put off for 5 years. The Government of India has since, on a consideration of the financial condition of the State, been graciously pleased to waive the enhanced subsidy for a further period of 10 years, that is, up to the 25th March 1896. Previous to the Rendition the subsidy to the British Government was paid in monthly instalments. By Article 5 of the Instrument of Transfer it was made payable in two half-yearly instalments from the 25th March 1881, that is, by the 1st October and the 1st April in each year. This arrangement, however, was found inconvenient as the cash balance in the Mysore Treasuries is very low in October owing to the jamabandi or collection season commencing in December. In the year 1881-82 therefore the half-yearly instalments of subsidy were, with the permission of the British Government, paid in February and March 1882, and it was arranged that in future the payment should be made in those months. Since then the instalments of subsidy have been duly paid into the British Treasury on the prescribed dates.

496. Famine Loan.—The loan made by the British Government to the Mysore State to meet the expenditure on the Famine of 1876-1878 amounted on the date of the Rendition to 80 lakhs of rupees, and the interest payable thereon at 5 per cent was 4 lakhs per annum. From 1st January 1883, however, the Government of India was pleased to sanction an arrangement to the effect that the equivalent of 5 per cent or 4 lakhs of rupees was to continue to be paid annually by the Mysore State, but that out of this amount only the equivalent of 4 per cent would be charged as interest and the remainder credited in part liquidation of the principal. In this manner it is calculated that the whole of the debt due to the British Government on account of the Famine will be paid up in 40 years. This debt stood at Rs. 76,60,283 at the close of the year 1885-86.

497. Mysore Railway Loan.—In 1882, a Debenture Loan of 20 lakhs of rupees at 5 per cent interest per annum repayable at 20 years, was raised in India by the Mysore Government for the purpose of providing funds for the extension of the Mysore State Railway from Bangalore to Tumkur. The loan was floated at a discount on the whole of 1⅛ per cent. A portion, Rs. 1,71,500, was taken at premia from one-sixteenth to three per cent, and the remainder at a discount varying from one quarter to four and a half per cent. Tenders were received for an aggregate sum of Rs. 25,19,250, of which Rs. 12,56,000 were from subscribers in the Presidencies of Bengal, Bombay and Madras, and Rs. 12,63,250 from Mysore. The 20 lakhs were allotted thus,—Bengal Rs. 3,75,800, Bombay Rs. 2,21,000, Madras Rs. 2,51,500 and Mysore Rs. 11,51,700. Arrangements have been made for the payment of interest accruing on the loan debentures held in British India through the Presidency Banks and their Branches, and on those held in England through Messrs. Coutts and Co., Bankers, London.

498. Transfer of Mysore State Railway.—Negotiations were in progress during the last two years of the period under report between the Government of India acting on behalf of Mysore and the Southern Maharatta Railway Company, for the transfer of the Mysore State Railway on hypothecation to that Company with the view of providing capital for extending the Railway from Gubbi to Harihar. The negotiations were approaching completion at the close of the period under report.

500. The fall of the Land Revenue from 72,13,346 in 1880—81 to 70,20,842 in 1881—82 is due mainly to the fact that the collections of the former year included Famine arrears amounting to Rs. 1,20,000. The real fall in the annual revenue was therefore only ¾ lakh and this loss was mainly in consequence of a late monsoon and scanty rains which led to remissions being granted and collections being deferred to a large extent. The collections stood at about the same figure in 1882—83, but in the following year it rose to over 73¼ lakhs, the largest current revenue ever realized since 1875—76, the year preceding the great Famine. The collections of 1883—84 did not include any extraordinary arrears of previous years, and the increase is therefore attributable to expanded cultivation following on favorable seasons and to the growing prosperity of the agricultural classes. In the following year however there was almost a total failure of both the monsoons, and owing to the large remissions and postponements granted in consequence (amounting to 5½ lakhs), the land revenue fell to a little over 66¾ lakhs. The following year (1885—86) proved to be one of better agricultural prosperity although there was a partial failure of the South-West monsoon, and as much as Rs. 76,41,000 was realized, of which 3½ lakhs were on account of the arrears of the previous year. The current revenue realized was therefore Rs. 72,91,000. There is no doubt that with the extension of cultivation which has taken place of late years, 73 lakhs per annum can in future be realized as land revenue during years of seasonable rain-fall.

501. The large income of Rs. 1,16,996 in 1881-82 from Gold Mining was not due to the working of the mines but to deposits made for the leases granted during the year and by the commutation of the royalty in one instance by an immediate payment of Rs. 55,000. The figures shown under this head for the years 1883—84 and 1884—85 represent the sums paid to the Government as royalty on the quantity of gold brought to the surface. The year 1885—86 showed much better results owing chiefly to the great success of the Mysore Gold Mine in the Kolar District. Rs. 9,902 were paid as royalty in that year and Rs. 28,965 as deposits made by grantees of leases. Much of the gold that was turned up in 1885—86 had not been valued, and therefore the prescribed royalty had not been paid before the end of the year.

502. The Forest Revenue fluctuated much during the years under report, being 7 lakhs in 1881—82, then falling gradually to 6¼ lakhs in 1883—84 and then again rising to over 8¾ lakhs in 1885—86. There has not been much demand in recent years for sandalwood, the sales having fallen to so low a figure as 3,22,000 in 1884—85 while in 1880—81 and 1881—82 they were so high as 5,18,000 and 4,93,000 respectively. The large increase observed in the year 1885—86 was mainly due to the revival of the market for sandalwood from the depression of the previous year and to an increased supply of sleepers for the Railway.

503. The Abkari revenue which had revived sooner than other items of revenue from the effects of the Famine stood at nearly 12¾ lakhs in 1881-82, including a sum of Rs. 88,900 which had been realized on account of excess sales of arrack in 1880-81 and kept in deposit in that year and brought into the accounts of 1881—82. The falling off in 1882—83 was only nominal as the receipts of 1881—82 had been unusually swelled in the manner pointed out above. The decrease in 1884—85 and 1885—86 is due to the revenues of the Civil and Military Station of Bangaloro having been excluded from Mysore revenues from the commencement of the first of those years. The collections under this head pertaining to the Civil and Military Station from 1884—85 are, however, as a special case, separately credited in the Mysore accounts, as the abkari contracts of that Station are, with the consent of the Resident, included in those of Mysore. Realizations made under this head on account of the Assigned Tract are paid over to the Station authorities and such payments debited in the accounts of the State.

504. The receipts under the head Mohatarfa or assessed taxes do not call for any remarks.

505. The Sayer revenue which had fallen considerably before the Famine rose to nearly 4½ lakhs in 1881—82, but since then the revenue has again greatly fallen owing to the prevalence of "koleroga" among the arecanut trees of the Malnad. The revenue improved somewhat in 1885—86, having been Rs. 3,91,000.

506. The income from Stamps and Registration did not undergo much change during the period under report.

507. The transactions shown under the head Mint are merely nominal. The value of silver and copper coins obtained from the Mints in British India is shown under Receipts, the payments being debited to the same head under Disbursements. The high figures shown under this head for the years 1883—84 and 1885—86 simply represent the value of copper and silver coins obtained from British India during those years on payment.

508. The receipts under Anche (Post Office) show a gradual and steady increase year by year. This is due to the number of Anche offices in the Province having been raised from 180 in 1881—82 to 412 in 1885—86, thus bringing the benefits of the department more within the reach of the rural population.

509. The other items are more or less of an unimportant nature and the slight variations in the receipts under them do not call for any remark.

511. The interest on the Famine Loan of 80 lakhs of rupees is shown in the foregoing statement as 4 lakhs of rupees during each of the years under report, but as a matter of fact these payments include Rs. 80,000, Rs. 83,200, Rs. 86,528 and Rs. 89,989 paid up towards the principal of the debt during the years 1882—83, 1883—84, 1884—85, and 1885—86 respectively, under the arrangement made with the Government of India which has been described in one of the preceding paragraphs.

512. The fluctuations observed in the interest paid on the Mysore Railway Loan are simply due to the fact that the interest was paid when the Debenture holders called for it.

513. The head Interest on other accounts consists chiefly of interest paid on Savings Bank deposits. The total amount of interest paid in 1881—82 was unusually large as it included Rs. 30,203 paid to the Government of India as interest on the postponement of subsidy made for a few months during that year. The interest on Savings Bank deposits has shown a steady increase owing to the large deposits made in the Bank year by year.

514. Under the head Land Revenue the decrease observed in 1881—82 as compared with 1880—81 was due to the fact that the reductions in the Revenue Establishments previously determined on came into full force during that year. From this cause and others of a casual nature, there were savings in the Revenue Department to the amount of Rs. 91,000, but this was neutralized to the extent of Rs. 32,000 by enhancements on account of the remuneration of village officials consequent on the extension of the Survey Settlement. The decrease in the year 1882—83 was insignificant. The decrease of about ¾ lakh in 1883—84 was the effect of the abolition of the two Districts of Hassan and Chitaldroog with their Deputy Commissioners and the curtailment of establishments in the District Offices and Taluk Cutcherries. The revision entailed a small increase under the head "Assistant Commissioners" by the formation of 3 Sub-Divisions. An increase of nearly Rs. 83,000 which appears in 1884—85 is due chiefly to the payment in that year of arrears which had accrued on account of the remuneration of village servants. There was also an increase owing to the appointment of 6 additional Assistant Commissioners, of whom 5 were transferred for police duty. The decrease in the year 1885—86 is due to the fact that the pay of the Police Assistant Commissioners amounting to Rs. 20,204 was debited in the accounts of that year separately under 'Police' and also to the fact that a smaller sum was paid on account of the remuneration of village servants.

515. The disbursements under Forests show no material variations. The increase which appears in the year 1883—84 is merely nominal as the charges include Rs. 78,041 which were disbursed on account of Railway sleepers in 1881—82, 1882—83 and 1883—84 in excess of the price paid by the Railway.

516. The decrease of Rs. 29,000 under the head Excise in 1881—82 as compared with 1880—81 is due to the cessation of the purchase of arrack by Government when the abkari collections of the Mysore District were let out on contract. The further decrease of Rs. 14,500 in 1882—83 was due to savings under purchase and repair of distillery buildings, &c. The figures for the other years call for no remark.

517. The slight fluctuations under Sayer, Salt, Stamps and Registration do not call for any remarks.

518. As pointed out under the head of receipts, the payments shown under Mint are merely nominal.

519. The decrease which appears in the years 1882—83 and 1883—84 under the head "Post Office" was due to the revision of Anche Offices and lines of communication.

520. Under Administration are included the salaries of the Dewan, State Councillors and Secretaries together with those of their establishments, the Comptroller's Office, the Huzur Treasury, Government Press, &c. The large decrease observed in the year 1882—83 is due to the fact that 1½ lakhs of rupees representing about ¾ of the charges of the Installation of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore were included in the accounts of the year 1881—82, while the remaining ¼ of a lakh was debited to the accounts of 1880—81. The charges under Administration show generally a decrease of about ½ a lakh from what they were before the Rendition as the salaries of the late Chief Commissioner and his Secretaries were much more than those of the Dewan and his Secretaries in the Native Administration.

521. The charges under Palace show no material change, His Highness the Maharaja having drawn annually the amount of 10 lakhs fixed as the Civil List for the first 5 years after the Rendition.

522. The large decrease under the head Law and Justice which appears in the year 1881—82 as compared with the year 1880—81 is due mainly to the fact that separate Courts, Civil and Criminal, were formed for the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore after the Rendition, the cost of which is excluded from the figures under Law and Justice in the foregoing statement. There was also a decrease of about Rs. 23,000 under 'Jails' owing to fewer convicts and cheaper rations. The increase in the year 1882—83 was owing to the payment to the British Government of Rs. 1,03,252 on account of maintenance of Mysore convicts at Port Blair claimed in arrears for 3 years from 1879—80, while there was a reduction of expenditure under other minor heads. The large decrease in the year 1883—84, leaving out of consideration the exceptional circumstance by which the charges for the previous year had been swelled, was due to the saving effected by the appointment of two Native officers as District and Sessions Judges, in lieu of two European officers, to the abolition of 5 Subordinate Judge's Courts and some Munsiff's Courts and also to savings under "rations in jails." The increase in the year 1884—85 is accounted for by the payment of Rs. 48,770 for the maintenance of convicts at Port Blair for the years 1882—83 and 1883—84 while there was a reduction of Rs. 9,200 in rations in jails. The formation of the Chief Court of 3 Judges in 1884—85 raised the cost of that Court by about Rs. 42,000, but this was more than counterbalanced by the abolition of the District and Sessions Court of the Nundydroog Division and of some Sub-Judge's Courts. The decrease in 1885—86 was caused by the payment of only one year's costs (Rs. 16,350) on account of convicts at Port Blair while in the previous year two years' charges had been paid.

523. Under Police the decrease in the year 1881—82 was mainly due to the revision of the Department. In 1883—84 there was a new charge of Rs. 24,900 on account of the Bangalore Town Police which was transferred from Municipal Funds by a re-adjustment of charges between the Municipality and the Government, but this excess was reduced to about Rs. 10,000 by savings under minor heads. The increase in 1884—85 was due to the appointment of a Secretary to the Government in the Police and Legislative Departments and to an additional outlay on the equipment of the rural Police. The increase in 1885—86 was due to the appointment of an Inspector General of Police towards the latter part of the year and to the appointment of separate Assistant Commissioners of Police for the Districts.

524. The decrease under Education in 1881—82 from the figures of 1880—81 is due to the fact that the charges of the Civil and Military Station are not taken into account in the foregoing statement. The increase in the years 1884—85 and 1885-86 are due to the improvement effected in the salaries of the School Masters, which were placed on a graduated scale by the orders of the Government dated 9th June 1884, by increase in scholarships both for local institutions and for Mysore students proceeding to study in the professional Colleges in British India and by increased grants-in-aid to schools in the Province.

525. The increase observed under the head Medical in the years 1884—85 and 1885-86 is due to the appointment of Assistant Surgeons in the place of Apothecaries and to an increase in the number of Hospital Assistants in the Province.

526. Under Minor Departments are shown the charges of the Topographical Survey, the Museum, the Amrut Mahal, Botanical Gardens, &c. The Amrut Mahal Department having newly come under the management of the Mysore Government in 1882, tended to raise the cost of 'Minor Departments' to a little over 1¼ lakhs of rupees from 1882—83. There was also an extraordinary payment of 2¼ lakhs of rupees being the price of the Amrut Mahal herds of cattle purchased from the Madras Government. This sum was paid partly in 1882—83 and partly in 1883—84. Hence the high figures shown in those two years.

527. Under the head "Allowances and Assignments under Treaties and Engagements, the decrease which appears in 1881-82 as compared with 1880-81 is due to the annual payment of Rs. 50,000 formerly made to the British Government for the Island of Seringapatam having ceased, the island having been restored to the Maharaja at the Rendition. The large increase in 1883—84 is due to the payment, inclusive of arrears, of a sum of Rs. 73,800 on account of allowances payable in lieu of Jaghirs to the illegitimate grandsons of the late Maharaja.

528. Under the head "Pensions &c.", the decrease which appears in 1881—82 is due to the introduction of a new rule by which pensions were substituted for gratuties in the case of inferior servants, and in cases of short service the gratuities were reduced from one month's pay for each year of service to half a month's pay. The increase in the years 1883—84 and 1884—85 was due to a large number of pensions being granted consequent on the reduction of establishments which took place in 1882—83 and 1883—84.

529. Under "Miscellaneous," among various items of a general nature, was a special grant of one lakh of rupees to the family of the late Mr. C. Rangacharlu, C. I. E., Dewan, for distinguished services rendered to the State. The payment was made in three instalments in the years 1882—83, 1883—84 and 1884—85.

530. Under the retrenchment scheme which followed the great Famine, the Public Works grant was reduced from 15 to 10¾ lakhs, but during the period under report it did not exceed 9½ lakhs. In 1885—86, however, when owing to the failure of the rains serious distress was apprehended, an additional sum of 2½ lakhs was placed provisionally at the disposal of the Public Works Department for works of relief. The distress having happily been averted the additional grant was spent on useful works. Since then the additional grant was made permanent and the Public Works grant stood at the end of the period under report at 12 lakhs of rupees.

531. The foregoing statements deal with the receipts and expenditure under all heads except the 'Railway'. It will be seen therefrom that there was a surplus out of current revenues of Rs. 23,70,744 during the 5 years under report.

532. The following statement shows the income during the period under report from the open line of Railway and the expenditure, both Capital and Revenue, on the lines which have already been opened to traffic and which are under construction:—

533. Under the head Public Debt are included all debts due by, or due to, the State, and also all transactions in the Treasury connected with funds which do not form part of the State revenue. The state of this account, at the close of the period under report, was as follows :—

535. The general financial results of the Administration during the period under report are shown below :—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| Surplus on 1st April 1881 .. .. .. | 24,07,438 |
| Surplus of Ordinary revenue over expenditure during the 5 years under report . .. .. | 23,70,744 |
| Mysore Railway Loan .. .. .. | 20,00,000 |
| Income from the open line of Railway during the 5 years under report . .. .. | 16,01,466 |
| Total Rs.. .. | 83,79,648 |
| Deduct expenditure on Railways both Capital and Revenue during the period under report .. .. | 51,13,694 |
| Surplus Rs.. .. | 32,65,954 |

Against this surplus there is the Railway Loan of 20 lakhs of rupees contracted in 1882.

REVENUE AND FINANCE OTHER THAN PROVINCIAL.

LOCAL FUNDS.

536. The Mysore Local Funds consist of a cess levied at the rate of one anna in the rupee on the land assessment and upon the collections realized from the undermentioned items :—

Sayer.

Abkari.

Forest Produce.

Salt.

Other items.

537. A tax called the Irrigation Cess at one anna in the rupee of the assessment upon wet lands, Sarkar or Inam, is also levied in the Taluks surveyed and settled prior to 1875 and credited to the Local Fund revenues to meet the cost of the up-keep of irrigation works. The levy of a separate Irrigation Cess having been abolished on 11th February 1875, the cess is merged in and collected with the ordinary assessment on wet lands in all Taluks settled subsequent to the above mentioned date and $\frac{1}{17}$ part of the collections credited to the District Irrigation Fund.

538. In towns where there are no Municipalities, the revenue derived under the operation of the Cattle Trespass Act, the rent from ferry contracts, and certain other miscellaneous items, are also exhibited under the head Local Funds.

539. Out of the total collections from the Local Fund Cess on land assessment whether levied at the rate of one anna or half anna, 24 per cent is appropriated to Education, and 76 per cent is credited to the Local Fund account of the District in which they are raised, under the name of "District Funds."

540. Out of the collections of the Local Cess levied on items other than land assessment, 24 per cent is assigned to Education, and 76 per cent (except in the Districts of Shimoga and Kadur where the 76 per cent of the cess on sayer is credited to District Fund) is shown in a separate account and held in deposit in the Huzur Treasury under the name of "Local Funds General", which are at the disposal of the administrative head of the Province for expenditure where he deems that a special grant is called for.

541. The statement below shows the revenue credited to Local Funds during the 5 years under report:—

VI. VITAL STATISTICS AND MEDICAL SERVICES.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

542. The total population of the Province of Mysore according to the Census of 1881 is 4,186,188 comprising 2,085,842 males and 2,100,346 females.

543. Offices for the registration of births and deaths are located at the head-quarters of all Taluks and Districts and in important towns, and are under the management of Municipalities wherever they exist. In the villages registration is made by the Shanbhog and sent to the Taluk Officer. With the view of improving the existing arrangements for the collection and scrutiny of statistics, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore have, by Proceedings No. 5334-48—195, dated 15th December 1885, organized a separate Department for the compilation of statistics under the supervision of a separate officer under the designation of Director of Statistics.

544. The following statement shows the number of births with their ratio per mille of the population during the 5 years under report :—

| | | Total number of births registered during the year. | Ratio of births per mille of population. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1881 | ... | 99,223 | 23·70 |
| 1882 | ... | 100,756 | 24·06 |
| 1883 | ... | 100,903 | 24·10 |
| 1884 | ... | 97,089 | 23·20 |
| 1885 | ... | 90,591 | 22·14 |

545. It will be seen from the above that the total number of births was greatest in the years 1882 and 1883 and lowest in 1885. The facilities for the registration of births and deaths having remained the same, the small figures of 1884 and 1885 can only be attributed to the bad season in those years. The birth rate of males to every 100 females was 103·92, 106·06, 104·75, 104·75 and 104·89 respectively during the years 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884 and 1885.

546. The subjoined statement shows the number of deaths registered with their ratios to the population during the 5 years comprised in this report :—

| | | Number of deaths registered during the year. | Ratio of deaths per mille of population. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1881 | ... | 71,240 | 17·02 |
| 1882 | ... | 70,892 | 16·93 |
| 1883 | ... | 63,243 | 15·11 |
| 1884 | ... | 62,531 | 14·93 |
| 1885 | ... | 65,112 | 15·91 |

547. It is satisfactory to note that the number of deaths has steadily decreased year by year except during the year 1885, when owing to the exceptionally bad season the number showed an increase. The number of deaths registered, speaking roughly, was greatest during the months of January and July and lowest in September and February. The excess of births over deaths was 6·68, 7·13, 8·99, 8·27, and 6·23 respectively during the years 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884 and 1885.

548. In the following statement are shown the various causes of death :—

| | 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Cholera ... ... ... ... | 25 | 893 | 121 | 330 | 2,677 |
| Small-pox ... ... ... ... | 2,566 | 7,940 | 4,840 | 3,241 | 3,264 |
| Fevers ... ... ... ... | 43,842 | 36,950 | 33,139 | 33,207 | 33,280 |
| Bowel-complaints ... ... ... | 4,844 | 5,032 | 4,781 | 4,970 | 5,429 |
| Injuries ... ... ... ... | 1,094 | 1,024 | 1,024 | 1,079 | 1,045 |
| All other causes ... ... ... | 18,869 | 19,073 | 19,335 | 19,704 | 19,417 |
| Total..... | 71,240 | 70,892 | 63,243 | 62,531 | 65,112 |

549. The highest number of deaths is attributed to fever, being more than a half of the total deaths; but it is doubtful if under this head have not been included many organic diseases of which fever is an accompaniment—a symptom having been mistaken for the disease itself. The number of deaths from cholera was greatest in 1885 and consisted of 1,503 males and 1,174 females. The epidemic was at its height in the months of March, April, May and June. The disease is reported to have shown itself in 455 villages chiefly in the Mysore District. Small-pox appeared in an epidemic form in 1882 and carried off nearly 8,000 souls. It is satisfactory to see that deaths from this disease greatly diminished during the last 2 years of the period under report.

EMIGRATION.

550. There is no legislative enactment in force in Mysore for the registration of emigrants, but for several years past emigrants brought in from Mysore by recruits licensed by the Protector of Emigrants in Madras, have been registered by the District Magistrate of Bangalore. The number of persons who emigrated from Mysore to Natal, Mauritius, Bourbon, Martinique, Guadaloupe and British Guiana were 133 in 1881—82, 234 in 1882—83, 190 in 1883—84, 243 in 1884—85 and 16 in 1885—86.

551. It is in contemplation to introduce into the Province a regulation providing for the registration of emigrants from Mysore.

MEDICAL RELIEF.

552. The Medical Department in Mysore has, during the period under report, been successively administered by Doctors J. Houston, J. Henderson and T. J. McGann, under the designation of Senior Surgeon to the Mysore Government.

553. Hospitals and Dispensaries in Mysore are divided into 3 classes. First class institutions are Hospitals with a Dispensary attached to them; second class institutions are Dispensaries with one or more wards attached to them for in-patients; and third class institutions are simple dispensing places only. The majority of these institutions in Mysore are placed in the third or last class; and there were at the end of the period under report 40 institutions of which 2 were of the first class, 6 of the second class and the remaining 32 of the third class. The following statement shows the number of Hospitals and Dispensaries in the State in 1880 and the number added year by year during the period under report:—

| Dispensaries. | Number in 1880. | Number in 1881. | Number in 1882. | Number in 1883. | Number in 1884. | Number in 1885. |
| First Class ... ... .. | 3 | 3 | 3 | 3 | 2 | 2 |
| Second Class ... ... ... | 5 | 5 | 5 | 5 | 6 | 6 |
| Third Class ... ... ... | 12 | 16 | 19 | 21 | 26 | 32 |
| Total..... | 20 | 24 | 27 | 29 | 34 | 40 |

554. The management of the Bowring Civil Hospital in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore which remained in the hands of the Mysore Medical Department for some time after the Rendition was transferred to the Resident in Mysore in 1884. Hence the decrease in the number of first class Hospitals which appears in the foregoing table. During the year 1884, the Town Dispensary at Bangalore was raised from the third to the second class of Hospitals, and this accounts for the increase in the number of institutions of the latter class in the foregoing statement. The number of Hospitals of the third class has been nearly trebled during the five years under report, and this shows that His Highness the Maharaja's Government is keenly alive to the necessity of bringing medical relief as near as possible to the homes of the people all over the country.

555. The two first class Hospitals in the Province are the Maharaja's Hospital at Mysore and the Civil Hospital at Shimoga.

556. Very recently a new Hospital under the designation of St. Martha's Hospital was opened in Bangalore Town by the Roman Catholic Mission in a spacious building erected by them for the purpose. His Highness' Government aided this highly laudable work by granting the building site which was purchased from private proprietors for Rs. 5,000, and by sanctioning a grant of Rs. 200 a month from the Municipal Funds of the Town of Bangalore. The institution supplies a greatly felt want, and though but recently opened has already become popular. Wards for a large number of in-patients have already been provided and more wards for the accommodation of caste Hindus are under construction.

557. The six second class Hospitals in the Province are established at the head-quarters of the Districts of Bangalore, Kolar, Tumkur, Chitaldroog, Kadur and Hassan.

558. Of the 32 third class Dispensaries, 27 are located at head-quarters of Taluks and 5 at important towns other than the head-quarters of Districts and Taluks.

559. The subjoined table shows the distribution of Hospitals and Dispensaries by Districts :—

| Districts. | Number of Taluks. | Number of Dispensaries. |
|---|---|---|
| Bangalore ... ... ... ... | 9 | 5 |
| Kolar ... ... ... ... | 8 | 2 |
| Tumkur ... ... ... ... | 11 | 7 |
| Mysore ... ... ... ... | 15 | 7 |
| Shimoga ... ... ... ... | 9 | 8 |
| Kadur ... ... ... ... | 9 | 11 |
| Total..... | 61 | 40 |

560. The undermentioned abstract shows the number of patients treated in Hospitals and Dispensaries during the five years under review :—

| Years. | In-patients. | Out-patients. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1881 ... ... ... | 3,114 | 180,355 | 183,469 |
| 1882 ... ... ... | 3,298 | 192,774 | 196,072 |
| 1883 ... ... ... | 3,463 | 208,244 | 211,707 |
| 1884 ... ... ... | 3,284 | 231,538 | 234,822 |
| 1885 ... ... ... | 1,976 | 236,398 | 238,374 |

561. The figures for the first four years in the foregoing table included the figures of the Bowring Civil Hospital. The exclusion of that Hospital from the list of Mysore Hospitals accounts for the fall in the number of in-patients in 1885, while the increase in the number of out-patients is due partly to the opening of six new Dispensaries and partly to the increasing popularity of the existing institutions.

562. The appended table shows the average daily sick of in-patients, the average daily attendance of out-door patients and the percentage of deaths on the total number of in-patients :—

| Years. | Average daily No. of In-patients. | Average daily Attendance of Out-door Patients. | Percentage of Deaths on the Total Number of In-patients. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1880 ... ... ... | 214·23 | 1285·57 | 12·26 |
| 1881 ... ... ... | 199 87 | 1463·92 | 12·43 |
| 1882 ... ... ... | 213·12 | 1497·88 | 10·70 |
| 1883 ... ... ... | 211·25 | 1550·81 | 9·73 |
| 1884 ... ... ... | 193·10 | 1649·43 | 9·38 |
| 1885 ... ... ... | 113·69 | 1689·96 | 10·78 |

563. The following table shows the number of cases of the several kinds of disease treated in the Hospitals and Dispensaries of the Province during the past five years:—

| Disease. | 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Cholera ... ... ... | Not available. | 348 | 14 | 149 | 776 |
| Small-pox ... ... ... | | 138 | 80 | 647 | 44 |

| Skin ... ... ... | | 18,878 | 20,293 | 21674 | 22,536 |
| Injuries ... ... ... | | 8,321 | 9,103 | 9862 | 10,395 |
| Dropsy ... ... ... | | 423 | 432 | 486 | 430 |
| Other diseases ... ... ... | | 99,615 | 108,780 | 117,945 | 113,585 |
| Total..... | | 196,072 | 211,707 | 234,822 | 236,898 |

564. The following table shows the number of surgical operations performed during the years under report:—

| Years. | Major Operations. | Minor Operations. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1881 ... ... ... | 105 | 2,889 | 2,994 |
| 1882 ... ... ... | 97 | 3,582 | 3,679 |
| 1883 ... ... ... | 127 | 4,520 | 4,647 |
| 1884 ... ... ... | 145 | 4,608 | 4,753 |
| 1885 ... ... ... | 123 | 4,333 | 4,456 |

565. The decrease in the number of surgical operations in 1885 is due to the exclusion of the statistics of the Bowring Civil Hospital from the returns of that year.

566. The Medical Department of the State was reorganized in May 1884. Under the scheme then inaugurated the Local Medical service has been provided with 3 grades of Surgeons on Rs. 350, 450 and 500 respectively and with 3 grades of Assistant Surgeons on Rs. 100, 150 and 200 respectively, these latter being allowed in addition a fixed allowance of Rs. 50 for medical charge of a station or hospital and for other medical duties which may be required of them.

567. On the introduction of the scheme, a number of Apothecaries and Hospital Assistants were sent back to the Madras Medical establishment and a few retained for local service. The Medical staff has since been strengthened by the employment of 5 graduates in medicine of the Universities of Madras, Bombay and Edinburgh, and these have been graded as Assistant Surgeons on the Local Medical establishment. A few scholarships are given annually to enable young men from Mysore to study medicine in one or other of the Indian Universities. There are now 13 holders of such scholarships studying in the Medical College, Madras.

568. Special Hospitals.—The Special Hospitals in the Province of Mysore are—

(1). The Lunatic Asylum at Bangalore,

(2). The Leper Asylum at Bangalore,

(3). The Maternity Hospital at Bangalore, and

(4). Her Highness the Maharani Female Hospital at Mysore.

The first three are under the direct superintendence of the Senior Surgeon to the Mysore Government and the last under that of the Civil Surgeon at Mysore.

569. The Lunatic Asylum.—The reception and detention of lunatics in the Lunatic Asylum are regulated by rules passed by the Government of India in Foreign Department No. 137 J., dated 23rd July 1874.

570. The following table shows the general results of the working of the Lunatic Asylum during the past five years from 1881 to 1885:—

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | | Cured. | Improved. | Absconded. | Otherwise. | Died. | | | |
| 1881 ... | 140 | 48 | 19 | 7 | 2 | 4 | 9 | 147 | 140 | 13·6 |
| 1882 ... | 147 | 36 | 19 | 6 | 1 | 2 | 15 | 140 | 144 | 13·1 |
| 1883 ... | 140 | 50 | 13 | 15 | 1 | 1 | 13 | 147 | 145 | 8·9 |
| 1884 ... | 147 | 39 | 15 | 13 | ... | 1 | 6 | 151 | 153 | 9·8 |
| 1885 ... | 151 | 55 | 13 | 20 | ... | 4 | 11 | 158 | 166 | 7·8 |

571. The number of admissions has been increasing during the period under report, while the cures effected have diminished. The greater number of admissions to the Asylum were from the Bangalore District, and this is no doubt due to the proximity of the Asylum. The percentage of females to the total number admitted was 23·07 in 1881, 63·6 in 1882, 31·5 in 1883, 8·3 in 1884 and 34·14 in 1885. The comparatively large number of deaths during the years 1882, 1883 and 1885 is said to have been due to the feeble state of health in which the lunatics were at the time of their admission and to the fact that some of those that died had spent a great portion of their lives in the Asylum and died in the course of nature.

572. Nine criminal lunatics were sent to the Asylum during the period under report, and seventeen were left in the Asylum at the close of the year 1885. Of these three had been ordered to be confined for life, eleven were under-trial prisoners and the remaining three had been ordered to be confined in the Asylum although acquitted by the Criminal Courts on the ground of insanity.

573. The following statement shows the number of persons suffering from the various types of insanity:—

| | Among the number admitted. | | | | | | Recoveries. | | | | Of the number remaining. | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Mania Epilepsy. | Acuta. | " Longa. | Dementia Acuta. | " Longa. | Melancholia. | Monomania. | Mania Acuta. | " Longa. | Dementia Acuta. | " Longa. | Monomania. | Mania Acuta. | " Longa. | " Epilepsy. | Dementia Acuta. | " Longa. | Melancholia. | Monomania. |
| 1881 ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| 1882 ... | 3 | 3 | 3 | 23 | 2 | 1 | 1 | 5 | 3 | 8 | 3 | ... | 48 | 40 | 7 | 33 | 3 | 4 | 5 |
| 1883 ... | ... | 14 | ... | 30 | 6 | ... | ... | 3 | ... | 8 | ... | 2 | 47 | 45 | 7 | 35 | 6 | 4 | 3 |
| 1884 ... | 1 | 4 | ... | 33 | ... | 1 | ... | 6 | 1 | 8 | ... | ... | 44 | 35 | 8 | 54 | 3 | 4 | 3 |
| 1885 ... | ... | 23 | 7 | 18 | 7 | ... | ... | 5 | 1 | 7 | ... | ... | 45 | 40 | 7 | 53 | 8 | 3 | 2 |

574. In the majority of cases the cause of insanity cannot be ascertained as the previous history of the insanes admitted is not generally known. In the known cases, however, the most commonly occurring causes are epilepsy, and indulgence in ganja, bhang or liquor.

575. The following statement shows the total cost of the Asylum during each of the five years under report :—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| 1881 . .. .. .. | 15,831 |
| 1882 ... .. .. .. | 16,279 |
| 1883 .. .. .. .. | 14,269 |
| 1884 .. .. .. .. | 12,787 |
| 1885 .. .. .. .. | 13,317 |

576. The increase of expenditure observed in 1882 over that in 1881 was due to the promotion of the Apothecary in charge to a higher grade and to larger expenditure under the head of clothing and medicines.

577. The figures given above include the cost of the up-keep of lunatics from the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore who are kept in the Durbar's Asylum at Bangalore. Bills amounting to Rs. 6,752 for the maintenance of these lunatics in the Asylum from the date of the Rendition up to the end of 1885, have been submitted to the Resident in Mysore for adjustment. At the close of the period under report, there were in the Asylum fifteen male and seven female lunatics belonging to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.

578. Leper Asylum.—In the following statement are given statistics relating to the inmates of the Leper Asylum at Bangalore :—

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881 ... | ... | 12 | ... | ... | 5 | 34·6 |
| 1882 ... | 37 | 13 | 3 | 5 | 4 | 37·5 |
| 1883 ... | 38 | 8 | 1 | 7 | 3 | 37·6 |
| 1884 ... | 35 | 16 | 8 | ... | 7 | 36·8 |
| 1885 ... | 36 | 12 | 5 | 7 | 4 | 35·3 |

579. The cost of the institution was Rs. 2,257 in 1881, Rs. 2,369 in 1882, Rs. 2,028 in 1883, Rs. 2,008 in 1884 and Rs. 2,435 in 1885. These figures include the cost of maintenance of the lepers belonging to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, of whom there were seven left at the close of the year 1885. Bills to the amount of Rs. 2,296 have been submitted to the British Resident in Mysore for the up-keep of these persons from the date of the Rendition up to the close of the year 1885.

580. The Maternity Hospital at Bangalore and Her Highness the Maharani Female Hospital at Mysore.—The Maternity at Bangalore and Her Highness the Maharani Female Hospital at Mysore were opened in 1880. The former was transferred to the management of the Bangalore Town Municipality in 1883. Both these institutions were very efficiently administered during the period under report, the first under the supervision of the Senior Surgeon to the Mysore Government and the second under that of the Civil Surgeon at Mysore.

581. The following statement shows the number of in-patients treated in these Hospitals during the five years under report :—

| | Bangalore Maternity Hospital. | | | Mysore Maharani Female Hospital. | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | No. treated. | | No. dead. | Number treated. | | Number dead. |
| | Labor cases. | Other cases. | | Labor cases. | Other cases. | |
| 1881 ... ... | 47 | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| 1882 ... ... | 65 | ... | 6 | 22 | 24 | 4 |
| 1883 .. ... | 74 | ... | 6 | 23 | 19 | 3 |
| 1884 ... ... | 70 | ... | 9 | 37 | 24 | 3 |
| 1885 ... ... | 114 | 3 | 5 | 35 | 42 | 6 |

582. It is pleasing to notice the gradual increase in the number of in-patients in both the Hospitals which indicates that the relief obtained in them is appreciated by the public. In the Maternity at Bangalore only labor cases were treated as in-patients till the close of the year 1884, but since then other diseases also are treated. The small proportion of deaths is remarkable considering the natural aversion which native females have to seeking Hospital aid and the fact that they resort to such institutions at the last moment and when they are in a precarious condition. High caste females do not as yet resort to these Hospitals as in-patients as much as could be desired, but it is believed that by the construction of a few detached cottages within the Hospital precincts, sufficient to accommodate the patient and one or two of her friends, better results would be secured. The measure is under consideration.

583. The following statement gives the number of out-patients treated in the two Hospitals during the years 1881 to 1885 :—

| | Number of Out-patients. | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1881. | | 1882. | | 1883. | | 1884. | | 1885. | |
| | Labor cases. | Other cases. | Labor cases. | Other cases. | Labor cases. | Other cases. | Labor cases. | Other cases. | Labor cases. | Other cases. |
| Maternity Hospital, Bangalore ... ... | 18 | 1,936 | 41 | 2,981 | 33 | 3,323 | 40 | 3,726 | 30 | 3,702 |
| Maharani Female Hospital, Mysore ... | ... | .. | 24 | 3,748 | 20 | 4,855 | 14 | 4,706 | 13 | 6,013 |

584. Assistance is rendered when necessary to labor cases outside the Hospitals. The increasing number of out-door patients treated in both the Hospitals is a further indication of the popularity of these institutions.

585. The subjoined statement gives the cost incurred on account of these Hospitals during each of the 5 years under report:—

| | Maternity Hospital, (Bangalore). | Maharani Female Hospital, (Mysore). |
|---|---|---|
| | Rs. | Rs. |
| 1881 ... ... ... ... ... | 947 | 3,615 |
| 1882 ... ... ... ... ... | 1,009 | 3,763 |
| 1883 ... ... ... ... ... | 1,003 | 3,654 |
| 1884 ... ... ... ... ... | 1,654 | 3,440 |
| 1885 ... ... ... ... ... | 3,349 | 2,996 |

586. The increase in the cost of the Bangalore Maternity in 1885 was due to the promotion of the Hospital Assistant in charge to the grade of Assistant Surgeon.

SANITATION.

587. The sanitary works executed during the 5 years under review consisted of the construction and improvement of drains, the opening up of new streets and the widening of old ones, the digging of wells for drinking purposes, the opening and improvement of parks, wherever feasible, and the supply of fresh water through pipes. In Mysore and Bangalore especially the works carried out were on a large scale. In Mysore alone about Rs. 20,804 were spent on the construction and repair of drains and Rs. 29,699 on the opening up and widening of streets within the last four years, and large sums are being expended upon improving the narrow and crowded streets within the Fort at Mysore. To carry out the last named project, the Government have appointed a Sanitary Engineer to provide a good scheme of drainage within the Fort and the work is being pushed on vigorously.

588. The Minor Municipalities in the Province have also been active in the construction of drains and other useful works of a sanitary nature so far as the limited funds at their disposal allowed. During the temporary drought of 1885, sums of money were placed at the disposal of Deputy Commissioners to sink wells wherever wanted for drinking purposes. In Davangere the construction of a large pond at a cost of Rs. 4,700 was sanctioned by Government. This pond affords a permanent supply of good drinking water, the want of which during the hot season of 1885 was much felt by the townspeople. Measures are also being taken to provide a large supply of good water at Shikarpur and Siralkoppa which, like Davangere, are also subject to water famine.

589. All District Officers are alive to the importance of keeping towns and villages clean, of securing a good water supply and of preserving streams, river banks, tanks, wells, &c., reserved for drinking purposes, from being polluted.

VACCINATION.

590. The Department is under the supervision of the Senior Surgeon to the Mysore Government. It consists of 3 classes of subordinates, viz. 1st class vaccinators on pay Rs. 15, 2nd class on Rs. 12 and 3rd class on Rs. 10 per mensem. The vaccinators are paid in proportion to the number vaccinated by them; 100 in a month being the minimum number required of each to entitle him to the full pay of his rank. The whole cost of the establishment is borne by the State except in the Municipalities of Bangalore Town and Mysore which have their own vaccinators. The Bangalore Municipality has 3 (2 male and 1 female) vaccinators and the latter only one.

591. There are at present 8 first class, 47 second class and 30 third class vaccinators, giving a total of 85 against 84 in 1881—82, and they are distributed one for each Taluk. It is usual however to add more vaccinators temporarily to the establishment when small-pox appears in an epidemic form. The number so employed was 4 in 1882—83, 1 in 1883—84 and 1 in 1884—85.

592. The following statement shows the work done by the Department during the 5 years under report :—

| | Number vaccinated. | | | Number successful. | | | Percentage of successful cases. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Primary. | Re-vaccinated. | Total. | Primary. | Re-vaccinated. | Total. | Primary. | Re-vaccinated. |
| 1881—82 ... | 97,353 | 1,412 | 98,765 | 78,535 | 840 | 79,375 | 80·67 | 59·49 |
| 1882—83 ... | 98,114 | 1,617 | 99,731 | 79,104 | 1,023 | 80,127 | 80·62 | 63·00 |
| 1883—84 ... | 97,319 | 1,388 | 98,707 | 78,747 | 836 | 79,583 | 80·92 | 60·23 |
| 1884—85 ... | 97,922 | 1,691 | 99,613 | 78,563 | 1,065 | 79,628 | 80·23 | 62·98 |
| 1885—86 ... | 98,889 | 2,164 | 1,01,053 | 78,535 | 1,430 | 79,965 | 79·42 | 66·08 |

593. It will be seen that the number of persons vaccinated has considerably increased during the period under report. The increase in the year 1882—83 is due to the appearance of small-pox in an epidemic form and the consequent appointment of 4 additional vaccinators. The falling off in 1883—84 is reported as being due to the illness of some of the vaccinators.

594. The average number of persons vaccinated by each vaccinator was 1,148 in 1881—82, 1,160 in 1882—83, 1,189 in 1883—84, 1,178 in 1884—85 and 1,189 in 1885—86. The number of persons successfully vaccinated per 1,000 of the population during the 5 years under report was on an average 19·04. The number of children under one year old vaccinated during the 5 years under report is shown below :—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 | .. | 16,426 |
| 1882—83 | .. | 17,445 |
| 1883—84 | .. | 17,848 |
| 1884—85 | .. | 16,050 |
| 1885—86 | .. | 15,357 |

595. The above figures may be taken as an illustration of the apathy felt by parents as regards vaccination generally and of their prejudice against infant vaccination in particular.

596. The medical subordinates attached to Civil Hospitals, Local Fund Dispensaries and Jails, also carried on vaccine operations during the period under report. This practice was not universal till the end of 1884—85, when a Circular order was issued to the Hospital Assistants in charge of Local Fund Dispensaries, requiring them to perform vaccination in their respective towns and villages, leaving the rest of the villages in the Taluk to the vaccinators. The following statement exhibits the work done by medical subordinates from 1881—82 to 1885—86 :—

| | Number vaccinated. | Number successful. |
|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 | .. 963 | .. 691 or 71·75 per cent. |
| 1882—83 | .. 1,245 | .. 311 or 24·97 do |
| 1883—84 | .. 1,269 | .. 472 or 37·19 do |
| 1884—85 | .. 970 | .. 689 or 71·47 do |
| 1885—86 | .. 1,392 | .. 1,135 or 81·53 do |

597. The number of persons vaccinated by the Municipal Vaccinators of Bangalore are shown below :—

| | Number vaccinated. | Number successful. |
|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 ... | 2,887 | 2,616 or 91·5 per cent. |
| 1882—83 ... | 2,631 | 2,327 or 88·44 „ |
| 1883—84 ... | 3,052 | 2,567 or 84·1 „ |
| 1884—85 ... | 4,162 | 3,825 or 91·9 „ |
| 1885—86 ... | 2,020 | 1,907 or 94·4 „ |

598. The large decrease in the number of vaccinations in 1885—86 is due to the fact that the figures of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore were not in that year included in the statistics of Mysore as in previous years, as that Station is no longer under the medical supervision of the Senior Surgeon to the Mysore Government. The work done by these vaccinators is but moderate, but it is reported that in the absence of any system of compulsory vaccination, such as exists in Madras and other cities, it is impossible to do more. The cost incurred by the Bangalore Municipality on account of vaccination was Rs. 514, Rs. 522, Rs. 616, Rs. 585 and Rs. 332 respectively during the years 1881—82, 1882—83, 1883—84, 1884—85 and 1885—86.

599. The monthly returns of vaccinators are verified by the village authorities and submitted to the Senior Surgeon, countersigned by the Amildar of the Taluk. Vaccinators are also required to send in with their monthly returns a certain number of crusts in proof of the work done by them. The medical subordinates attached to Hospitals, Local Fund Dispensaries and to Revenue Establishments on circuit, inspect the work done by the vaccinators. The following is the result of their inspection during the period under report:—

| Number of children inspected ... | 20,704 | 16,408 | 19,973 | 11,129 | 10,172 |
| Number of children bearing marks of vaccination ... | 12,023 | 11,382 | 13,740 | 5,757 | 5,038 |
| Number of children bearing marks of small-pox ... | 4,125 | 1,762 | 1,965 | 1,570 | 1,876 |

600. To ensure better supervision over the working of the Department and greater correctness in the returns submitted to the Senior Surgeon, 4 Deputy Inspectors of Vaccination have, under the Dewan's Proceedings No. 7372-3—73, dated 26th March 1886, been appointed as a tentative measure, for the Districts of Bangalore, Tumkur, Mysore and Shimoga. The Deputy Inspector will, at least once a year, visit each village in the Taluks in his circle and inspect the work done by each vaccinator, who, it is believed, will have little or no chance of falsifying his returns; for the vaccinator is required to leave with the headman or Patel of each village a list showing the number of children vaccinated by him in the village and the date of his visit to that place. This will enable the Deputy Inspector of Vaccination to test, with the help of the Patel, the correctness of the vaccinator's returns.

601. The cost incurred by Government on account of vaccine operations is shown below :—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| 1881—82 .. | 10,998 |
| 1882—83 .. | 11,049 |
| 1883—84 .. | 10,897 |
| 1884—85 .. | 11,079 |
| 1885—86 .. | 11,215 |

The decrease observed in 1883—84 is due to less work done by some of the vaccinators and therefore less pay drawn by them during that year.

602. Animal vaccination was for the first time introduced into the Province in 1884 by the importation of a vaccinated calf from Madras into Bangalore. From it several other calves were vaccinated and the lymph distributed over several Districts of the Province. It was again introduced in 1885 and the lymph distributed all over the Province. It is however found difficult to replenish the stock of vaccinated calves, owing to the antipathy of the natives to lending calves for the purpose even on payment. The cost of animal vaccination was Rs. 1,094 in 1884—85 and Rs. 417 in 1885—86.

603. The number of deaths from small-pox was 2,566 in 1881—82, 7,940 in 1882—83, 4,840 in 1883—84, 3,241 in 1884—85 and 3,264 in 1885—86; the large increase in 1882—83 was due to the prevalence of the disease in an epidemic form in several parts of the Province.

VII. INSTRUCTION.

EDUCATION.

604. In 1881—82 the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore was formed into an Assigned Tract under British administration. The schools within that Tract therefore are not included in the present report.

605. Numbers under Instruction.—The following figures, showing the numerical strength of the schools at the close of each official year, present a summary of the annual progress made in Government and Aided instruction.

| | 1881—82. | | 1882—83. | | 1883—84. | | 1884—85. | | 1885—86. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Schools. | Pupils. | Schools. | Pupils. | Schools. | Pupils. | Schools. | Pupils. | Schools. | Pupils. |
| Government ... | 923 | 36,800 | 940 | 36,491 | 1,006 | 34,823 | 1,007 | 35,001 | 1,021 | 35,119 |
| Aided ... ... | 124 | 6,326 | 131 | 6,377 | 130 | 7,970 | 130 | 7,970 | 127 | 8,121 |
| Total..... | 1,047 | 43,126 | 1,071 | 42,868 | 1,136 | 42,793 | 1,137 | 42,971 | 1,148 | 43,240 |

606. The totals for 1881—82 were the highest ever reached in Mysore, so much so that even after deducting 3,244 pupils belonging to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, there still remained a larger number under Mysore than the whole put together in the previous year. But the total thus obtained fell somewhat in the intervening years, though it has now more than recovered itself. It will also be observed that a certain transfer has apparently taken place from Government to Aided schools.

607. As regards the increase of pupils in Aided schools, this is in a great measure due to the direct action of Government in abolishing all the junior classes of the two principal colleges and transferring the students to schools under native management, supported by grants-in-aid.

608. Financial Statistics.—The receipts and charges for the five years are shown in the following table, from which it will be seen that of the total expenditure less than a half is met from Provincial Funds, all the rest being defrayed from Local and Municipal Funds.

609. The Local Funds assigned to Education are 24 per cent of the total collections derived from a cess of one anna in the rupee on the land assessment, and half an anna in the rupee on the Customs, Excise and other similar sources of revenue, the remaining 76 per cent being devoted to the maintenance of roads and dispensaries and for other local objects. The educational income from Local Funds is entirely spent on Vernacular education, secondary and primary, but chiefly the latter. Originally it was applied only to Village schools, but now the whole of the Vernacular instruction is paid for from this source, except what is given in Colleges and High schools and in Aided schools. The Municipal contributions meet all the grants-in-aid in Bangalore and a quarter of the expenses of the English schools in Taluk stations. With this exception English education and that alone is paid for from Provincial Funds, save in a few Aided schools.

610. English Education.—The various institutions maintained by the Mysore Government for education may here be shortly detailed. For English there are—a first grade College at Bangalore, teaching up to the B. A. degree standard of the Madras University; second grade Colleges at Mysore and Shimoga, teaching up to the First Examination in Arts; High schools at the head-quarters of each of the 8 Districts, teaching up to the University Matriculation standard; Middle schools attached to all these and at 21 Taluk stations besides, teaching up to the Madras Middle School examination; and at all the above except the two principal Colleges at Bangalore and Mysore, Primary school departments. There are also 3 High schools and a number of Middle and Primary schools supported by grants-in-aid.

611. The results of the public examinations each year will show what success has attended the English instruction generally. The following have been the passes:—

| Examination. | 1881—82. | 1882—83. | 1883—84. | 1884—85. | 1885—86. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Bachelor of Arts ... ... | 4 | 5 | 6 | 8 | 10 |
| First in Arts... ... ... | 28 | 18 | 31 | 28 | 40 |
| Matriculation ... ... | 97 | 122 | 96 | 71 | 112 |
| Middle School ... ... | 120 | 148 | 116 | 209 | 124 |

612. At the Central College at Bangalore, the highest educational institution of the Mysore Government, there is a strong staff of Professors, both European and Native, and special provision has been made for instruction in Physical Science. A fully equipped Laboratory has been fitted up for the purpose and the students encouraged to take up this as the optional subject of their degree examination by a prize of Rs. 100 to the one who passes highest in it. A liberal system of scholarships is provided for this and the other Colleges to enable students of ability to meet the annually increasing expenses of higher education.

613. Natives are at the head of the Maharaja's College at Mysore and of two of the District High schools, and except in three cases at Bangalore, all the subordinate masters are natives. In 1884 the teaching staff of the Colleges and High schools was revised and the position of the masters much improved by grading them in classes, with provision for regular biennial increments of pay up to the maximum in each class.

614. Vernacular Education.—Similar steps have also been taken for the higher departments of Vernacular instruction. Pandits and Munshis for the various vernaculars spoken in the Province are appointed to the Colleges and prepare students in them up to the B. A. degree. Besides this a Sanskrit College has been formed at Mysore under the Palace Pandits, and a system of examinations in all branches of Sanskrit learning drawn up for which advanced students and masters from the Aided and other Sanskrit schools throughout the country present themselves annually, money rewards being granted to those who prove their proficiency.

615. The school education in the Vernaculars is principally in Kannada (or Canarese), the distinctive language of the country, and in Hindustani. A little Telugu is also taught in the eastern Districts.

616. The Vernacular schools, all supported from Local Funds, are of two grades:—Taluk schools, at the towns which are the head-quarters of Taluks, teaching up to the Middle School standard; and Hobli schools, in the villages which are the head-quarters of Hoblis or sub-divisions of Taluks, and in other large villages, teaching to the Upper Primary standard. The pupils of Taluk schools include a considerable number belonging to the trading and commercial classes, while the Hobli schools are designed specially for the agricultural classes. The masters of the Hobli schools have also in most cases charge of the local Post Office.

617. That these Vernacular schools adequately meet the wants of the town and village population may be gathered from the measure of popularity which many of them enjoy. The largest of the Taluk schools has nearly 400 pupils and a good number have from 106 to 200. Of the Hobli schools there are several with 109 to 200 pupils, and none are established where an attendance cannot be guaranteed of at least 30. The results of the Census of 1881 show that, notwithstanding the loss of population by the famine and other causes amounting to 17·20 per cent, there were 37,000 or 18 per cent more who could read and write or were under instruction in 1881 than in 1871, and this increase may fairly be claimed as an indication that the work of our schools has been in no slight degree sucessful.

618. In order to regulate the studies of the vernacular schools and provide a definite goal at which masters and pupils may aim, a Mysore Local Examination has recently been instituted, which is of the Middle School standard and confined to the vernacular languages. It provides for vernacular schools a stimulus that was wanting in the Madras Middle School Examination, a knowledge of English being requisite for the latter. A special branch of the Mysore Local Examination is provided for teachers, and much improvement is looked for in the work of the vernacular schools when the influence of this test begins to be felt.

619. Female Education.—In female education one of the principal steps has been the establishment of the Maharani Girls' School at Mysore. This is attended only by caste girls. His Highness the Maharaja has provided it with premises and the Government gives a large grant-in-aid. The school is under native management and has been successful in reconciling to a great degree Western methods with native views as to the subjects of female instruction. The example thus set has had an effect in lessening some of the prejudices entertained on the subject, and is calculated to promote the education of girls on national lines. A class of native female teachers, supported by scholarships from Government, is also under instruction in the school with a view to ultimate local employment. The principal other Girls' schools are conducted by Missionary ladies, who devote much attention to them. Altogether 4,743 girls are under instruction in Government and Aided schools.

620. Professional Instruction.—For professional instruction schools were maintained till recently for teaching Engineering, Medicine and Botany, and satisfactory results were attained so far as they went. But these have since been given up in favor of a scheme of scholarships whereby advanced students who have passed through the Arts course are helped to study at one of the large Colleges in British India, the selection being left to themselves. Some of the Mysore students thus sent out have distinguished themselves and gained much credit for the country. Others are still going through their course in one or other of the following institutions:—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Medical College | .. | Madras. |
| Grant Medical College | .. | Bombay. |
| College of Science | .. | Poona. |
| Engineering College | .. | Madras. |
| Agricultural College | .. | Saidapet. |
| Forest School | .. | Dehra Dun. |

621. Technical Education.—A certain number of lads are granted scholarships and placed under instruction in manual arts in the Railway workshops. The convicts in Jail also, besides being taught to read and write, are instructed in the various handicrafts pursued within the precincts.

622. Grants-in-aid.—The foregoing paragraphs have been principally concerned with Government schools, but a large number of private schools besides receive grants-in-aid from Government. The amount given for this purpose in 1885—86 was distributed between 127 schools with 8,121 pupils and came to Rs. 34,184, of which Rs. 26,424 were from Provincial Funds, the remainder being from Municipal Funds. These schools form an indispensable auxiliary in the work of education and belong to all grades from High Schools downwards.

623. Inspection.—The important work of inspection is performed by Deputy Inspectors, of whom there are four for the Districts, all natives, and one, a European, for Bangalore, who is also Assistant in the head office. These periodically visit all the Government and Aided schools, English and Vernacular, up to the Middle School standard, and supervise the work of the Sub-Deputy Inspectors. Of the latter class there are ten for Hobli schools and one, a Muhammadan, for Hindustani schools.

624. School Books.—A complete series of school books in Kannada is kept up, many of the works having passed through numerous large editions ; also elementary readers in Hindustani. The books are carefully revised as far as possible on each reprint and their contents brought up to date. Good maps have been prepared in Kannada of the World and of India. A Book Depôt at head-quarters supplies all the schools with English books at little over cost price and with the local publications and furniture, which are distributed by means of a Branch Depôt established at each Taluk school. The Sub-Deputy Inspectors also convey books to the village schools.

LITERATURE AND THE PRESS.

625. The activity of the Press during the five years under review is illustrated by the figures in the margin, showing the number of publications registered each year, exclusive of those in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.

|---|---|
| 1881 | ... 33 |
| 1882 | ... 56 |
| 1883 | ... 66 |
| 1884 | ...143 |
| 1885 | ...125 |

626. The languages in which the works were written were principally Kannada (or Canarese), the language of the Province, and in Sanskrit.

The following are the details :—

| | 1881. | 1882. | 1883. | 1884. | 1885. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| English | .. | .. | 1 | .. | .. |
| Kannada | 22 | 28 | 40 | 89 | 65 |
| Telugu | .. | 3 | 4 | 5 | 4 |
| Tamil | .. | .. | 5 | .. | 2 |
| Hindustani | 1 | .. | .. | .. | .. |
| Sanskrit | 7 | 14 | 13 | 33 | 38 |
| Diglotts | 3 | 11 | 8 | 16 | 16 |

627. In subject matter, religion and language take the lead, followed by works of poetry, fiction and philosophy. These make up the bulk of the publications. The works on language include a good many editions of the Amara Kosa, the well known Sanskrit thesaurus. The most important new books under this head have been Arthálankáram, a portion of the Kávyávalókanam of Nága Varmma, the oldest grammarian of the Kannada language, whose works are extant, and his Karnátaka Bhásha Bhúshanam, never before printed.

628. The poetical and dramatic works draw their subjects with few exceptions from episodes of the Mahá Bhárata or the Rámáyana, often arranged for recitation on the native stage. Many editions also appear of the Jaimini Bhárata, the most admired work in Kannada poetry. Under philosophy are included the numerous favorite collections of verses on morality.

629. Provision has been made for aiding authors of original works that promise to be of special use to the country. Such is the new Kannada-English Dictionary under compilation by the Revd. F. Kittel of the Basel Mission, subsidized by the India Office, for the completion of which a grant has been made.

VIII. ARCHÆOLOGY.

ARCHÆOLOGY.

630. For many years archæological work had been done by Mr. Rice in spare time without any special appointment, but in the latter part of 1884 he was relieved of the Police Department to enable him to give more time to antiquities, and in 1886 was formally appointed Director of Archæological Researches in Mysore. The following is a summary of the work recently done.

631. Inscriptions.—Upwards of 1,500 inscriptions have been copied, which are being prepared for publication. The Jain inscriptions at S'ravana-Belgola, which are of special importance, are already in the Press. Several of great interest relating to the Ganga and Mahávali or Bána dynasties have been published in the Indian Antiquary.

632. Coins.—Certain unique coins of the Hoysala dynasty in the Bangalore Museum and in the collection of Mr. Raghavendra Rao were deciphered and identified; and this led to a search for further specimens, which have been added to the well known collection of General Pearse and figured in the Numismata Orientalia.

633. Architecture.—Notes have been taken of typical buildings and of such architectural features as throw light on points at present disputed or obscure. In one particular restorations proposed by the late Mr. Fergusson have been found to be not quite accurate.

634. Sculpture.—Some striking specimens have been met with, of which it is intended to take photographs. More particularly some singular and unknown forms of weapons have been noticed, of which no counterparts exist even in the Armoury at the Mysore Palace.

635. Literature.—In this department a catalogue was compiled of Sanskrit Manuscripts in Mysore which received the thanks of the Government of India. In collecting the materials for that work a mine of information was discovered on the ancient literature of the Kannada language which had quite fallen into oblivion. The results were communicated to the Royal Asiatic Society in a paper read before the Society in 1883 and published in their Journal, which excited much interest. These particulars, greatly extended and carried on to the modern period, were embodied in the Introduction to the Karnáṭaka Bhásha Bhúshanam, the oldest grammar extant of the language, and never before printed, which was published in 1884. Among other works now on hand, there is passing through the Press the Karnáṭaka S'abdánus'ásanam, never before printed, which is to Kannada what Pánini is to Sanskrit, an elaborate and exhaustive treatise on the grammar of the language in Sanskrit sútras, with two voluminous commentaries which may take their place with the Mahábhásbya.

636. It is hoped that in the course of the researches yet to be made no part of the ancient history and language of the country will be left unexplored, and there is little doubt that the labor involved will be amply repaid.

IX. MISCELLANEOUS.

ECCLESIASTICAL.

637. No ecclesiastical establishment is maintained by the Mysore Government. There are Government Chaplains of the Established Church belonging to the Madras Diocese stationed in Bangalore and Mysore. The Bishop of Madras exercises ecclesiastical jurisdiction in Mysore and His Lordship makes periodical visitations in the Province.

638. The Christian Missions which are engaged in the State are—

(1) The Roman Catholic Mission,

(2) The Wesleyan Mission, and

(3) The London Mission.

Brief reports of the operations of these missions are given below.

639. Roman Catholic Mission.—The origin of the Catholic Mission in the Province is uncertain, still it can be traced back to several centuries, as many inscriptions found in old chapels on stones and tombs may prove. It is presumed that the companies of St. Francis Xavier came from Goa to this country about the year 1550 and preached religion throughout the Districts of Dharwar, Nagar, Hassan, Ganjam, and went as far as Dharmapuri whilst on the other side Missionaries from Madura started new Catholic centres at Sattiamangalam and Ballapur in 1609. In the year 1760, there were 13 Jesuit Missionaries employed in the Province of Mysore only. For the present His Lordship the Right Rev. Dr. J. Coadu, Bishop of Chrysopolis, is the Vicar Apostolic in the Province of Mysore and is assisted by 11 European and 8 Native Priests and 36 Catechists. The Province is divided into 13 Districts having 63 Churches and Chapels. The Catholic population is as follows :—

|---|---|
| Europeans . .. .. | 105 |
| East Indians .. .. .. | 275 |
| Natives of caste .. .. .. | 5,670 |
| Pariahs .. .. . | 5,970 |
| Total.... | 12,020 |

640. There are 13 Vernacular schools frequented by 530 children. Compared with the number of Catholics, these figures look rather modest. It must be ascribed to the limited resources of the Mission, to the number of Missionaries being inadequate to the spiritual needs of their respective flocks, and specially to the social condition of the Native Catholics of whom the greater number belong to the agricultural class.

641. Besides 2 orphanages for little children in which 104 orphans are provided for, the Mission has established 3 very extensive farms in the Bangalore and Shimoga Districts for the orphan boys left by the Famine of 1876—78. At the end of the Famine, 1,200 orphans were on the rolls, and as most of them belonged to the agricultural class, the Catholic Mission endeavoured to keep them in the rank and occupations of their respective castes. Many of them went back to their own villages, and some were received in other institutions supported by Government. Aided by monthly grants of money from the Mysore Government and by generous donations from Europe, the Catholic Mission has succeeded to establish 6 new villages around these farms in which the orphans after their marriage get a house, a pair of bullocks, a cow, instruments and seeds to cultivate their own fields. Two hundred and fifty of the orphans have already been established in their respective castes and within a few years will form large and happy families.

642. During the last 5 years the progress of the Catholic religion in the Province of Mysore has been marked by the following numbers of conversions:—

| Years. | Heathens. | Heretics. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1882 | 268 | 14 | 282 |
| 1883 | 148 | 7 | 155 |
| 1884 | 198 | 17 | 215 |
| 1885 | 150 | 14 | 164 |
| 1886 | 167 | 22 | 189 |

643. Eight new Chapels have been erected in some Districts for the wants of the inhabitants.

644. Lately the Mission received very important assistance from the arrival here of 11 sisters of St. Joseph of Tarbes who devote themselves to the nursing of patients in Hospitals. The Municipal Board of the Town of Mysore having applied to the Mission for a staff of Medical Assistants, the Dewan to His Highness was pleased to sanction the application. Since last September 3 sisters are working at the Civil Hospital of Mysore to the great satisfaction both of the Medical authorities and of the public.

645. The Lady Superior of the Congregation of the Good Shepherd in Bangalore having offered to build a General Hospital for the Pettah of Bangalore and the neighbouring villages, a large piece of ground was granted by His Highness the Maharaja's Government near the District Cutcherry, where she has since, erected a magnificent Hospital. The building is an ornament to the town and has already become popular. More than 150 in-door patients can be admitted in the building when completed. Daily consultations are already given every morning to more than 175 patients.

646. In Mysore the Lady Superior of the Convent of the Good Shepherd has opened in her Convent a school for young ladies, and besides that good work she has provided the Maharani Girls' school at Mysore with 2 Teacher Nuns who teach English, Music and Needle work to the young high caste girls who attend that establishment.

647. Wesleyan Mission.—The Wesleyan Mission, which began its operations about fifty years ago, has eight principal and eighteen subordinate stations in the Mysore State. The principal stations are Bangalore, Tumkur, Gubbi, Mysore, Hassan, Chikmagalur, Shimoga and Chitaldroog. The subordinate ones are Channapatna, Closepet, Dodballapur, Nelamangala, Tyamagondal, Maddagiri, Sira, Kunigal-Hunsur, French Rocks, Mandya, Channarayapatna, Tiptur, Banavar, Tarikere, Davangere, Honnali and Chamrajnagar.

648. The staff of the Mission consists of eight European and seven Native Ministers, nineteen Evangelists and nine Readers. There is an Institution at Bangalore for the training of Evangelists and Native Ministers.

649. There are 29 Chapels and other preaching places. The Christian congregations contain 1,378 members, of whom 552 are Communicants.

650. The Mission has from the first taken an active part in education, having established the first English schools in the Province. It has now 66 schools of various kinds containing 5,100 pupils, of whom 2,056 are girls. The High schools at Bangalore and Mysore have 967 boys. Four Middle English schools have lately been commenced in towns where an English education was desired. There are 33 Vernacular Boys' schools with 1,781 scholars. These are spread throughout the Province, but the majority of them are at Bangalore and Mysore, and in the Tumkur District.

651. At Mysore there is a Students' Home for boys attending the High school, and at Tumkur an industrial Orphanage containing 138 boys. A Normal school with 13 students is carried on at Shimoga.

652. For girls the Mission has a Boarding school at Bangalore with 38 pupils and an Orphanage at Hassan with 110. Spread throughout the Province are 22 Vernacular Day schools containing 1,908 girls. These schools are chiefly at the District head-quarters and are under the special care of the Missionary ladies at the several stations. In addition to the Missionaries' wives, there are four ladies who are engaged in teaching and superintending.

653. Most of the schools are aided by Government. The grants to Boys' schools amount to Rs. 517 a month, and those to Girls' schools to Rs. 409.

654. The Harvest Field, an English monthly magazine devoted to Missionary topics, is published by the Mission at Bangalore.

655. London Mission.—In connection with the London Missionary society, there are four European Missionaries, four Native Ministers, eight Native Evangelists, and fifty-three school teachers. The operations of the society are chiefly in the Bangalore Pettah, and in the Districts to the east of Bangalore, where it has eight outstations, viz. Anekal, Domsandra, Malur, Hoskote, Devanhalli, Vadigenhalli, Chikballapur and Sidlaghatta. The number of Native Christians under its care is 444. There are also two Orphanages, containing 8 boys and 20 girls, and 18 other schools with 1,535 scholars, of whom 575 are girls. One of the schools is a High school, from which 28 passed the Matriculation standard of the Madras University at its last examination. The education in the other schools is to the Middle and Special Upper Primary standards. The preparation and circulation of school books and Vernacular literature has also received much attention.

MYSORE GOVERNMENT PRESS.

656. The Mysore Government Press was, during the five years under report, under the management of Mr. H. Hudson, Comptroller of Mysore, in addition to his other duties. The Government Press executes all work relating to the Mysore Administration and also work connected with the Municipalities in Mysore and the offices under the Resident in Mysore and the Chief Commissioner of Coorg. No cash payment is made to the Press Department for the work done for the Mysore Government, while the work done for Municipalities and other offices is paid for in cash. The expenditure of the Department consists of the cost incurred by the purchase of printing material, &c., and of the cost of the establishment. The following table shows the aggregate value of all the work done at the Press, the expenditure incurred and the nominal profit to Government during the 5 years under report :—

| | Expenditure. | Value of Work. | Profit. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 ... | 28,934 | 42,636 | 13,702 |
| 1882—83 ... | 29,095 | 38,897 | 9,802 |
| 1883—84 ... | 26,383 | 35,674 | 9,291 |
| 1884—85 .. | 26,398 | 38,515 | 12,117 |
| 1885—86 ... | 29,147 | 39,028 | 9,881 |

657. The value of work executed on payment for the offices under the Resident and for Municipalities and private individuals is shown below :—

| | Resident's Office and Treasury. | Civil and Military Station. | Coorg. | Municipalities. | Miscellaneous (Private Work). | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 | 668 | ... | 1,758 | 107 | 703 | 3,236 |
| 1882—83 | 719 | ... | 2,643 | 182 | 137 | 3,681 |
| 1883—84 | 274 | 737 | 1,381 | 242 | 472 | 3,106 |
| 1884—85 | 299 | 354 | 2,204 | 256 | 147 | 3,260 |
| 1885—86 | 244 | 189 | 804 | 550 | 431 | 2,218 |

658. In the years 1881—82 and 1882—83 a large amount of work was done for the Inam Department. The printing work connected with the Railway and Revenue Survey Departments have also of late devolved on the Press. In September 1885 the printing work of the offices under the Resident was transferred to the Press newly established at the Residency.

659. Soon after the Rendition a reduction was effected in the bulk of the Mysore Gazette and in the number of copies printed. The numbers of the Gazette as now issued are 430 English copies and 530 Canarese copies.

STATIONERY.

660. The stationery stores required for the use of the Mysore Government are obtained by purchase from private firms in England and in India. They are kept in the Stationery Depôt at Bangalore and distributed therefrom to all the Public offices in the Province in accordance with indents which are received periodically from them and which are carefully checked before the articles applied for are issued. Paper for printing the Mysore Gazette, the Proceedings of the Government, Educational works and forms required for the various departments in the Province are also issued from the Depôt after a careful examination of the indents.

661. Efforts have been made of late years to put a stop to the use and waste of expensive kinds of paper and to substitute cheaper descriptions in every practicable case. Badami paper manufactured at the Calcutta Bally Paper Mills has largely taken the place of Europe printing paper for vernacular and other forms of an unimportant nature. Thus a considerable reduction in stationery charges has been effected as will be seen from the results shown below :—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| 1880—81 .. .. .. .. | 61,570 |
| 1881—82 .. .. .. .. | 41,355 |
| 1882—83 .. .. .. .. | 41,059 |
| 1883—84 .. .. .. .. | 23,401 |
| 1884—85 .. .. .. .. | 19,981 |

MYSORE GOVERNMENT MUSEUM.

662. The Mysore Government Museum has maintained its popularity and is continuing to attract large numbers of people. It contains a choice collection of specimens of natural history, of minerals and coins and of raw produce and manufactures, which are being added to year by year by purchase and by donations. Nearly 2,000 new specimens were added during the five years under report, of which 872 were presented from time to time by gentlemen and institutions from all parts of the country. Purchases of rare articles are sometimes made by Government for the Museum, as many as 248 articles being obtained in this manner in the year 1885—86 alone for Rs. 150. Additions have also been made by the Taxidermist on the establishment, who goes out periodically into the Districts to collect new specimens of birds, reptiles, &c.

663. The collection of coins now in the Museum is a valuable one and consists of 259 gold, 201 silver, 1,026 copper, 24 zinc, 23 plated, 8 gilt, 6 lead and 1 iron, coins of different ages and countries. Among the collection is a Rama Tanki Varaha, a rare old coin of the days of Rama and held sacred by the Hindus, which was purchased by Government for Rs 100 in 1885—86.

664. The number of visitors to the Museum from the date of its establishment in 1865 was 4,712,333; and during the five years now under report, the number varied from 246,291 to 388,606, the latter figure having been attained in 1883—84, when the articles intended for the Calcutta International Exhibition were arranged in the building prior to despatch and attracted much attention from the public.

665. There is a good Library of 650 volumes attached to the Museum, and it is intended to make it accessible to the reading public.

666. The expenditure incurred on account of the Museum during the five years under review was as follows :—

| | | Rs. |
|---|---|---|
| 1881—82 | .. | 1,785 |
| 1882—83 | .. | 2,005 |
| 1883—84 | .. | 1,807 |
| 1884—85 | .. | 1,946 |
| 1885—86 | .. | 2,342 |

The cost of the establishment is Rs. 1,692 per annum and the difference in each year is spent on the purchase of specimens and on contingencies.

AMRUT MAHAL.

667. From 1st January to 31st December 1882 the Department was supervised by Captain (now Major) Macintire and from the latter date by Colonel A. C. Hay with a Native officer to assist him.

668. The Amrut Mahal cattle purchased from the Madras Government in 1882 numbered 12,502. With new births, the numbers at the disposal of the Department during the official years 1882—83, 1883—84, 1884—85 and 1885—86 were 15,460, 15,806, 16,822 and 15,830 respectively. Deducting casualties and sales the numbers which were left at the close of each of the 4 official years from 1882—83 were 12,569, 14,133, 14,294 and 12,457.

669. The births and deaths during the four years in question were as follows :—

| Years. | Births. | Deaths. |
|---|---|---|
| 1882—83 ... ... ... ... ... | 2,956 | 1,472 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... ... ... | 3,236 | 731 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... ... ... | 2,665 | 1,373 |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... ... ... | 1,519 | 1,987 |

670. The large decrease in the number of births and the increase in the number of deaths in 1884—85 and 1885—86 are due to the very unfavorable nature of the season in those years when water was scarce and fodder scanty.

671. The numbers sold annually to the Madras Government and to the public, and the sums realized are shown below :—

| Years. | To Madras Government. | | To the Public. | | Total. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | No. sold. | Amount. | No. sold. | Amount. | No. sold. | Amount. |
| 1882—83 .. ... | 500 | 25,000 | 890 | 19,235 | 1,390 | 44,235 |
| 1883—84 ... ... | 400 | 20,000 | 541 | 13,396 | 941 | 33,396 |
| 1884—85 ... ... | 500 | 25,000 | 651 | 17,601 | 1,151 | 42,681 |
| 1885—86 .. ... | 400 | 20,000 | 986 | 21,707 | 1,386 | 41,707 |

672 The numbers taken up by the Madras Government were sold at the fixed average rate of Rs. 50 per head. Negotiations having been conducted with the Bombay Government for the use of the Amrut Mahal cattle for artillery and transport, that Government has decided on giving a fair trial to Mysore bullocks for all purposes except for draught of heavy batteries. The Madras Government purchased in 1884—85 one hundred head of cattle in excess of its requirements to meet a probable demand from the Bombay Government.

673. The financial results are shown in the following statement:—

| Year. | Receipts. | Expenditure. | Profit. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1882—83 ... ... ... ... | 44,235 | 28,822 | 15,413 |
| 1883—84 ... ... ... ... | 42,561 | 32,033 | 10,528 |
| 1884—85 ... ... ... ... | 51,976 | 31,694 | 20,282 |
| 1885—86 ... ... ... .. | 52,073 | 35,895 | 16,178 |
| Total..... | 1,90,845 | 1,28,444 | 62,401 |

674. With the view of providing a stock of forage for the cattle during the hot months experiments in preparing ensilage have recently been made by the Department and very favorable results secured. Details on this subject are given in an Appendix to this Report.

MUZARAYI.

675. This Department administers the revenues of Devasthanams and Chuttrums (religious and charitable institutions). These revenues consist of large grants of land and money inams from the State and of the deposits of money lodged by votaries for the fulfilment of certain vows. The funds of these institutions are managed by the Deputy Commissioners of Districts under the control of the Dewan.

676 The following statements show the receipts and expenditure under this head during the five years under report :—

RECEIPTS.

1. STATISTICAL RETURNS.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE ASSEMBLY OF THE REPRESENTATIVE RYOTS AND MERCHANTS FROM ALL TALUKS OF THE PROVINCE OF MYSORE, HELD AT MYSORE ON THE 7TH OCTOBER 1881.

In accordance with the wishes expressed by His Highness the Maha Rajah as conveyed in Proceedings No. 4394-4401—120, dated 25th August 1881, the first Annual Meeting of the representative ryots and merchants from all the taluks of the Province was held at the Public Buildings at Mysore on the 7th October 1881. The meeting was presided over by the Dewan, the Members of His Highness' Council, and the principal officers of the Administration at the station being present. One hundred and fourty-four representatives attended. The proceedings commenced at 2-30 P. M., and the Dewan read the following address to the Meeting in regard to the administrative measures which were engaging the attention of the Government:—

1 We are met here to-day by command of His Highness the Maha Raja, and it is His Highness' wish that I should place before you at these Annual Meetings a report of the administration of the past year and an outline of the measures proposed to be carried into effect in the coming year. His Highness hopes that by this arrangement the action of the Government will be brought into greater harmony with the wishes and interests of the people. His Highness' Government will be glad to receive any observations and suggestions which you may wish to make in the public interests, and I need not assure you that they will meet which every consideration. I have only to express my hope that appreciating the spirit in which these arrangements have been initiated, your observations may be directed to matters of real public interest.

2. On the present occasion, as it is not many months since His Highness assumed the Government of the Country, there is little to report of what has already been accomplished; what I shall place before you will refer chiefly to measures which are still engaging the attention of His Highness' Government with a brief account of our present condition.

3. As you are aware, the condition of the Province has been very much affected by the great calamity which so recently visited it. The ruinous effects of the famine will be so fresh in your minds that I need not dwell on them. It will suffice for me to say that it cost the State 160 lakhs of rupees, involved the Government in a debt of 80 lakhs, and withal deprived the Province of a million of its population and crippled its resources for years to come.

4. A general census was taken on the night of the 17 February last under careful arrangements. The results which are being tabulated in great detail will furnish interesting statistics when completed. The population, as returned by this census, numbers 4,182,000 and shows a loss of 874,000 as compared with the census taken in 1871: but allowing for the usual rate of increase in the intermediate good years, the loss of population by famine may be assumed to be fully a million or 20 per cent.

5. The Government revenue, however, has not suffered in the same proportion, the severity of the famine having fallen chiefly on the miscellaneous classes. The great body of the agricultural classes have shown extraordinary recuperative powers, and cultivation recovered to a great extent even in the year immediately succeeding the famine. There has been, however, a sensible falling off in the revenue which may continue for some years to hamper the efforts of the Government to promote the prosperity of the Province.

6. A detailed analysis of the revenue is under preparation, but the following will serve to give a fair idea of it. The highest figure which the revenue reached before the famine was 109½ lakhs of rupees, and as this was more than double the estimated assets of the Province at the time of the Treaty of 1799, it has given rise to an erroneous impression that the revenues of the Province possess an unlimited capacity for expansion; but, as a matter of fact, the revenue mentioned in the Treaty was grossly under-estimated. The actual revenues at the time were much higher. The increase which accrued in subsequent years has been marked by two periods of a great and sudden rise: one indicating the transition from a state of helpless dependence of the ryots on the Government under the batayi tenure, absence of all trade and low prices, to a more settled Government, with a money assessment, and outlay of money on Railways and other Public Works and free trade and comparatively high prices, and the other a still further enhancement of the prices resulting from the demand in the English market for Indian cotton and other produce occasioned by the American war and the stoppage of the supplies from America. Excluding the increase due to these two causes, the progress of cultivation and revenue in ordinary years has been slow, certainly not in proportion to the increase of population I draw attention to this fact to show that Governments wishing to adjust their expenditure to the revenue should direct their efforts to a proper retrenchment of the expenditure rather than depend on any vague expectation of deriving an increase of revenue from an impoverished country. Any such large increase could only result from another great impetus to industry similar to those above referred to.

7. Returning to our financial condition the revenue demand, which reached 109½ lakhs of rupees in 1874—75, fell in the past year 1880—81 to so low a figure as 101 lakhs owing to the effects of the famine. A comparison of the different heads of revenue between 1874—75 and 1880—81 is given below:—

| | 1874—75. | 1880—81. |
|---|---|---|
| Land Revenue ... ... ... ... . | 73,51,000 | 69,58,000 |
| Forest ... ... ... ... ... | 3,82,000 | 6,98,000 |
| Abkari ... ... ... ... .. | 11,53,000 | 10,67,000 |
| Mohatarfa ... ... ... ... ... | 3,68,000 | 2,52,800 |
| Sáyer ... ... ... ... ... | 7,80,000 | 3,33,000 |
| Stamps and Law and Justice... ... ... .. | 6,26,000 | 5,24,900 |
| Other Items ... ... ... ... .. | 2,90,000 | 2,66,300 |
| TOTAL . . | 1,09,50,000 | 1,01,00,000 |

8. It will be seen that there was a loss of 4 lakhs in Land Revenue, 4 lakhs in Sayer and Customs, one lakh in Mohatarfa or tax on houses, shops and looms, one lakh in Abkari or excise on spirits, about a lakh in Stamps, and a little less than ½ a lakh in Interest on revenue arrears and other miscellaneous items ; whilst the revenue undr Forest chiefly from the sales of sandal has improved by 3 lakhs.

9. The above loss of revenue resulting from famine can only be expected to be made good gradually. The falling off in Land Revenue is attributable to diminished cultivation which results not only from the loss of the agricultural population but no less from the great loss amongst the miscellaneous classes occasioned by the famine. This has lessoned the demand for food grains, kept the prices low and deterred the ryots from bringing more lands under the plough, showing how much the success of agriculture is dependent on the flourishing condition of the manufacturing industries. The old idea that India must confine itself to the growth of agricultural produce is giving way to the more correct theory that no country can prosper unless its agricultural and manufacturing industries were equally fostered. The cultivation may be expected to revive to the full extent in the next few years. Meanwhile, the introduction of the survey settlement in the several taluks from year to year brings some addition to the revenue chiefly by the correction of the gross inequalities in the assessment which previously existed, but this increase is consumed by the provision which requires to made for the remuneration of the village officers.

10. The loss sustained under "Sayer" is of a more permanent character. It results frome the measures of relief which it was considered necessary to grant in the interests of the people. The duty on the arecanut was reduced from Rs. 1—4—0 to 12 annas per maund ; whilst the duty levied on tobacco, betel-leaves, cocoanuts and cardamoms was at first reduced and afterwards entirely given up, in consequence of the comparatively small amounts derived from them and the needless cost of establishments and annoyance occasioned by the tax. Tabacco which is grown only in a few taluks of the Province especially stood in need of the encouragement on account of the competition which it has to enter into with the more extensive produce of other parts of India. The articles are now taxed only in Municipal towns with other articles subject to the octroi. The sayer is now retained only on the arecanut and is too considerable an item of revenue to be givin up. In consequence of the peculiar advantages possesed by the Malnad taluks in which the superior arecanut is grown and the demand which exists for the article in Indian markets, the duty is not felt as burdensom. The ryots wish rather for some relief to the heavy land assessment levied on these arecanut gardens under the survey settlement. The special assessment on gardens is open to the objection of its being a tax on the outlay of capital, but it has always existed in the Province, though its incidence is now more felt in consequence of its rigid collection under the survey settlement; whereas formerly remissions of the tax were allowed, first, till the trees came into bearing and afterwards when they ceased to yield. Such remissions are attended with great abuse and cannot be revived; but the question of making some reduction in the assessment of the more highly assessed gardens will receive the early consideration of His Highness' Government. Another article which had been subjected to sayer duty was cloths. But as the duty was levied only on cloths of Indian manufacture and not on the imported piece goods, it yielded but a comparatively small amount of revenue, which it was considered expedient to give up. There is no reason, however, why, if an excise on articles of consumption is to be resorted to under financial pressure, piece goods should not be preferred to others as providing a basis of a more equal taxation. Such taxes, however, are open to great objections and have to be resorted to only under extreme circumstances.

11. The decrease in Mohatarfa represents the heavy mortality amongst the unfortunate weaver classes who contribute to the loom-tax. A loss has also been incurred in house-tax in consequence of a moiety of it in the towns having been given up to the Municipalities to prevent their levying a separate tax under this head. If this tax were levied on all houses instead of as at present on the houses of the non-agricultural and miscellaneous classes only, it would be far more productive. Such an arrangement has been recently introduced in the Municipal towns, where all houses are taxed without exemption; but the extension of the measure to the villages may be misunderstood by the people, and it will not be resorted to unless forced by financial necessity.

12. The Abkari has been the earliest to recover from the effects of the famine. This revenue is chiefly realized in the larger towns, which suffered least in the famine and have rapidly recovered since. It is a steadily increasing source of revenue though the increase indicating a larger consumption of the spirits is not altogether a matter for congratulation. There has hitherto been a tendency on the part of Government to look only to the revenue derivable from this source. The health and conveniences of the indigent classes from whom this revenue is chiefly derived equally demand the attention of Government. It having come to notice that hardship was inflicted on the drinking population of the Malnad by the prohibition introduced against the manufacture of akkibhoja or spirits distilled from paddy with the view of promoting the sale of arrack, the prohibition has been removed. The akkibhoja is a mild liquor to which the Malnad population were long accustomed.

13. A considerable position of the Abkari revenue is realized in the portion of the Bangalore Town, which His Highness has consented to assign to the British Government for the purposes of a Civil and Military Station; but as the surplus revenues of the Assigned Tract are intended to be made good to the Mysore State, its revenues will not suffer.

14. Mysore does not derive any revenue from salt which is a large and increasing source of revenue in other parts of India. The excised salt, which its people mostly consume, contributes to the revenues of British India. The manufacture of earth-salt in the Province, which was once somewhat considerable, has greatly declined. In compliance with the wishes of the Government of India, the manufacture of the salt within 5 miles of the British frontier has been prohibited in view to prevent the smuggling of the salt into British Territories. The measure is attended with some hardship to the classes who have hitherto lived by the manufacture as well as to the people in remote parts who altogether depend on this salt for their consumption. It is hoped to bring the purer sea salt within the reach of those people by the extension of the railways in the Province.

15. The falling off in Stamps, both General and Court Fees, naturally results from the depressed condition following on the famine. The revenue may be soon expected to recover.

16. The Forest revenue which alone has shown an increase is, as already remarked, chiefly derived from the sales of sandal. In recent years, there has been an increasing demand for sandal, especially for sandal roots used for the manufacture of sandal oil. It has therefore been practicable to sell larger quantities and to realize higher prices than before. But the sales do not admit of unlimited expansion, as the markets for sandal will not take more than a certain quantity annually; but it is hoped to keep up the present sales, and, in order to meet them, attention is given to the conservancy of the sandal preserves. As the sandal grows largely on private lands, the holders of which at present possess no interest in preserving the trees, it is under contemplation to revive the rule once before promulgated for allowing a commission to land-holders on the sandal grown on their lands and delivered to Government.

17. The other items of Forest revenue are quite inconsiderable as yet. The several descriptions of building-timber growing in the forests, valuable as they are, cannot be worked with any great profit unless the cost of felling and carting could be considerably cheapened. As an instance, it may be mentioned that although there was a large demand for timber in connection with the Railway to Mysore, it was found cheaper to get Rangoon timber from Madras than to use the timber of our forests, except to a small extent at the Mysore end of the line. This was the case especially in regard to the Railway sleepers. Creosoted pine sleepers which are considered superior to the teak for this particular purpose were brought all the way from Europe by sea and by the Railway from Madras and were delivered at Bangalore at cheaper rates than our teak sleepers could be supplied for, and with a rapidity which cannot be hoped for in our forests. The work on the Railway would in fact have come to a stand still if it depended on our forests for the supply. When the country is opend out by railways it is hoped to work the forests to greater advantage and with scientific appliances.

18. The various descriptions of jungle products will also receive attention at the same time and the forests will be managed with decidedly more profit than at present.

19. The extensive scrub jungles along the line of the Railway to Mysore have however been turned to profitable account for the supply of fuel to the Railway which had been in the first instance obtained from the Kuppam jungles in Madras.

20. The forests altogether ought to be made a great source of revenue to the Government, but this cannot be done unless they are strictly conserved, which is not altogether agreeable to the people who have been hitherto accustomed to use them indiscriminately. What is everybody's property can be of use to no one. The ryots, however, have strictly no rights in these jungles which in most cases are not situated within the limits of their villages. There ought therefore to be no hardship in making them look to their own lands and to the small tracts of jungles which are proposed to be assigned to their villages for any supplies they may stand in need of, and to make them pay moderately for anything required from the Government forests. Arrangements will, however, be made to throw open the pastures in these jungles to cattle at stated times and under proper arrangemets.

21. The aggregate revenue of the Province may on the whole be expected to rise to 104 or 105 lakhs within the next 2 or 3 years; but it will be long before it reaches its former maximum of 109½ lakhs.

22. Besides the Government revenue above referred to, a sum of about 7 lakhs is annually collected under the head of Local Funds at the rate of one anna per rupee of land and other descriptions of revenue. The money is expended under the control of Local Fund Boards on roads and communications and on the maintenance of Taluk and Hobli schools, and to some extent also on the maintenance of Local Dispensaries in the respective Districts. These funds when properly administered ought to provide for all local requirements under the above heads.

23. Similarly, an annual sum of 4 lakhs is collected under the heads of house-tax, octoroi and other items by the several Municipalities which are now established in all the towns of the Province to provide for their conservancy and sanitiation. The rules relating to both these branches of the Administration are now under consideration. In revising them due regard will be paid to the importance of administering these funds for the benefit of the local public and in accordance with the wishes of the people; and of not treating them as a mere addition to the Government revenue.

24. I now proceed to a review of the expenditure. The last two years of the British administration of the Province were devoted to reforming the various branches of the Administration and reducing the expenditure in them so as to bring it within the diminished revenue since the famine. These reforms have on the whole been carried into effect with success. In all, a reduction of 14 lakhs in the expenditure has been effected without in any way impairing the efficiency of the Administration. The expenditure before the famine reached the full amount of the revenue then realized. viz., 109½ lakhs of rupees, besides further grants from the invested surplus of previous years for irrigation works.

25. The various heads of expenditure as they stood in 1878—79 and as they have been now reduced are given below:—

26. The reductions effected may be roughly summarized as follows.

The expenditure on Public Works and its Establishments, i. e., on the mantenance of roads and irrigation works, has been reduced from 15 lakhs to 10,75,000 Rs. or by 4,25,000 Rs. Some further reduction may require to be made under the head to provide for the Railways, and it is hoped it may be effected without inconvenience, as the Local Funds provide a large additional sum for the District roads. When a complete system of railways shall have been provided for the Province, the maintenance of all roads should fall entirely on Local Funds.

By substitution of lower paid Native for European Deputy Commissioners and by reduction in the number of Assistant Commissioners and by the abolition of the Judicial Establishments attached to these officers, a reduction of 1,25,000 Rs. has been effected; and by the substitution of District and Sessions Judges for Commissioners of Divisions with Revenue and Judicial functions, there was a further reduction of 80,000 Rs.; and when Native Judges are substituted for the existing European Officers, there will be an additional saving under this head. These arrangements effected a complete separation of Judicial from Revenue functions and by dispensing with an intermediate office of control like that of the Commissioner have rendered the District administration more prompt and effectual with a great saving of correspondence.

By the abolition of separate Police Assistant Commissioners and by a reduction in the number and pay of the Taluk Police Inspectors and Jamadars and by reductions in the number of the higher grades of Duffedars and Peons, a reduction of another 1,25,000 Rs. has been effected in Police charges.

The reductions made in the Head Offices of control and account under the head of Administration amount to a lakh of rupees.

78 A

The Forest Establishments were reduced by 50,000 Rs. and the abolition of the Inâm Commission effected a saving of another 55,000 Rupees.

One Regiment of Barr has been reduced and with the reductions in the Head Office Establishments there was a saving of nearly a lakh of rupees under this head.

The Government expenditure on Education shows a saving of 90,000 Rs. partly by reductions of establishments but chiefly by the transfer of the Taluk schools to District Funds.

The Revenue and Topographical Surveys which now cost Rs. 26,25,00 and Rs. 87,000 respectively are temporary establishments which will be dispensed with on the completion of their work. There has been a saving of Rs. 60,000 in the former as compared with the charges in 1878—79.

The Medical and Jail Establishments yet remain to be reformed. Under the latter head the expensive Jail arrangements now existing at the Head-quarters of each District can scarcely be required. There has been a saving of Rs. 60,000 under this head in the cost of maintaining the prisoners which largely increased during the famine.

Reductions in various other miscellaneous items, such as travelling allowances, contingencies and the annual allowance paid to the Bangalore Rifle Volunteers, have contributed another lakh to the savings which aggregate in all 14 lakhs.

These reductions, exclusive of Railways, would have brought down the ordinary charges of the Administration inclusive of 10 lakhs for His Highness' Civil List and 24½ lakhs for the Subsidy, to 96½ lakhs of rupees, but as the famine debt has entailed a new charge of 4 lakhs for the annual interest and as the pension charges have increased by a lakh in consequence of the reductions and as he remuneration to village officers fixed by the survey has entailed a further addition of a lakh, the saving effected has been reduced to eight lakhs, and the present annual expenditure inclusive of the administration of the Assigned Tract managed by the Resident, but exclusive of the Railways, has to be estimated at 101 lakhs of rupees. This would leave no surplus for Railways if the revenue were to remain at the same figure as in the last year, but the revenues for the current year are estimated at 103 lakhs of rupees, and by further reductions of expenditure, His Highness' Government is resolved to provide always an annual surplus of five lakhs of rupees for Railway requirements.

The large addition to pensions is a proof of the great consideration with which the reductions have been carried out. It is still true economy to save appointments by the grant of temporary pensions of one-third or of even one-half of the pay, and to let free the superfluous hands for other useful purposes. It was strictly provided that no new appointments ware to be made in the place of those pensioned.

27. I shall not take up your time on this occasion with any further review of the working of the different branches of the Administration, but it will not be out of place to refer to the state of high efficiency attained by the Judicial Branch of the Administration upon which the well-being of the subjects is so much dependent. In point of purity, the Judicial administration of Mysore can compare favorably with the best administered Provinces in India. Efforts may, however, with advantage be directed somewhat to simplify the laws and to render the working of the Courts more intelligible to the people, and in order further to afford them facilities to seek an amicable settlement of their communities instead of resorting to the regular Judicial Courts in every little matter, it is in contemplation to establish arbitration tribunals composed of select village headman for the settlement of all minor matters.

21. Some revision of the system of Public Works with the view of these establishments working promptly and economically and in co-operation with the District Officers is also urgently called for, and the question will be taken up at once.

29. In the Department of Education in the working of which also the people are deeply interested, little remains to be done by way of establishing additional schools or stimulating a desire for education, but efforts are being chiefly directed to secure better qualifications in the teaching staff of the Taluk and Hobli schools and to encourage technical education. Further details under all these heads will be more properly placed before you at the next year's assembly.

30. I wish now particularly to dwell on the fact that the ordinary routine of the Administration of the Government is not the only subject which requires our notice. The development of the various industries on whic the prosperity of the country is dependent equally demands our consideration, and His Highness' Government will be always prepared to give every attention to any suggestions which may be made upon these subjects. The appointment of a special officer for the purpose cannot be of much service as the experience and knowledge of a single individual can accomplish but little. His Highness the Maha Raja is desirous of organizing a large association of private gentlemen who are likely to interest themselves in the matter and when when such an association is formed, His Highness' Government will consider it to be its duty to help the efforts of the association to promote the industries of the country.

31. His Highness' Government regards the opening out of the Province by means of Railways as a necessary preliminary to the development of its resources. The first line of Railway in the Province from Bangalore to Mysore will be shortly completed. It was commenced by the late Administration at a time of great financial difficulties of the current revenues and has proved a success in every way, forcing economy in all branches of the Administration and utilizing the small annual savings which would have been otherwise less profitably spent, for providing a useful and productive work. The estimate for the 86 miles of the Railway to Mysore is about 35 lakhs. Out of this, 25 lakhs were spent in 1879—80 and 1880—81, and the remainder will be completed in the current year. Out of the 35 lakhs, 15 lakhs were met from current revenues and the remainder will have to be made good out of the surplus of the next four years, The rapidity with which the work is being pushed through including such large bridges as those on the two branches of the Cauvery is due to the untiring energy of the Engineer-in-Chief Major Le-Messurier, who has the superintendence of it, and reflects great credit on all the officers employed on it.

32. Other lines of Railway are even more urgently required for the Province. A central line leading from Bangalore to Tumkúr, Riptur and on Tarikere, a total distance of 150 miles, is of far greater importance as regards the great bulk of the Province. It will tap the great coffee and arecanut producing districts of Hassan, Kadur and Shimoga, bring all remote parts of the Province within easier reach of Bangalore, and may be regarded as the only necessary work in the Province to provide against future famines. Cartage from and to the above remote districts of the Province, where good draught cattle are scarce, is very costly and totally inadequate for the transport of food in times of famine. The Railway besides being profitable in itself will greatly add to the wealth of the exporting districts, and secure economy and efficiency in the Administration. and will be invaluable for promoting industry and cultivation and the general development of the Province. The Railways from Bellary Goa and Southern Mahratta country converging at new Hobli, when completed, can, with great advantage, be connected with this line. The distance from Tarikere by Shimoga to the frontiers of the Province on this line will be a little more than 50 miles, and the total length of 200 miles from Bangalore can be completed and provided with rolling stock for less than 80 lakhs of rupees, Rs. 40,000 per mile being considered the maximum rate.

33. The other Railway extensions which can also be usefully undertaken—are line from Mysore to the Wynad, and another from Mysore to Coorg frontiers, the length of the line to be constructed in each case within the Province being about 50 miles. These two lines will traverse comparatively poor tracts of the Province. They are required to establish Railway communication between Mysore and the important Coffee Districts of Wynad and Coorg which are dependent on it for supplies of provisions and labor. They will serve to draw the increasing traffic of these Coffee and Gold-mining Districts to the already completed Railway from Mysore to Bangalore and thence to Madras; and when either of them is further extended to the Western Coast, to Beypore by the Wynad, or to Tellicherry by South Coorg, it will also be of use for the large trade existing between Mysore and the Western Coast and Bombay. The want of such a connection with the Western Coast was very much felt during the last famine, for getting down into the Province the rice and other food grains cheaply brought by ships from Calcutta to the ports of Beypore, Calicut and Tellicherry.

34. These three Railways, about 300 miles in length, may cost 120 lakhs of rupees. It is not to be expected that such costly works could be constructed out of the current revenues of the Province. English enterprize which had unfortunately been long kept out seems now favorably disposed to embark on such undertakings in India, and arrangements could be made with English Companies to undertake the construction of these Railways by the guarantee of a moderate interest of 4 per cent on the outlay only during the first few years of the construction. It is confidently expected that the Railway will soon begin to repay the interest and become altogether self-supporting, and thus these important works so essential to the prosperity of the Province will have been provided without any cost to the State.

35. Another enterprize which is also now largely engaging the attention of capitalists in England is the mining for gold. Auriferous reefs are believed to run through different parts of this Province on an extensive scale, and if those engaged in the enterprize should succeed in working these reefs with profit, they would completely revolutionize the future of the country. Lands supposed to contain reefs have been and are being leased out largely without any restrictions or any immediate money consideration, simply providing for the payment of the assessment on the lands with a royalty of 5 per cent. on the gross proceeds of the mines. His Highness' Government has also promised to take into consideration any proposals for the commutation of the royalty for the period of the lease by a present payment of Rs. 55,000 for each square mile. The prospects must yet be regarded as uncertain, but it is to be hoped that the attention of English capitalists now awakened to India may be soon directed to the development of other mineral sources and other industries in the country.

36. I shall but briefly refer to the various other industries which might usefully engage the attention of an association of the kind above proposed. I have already referred to the complete ruin of the manufacturing and artizan classes by the famine. Special arts of taste and skill may thrive by manual labor alone, but industries intended to supply the wants of the great body of the people cannot hope in these days to sustain themselves against foreign competition without the aid of machinery.

37. The limited cultivation of cotton in the Province is not favorable to the establishment of cotton mills on a large scale, though there is field enough for a mill or two.

38. The breeding of sheep for wool and the manufacture of woollen articles form an industry peculiar to the Province, and it will be greatly benefited by the application of machinery to it.

39. The establishment of a paper manufactory has also been lately mooted and the attention of the association can be usefully given to these subjects.

40. The cultivation, however, of exportable products of value offers the widest field for improvement. The most important under this head, the coffee enterprize, is already in the hands of an intelligent body of English planters, who can be trusted to give every attention to it. Other important products, such as cinchona which can be grown in the same parts of the country, may be expected to receive every attention from the planters. Arangements are being made for the introduction in the current year, of an acreage assessment on the coffee lands in lieu of the existing halat at the rate of 1 rupee per acre or Rs. 1—8—0 per acre if a permanent settlement is desired, with due provision for granting temporary remissions of assessment in the case of ill-cultivated or ruined estates. The measure will not be prejudicial to the revenue interests of the Government as the acreage assessment is expected to realize more than the halat duty heretofore collected; but it was sanctioned chiefly with the object of giving the planters every inducement to make the best use of their land and to cultivate whatever produce may be found most profitable.

41. The tracts suited for the cultivation of cotton and of wheat which is also now becoming an important article of export are comparatively limited in this Province, but the whole of these tracts could be devoted to the growth of these valuable articles if the ordinary food grains which are now so largely grown on them could be cheaply obtained from elsewhere by means of Railways.

42. The cultivation of sugar cane is already an established industry. Its extension is dependent on the relative price of rice and sugar, both of which are grown on the same description of land.

43. The most important industry however peculiar to the Province is the cultivation of silk. The lands on which the mulberry is grown have hitherto been subjected to special high rates of assessment and the industry had lately all but died out in consequence of the deterioration of the worm. It has fortunately now revived of itself probably owing to some climatic changes. The subject is deserving of the study of the association both in view to to provide against similar failures in future and to extend the industry to the fullest extent possible in the Province.

44. Lastly, I must not omit to place before you the important truth that the prosperity of the country can never be assured until the labor of its people yields a surplus over and above the food consumed by them. So long as the labor of agriculturists scarcely yields the food consumed by them, it is not possible to avoid their complete prostration on the occurrence of a famine or other calamity. Improvement in this respect can only be effected by diminishing the proportion of human labor employed in the production of the country, by the application of machinery and capital. Irrigation works answer this purpose to some extent as they enable a larger quantity of produce to be raised by the same labor. But on the much wider area of dry lands, the produce yielded is scarcely more than sufficient for the consumption of the cultivator and his family; it is even worse with our artizam and manufacturing classes. Hitherto the high rate of interest for money in the country and the cheapness of labor have told against the employment of costly machinery. But now that English capital is being drawn to India on cheap terms, and a wide gap has been made in the laboring population by the recent famine, the present time offers a particularly favorable opportunity for raising the status of the people by the introduction of capital and machinery in industrial pursuits. Extensive tracts of good land lie waste both in this Province and in the neighbouring British Territories affected by the famine for want of labor. They offer a good field for capitalists to bring them under cultivation for the growth of exportable articles by means of steam ploughs and other machinery. Such a sudden extension of cultivation and manufactures by means of machinery, by outstripping the growth of population will tend to increase wages and raise the status of the laborer. At present, population increases at a more rapid rate than production, and increasing want and poverty is the inevitable result.

45. Within the country itself, there is a large amount of small capital unutilized which could be devoted to the same object, but for the engrossing importance which the Government service assumes to itself in this country. The wealth and intelligence of the people should be encouraged to seek honorable employment in productive industries instead of looking to the Government service or other equally unproductive professions.

46. The savings of the Government officials are, no doubt, at present very largely laid out on land. But they are solely employed in the purchase of lands as an investment and not on the improvement of their cultivation.

47. Before concluding I must also refer to the period of intense anxiety through which both the Government and the people have just passed by the apprehensions caused by the recent failure of the rains,—apprehensions which happily have now subsided except in a few taluks. But such occasional failure of rains is almost a normal condition of the Province, and the Government must always remain in constant anxiety as to the fearful results which must follow from them. The results of the last famine will show how little can be done by the Government in the matter, notwithstanding its liberal expenditure, without the co-operation of the people. Irrigation works will of course receive every attention from the Government, although, excepting the river channels, they are not of much use when the rains fail. As already explained the Government has it in contemplation to provide a complete system of Railways to facilitate the transport of food, and it is also intended to initiate under proper arrangements to prevent abuse, a system of advances to the ryots for the more extensive digging of wells in the taluks where there are springs in the soil, and as already remarked private efforts for the application of capital and machinery in the cultivation of land will receive every encouragement from the Government. But a great deal must be done by the people themselves to provide against these calamities. At the special request of His Highness the Maha Raja I exhort you and through you the rest of the people not to forget the important and, I may say, the sacred duty which devolves on every cultivator always to lay by sufficient provision of food for himself and his family for a year or two. The peculiar character of ragi, the food grain of this Province for which there is little demand elsewhere and which can endure keeping for years, affords great facility in this respect. There is also another matter which promises to ensure against the minor failures of rains at least, if carefully attended to by the ryots. Professional agriculturists have discovered the fact, which must indeed be obvious to all, that deep ploughing must enable the soil to retain greater moisture and to support the crops against failure of the rains for a longer interval than otherwise. The various conditions to be attended to in the matter must be settled by actual experience, but there can be no doubt that in the deep red and black dry soils in this Province deep ploughing must prove successful. Arrangements will be made for getting suitable ploughs made in the country itself at cheap rates and His Highness' Government trusts to your getting them into general use.

Some of the representative members then came forward to discuss various questions affecting the public interests, in regard to which they considered some improvement might be effected.

1. Mr. F. D. Meppen from the Kadur District represented that the want of a road for the Jagar Valley was much felt, and suggested that a cess on coffee pattas might be levied to provide funds for the making of roads required in the Coffee Districts. The Dewan replied that the question of the cess would be better discussed by the planters themselves in the first instance. The Government, as it is well known, have already expended large sums of money in opening out the Coffee taluks; several useful lines of road have already been made; and in regard to any further minor extensions required, the Government will be prepared in the event of the planters subscribing for these roads to contribute an equal sum. In regard to the Jagar Valley, it must be first determined what is the best and cheapest line of road to it, whether communication with Tarikere to which there may hereafter be a Railway, could not be established with greater advantage and at cheaper cost than with Chikmagalur across the high hill at Bababundan. When the line of road to be undertaken is determined and the cost carefully estimated, it may be settled how much of it is to be contributed by Government, what portion is to be collected from the planters and what further portion may be realized from the sale of waste lands in the valley.

2. Mr. Meppen asked whether the planters have right to cut timber trees situated on their estates for purposes other than their own use. It was explained that on the introduction of the acreage assessment, they will have complete right to all trees on their estates except sandal as in the case of all their lands brought under the survey settlement, and that the settling officers will arrange with the planters for the sale to them for a reasonable price to be paid at once or by instalments the Government right to all the valuable trees now existing on the estates.

3. With reference to Mr. Meppen's enquiry in regard to the tenure of grass lands under the permanent assessment, it was pointed out that the lands held on grass assessment cannot be considered to be held on permanent tenure which can be conceded only at the rate of Rs. 1—8—0 per acre, but there is no objection to holders of lands on permanent assessment retaining the grass lands situated in their estates under a separate grass assessment on the terms provided by the rules.

4. He then alluded to the great hardship occasioned to native planters by the clubbing of several estates in one survey field. The Dewan replied that he was alive to the inconvenience resulting from the existing system; whilst saving some labor at the time of the survey, it must be attended with greater cost eventually when the splitting up of the fields is hereafter forced on the Government; that a re-survey for such sub-division of the fields has become necessary in other parts of the Province, and the Deputy Commissioner of Kadur has been personally asked by him to see to the matter. Separate estates should on no account be clubbed together except when they are below the minimum area fixed by the revised rules of the survey.

5. Viratte Gauda of Chikmagalur, besides referring to some of the above points, dwelt on the hardship of the acreage assessment on the poor native estates, and suggested that 4 annas an acre might be levied for the first five years and the assessment raised gradually afterwards. The Dewan drew special attention to the great leniency with which coffee lands have already been treated in this matter, chiefly with the object of encouraging this important enterprize, and stated that whilst the arecanut garden holders in the neighbourhood are charged with an assessment ranging from 15 to 20 Rs. an acre in addition to a sayer duty on the arecanut produce, the coffee planters are called upon to pay only one rupee per acre with no additional sayer duty; that this assessment is lower than what is levied in British Coffee Districts; that large sums of money have been expended on roads and other improvements in Coffee Districts quite out of proportion to the revenue derived; that the poor condition of the native estates cultivated after the indigenous system engaged the special consideration of Government and that provision has been made in the rules for levying only half the assessment or 8 annas per acre for the first 5 years on such estates, and that lands which cannot pay this assessment would be better given up with advantage to the planters as well as to the Government. The fact is that the native ryots when the coffee industry commenced, put in the plants in their hittals or other lands, but did nothing further to them; and the trees yielded fairly in the first few years in the virgin soil, but from want of pruning or manuring have grown into tall stumps bearing no fruits. The planters should throw up such portions of their lands as they cannot profitably hold and retain only what they are able to cultivate, and in these they should at once begin to introduce Coorg plants which have been found so successful on the European estates in their neighbourhood. It is possible that the imported varieties might not last so long as the indigenous plants, but for the present, the great superiority of the Coorg plants as regards their yield admits of no doubt, and should they fail years hence, other remedies were sure to be found.

6. It having been represented that the original rules do not allow of relinquishments in estates under fifty acres in extant, the Dewan replied that this point was specially thought of, and in the instructions finally issued to the settling officers, relinquishments of portions of smaller estates but in compact blocks have also been authorized.

7. Syed Amir Alli Sahib of Manjarabad wished that even after the discontinuance of the halat or excise duty, the system of granting rahadaris for the transport of coffee produce should be continued to provide against coffee stealing. Abbanna Setti, a coffee planter and merchant in the same taluk, protested against this as a needless interference with trade and the proposition was dropped, the Dewan remarking that the owners of coffee estates like all others should arrange for the protection of their produce without seeking for restrictive regulations calculated to interfere with the rights of others.

8. The meeting was then adjourned for the next morning. It being found that several gentlemen talked on the same subject, it was arranged in order to save time that except where any one wished particularly to make a separate statement, the representatives from each District should nominate one or two of their body to set forth matters connected with their District.

9. The meeting was again held both in the morning and in the afternoon of the 8th October.

10. Hosabale Subba Rao of Sorab, Venkatramana Jois and Melagi Karibasaiya; of Tirthahalli, Munje Udaparu of Nagar, and Swami Rao of Channagiri, spoke for Shimoga; Tangale Seshappa for Kadur, Malle Gauda for Hassan, and Malur Rame Gauda for Kolar.

11. The heaviness of the wet assessment in the Malnad Maganis of the Sorab Taluk and of the wet and garden assessment in the Sagar Taluk as well as the great inconvenience resulting from the mixing up of wet, garden, and dry lands in the same field were first touched upon. The Dewan replied that the expediency of giving some relief to the assessment of the more heavily assessed gardens was alraedy under his consideration; that there might be also some foundation for the complaint of heavy assessment on wet lands in the Sagar Taluk and in the six Maganis of Sorab referred to as it had always been complained of; that the taluks were the first to be settled in the Shimoga District, when probably the Survey Department had not sufficient experience of their condition; that he would consult the Survey Superintendent on the subject; but that the revision of assessments once regularly fixed was attended with inconvenience, and he hoped that the concession recently sanctioned of levying only ½ assessment on wet fields laid waste might be found to afford relief; and that instructions have also been already issued in regard to any subdivision of fields required.

12. There was a general complaint both in these Districts as well as in the others in regard to the inconvenience occasioned in the erection and maintenance of earthen bands or boundary marks on wet lands instead of stones, and the Deputy Commissioner of Mysore who was present stated that the inconvenience was much felt in the lands situated under the Cauvery channels. The Dewan admitted the force of these objections and stated that the earthen bands took up a great deal of space in valuable wet lands and interfered with their cultivation needlessely, and that he would arrange with the Survey Superintendent for the substitution on wet and irrigated garden lands of stone posts as boundary marks to be maintained by the ryots concerned, subject to penalties in the event of their displacement; but that the earthen bands on dry lands might continue with advantage.

13. The oppressiveness of the hulbanni arrangements under which the village pastures were sold by competition to outsiders was also strongly urged by several of the representatives from all the Districts. The Dewan pointed out that the hulbanni rents had always existed in the Province, that it was the only means by which the Government could utilize the arable and unarable lands lying waste, and that the revenue derived which is considerable could not well be given up; but that arrangements would be made for securing the halbanni to the villagers themselves at fixed moderate rents, sales being resorted to only in the event of the villagers refusing to pay the same.

14. The propriety of giving out wet and garden lands lying waste on shraya or progressive rent was urged, and it was explained that such a measure had already been sanctioned in respect to garden lands abandoned during the famine, but that could not be extended as a general rule to all wet and garden lands without opening a door to abuse, and that there was really no occasion for it.

15. On its being urged that apprehensions of the assessment being raised on the expiry of the survey guarantee preculuded wet and other lands being brought under garden cultivation, the Dewan remarked that any such revision of assessment ought to be based on general considerations and ought not to bring under additional taxation the improvements effected by the expenditure of the royts' labor and money.

16. The strict levy of the assessment on dry lands in the Malnad which could only be cultivated once in 2 or 3 years being complained of, it was explained that, on this very account, the assessment was fixed so low that the payment for the waste could not bear with any hardship.

17. Other minor points relating to the land revenue settlement were also touched upon. The representatives from the Malnad Taluks of Shimoga complained that fines are leived on them for cultivating vegetables on the village site lands in their occupation and for building huts or houses on assessed lands for shelter for servants watching their gardens or paddy fields, and that they are also prohibited from digging trenches or putting up fences on the waste lands adjoining their gardens to keep out cattle and wild aninals. The Dewan admitted that there was some degree of needless interference in these matters and that the one rule which ought to suffice for all such cases was that the ryots should be at liberty to do what they liked so long as they paid the assessment on the lands appropriated by them as above, and in regard to the cultivation in village sites no assessment need perhaps be levid on the cultivation of vegetables in the back yards attached to one's house; but if unoccupied sites are owned by ryots and cultivated, it is only fair that they should pay the assessment on them as on other lands.

18. The ryots stated that they were precluded from taking up on assessment as above the waste fields adjoining their gardens and paddy fields as they are of extensive areas. The ryots of the Maidan Taluks of the Shimoga District likewise represented that their darkhasts for portions of waste fields have remained undisposed of for years owing to delay in getting the fields sub-divided, and that it would be convenient if these large waste fields were once for all sub-divided into fields of convenient sizes. The Dewan replied that with the uncertainty of these waste lands being taken up to any extent, the Government could not incur the expenditure necessary for their subdivision, involving the cost of erecting boundary marks and the still greater cost of maintaining them; but that District Officers could be instructed to give out the lands applied for in all such cases in areas of not less than the minimum size prescribed by the Revised Survey Rules pending their demarcation and assessment by the Survey Department.

19. The ryots of Manjerabad represented that vanti lands or waste lands adjoining their holdings which were brought under cultivation by them under the assurance of half assessment are now subjected to full assessment by the survey. It was explained to them that the object of the survey is to do away with all inequalities and anomalies which were permitted under the old system, and to bring all lands under an equal assessment with reference to their capabilities, and that therefore no exception could be made in regard to vanti lands.

20. The ryots holding lands under the Cauvery Channels complained of the levy of additional assessment on the excess found over the reputed area of their lands by the survey and that their lands could not bear any addition to the existing assessment. The Dewan replied that arrangements might perhaps be made for once for all revising the assessment by a final survey settlement without charging the excess in the meanwhile, as the existing assessment in several cases was probably fixed at higher rates in consideration of excess; but he is unable to admit that the lands under the Cauvery which possess such special advantages cannot bear an increase to existing assessment. They should in reason bear their proportion of the burden of taxation according to their capabilities.

21. The Kolar representatives complained of their kodigi inam lands having been subjected to half quit-rent, and were referred to orders already passed directing an enquiry into the matter. It was explained to them that the object of the enfranchisement of these kodigi inams was to release the inamdars from the obligation of keeping up the tanks in repair,—an obligation which they were generally unable or were not interested in fulfilling as the inamdars in most cases were in impoverished circumstances and owned but a small portion of the lands under the tanks. The measure was considered desirable both in the public interests as well as in the interests of the inamdars themselves to whom the inam lands are confirmed on ½ assesament. released from the costly obligation of keeping the tanks in repair. But there is no reason why the enfranchisement should be carried out compulsorily. Where the kodigidars prefer to retain their inams on the kodigi tenure subject to resumption in the event of their failing to keep the tanks in repair, they will be now allowed to do so.

22. The charging of quit-rent on devadayam inam lands was also complained of on the ground of its exposing the inam to the risk of resumption for failure to pay the quit-rent. It was pointed out that where the inam lands were held on good authority they were continued on the service tenure without any quit-rent which was only charged on inams held under insufficient authority. A list of the inams will be called for, but no promise of any alteration of the settlement in this respect can be held out. The villagers interested in the temples should arrange for the payment of the quit-rent as well as for the maintenance of temples which have no inam lands whatever.

23. The last subject touched upon by the Kolar ryots was the necessity of granting them remissions for failure of crops on their wet lands in the same manner as is done in the adjoining British Territories. The Dewan admitted that there was some ground for request in the Kolar District, where there are numerous tanks, more or less shallow with extensive lands under them, exposing them to failures of crops more than in other parts of the Province ; but that for remissions for failure of crops are open to great abuse and cannot therefore be authorized except in years of a general failure of crops, and that in ordinary years the rules lately sanctioned for giving a remission of half the assessment on wet lands laid waste ought to afford sufficient relief

24. The ryots both in this and in the neighbouring Districts complained of the losses sustained by them by the prohibition of the cultivation of poppy and the restrictions placed on the manufacture of earth-salt. The Dewan explained that these measures had to be resorted to in compliance with the wishes of the Government of India, that large revenue interests of the British Government were dependent on them, and that it was the duty of the Rulers as well as the subjects of his Province to give effect to the wishes of the Protecting Power in these matters, that relief will be afforded to the cultivators of poppy by the reduction of the high assessment on their lands and that greater facilities will be provided by means of railways for the transport of sea-salt to the remote parts of the Province, and that the manufactures of earth-salt within the belt of five miles of the frontiers in which the pans have been closed, should take to cultivation or other means of livelihood.

25. The increase of the number of khists or instalments for the payment of land revenue from 4 to 6 was suggested, but the Dewan objected to making any alteration in existing arrangements which were made after full consideration and have worked for many years without great inconvenience.

26. The Malnad ryots represented the annoyance occasioned to them in having to take out licenses from the Taluk Officers for cutting wood for agricultural implements and for firewood in the jungles ; and being prohibited from taking leaves for manure from the kans held by them on the ground that the separate lands attached to the gardens as soppin betta are alone to be used for the purpose, and by the system of giving out on contract the monopoly of drawing or selling bagani toddy which formerly they were allowed to draw at a small fixed rate of 4 annas per ghada or pot of toddy. In regard to the first point, the Dewan observed that any system of licenses for such essential things as the cutting of wood for agricultural implements and firewood cannot but prove an intolerable annoyance ; that he would enquire under what circumstances any such new arrangement has been made, but he must point out that there has been hitherto a very great abuse of the system under which timber was allowed to be cut by ryots extensively for cattle sheds on licenses obtained from the Village Patels ; that the best arrangements would be to reserve strictly all the larger jungles which are valuable to Government and to allot the smaller jungles to the villagers to supply their wants from and to be used by them without any restrictions save what they may themselves consider necessary for the proper preservation of the jungles, and that the extensive jungles in the Malnad admitted of such allotment being made on a liberal scale to the villagers. In regard to the kans, he remarked that their very use was to supply leaves for manure to the ryots, and that he saw no occasion for placing any restrictions in the matter save as regards the more valuable reserved trees, the leaves of which however are not of much use for purposes of manure.

27. With reference to the bagani toddy, he objected to concede any rights to the villagers, and stated that the revenue from toddy was one specially reserved by Government and that it is most successfully managed under the contract system in which no alterations can be made without prejudice to the Government revenue.

28. The ryots of the Malnad taluks also complained of the great restrictions which have been newly imposed on them in connection with the levy of the sayer on the arecanut involving frequent interference on the part of the Public Officers. Firstly by way of estimating the produce while on the trees, 2ndly in having it weighed in the presence of Public Officials, and 3rdly in requiring the purchasers to remove the produce within a fixed number days after purchase and by a fixed route. The Dewan observed that these arrangements might have been copied by the Deputy Commissioner from the practice in the Kadur District, where the rules in this matter have always been more strigent than in Shimoga, but that he himself was opposed to making the sayer tax which in itself was not desirable, a source of annoyance to the people, and promised to see that these restrictive arrangements are not carried beyond what is required for the levy of the duty without opening a door for fraud.

29. The sayer duty being complained of, it was pointed out that it had already been largely reduced and that the opening of Railway would increase the value of the produce and lighten the incidence of the duty. But in regard to gotu or bette or inferior portion of the arecanut produce, which subject had been discussed in the meeting held in March last he promised to make early arrangements for the levy of a lower rate of duty on it under special arrangements.

30. The Malnad ryots further objected to the arrangements recently newly made for the levy of aya or grain fees from them for the Village Talavars who rendered and can render no service to them as their houses and gardens are scattered and have to be watched and protected by their own paid servants. It was admitted that the circumstances of the Malnad, where there are no regular villages or groups of houses were in this respect different from those of the Maidan taluks, and it was promised to take into early consideration the possibility of making any alteration in the matter.

31. They also complaining of their being impressed to guard the Taluk Treasuries, an enquiry into the matter was promised, and it was remarked that it was probably a temporary arrangement made in consequency of the recent robbery of a taluk remittance.

32. The Municipal octroi was complained of in several Districts as interfering with trade, and it was explained that His Highness' Government was in no way favorably disposed towards the continuance of these duties, and that it rested with the several Municipalities themselves to vote their abolition.

33. The next subject which was urged by the representatives from several of the Districts was the neglected state of the tanks and the difficulty and delay in getting any repairs done to them, and the refusal of the Public Works Department to undertake the repairs of tanks the revenues from which are under Rs 100, and it was further represented by some of the representatives from Shimoga that even in the case of small tanks and ponds which they repair themselves, they are prohibited from carrying out the repairs without reference to the Public Works Officers. The Dewan replied that as already referred to in his address, the subject was under the consideration of His Highness' Government and that early arrangements would be made regarding it, and that he attached great importance to the villagers and to the taluk authorities on the spot being empowered to carry out the necessary repairs promptly and without needless references.

34. The irregularities in the distribution of water under the Cauvery and Hemavati channels were also complained of, and the transfer of the work to the Amildars was urged. The Dewan doubted whether the Amildars with their numerous other works could properly attend to it, and stated that it was necessary that these important channels should remain under the charge of Overseers who could attend to their repairs as well as to the distribution of water, but that it was the duty of the Amildars and the Deputy Commissioners to see that these officers duly attended to the wants of the ryots in the matter.

35. The representative from Ságar and Sorab urged the construction of additional roads in their taluks out of Local Funds when they said they would be prepared to form village cart-tracks connecting their villages with these roads, and a road from Tirthahalli either to Hariharpur or Koppa was also urged by the ryots of those taluks. It was replied that the Local Funds Boards had it in their power to determine upon what roads the District Funds should be expended, and that the Railways, which are the highways of communication, being undertaken by Government, all further roads required in the Districts will be eventually left to the Local Fund Boards.

36. Lastly, under the head of Judicial administration, the representatives from several of the Districts spoke strongly against the present system of conducting Civil proceedings in a foreign language which places the parties at the mercy of the Pleaders, and they urged that the proceedings of the Courts should be conducted and judgments delivered in the Vernacular language, that the compulsory employment of Pleaders has proved ruinous to them and that they should be allowed to appoint whom they liked to conduct their cases. The Dewan replied that His Highness' Government, as already referred to in his address, were desirous that the language of the Original Courts, viz., those of the Munsiffs and the Sub-Judges, should be Kanarese in order to make the people familiar with the proceedings held in these Courts; that Pleaders when enrolled with due regard to their status and character and properly controlled are a valuable adjunct to the administration of justice; that they cannot be altogether dispensed with as there must be some recognized and responsible men in all the Courts to conduct the cases of those who are not able to appear themselves; that the parties cannot be safely allowed to appoint any irresponsible persons they liked, but besides being allowed to appear in person, they may also with advantage be permitted to appoint any members of their family or near relations to conduct their cases for them, and if the lower Courts, viz., those of the Munsiffs and the Sub-Judges which are presided over by native Officers, instead of too closely following the practice of the superior Appellate Courts and depending on the Pleaders for the conduct of cases, would themselves ascertain the facts from the parties and their witnesses, the objections urged would to a great extent be obviated. The Chief Judge would be consulted as to what improvements could be effected in the matter.

37. They also urged strongly the great inconvenience occasioned by the present law of limitations which compels all suits for money to be brought before the courts within 3 years, thereby entailing ruinous costs on the parties, and suggested that the period of limitation for such cases may be fixed at 12 years as in former times. The Dewan admitted the force of their representations as three years appeared too short a time for the dilatory manner in which money transactions are ordinarily settled in this country especially in the rural districts, and promised to consult the Chief Judge in regard to the expediency of raising the period of limitation to 6 years.

38. A reduction of Court fees which amount at present to 7½ per cent on the value send for was also urged, and it was said in reply that the rate of fees which was the same as in British, Territories could not now be reduced, but that relief would be really afforded if arrangements could be made for dispensing with the 2nd appeal in Civil cases.

39. The contemplated establishment of arbitration tribunals of village headmen was also referred to and with reference to suggestions made by a few representatives that Amildars may be authorized to settle Civil cases, it was pointed out that this would be quite a retrograde measure; that the Amildars owing to their multifarious duties and to their coming in contact with the people in a variety of ways are not the best fitted officers to administer pure and impartial justice.

40. A representative from the Gundlupet Taluk of the Mysore District complained that agricultural laborers to whom large advance have been made by the ryots are taken away to the Wynad by the Wynad planters under processes issued under the Breach of Contract Act and that the same facilities should be extended to them for securing the services of laborers who have received advances from them It was replied that such legislation affecting the personal liberity of men especially of the poorer and ignorant classes must always be open to objection, and that any legislation on the subject would require the most careful consideration.

41. The Dewan finally wound up the proceedings of the Assembly by once more explaining in Kanarese, the principal points of his address and he especially dwelt on the importance and sacredness of the duty which the people owed to themselves in providing a safe-guard against famine by always laying in a stock of one or two years' supply of grain for themselves and their families, and also on the very great importance of their endeavouring by the application of capital, machinery and science, and by greater industry, to keep the produce always shead of the requirements of an increasing population. He referred as an instance to the fact how much could be accomplished if each and every family devoted their leisure hours to the planting of fruit and others productive trees on their lands. The uncertainty of tenure which in past time hung on the ryot and the system of living from hand to mouth which it occasioned, have hitherto proved a bar to all such improvements. In conclusion, he exhorted them to bear in mind the great object of promoting the public interests at large which is contemplated by this institution. If they looked to it for securing any personal advantages or obtaining any redress of personal grievances, they would be disappointed. Every year they may not hope to accomplish anything great at these meetings, but that ought not to keep them away from attending. The time of the Dasara festivities was fixed upon for the meeting to make the occasion doubly interesting to them, and should they fail to attended regularly, and keep up these meetings from year to year, they would be forfeiting an important privilege, which His Highness the Maha Raja has been so graciously please to confer on them. From the Lively and intelligent interest shown on this occasion, however, the Dewan saw no reason to apprehend such failure.

42. Tangali Seshappa and Syed Amir Ali Saib, on behalf the assembled representatives, expressed their deep sense of the obligation conferred on them and their high appreciation of the interest evinced by His Highness' Government in the welfare of the people; and begged that their most humble, lyal and greateful acknowledgments may be conveyed to His Highness the Maha Raja for the high previlege now for the first time in the history of the country conferred on them of annually assembling to hear and discuss the report on the affairs of the administration and all matters relaiting to the welfare of the people.

APPENDIX A.

No. 4394-4401—G. 120, DATED BANGALORE, 25TH AUGUST. 1881.

ORDER—His Highness the Maha Raja is desirous that the views and objects which his Government has in view in the measures adopted for the adminstration of the Province should be better known and appreciated by the people for whose benefit they are intended and he is of opinion that a beginning towards the attainment of this object may be made by an annual meeting of the representative landholders and merchants from all parts of the Province, before whom the Dewan will place the results of the past year's administration, and a programme of what is intended to be carried out in the coming year.

Such an arrangement, by bringing the people in immediate communication with the Government, would serve to remove from their minds any misapprehensions in regard to the views and action of the Government, and would convince them that the interests of the Government are identical with those of the people.

2. This annual meeting will be conveniently held at Mysore immediately after the close of the Dasara Festival, which occasion will offer an additional inducement to those invited to attend the meeting For the present, the Local Fund Boards of the several Districts will be asked to select from among themselves and others of the District the persons who are to be deputed to represent their respective Districts at the meeting. In order to represent the landed interests of all the Taluks, as well as the interests of trade, there should be sent one or two cultivating land-holder from each Taluk, possessed of general information and influence amongst the people, and 3 or 4 leading merchants for the District generally. A list of them should be sent beforehand to this office, in order to arrange for their accommodation at Mysore. They may be allowed a small sum from the Local Funds to meet the actual expenses of their travelling.

3. The attendance at the meeting is intended to be entirely voluntary. In making the selection therefore, the wishes and convenience of the persons invited should be consulted.

THE MYSORE ADMINISTRATION.

THE DEWAN'S ADDRESS TO THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE PEOPLE.

The following is the full text of the English address delivered by Mr. C. Ranga Charlu, C. I. E., Dewan of Mysore, at the annual meeting of the representative ryots and merchants of Mysore on the 26th October 1882 :—

"This is the second annual meeting of the representatives of the people before whom it will be my privilege to lay by command of His Highness the Maharaja, the important facts connected with the administration of the Province during the past year, and the measures proposed to be carried out in the year to come. It is gratifying to find that since His Highness the Maharaja initiated this popular measure, the Government of India have resolved upon a comprehensive scheme for extending self-government in local matters throughout the British Territories in India. Their Despatch of the 8th May, 1882, which contains their orders on the subject, may, from its earnestness of purpose, its liberal views, and far-seeing statesmanship, be truly regarded as introducing a new era in Indian Administration. The universal satisfaction with which it has been received throughout Southern India, and, I believe, in other parts of India also, is proof of the appreciation of the boon by the people, and refutes the assumption often made that they are not yet prepared for self-government. If the spread of any high degree of education among the great mass of the people were to be insisted upon as a sine qua non, we may have to wait for ever ; meanwhile every year under an autocratic system of Government will find the people less fit for representative institutions. The sprinkling of educated men who are sure to be found in these representative bodies will serve for all purposes of leading and guiding ; but what is required in the great body of the representatives is common sense and practical views, such as characterized your discussions on the occasion of our last meeting, and which are sure to be possessed by men of ordinary knowledge engaged in industrial and other useful occupations. The real education for self-government can only be acquired by the practical exercise of representative functions and responsibilities under the guidance, as observed by the Government of India, of officers possessed of administrative tact and directive energy, and evincing an earnest interest in the success of the experiment. The success in different parts of the country will vary, not so much according to the spread of English education, as according to the strength with which village communal ideas still subsist amongst the people. The defects which would require to be guarded against in the working of these representative bodies are a tendency to fall into apathy, and the growth of a factious spirit ; but these could be successfully overcome by the counsel and exhortations of the District officer evincing an earnest interest in the success of the measure. It cannot be too often impressed on the representatives that in the discharge of the important functions entrusted to them, they are expected to evince a true public spirit, and to be actuated by considerations not of any personal wants or grievances, or of even those of any particular caste or section of the community only, but by considerations of the interest of the public at large. It cannot, however, be concealed that the Government officers themselves require as much education in the matter as the less informed representatives of the people. And earnestness on their part to promote the public interest, not to mention considerations of personal distinction and importance, begets a desire to devise and carry out what appear to them useful works ; and this is not unnaturally followed by intolerance of difference of opinion or opposition from others. These have to give way to the higher qualities of a patient and watchful interest in the proceedings of others, which they must be content to guide and direct by advice and suggestions without any abatement of their earnestness to promote the public interests. District officers have to be strongly imbued with the idea that in municipal and other matters the public interests are better served by diffusing sound ideas on the subject amongst the people, and thereby inducing them to work out the results for themselves, than by the Government doing the work for them. Though the objects arrived at may not thereby be accomplished so promptly and successfully as by Government agency, the result will be enduring, and will have a spreading influence amongst the people, and will be less subject to those changes which often characterize the improvements initiated by public officers.

I have been led to this digression, not only because the question is of the greatest importance to all India, but the discussions which are taking place in the various Presidencies are of service to us in maturing our own schemes in connection with the subject. I have to confess that beyond initiating the larger measure of this representative assembly, we have not as yet done anything to improve the constitution of our Municipalities and Local Fund Boards. The subject has been delayed, partly owing to the heavy work which devolved on the Government in reorganizing the various departments of the administration, and partly from a desire to place the question before this assembly for consideration. When the general principles are decided upon, I assure you that no time will be lost in giving effect to them. That the question is attended with difficulties will be apparent from the divergent views entertained, not only by the several Local Governments and public officers consulted, but also by the native associations and native gentlemen who have as yet expressed their views. The discussions on the subject cannot be considered to have as yet closed, nor the Government measures to have assumed a definite and practical form. Even that distinguished exponent of native public opinion, the Poona Sarvajanik Sabha, have put forth some proposals which cannot be considered to be altogether free from objection. They urge that the District Local Fund Boards should be presided over by the Magistrate Collector of the District, not taking sufficient account of the farseeing objection raised to it by the Government of India, on the ground that the free expression of opinion by the Board is apt to be checked by the overshadowing influence of the District officer when he presides over its proceedings, and of the unseemly collision between him and the members of the Board which may arise when the latter are independent enough to express opinions not in accord with those of the President. The proceedings of the Board in the important matters of public interest which are to be entrusted to them will, doubtless, require the guidance and supervision of the District officer, but such control, as observed by the Government of India, will be better exercised from outside without any loss to his prestige. The Sarvajanik Sabha, in making the above suggestion, must have been influenced by the apprehension of a non-official Board not being able to manage the Local Fund Works without the active co-operation of the Collector. This only points to the necessity of a separation of functions which will be hereafter adverted to. The Sabha also urge a separate representation in the Board for the educated classes. This does not seem to me to be the proper view to be taken of the position of the educated classes in the country, who are expected to mingle with the general public on common ground, and endeavour to influence and guide them. Educational status, in the absence of property, may entitle a person to a vote along with others in the election of the members of the Board, but it cannot be desirable that the educated classes should seek a separate representation in the Board.

I now come to the proposals which I have to lay before you for our own Province. I must first point out that we have proceeded here upon lines somewhat different from those now proposed to be followed by the Government of India. We thought that a Representative Assembly, like the one in which we are now met, formed of the leading members of the District population, coming in direct communication with the Government, and discussing and exercising an influence on its administrative measures, would be a desirable preliminary to the strengthening of Representative Institutions in Municipalities and Districts. The representatives thus brought in direct communication with the Government will carry back with them to the Districts a higher status, and a higher tone and sense of responsibility to guide them and their fellow-members on the Municipal and Local Fund Boards, and to encourage them in the discharge of their duties under the varying influences of different District officers. Moreover, there seems no reason why the influence of public opinion should be confined to Municipal and Local Fund affairs, important as they are; and why it should not be brought to bear upon the various administrative measures of the Government in which the people are equally interested, such as the working of the Police, the Magistracy, the administration of justice, and the various branches of the Revenue Administration, and Financial, and all other matters, excepting those which political considerations may render it necessary to withhold from the public. The moderation and practical good sense which characterized your discussions on the occasion of our first meeting last year, and the several measures of useful and necessary reform which resulted from them, induce me to place a high value on the practical views of the people on matters immediately affecting their interests, as contrasted with mere theoretical ideas. I venture, therefore, to submit that the liberal measures in regard to self-government now inaugurated by the Government of India would be incomplete if the elective Municipal and Local Fund Boards created by them were not further utilized, whether by way of deputing a certain number of members to the Legislative Councils of the Local Governments, or in some other way, as the exponents of public opinion on public matters entitled to respectful consideration from Government.

In considering the constitution of Municipal and Local Fund Boards, it will be useful to have regard to the distinction between Administrative and Executive functions. Representative bodies are eminently fitted for the former, but they would labor under great disadvantages if charged with the executive work. In the smaller Municipalities with limited income and expenditure, there will not be difficulty in leaving the entire administration, both administrative and executive, to the Municipal Boards; but in large Municipalities, like those of Bangalore and Mysore, involving various important interests, with a large income, and requiring extensive establishments to administer Municipal affairs with efficiency, as well as in regard to Local Fund Boards whose works extend over wide areas, a separation of the administrative from executive functions will be necessary to ensure success. The former may be placed entirely in the hands of the Representative Boards, subject to the control of the Government, but the Government officers or other paid officers possessed of the requisite training and appointed or appointed, or approved by the Government, must continue to be largely employed in the executive portion of the work. As regards the collection of the Local Fund revenue, it must be a mere waste of money to employ separate agency for it, when an extensive Government agency spreading through the whole Province already exists for the collection of the Government revenue, and can continue to be at the sametime employed in the collection of the Local Fund revenue, with efficiency and without conflict of authority, whilst, as regards the execution of works, the existing Government agency will be found far more efficient than any whom the Local Fund Boards could separately employ. Considering that the Government are interested in the Local Fund Works equally with the people, there is no reason why the Government agency should not be continued to be employed on them so long as they are held responsible to the Local Fund Boards, as well as to the Government, for their work. Indeed, with the large salaries and prospects of promotion by regular grades, and of pensions commanded by the Government service it will be extremely difficult for the Local Fund Boards to provide themselves with a separate agency commanding equal status and sense of respectability, however otherwise desirable it might be. At all events, the existing Government agency should not be withdrawn until it could be gradually replaced by other equally efficient agency; but even where a separate agency could be employed, as in some of the larger Municipalities, it will be necessary that the controlling executive officers, in order to give them a better status and sense of responsibility, should be appointed by the Government, though with the consent of the Municipalities and Local Fund Boards concerned, being subject to removal or transfer, either at the instance of the Government, or of a large majority of the Board for sufficient reasons. The District officer would occupy the position of the immediate controller of the executive and of a referree, arbiter, and guide between the Boards and the Executive Officers.

As regards any objections on the score of this separation of work diminishing the importance, and consequently the interest of the members of the Board, I have only to observe that administrative functions comprise by far the most important part of other duties, and can be enlarged to any extent, according to requirements. They will comprise the determination of the taxes to be raised, their rates, the mode of collection, the remissions to be granted, and the hearing of any appeals in regard to these matters, the framing of the Budget of Receipts and Expenditure, the sanction of estimates for individual works, and even the manner of carrying out the works, inclusive of the disposal of contracts for them on competition, and generally the initiation and direction of all measures connected with the Department. These functions they could discharge at periodical meetings, and by means of Managing Committees appointed from amongst themselves without altogether taking away from their private occupations, they being paid their travelling and other expenses. If they were to undertake anything more, they or any managing members of their body would require to be converted into regular salaried officers, which cannot be desirable, as it would destroy the representative character of these Boards. The members will, for the first few years at least, be better trained for their responsibilities by thus confining themselves to administrative functions, free from the corrupting influences of executive work. And the arrangement will possess the great advantage of at once introducing a system of real self-government in local matters on a sure and safe footing with freedom for the future enlargement of their functions, so as to embrace executive work if they are found capable of taking it into their own hands hereafter.

Thus arranged, there can be no objection, and it will be proper that the whole of the members of the Municipal and Local Fund Boards should be elected by the people. In Municipalities, the number of members for each Mohalla or Division of the town being fixed, they will be elected by the votes of the house-owners and other resident in the division and paying Municipal taxes above a certain amount; and similarly, as regards the District Local Fund Boards, the number of members for each Taluk being fixed, they will be appointed by the votes of the land-holders in the Taluk paying Local cess above a certain amount; additional votes in both cases being allowed to those whose contributions to the Municipal and Local Fund revenues are large.

The Government may reserve to themselves the power of appointing, when considered necessary, two or three members, either from amongst their officers, or from non-official persons as the exponents of their views; but the system of Government appointing by nomination half or one-third of the entire number of members, seems uncalled for, and is objectionable, as it occasions invidious distinction in the status of the members, and weakens the moral effect of the elective system. The Government ought not to seek to secure a majority in the Board to carry out their views. It would suffice to reserve to it the power of overruling the proceedings of the Board, or of suspending their functions when they are found not to work satisfactorily. The various Departmental heads in the District or in the Municipal Towns will be at liberty to set forth their views to the Board, either in person at its meetings, or by letter, and the District officer may at any time call a meeting of the Board for the purpose; but they will have no voice in the proceedings of the meeting. The members of the Board should be allowed to appoint their Chairman or President either from amongst their number, or from outside, and should further have authority to appoint such Managing Committees from amongst their number for the conduct of the administrative work both at the District Head-Quarters and in the several Taluks.

As regards the work which would devolve on these Boards, what constitutes Municipal affairs is sufficiently understood, and its cost is defrayed from the revenues assigned to Municipalities which can hereafter be altered as required. The District Local Fund Boards may undertake the charge of all the Roads generally, (Government confining itself to the Railways,) of elementary Education, of minor Hospitals and Dispensaries, ferries, cattle-pounds, chuttrums and musafarkhanas, and such other local matters as may be entrusted to them hereafter, the cost being defrayed from the Local cesses and Ferry and Pound collections, aided by such contribution as the Government may be able to make from its general revenues. The conservancy of Tanks and Irrigation works, as well as of the Government buildings, will continue to be managed by the Government through the District officers.

It only remains to notice the nature and extent of the control to be reserved by the Government. All works above a certain amount will, as at present, require the previous sanction of the Government. The raising of loans, the levy of new taxes, the alienation of Municipal property, matters involving religious questions or affecting the public peace should, as indicated in the Despatch of the Government of India, be also referred for the orders and sanction of the Government; but the Boards should also be called upon to furnish to the District officer copies of all their proceedings, and their accounts; and the Government should, for the present at least, have the power to vote and set aside any proceedings of the Board. The power will, however, be exercised only by the Government, the District officer having simply authority to suspend any proceedings, pending a representation to the Government. Government should also be at liberty, in the event of continued neglect of duty on the part of the Board, or of its not working satisfactorily, to suspend the Board temporarily, and get its work done by other agency.

If the above principles meet with general approval they will be worked out in greater detail, and embodied in a regulation to be passed by the Government. And it is in contemplation to introduce simultaneously the equally desirable measure of constituting Benches of Magistrates, composed of non-officials, for the administration of criminal justice in petty matters in the larger towns.

Having taken up so much of your time with the above important question, I must be brief in my notice of the other subjects which I have to place before you.

The extensive reductions of establishments which had to be made to relieve the financial embarrassments of the Province, were referred to in last year's address. These reductions are still in progress, but will be shortly completed, when I shall be in a position to place before you the savings effected in a complete form. The further reductions which are proposed to be made are briefly as follows :—

The Taluks of Gudibanda, Sidlaghatta, Betmangala, Devanhalli, Koratagere, Budihal, Kankuppa, Lakvalli and Narsipur are to be abolished, placing Deputy Amildars, combining the functions of the Amildar and the Police Inspector, at the Head-Quarters of the abolished Taluks.

The two Districts of Chitaldroog and Hassan are also to be abolished. The former District, with the exception of the Davangere Taluk, to be transferred to Shimoga, will be added to the Tumkur District; but in reality will be administered by an Assistant Commissioner of ability and promise with almost independent powers, but unencumbered with the charge of a Treasury and Jail. It is hoped to secure by this arrangement even a more efficient administration than at present for the abolished Districts, whilst a considerable saving of establishment is effected. The four Taluks of the northern half of Hassan, viz. Manjarabad, Hassan, Belur and Arsikere, will be similarly placed under an independent Assistant Commissioner, and added on for purposes of accounts to the small District of Kadur. The four Taluks of the southern half, viz. Arkalgud, Channarayapatna, Nagamangala and Attikuppa, with the Mandya Taluk, will be similarly constituted, the charge of an Assistant Commissioner to be stationed at French Rocks and added to the Mysore District.

In the Judicial Department also, in which the number of Courts is quite out of proportion to the work to be done, some reductions are intended to be effected almost immediately. The Munsiffs' Courts at Chintamani, Closepet, Hunsur and Davangere will be abolished, adding their jurisdiction to other adjoining Munsiffs, who have not at present sufficient work.

The Sub-Judges' Courts of the two abolished Districts will necessarily be also abolished, and it is also proposed to abolish the Sub-Court at Kolar, adding its jurisdiction to the Sub-Court at Bangalore, which is very conveniently situated as regards several Taluks of the Kolar District. It is believed that hereafter another Sub-Court can also be done away with when Railway facilities are extended towards Kadur.

The three District Judges will remain for a time, lower paid Native officers being substituted for the remaining two European Judges, until they are absorbed in the High Court.

The three Judges of the High Court, in addition to their appellate functions, can easily undertake the Sessions work of the whole Province, the Sub-Judges in the remoter Districts being vested with Assistant Sessions Judges' powers.

It is in contemplation simultaneously to put an end to the present ruinous system of double appeals. From the Sub-Judges' Court there will be but one appeal to the High Court ; and in the case of suits instituted in Munsiffs' Courts, the appeals from which would lie to the Sub-Judge, a second appeal to the High Court would be allowed free of stamp duty where the Sub-Judge has reversed the decision of the Munsiff. If the Sub-Judge confirm the Munsiff's decision and if the losing party wishes to appeal to the High Court, he will be required to pay the stamp duty, which is not to be awarded against his opponent. The High Court in these cases are to be Judges of both fact and law, as the restriction of second appeals to questions of law leads to a considerable failure of justice, and deprives the suitors of the benefits of a judgment by a plurality of Judges of higher status based on equitable considerations embracing fact as well as law.

The above reductions, it is estimated, will effect an annual saving of about two lakhs of rupees. Additional savings are expected from the abolition of 5 out of 8 District Jails which at present contain but few prisoners; from the revision of the Anche Establishments which have been maintained on a needlessly extravagant scale; from the abolition of the establishments of the numerous travellers' bungalows in the Province which are scarcely used by European travellers; and also the feeding establishments at several of the chuttrums, in which there is great abuse, though the savings under this last head will be devoted to the improvement of the chuttrums so as to afford better accommodation to the larger numbers of native travellers.

The Medical and Public Works Departments remain to be re-organized as regards work, but not with the view of reductions, which have already been effected, and the Press arrangements have also to be revised.

The Railway to Mysore may be now regarded as in full working order, being pronounced by competent judges to be one of the best-made lines, notwithstanding the difficult gradients, which are unavoidable. The traffic of passengers during the present Dasara would have given you an opportunity of judging how immense a boon it is to the country. The Railway, which was estimated at 35½ lakhs, will have cost, when the accounts are adjusted and the few remaining buildings are completed, 43 lakhs, or about 50,000 rupees per mile. The increase regulated from the maintenance of the line during the first year chargeable to Capital having been left out in the original estimate; from an increased provision of Rolling Stock and engines; and from the bridges and other works having cost more than the estimate, contrary to the expectations of the Engineer-in-Chief. The Railway, nevertheless, cannot be regarded as a costly line. Under economical management it is already yielding a next return of 3 per cent on the capital outlay, notwithstanding that the goods traffic has not yet commenced to be carried to the great extent. The working expenses are kept within 50 per cent of the gross earnings. Calculating from the returns of the last three months, the coaching traffic may be expected to earn two lakhs per annum or about Rs. 50 per week per mile; and if the goods traffic soon commences to yield as much and the working expenses are kept below 50 per cent of the earnings, the Railway is certain to yield a net return of 5 per cent, notwithstanding its comparatively large Capital cost. The Railway has been constructed partly from current revenue and partly out of the comparatively large cash balances which had to be kept up to meet the demand for subsidy during months when the collections do not coming in. Under arrangements sanctioned by the Government of India, to receive the annual subsidy of 24½ lakhs in two equal instalments in January and March, the collection season, a smaller amount of cash balances is found sufficient to carry on the work of administration. The few remaining liabilities being adjusted in the present year out of the current revenue, the State from next year will own the Mysore Railway unencumbered by any debt, and adding two lakhs to the annual revenue from its earnings.

The wants of the Province in respect of the Railway were sketched in my last year's address; out of the lines therein mentioned, it is now proposed to undertake only the Railway from Bangalore to Tiptur, a distance of about 85 miles, for which purpose the raising of a loan of 20 lakhs was sanctioned by the Government of India. This loan, bearing 5 per cent interest, has been successfully floated, the tenders received averaging 99 per cent, the loan paper was selling at one per cent premium. Owing to restrictions placed by the Presidency Banks' Act, the Presidency Banks, with whom we negotiated for receiving tenders for the Loan and for payment of interest at all their Branches in India, were precluded from subscribing to the loan theinselves. The other Banks also kept aloof, but tenders from private

English and Native gentlemen were received from Madras, Calcutta, Bombay, Allahabad, Peshawar, Kurrachee, Ahmedabad and other places, to the extent of nearly one half of the Loan. But the most noticeable feature was the large amount subscribed in small sums by the ryots and merchants in the Shimoga, Kadur and Tumkur Districts, showing how much the Railway is appreciated by them. The line to Tiptur, it is expected, will be easier than the one to Mysore, with fewer and larger curves and easier gradients. At 40,000 per mile the line to Tiptur will cost 34 lakhs; so that we have to find, in addition to the amount of the loan, 14 lakhs from the current revenues for the completion of the work; but the advantages of the railway will not be sufficiently realized unless it were carried to Kadur, a further distance of about 40 miles, so as to open out the Coffee District of Kadur and the great arecanut mart of Birur and bring it into nearer communication with Shimoga. This we can accomplish gradually from current revenues if a further loan of 10 lakhs were allowed to be locally raised hereafter, leaving the further extension of the Railway to join the Hubli-Goa, and Bellary line for future consideration.

The Railway work up to Tumkur, exclusive of permanent way, was given out on contract on terms favorable to Government to local Native contractors of respectability, possessing adequate means, and a contract has also been entered into with an English firm for the supply of the permanent way materials on terms more favorable than were obtained for the Mysore Railway. It is intended to obtain the sleepers required from the local teak forests.

In undertaking these local Railways it was intended not only to meet the necessary and urgent wants of the people as regards facilities of communication, but also to train up Natives in the working of Railways and of the engines and machinery connected with them; and thereby also to diffuse the practice of handling machinery amongst the people. In this view, the Government had to congratulate itself in having secured native contractors to undertake the construction of the Tumkur Railway, as they will be thereby encouraged to undertake other lines hereafter.

Native Assistants have been provided to the Superintendents in the Locomotive, Engineering and Traffic Branches of the Railway, and arrangements are being made for placing a number of native young men of intelligence and good health and physique in the Locomotive Workshops to receive their training, so that hereafter a considerable portion of the working staff may be manned from them.

The proposed extension of the Mysore Railway towards the Wynaad to join the Western Coast has to be given up for the present, excepting a short extension to Nanjangud, a distance of 14 miles which will be useful both on account of the importance of the place and the facility which the Railway will afford for the conveyance of timber felled in the State Forests and floated down the Cauvery River. But a concession is about to be granted for a period of 10 years laying 100 miles of steam Tramway of 20 inches gauge on the existing roads towards Coorg and the Wynaad interfering with cart traffic. This, when completed, will afford all necessary facilities for traffic and will serve as feeders to the Mysore Railway until it could be extended in the above directions.

I have now to place before you the financial results of the last year's administration. They are as follows :—

The revenues amounted to 108½ lakhs of rupees, but they include a little more than a lakh derived from the Gold Mining leases, not, however, as the result of their working, but in the shape of deposits made for the leases, and by the commutation of the Royalty in one instance. The prospects of these mines are as yet uncertain, so that no receipts under this head can be calculated upon for future years. Leaving out this item, therefore, and 1½ lakhs of rupees the gross earnings of the Mysore Railway, the receipts from the ordinary revenues amount to 106 lakhs of rupees. The Land Revenue Settlements for the year show an increase of a lakh of rupees over the preceding year. It results from lands relinquished during the Famine having been, to a small extent, taken up again in the Tumkur and Bangalore Districts. There was also an increase of half a lakh from the substitution of the acreage assessments on coffee lands for the Halat duty, which was dwindling down to a very small figure. As an encouragement to the planters half the full assessment was authorized to be levied for the first 5 years in cases in which estates required to be worked up, so that at the end of the above period there will be a further increase of another half a lakh of rupees. Owing to the above considerate treatment, coffee lands which, it was said, would be largely thrown up, have not been relinquished to any considerable extent.

The working of the Sandal and other Forest resources has received every attention, and shows an increase of revenue under that head.

There was also a considerable increase in Abkari, owing to the gradual recovery of the Province from the effects of famine, and unfair combination having been guarded against in the giving out of the contracts.

There was also an increase of more than a lakh of rupees under Sayer in the receipts from arecanuts, which fell off considerably during the Famine.

The small variations under other heads of receipts call for no explanation.

The expenditure during the year amounted to 119 lakhs, of which 15 lakhs were incurred on account of the construction of the Mysore Railway, and 1 lakh on account of its working.

Deducting the above, and also the special item of 1½ lakhs of rupees incurred on account of the Installation charge, the ordinary annual expenditure amounts to only 101½ lakhs of rupees, inclusive of the administration charges of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore ; and with the further reduction of establishments about to be carried out as already referred to there can be no question as to an annual surplus of five lakhs being secured for railway purposes, and the net income from the Mysore Railway will be an addition.

I must now briefly notice how the several subjects brought forward by you during our last year's discussions have been disposed of by the Government. [Here the several subjects were noticed seriatim ; and the address was then concluded with the following :]

I cannot conclude this address without referring again to what I urged last year, the great importance of the development of the various industries in the Province, though owing to the heavy work of organization which devolved on the Government during the year, it has not been able to accomplish anything in this direction. The Association which was proposed for the promotion of Science and Industry has not yet been formed, but I assure you that no further time will be lost in organizing it. The Eurasian Association is now actively engaged in endeavouring to introduce industrial life amongst that important class of the population. His Highness' Government has made large grants of lands to the Association on favorable terms for a short period, in order that such members of the Eurasian community as may be in want of other occupation may find a home and the means of pursuing agricultural industry. The experiment is attended with difficulties, as these classes have hitherto looked down upon labor as beneath them, but should the patriotic efforts made by the more enlightened members amongst them be crowned with the success they deserve, it will have an important bearing on the general agriculture and industry of the country, as the improvements of foreign agriculture are likely to be readily adopted by them, and when tried by them practically and successfully, will be soon taken up by the Native population around.

A Woollen Manufactory on a small scale has been established in Bangalore by private agency. The establishment of a Cotton Mill and of a Paper manufactory, improvements in the cultivation of wheat and cotton and in the breeding of sheep for wool are all yet in the stage of incubation ; but they are all unimportant compared with the great addition which could be made to the wealth of the Province by the extension of the Silk Industry. The soil and climate of the Province are eminently suited for the cultivation of mulberry and the rearing of silk worms, and if France and Italy and other European countries could annually produce some crores of rupees worth of silk, there is no reason why, by proper attention to the subject, the silk industry in the Province should not annually yield 10 lakhs of rupees or more. The subject is already engaging the attention of some practical Englishmen. The Government is prepared to accord every support and encouragement for the advancement of the industry, though it does not consider it proper to embark on the enterprize on its own account.

I must, however, again repeat that whatever Government or any few outsiders can do must be small compared with what the great mass of the population engaged in industrial pursuits could accomplish in their several occupations when stirred up by a desire for advancement. When all the world around is making marvellous progress, the 200 millions of people in the country cannot much longer continue in their long sleep, simply following the traditions of their ancestors of 2,000 years ago, and earning a miserable subsistence, ready to be crushed on the first occurrence of a famine or other calamity. Steam began to be utilized in Europe as a motive power in manufactures only at the beginning of the present century. India then used to export cloths to England. Now England, notwithstanding a severe competition from the other countries of Europe and America, supplies the greater portion of the world with cloths and other manufactures. These are not the fruits of any large individual discoveries which alone can attract the attention of the official mind, but the result of numerous industrial men devoting their intelligence to effect small discoveries and improvements from day to day in their several occupations which in their aggregate produce such marvellous wealth and general prosperity.

What then may not be accomplished if the large population in this country once entered on a similar career of progress. The one great problem to be solved by Indian statesmen is how the people could be roused from the crushing influence of officialdom and stirred up to industrial enterprize and progress, His Highness' Government is most anxious to do what lies in its humble power in this direction ; but now that a new era of representative institutions and self-government is commencing to infuse new life into the nation, the Government must look to you, as the representatives of the people, to spread these ideas amongst them, and rouse them to a sense of their true interest and importance.

Proceedings of the Assembly of the Representative Ryots and Merchants from all Taluks of the Province of Mysore held at Mysore on the 13th October 1883.

The third Annual Meeting of the Representative ryots and merchants of Mysore was held in accordance with previous notice on the 13th October 1883 at 3 in the afternoon, the Dewan K. Sheshadri Iyer, Esq., presiding. There were present Mr. Lyall, the British Resident at the Court of Mysore, the Councillors to His Highness the Maharaja, the Chief Judge, the Consulting Engineer and other chief officers of the Mysore State. The number of representatives present was 154, vide Appendix.

1. The Dewan rose and read the following English address containing a review of the financial condition of Mysore and of the important administrative and legislative measures which were engaging the consideration of Government.

GENTLEMEN,—It devolves on me, to lay before you, by command of His Highness the Maharaja, at this the third Annual Assembly of the Representatives of the people, a brief statement of the proceedings of the Government during the past year, together with a short summary of what is being done in the current year. I wish most sincerely that the task had continued in the hands of the eminent statesman who addressed you on the last occasion. I am sure you have missed his genial presence during the festivities which have just closed, and I need hardly add that you will doubly feel in this hall to-day the void which he has left. It may, however, be some small satisfaction to you to be assured that the present policy of His Highness Government is, in the main, based on the lines so ably chalked out by him in many of his public speeches both here and elsewhere; and I have no doubt that the great example which he has set us in his unwearied solicitude for the welfare of the people will long continue to encourage us in the discharge of our onerous public duties.

2. Last year attention was invited to the important subject of self-government in local matters, and a scheme for such a form of Government was sketched out to you, with a promise of its further elaboration and early introduction into the Province. I shall not occupy your time by a repetition of the grounds on which the late Dewan felt sure of the advantages and eventual success of that form of Government. It will suffice to say that His Highness' Government has had no reason to change that opinion, and I have accordingly, with the sanction of the Maharaja, drafted a regulation for the administration of the Local and Irrigation Funds by Local Boards, which, with a Statement of Objects and Reasons, has already been published in the Government Gazette. This Bill, and the opinions of the chief officers of the State regarding it, will hereafter be discussed in the Council, and I commend it to your earnest study, and hope to receive your views which will be most carefully considered by the Government. I shall not stop to go over all the provisions of the Bill, as a pretty exhaustive abstract of it is given in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, and its provisions have already been so fully explained to you during the past week. I must, however, draw your attention to a few points of importance on which there have been great differences of opinion. The Bill, you will observe, assumes the Taluk or the existing sub-division of a Taluk to be the unit of area for which a Local Board is to be constituted. Apprehensions are felt in some quarters as to the possibility of constituting efficient Local Boards for such small areas; but it is well known that one chief cause of the inefficiency of the present District Committees lies in the fact that their members do not possess the requisite local interest and local knowledge, and it is evident therefore, that, if the system is to have a fair trial, the beginning must be made with Taluk

Boards. The Government are convinced that, by careful selection in the first instance, a tolerably efficient Board can be constituted for each Taluk, and they propose not to overwhelm such Boards with work beyond their capacity, but to restrict their functions, in the first instance, to such matters as they already feel an interest in, such as elementary education, medical and other local charitable institutions, local plantations, water-supply, &c.

3. The next question of importance relates to the constitution of these Boards. The Bill provides for the due preponderance of the non-official element in them, but leaves it to Government whether to appoint the non-official members by selection from the rate-payers, or allow them to be elected by the rate-payers themselves. It also provides for either an official or an elected President. This course, let me assure you, has been most advisedly adopted in the public interest, in order to prevent failures and collapse which it is our great anxiety to avoid. Village communities have not yet recovered from the severe blow which, owing to political causes, they sustained early in the century; and administrative activities have to be revived and nurtured after a long period of disuse under an autocratic Government. Under such circumstances, it is not surprising to find the greater part of the Province unprepared at present for the elective system. I have therefore stated, in the Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying the Bill, that the non-official members of the Taluk Boards should be appointed by Government at the first starting, the scheme of election fully provided for in the Bill being held in abeyance to be introduced at such time and under such limitations as the Government, after experience, may judge fit. How soon the elective system can be extended to any particular Taluk Board will depend upon the appreciation of its labours by the people interested; for, without such appreciation, it will not be advisable to resort to election in any case. The non-official members of the District Board, which is to be constituted for each District or sub-division of a District, will, however, all be delegates from the Taluk Boards, and it will at first be under the presidency of the District or Sub-division Officer as the case may be. These arrangements are eminently calculated to ensure success, as the Presidents in both District and Taluk Boards will bring to bear on their work their great experience of the country and its people; while the complete jurisdiction which the Boards will enjoy in the administration of their funds, and in the appointments and dismissals of their officials, will nullify any attempt on the part of the official Presidents at undue exercise of their influence in the deliberations of the Boards. The Government itself will carefully watch any small beginnings of local political life which may appear in various parts of the Province, and, with its gradual growth, withdraw the official element from the Boards.

4. One of the charges of Taluk Boards will be elementary education. I cannot lay too much stress on this most important subject. The Hobli schools have certainly proved not an adequate medium for the wide spread of elementary education. They are wanting in that popular element in their constitution and direction which alone can give them success, and I have therefore provided that the Local Boards, assisted by Village Boards, where practicable, will take entire charge of these schools, manage them with the definite funds that will be placed at their disposal, appointing and dismissing the masters at their own discretion, the Government interference being limited purely to the prescribing of the proper standard of education in them, and to providing the Boards with a good and competent staff of Inspectors. Thus organized, the Hobli schools will have all the elements necessary for their success and great usefulness.

5. Next in importance to education is the establishment of Hospitals and Dispensaries wherever the Boards may deem them required, and the formation of a body of travelling dispensers of medicine at times of cholera and other epidemics will come under their jurisdiction, and similarly, also institutions of charity, such as Chattrams and Dharmasalas. The Bill does not specifically provide for the transfer of all Government Muzarayi institutions to the Board's management, but there is provision under which this transfer can be made whenever the step is likely to be attended with advantage. I am myself of the opinion that charitable institutions, especially the feeding chattrams, would fare better under the Board's management than they now do under that of Government, and I do hope that under them the long standing complaint of mismanagement and peculation against these institutions will soon cease, and that the large Muzarayi expenditure under this head will be economically and usefully incurred.

6. It is proposed to entrust works of irrigation, such as tank repairs, to the District Local Boards, and as the majority of the members will belong to classes having large interests in agriculture in all parts of the District, it is hoped that all important tanks throughout the District will receive their due share of attention. In the matter of the execution of these and other works, the Boards will be given the benefit of the trained agency at the disposal of the Goverment, though the power of initiating works and supervising their execution will largely be in their own hands.

7. You will thus see that the Boards will possess extensive jurisdiction and great power for doing good work, having at their command the cordial help and co-operation of Government officers in every Department. Their eventual succes will, of course, depend mainly upon themselves, upon their disinterested zeal and earnest study of the true interests of the public; and it is hoped that the day is not far off when we shall be able to speak of the Local Boards of Mysore with satisfaction and pride.

8. I shall now call your attention to the second Bill called the "Revenue Code Bill," also published in the Mysore Government Gazette. When it passes the Council and receives the approval of His Highness the Maharaja, the Province will, I trust, have a very valuable Code, setting at rest many important differences of opinion, and removing most of the difficulties and defects which now obstruct and mar our Revenue administration. The Bill is based mostly on the Bombay Revenue Code for the evident reason that our Survey settlement is based entirely on the Bombay system, and the provisions of the Bombay Survey Acts, now in force in Mysore, are proposed to be repealed in the Bill, which incorporates those enactments. The Bill is a pretty large one, not larger certainly than the importance of the subject would require, and I invite your opinion on it. Some of the chief subjects codified are the relation of land-lord and tenant, the rights of Government in land, and their mining rights which of late have acquired a certain amount of value, and the forest rights of the Government and occupants, upon all of which points, you will agree with me, there is at present neither a definite regulation nor a uniform practice. Nor is the Government satisfied with the present rules for the recovery of its revenue. Such rules as now exist have been so frequently varied by executive orders that precedents might be quoted on almost any side of a case, thus involving the public, and sometimes the Revenue Officers themselves, in useless litigation at great expense and delay. The rules on the subject have been now simplified, and you will find that while, on the one hand, adequate provision is made for the due collection of the public revenue, on the other, private rights of property are most carefully protected.

9. Chapter VII deserves your special study. It deals with the rights and obligations of Inamdars and their tenants. Such tenants as pay a rent assessed at the authorized rates of Government land revenue are declared to have the rights of occupants of Government land. Other tenants are allowed to acquire a right of occupancy by 12 years' continuous cultivation otherwise than under a written lease for a fixed term. It will thus be seen that a very simple solution is attempted of this much vexed question which is attracting just now such great public attention elsewhere. Such rules in the Bill are, however in strict accordance with existing usage. Tenants are protected from the capricious enhancement of rent by inamdars, and the grounds upon which, and the mode in which, rent is enhanceable, are definitely laid down. Provision is made for inamdars granting written leases and for obtaining counter parts of them from their tenants; they are required to keep the necessary village accounts and registers and deposit copies of them with the Deputy Commissioner; for, without such records, the ascertainment of the rights of tenants is a matter of very great difficulty. Where written leases have been executed, the inamdars are enabled to recover their rent through the Revenue authorities as if it were a demand for Government land revenue.

10. Another important addition to the existing law is contained in Chapter XIV which refers to the jurisdiction of Civil Courts in revenue matters. At present there is no law on this subject, and the Civil Courts are held to have jurisdiction on almost any revenue matter. The bill deals with this subject with great caution, for it excludes from the jurisdiction of Civil Courts only such matters as have immediate reference to the appointment, dismissal and remuneration of village servants, to the assessment and realization of the Government revenue, nd to the protection of tenant rights.

11. The remaining provisions of the Bill are all important, but separate consideration of them here would occupy much time. I would therefore only request you to study the Bill carefully with the view of commenting on its provisions when we meet to-morrow.

12. A Municipal Regulation has also been drafted, and I expect to be able to publish it for general information next week. The constitution of Municipal Boards throughout the Province will be very much on the principles of the Local Fund Regulation. A simplification of the sources of Municipal revenue has been attemped. It is proposed in the first instance to extend the elective system to the larger Municipalities at Bangalore and Mysore.

13. I must now lay before you the finanical results of the last year's administration. Excluding the Railway Loan, and the receipts from the Bangalore-Mysore Railway, the ordinary revenue during 1882—83 was Rs. 10,338,361 as follows :

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| Land Revenue | 70,21,777 |

15. It will thus be seen that there was at the end of the year a small surplus of Rs. 1,18,896. This, however, was only nominal, for, if the surplus revenue of the Assigned Tract (Rs. 1,81,757) be excluded from the calculation, there was what must be regarded a deficit of Rs. 62,861. This result is due partly to a falling off in receipts and partly to an increased expenditure. The decrease in income was about Rs. 3,44,000, and it is explained by the fact that the receipts for 1881-82 included certain items of an exceptional character, which cannot be regarded as normal sources of income. In that year, deposits for gold mining leases and redemption of royalty on one of them brought a revenue of nearly Rs. 1,17,000, and the stamps on such leases also contributed to a larger stamp revenue to the extent of about Rs. 29 000. Abkari receipts were swelled by the fact that the duty on previous years' excess sales amounting to Rs. 87,000, which had been held in deposit, was credited to the accounts in that year. These facts, as well as a decrease of about Rs. 1,11,000 in the Sayer receipts from arecanut in the Kadur and Shimoga Districts, fully account for the smaller income of the past year.

16. The land revenue, as in the previous year, stands at a little more than 70 lakhs, and shows no tendency to attain to the figure at which it stood before the Famine viz., 74 lakhs. The Abkari revenue, after declining to Rs. 7,80,000 in 1878 – 79, has gradully revived and now stands at its former figure of 12 lakhs; but the Stamp revenue is still backward by a lakh, and shows no tendency to revive. The Sayer revenue, which before the Famine stood at 6 lakhs, now stands at $3\frac{1}{2}$, and though it may slightly improve in more favorable seasons by about one lakh, it cannot, for many years to come, attain to the former figure of 6 lakhs. During the past year, the arecanut crops in the Malnad portions of the Province suffered severely from "Koleroga" brought on by an excessive rainfall. The produce was considerably below the average, but fortunately for the garden owners, the article sold at nearly treble the usual price, thus fully compensating them for a smaller crop.

17. You will see that, under these circumstances, it is not safe to calculate upon a normal income of more than 104 lakhs; but the revised Budget for the current year estimates the income at only 103½ lakhs ; because it is not anticipated that the Sayer collections on arecanut can be much above 3½ lakhs.

18. The ordinary expenditure during the past year was 102 lakhs, a lakh less than in the previous year. It includes some items of an exceptional nature amounting to over 3 lakhs, which are not likely to recur after the current year, such as the price of Amrut Mahal cattle paid to the Madras Government, the maintenance of Mysore convicts at Port Blair, &c so that our ordinary expenditure may safely be assumed to be well within 100 lakhs, if the outlay upon ordinary Public Work's be limited to 9½ lakhs as at present. Thus, it will be seen that, in ordinary years, not more than a sum of about 4 lakhs is likely to be available from the current revenue for expenditure upon Railway extension, or other important work of famine protection. But a sum of more then one lakh is not expected to be available for this purpose next year out of current year's revenue, for the revised Budget provides for a total expenditure of about 102½ lakhs including a sum of over 2½ lakhs on account of the few exceptional items already referrred to, and the income is also expected to be half a lakh below the average as before explained.

19. The new Department of Amrut Mahal was formed last year. Of the 2¼ lakhs of rupees which had to be paid as the price of the Amrut Mahal cattle taken over from the Madras Government Rs. 1¼ lakhs have already been paid and the remainder will be paid in the current year. The working of the Department now costs about Rs. 44,000, while the receipts are estimated to amount to about Rs. 35,000 only. But under the earnest superintendence of its present head, this Department will soon be thoroughly organized in every detail, and it will then commence to yield some return for the extensive lands devoted for grazing purposes, as well as confer upon the Province important indirect advantages.

20. You are aware that considerable reductions in establishments were carried out during the past year. Their full effect can appear only in the accounts of the current year, but it is estimated that the reductions carried out last year must produce a saving of about Rs. 1,60,000 per annum in the Revenue, Judicial and Postal Departments. During the current year, all District Jails, except those at Bangalore, Shimoga and Mysore, were abolished, with a probable saving of about Rs. 8,000 per annum. The Headquarters establishments at Bangalore and the chuttrum and traveller's bungalow establishments remain to be revised, but much saving is not expected from these sources.

21. The formation of a High Court with three Judges is still inabeyance, but I hope to be able to carry it out at the beginning of next year. The measure involves an extra expenditure of Rs. 35,000 per annum. This however, will be fully met by savings to be effected by a still further reduction in the number of civil courts. The District Court at Bangalore and two of the there Subordinate Judges' Courts now existing may all be abolished on the formation of the High Court. Since the recent increase of the Munsiff's jurisdiction to Rs. 1,000. the work of the District and Subordinate Courts has very greatly decreased. Upon the formation of the High Court, therefore, arrangements could easily be made for one of the Judges of the High Court by turns doing the work of the Head quarters' Civil District. A Subordinate Judge's Court for this District will be retained and the two others abolished. It may be possible to transfer it to Bangalore without inconvenience to the public, after the opening of the Railway to Tumkur. In the two other Civil Districts, the District Courts will be able to dispose of all cases above the Munsiff's jurisdiction.

22. The measures above indicated will complete the revision of Civil establishments. It commenced in 1878—79 and now shows a net annual saving of 8 lakhs of rupees.

23. The Village establishments, however, remain to be revised, not with the object of effecting any immediate reduction in the remuneration now paid to them, but for the purpose of improving their status and of avoiding in the future a needless heavy expenditure. The Survey and Settlement abolishes the levy of mirasi by Shanbhogs and Pattels, and fixes their renumeration on a liberal scale. It is not desirable to alter this scale, but the renumeration according to it must be paid now before the Government, which will give it such support as had before been promised to the projectors on account of the proposed Paper Mill.

35. The silk industry is showing signs of a steady revival, and arrangements are in progress for the importation and distribution of suitable descriptions of silkworm. To persons desiring to start this industry on a large scale, Government will be prepared to grant the lands required for mulberry cultivation on favourable assessment for a term of years.

36. Experiments are also being made with the view of importing some specimens of wild silk from Assam and elsewhere. As far as we are now able to judge, one specimen imported from Assam namely, the Eria silkworm (Attacus Ricini) which is reared upon the leaves of the castor-oil plant so extensively grown in the Province, appears to be peculiarly suited to our purpose. It is a hardy species, and the produce is considerable. Specimens of it will be exhibited to you before you leave Mysore.

37. It now only remains for me to add that, of the several important matters discussed in this Assembly last year, such of them as involve questions of principle have been disposed of in the Land Revenue Bill already referred to. On others requiring information as to local details, such as the revival of Kumri cultivation and the reduction of garden assessment, the opinions of local officers supported by facts and figures, have been obtained, and we are now in a position to discuss them when we meet to-morrow.

38. Before concluding, Gentlemen, it is my pleasing duty, by command of His Highness the Maharaja, to congratulate you, as the representatives of the people, upon the cheerful agricultural prospects of the year, which, after a period of intense suspense and anxiety, have now happily revived with the recent fall of rain throughout the Province.

3. A free Canarese translation of the address read by the Secretary to the Dewan in the Revenue and General Departments, closed the proceedings of the day. The Dewan then adjourned the meeting to the following day, 14th idem, for general discussion.

4. The representatives accordingly assembled and those from the Bangalore District opened the discussion by drawing the attention of the Dewan to the heavy Famine debt of nearly a crore of rupees due to the British Government. Information was demanded as to the measures proposed by the Maharaja's Government for payment of this debt and whether any taxation was under contemplation, such as a general land custom or a general house tax. The Dewan replied that he was glad to state for the information of the Meeting that it was not the intention of the Maharaja to increase the resources of the country by additional taxation, that His Highness felt that his subjects were already sufficiently taxed and that there was no need for additional taxation for the purpose of paying off this Famine debt, as the British Government had most considerately reduced the interest on this debt from 5 to 4 per cent per annum. Mysore however is to continue to pay 4 lakhs per annum and out of this amount a portion will be towards the interest on the debt at 4 per cent and the remainder will be applied towards the reduction of the principal. Under this arrangement the whole debt will be extinguished in about 41 years when the annual payments will cease. The State is now well able to pay 4 lakhs per annum on account of this debt, and he trusted that the detailed figures of receipts and expenditure of the State revenue given in his yesterday's address would confirm his view.

5. The next subject brought up was the inconvenience the public experienced in the entire withdrawal of all Civil jurisdiction from Amildars. It was contended that these officers knew the Taluk people well and very often had the means of ascertaining the true state of facts connected with a case; that their decisions in consequence were more likely to be just and satisfactory than those of pure Civil courts, not only to the parties concerned, but to the whole of the village community to which the parties belonged, and that very often the influence of a good Amildar had great effect in settling matters by a happy compromise. The representatives did not think the Amildars were overworked and that the addition of Civil work would be to the detriment of the efficient general administration of the Taluk. It was also urged that the great distance of Munsiffs' Courts from many places was an additional inconvenience.

The Dewan observed that the inconvenience of distance was to some extent a reasonable objection against the present scheme and that it was fully the intention of His Highness' Government to reduce the inconvenience of distance to the lowest possible minimum as regards cases of small values; but that the remedy sought would not be found by investing the Amildars with Civil jurisdiction as this would be taking a retrograde step, the present policy of a sound administration being to separate entirely the Judicial functions from those of Revenue and Executive. The Dewan said that it was believed and rightly so, that too great a contact between a ryot and the Amildar, which for administrative purposes must undoubtedly exist and was of immense advantage, would be a serious drawback to a healthy and irreproachable exercise of judicial powers, and that the training and the surroundings of an Amildar were not those of a Judge but directly the opposite. The remedy was to be found in the formation of Village Panchayat Courts, the introduction of which the Dewan said would be duly considered by Government. He felt no doubt himself that most parts of the Province were ripe for such courts and that it would not be difficult to group together into a circle a number of villages whose cases of small value might be entrusted for disposal to a body of half a dozen intelligent men of those villages.

The representives were satisfied with this proposition and begged the Dewan for early introduction of these courts.

6. The subject of remitting half assessment on wet lands was then discussed and almost all the Districts joined in the discussion. The existing rule, it was stated, prescribed that, when wet lands were laid waste, half the assessment should be remitted; the concession, however, was when instead of wet crops a dry crop was raised or when the wet crop was a failure from want of adequate or timely supply of water. It was complained that this was harsh and not equitable especially in the case of ryots who had done their best by cultivating the land and failed to raise the crop from failure of water, while those who had done nothing and left their land waste secured half remission in their liability.

The Dewan in reply doubted very much the justice or reasonableness of the order sanctioning the half remission on wet lands; it was opposed by the Survey Superintendent and some of the Deputy Commissioners, and the Dewan was certain that the indulgence in most of the recently surveyed Taluks, indeed he might say in all surveyed Taluks, was uncalled for as the rates were fixed after full consideration and discussion with reference to the means of irrigation of each Taluk. He was however reluctant to withdraw it altogether and would give the subject further consideration; but he was of opinion that the indulgence should be restricted as much as possible, confining it perhaps to whole tracts of wet lands under a tank or channel which by its breach or totally inadequate receipt of water failed to furnish the necessary irrigation to its atchkat. Cases of individuals for either loss of crop or for land left waste, while the great majority of land-holders around have secured a fair crop, ought not to be considered. The Dewan observed there was nothing harsh in this view as it was only just that people should not be allowed to retain land for nothing which they could not cultivate either from want of means or culpable indifference. He hoped the representatives would feel the importance of Government keeping a strict watch over its land revenue in a country where the revenue is chiefly from land.

7. The next subject discussed was the important one of remunerating the Shanbhogs and Patels on which the opinion of the Government was announced in the Dewan's address (Vide para 23). It was stated that the Government was not satisfied on more grounds than one, that the principle of remunerating these Village officers in cash was sound and it proposed to grant them land in inam equal in value to the money remuneration, the land being partly from the village arable waste and partly from the kandayam holding of the official concerned. With reference to this proposal the representatives enquired what the Government intended to do in villages where there was little or no arable waste; and whether the lands so reclaimed from waste were inalienable from office, and whether in cases in which the officials were dismissed the service, the dismissed Shanbhogs or Patels were entitled to any compensation from the new officer for improvements.

The Dewan fully recognized the force of the enquiry and replied that all the points had engaged the study of the Government, and the rules which would be finally adopted would meet all the points raised by the representatives; he said that as a rule the officer should select his land from the arable waste of the village of which he was either the Shanbhog or the Patel, but the selection might in exceptional cases where really necessary extend also to the neighbouring villages. As regards the waste reclaimed, this should undoubtedly go with the office, the new officer entering on possession on the dismissal of the delinquent Shanbhog or Patel: in this respect there was not much difference, the Dewan said, between the existing practice in unsurveyed taluks and the course proposed, for on the dismissal of the village officer at present, his service inam, which perhaps was in the possession and enjoyment of the family from generation to generation, passed from it to the family of the newly appointed, and this, the Dewan hoped, would be, as it should, one of the strongest motives for honest and intelligent discharge of duties by these important officials. He hoped that this arrangement would, in the long run, prove productive of much benefit to the Government as well as to the people generally.

8. The prohibition against the State repairing small tanks was a matter of general grievance urged by the representatives of all the Districts. The present rule strictly lays down that tanks with an atchkat of Rs. 100 and less should be given up to the ryot and he should keep it in repair, the State contributing nothing towards it. The Dewan recognized the hardship of the rule and said that he was all along against this restriction, and he hoped soon to be able to withdraw it. He however pointed out the extreme improbability for some years to come at all events of the State's ability in a financial point of view, to undertake the task. Mysore, he observed, was an essentially a tank-fed country, and the number of important tanks, both serial as well as others, whose repairs were most urgently called for, was numerous and required the earliest attention of Government. But he hoped the claim of smaller tanks would not be forgotten. He would however, he said, be prepared to receive and consider applications from private capitalists for repairs of such tanks.

9. In connection with this best subject, the representatives urged the hardship of demanding contributions from ryots for repairs of tanks, while taxes were collected from them for the express purpose of repairing and keeping them up. The Dewan admitted the fairness of the complaint and declared that the orders would be cancelled at once.

10. The request for increasing the number of instalments for the payment of land revenue was again repeated, and the Dewan observed that the subject had been discussed in the first Meeting of the representatives, when the late Dewan fully pointed out to them the inadvisability of making any change in the existing arrangements, which showed no difficulty in collecting the revenue. It was admitted that the khist of December was a little premature as the ryots in that month could not sell their produce for meeting the demand, but this difficulty would not call for increase in the instalments but doing away with that falling in December, reducing thus the number of khists from four to three. The Dewan however thought it might be feasible to spread the khists over the four months from January to April; he promised to consider the question when the finances of the Province should improve.

11. The excessively high scale fixed for remunerating the minor village officials was again urged on the attention of the Government, and the representatives denied the necessity for these officials. The Dewan replied that the subject was under consideration; he hoped, however, that no objection would be raised to the principle of remuneration, as the Totis and Talaris of a village, when properly looked after and strictly supervised, formed an important body of responsible Police officials in a village necessary for its security.

12. Some of the ryots from Kunigal complained that the practice of leasing out the Amrut Mahal kavals to the influential Servegars of the Department to the prejudice of the ryots was becoming a standing grievance and that the Servegars thereby wielded an enormous power over the villagers. The Dewan replied that he was aware of this grievance and it had drawn his attention in Tumkur and he would, in consultation with the Amrut Mahal Officer devise some better system. He thought it would meet all the necessities of the case if a fair rent were fixed on the kavals, and the villagers offered the refusal of them before granting them to the Servegars. He however thought that cases which required such interference were few and that Deputy Commissioners would be able to settle them satisfactorily to all the parties concerned.

13. The right of inamdars to séndi and to exemption from irrigation cess on tanks in their inam villages whose up-keep rested entirely on them, was next touched upon, and the Dewan decided that in the case of séndi where distinct mention was made in the sannad that this item of revenue was granted in gift and where in virtue of such gift the item has been enjoyed uninterruptedly. the right to séndi would be recognized. He thought this would be found satisfactory. As regards the exception from the irrigation cess, he agreed with the inamdars that the cess was an unjust taxation and promised he would adopt early measures for its abolition.

14. The merchants of Bangalore and Nagar brought to notice again the great disadvantages of the provisions in the Civil Procedure Code regarding insolvents, and the provision in the Limitation Act fixing the small period of three years for institution of suits for money. They stated that the subject was discussed in the first Assembly and in the second and that the late Dewan had promised to revise the provisions after consulting the Chief Judge. The merchants begged the relief might be granted in the interests both of creditors and debtors. The Dewan replied that he was not sure he would be able to alter the existing law on the subject very materially, but promised to give every consideration to their request; the questions involved were important and demand careful study and watching of the working of the Law in neighbouring Provinces.

15. The Bangalore representatives here closed their discussion and Shimoga came forward. Their first observations were against the garden assessment in the Sagar Taluk; they had, they said, made this complaint in the very first Dasara Assembly and so far succeeded in convincing the Government on that occasion that the President promised to consult the Survey Department with a view of affording them some relief. Mr. Rungacharlu admitted that the rates were high in some parts and the fact was due to want of experience of Malnad tracts on the part of the Survey Department. The representatives requested the Dewan to take up the subject for early decision, and stated that the garden cultivation was fast deteriorating owing to the prohibitive rates.

The Dewan observed in reply that he was not of the opinion that the rates were prohibitive as was alleged, that in most instances the rates compared favorably for the cultivator with those which prevailed in the years previous to settlement, and that it was not true that the garden cultivation was deteriorating in general. He had, he said, given the subject most careful attention and obtained ample information from all parts from officials and non-officials who had very good opportunities of judging accurately on the subject, and he was convinced that the complaint as a general complaint against the settlement, was frivolous, but that there might be individual cases of hardship which could not be avoided in the application of a general scheme. He promised however to inspect the gardens of Sagar, and collect more information regarding their assessment during his tour in December and grant adequate relief, if relief, indeed, was wanted.

16. The grievance against Forest Rules was the chief point urged by the Malnad members; they properly stated that the rules on the subject prevailing in the Maidan Taluks were most inappropriate in the Malnad, and the attempt to treat both these essentially different kinds of countries as identical, produced the greatest possible hardship; they contended that the Malnad wet and garden lands were worth everything or nothing in proportion that they had a good jungle tract (kán) to depend upon for their manure, that the leaves of trees were absolutely necessary as manure and prohibition against cutting leaves was practically prohibition of cultivation. The Dewan admitted the force of the representations and wished to know in what way their right to cut leaves in the kâns was restricted. The members, explained that the Deputy Commissioners' circulars had prevented all access to the jungles. The Dewan stated that he had received numerous complaints against these circulars and that he would early consider the necessity of withdrawing them. In the meantime he permitted their cutting leaves in their kâns as was their wont, the only restrictions being that the sandal, teak and bitè trees should be excluded and not touched for any purpose whatever without special permission.

17. Restriction against taking wood for agricultural purposes was another grievance in connection with the forest rules: the members complained that while hitherto there was the greatest facility for obtaining such wood, the Deputy Commissioner's circulars had now prescribed an elaborate procedure of taking out licenses which, besides causing considerable delay, has put great power in the hands of petty officials.

The Dewan replied that questions connected with forests were not of easy solution; that while it was important to secure the interests of the State on the one hand, it was equally imperative that the conveniences of ryots should not be unnecessarily sacrificed; that power to cut, granted without sufficient check on reckless and over-felling, very often injured the forests, inflicting heavy loss on Government and the people; while the adoption of ordinary and needed precautions on the part of Government was resented by the ryot as encroachment on his ancient privileges. The Dewan wished to point out to the members that the so-called forest privileges were unique in Mysore and that in this respect the Mysore ryot in British India, notably that of Bombay, where not a single stick could be had from the jungle without payment, and the restriction was undoubtedly wise as the supply in the forests was limited and free gift of timber led to habits of extravagance and thence to gradual denudation of forests. This fear of denudation in Mysore however might be too early to be entertained just now, but it ought to be kept in view, and the Dewan therefore was of opinion that in the interests of the public a certain precautionary measure was needed, though he would admit that the procedure adopted by the Shimoga Deputy Commissioner was too elaborate to be of real value. The Dewan promised to bear the subject in mind and provide for it in the Forest Regulation under consideration.

18. The members brought to notice that the Deputy Commissioner of Shimoga had laid certain restrictions against ryots' felling trees standing on their holdings which had been given them under the Survey guarantee. The Dewan said that the restrictions were most illegal and would be withdrawn at once. The members having represented that fines had been collected from occupants for not heeding the restrictions, the Dewan promised to call for a report and refund the fines if the facts were as represented.

19. The supari-growing members urged again the fairness of reducing the rate of sayer on gotu or bette supari which is very inferior. They said the late Dewan had promised to lower the rates, but nothing had been done. It was replied that the subject would receive consideration during the Dewan's tour through the Malnad. In connection with Sayer the members repeated their strong objection against the orders of the Shimoga Deputy Commisioner in connection with the levy of sayer duty on supari · the irksome and useless procedure began with the estimating of produce while on the trees, then it was weighed in the presence of petty sayer officials when the produce was ripe and cut; it was weighed again at the time of sale, the owner accounting for difference if any in the two weights; and lastly the purchaser was bound to remove the supari within a fixed time and by a fixed route. The Dewan admitted the annoying nature of these restrictions and would limit them to the actual requirements of the protection of the revenue.

20. Permission for kumri cultivation was sought by the members from Nagar. The Dewan replied that, while it was impossible to revive in general this most questionable kind of cultivation which had the most injurious effect on jungles, he would not oppose its adoption in the extreme western parts of Nagar or similar tracts in other Taluks under certain defined conditions. He would confine it to areas that were formerly kumri tracts, and to new sites which by their closeness to villages and their thick jungles are sources of danger to the people from either fire or or wild beasts; these might be granted on an easy assessment, the Deputy Commissioners and Amildars being held strictly responsible for unauthorized extension of this cultivation. The Dewan promised to consider the subject more fully.

21. Attention was drawn by the members to some of the circular orders of the Shimoga Deputy Commissioner which subjected the ryots and Patels and Shanbhogs to intolerable nuisance. The purport of them was as follows:—

(1). That Ryots should not dig drainage channels around their gardens, on the waste land lying outside their gardens.

(2). That no houses should be built near the edge of their gardens on such waste.

(3). That Shanbhogs and Patels should keep certain accounts and diaries which the Government has not authorized them to keep.

As regards the drainage channels the Dewan observed the prohibition was most injudicious, and the Malnad garden owners like these in the Malabar and Canara Districts had enjoyed this privilege from time immemorial and it had become almost an easement and that the privilege was absolutely necessary for the up-keep of the garden. The Dewan was surprised therefore at the issue of the order complained against and he would direct the Deputy Commissioner to withdraw it. Similarly as regards houses which were seldom intended as houses for the permanent dwelling of the garden proprietor, they were often sheds for cattle, or a cooly or two, and occupied but small areas of unculturable waste, a very small nominal price perhaps might suffice to vindicate the rights of the State to the land in question. The Dewan said that with this view he would put himself in communication with the Deputy Commissioner and issue orders permitting the construction of these houses under certain conditions.

With reference to the numerous accounts, &c., prescribed by the Deputy Commissioner to be kept by the Patels and Shanbhogs, the Dewan regretted that he had reason to believe there were only too many grounds for just complaint He had received numerous appeals from Shimoga against orders of dismissals of these Village officers for disobedience of orders, which ought not to have been issued without the previous sanction of Government. The Dewan promised to examine these matters in person during his tour and remedy the evils brought to notice.

22. The members recommended the propriety of giving out on progressive rent garden and wet lands that had been abandoned in the famine and subsequent years, and urged that the concession now granted of four years' progressive rent beginning with a fourth in the first year, might be extended to 12 years in cases of supari gardens on the ground that four years' time was barely enough to make the property yield any thing commensurate to the heavy assessment. The Dewan replied that the case was deserving of every consideration, but that instead of fixing a definite period for all cases he would decide each application on the individual merits of the garden with reference to the number of young and old trees standing on it at the time of application, the shraya period running from 4 years to 12 or 15 if exceptional cases needed this indulgence. He was prepared to receive such applications and grant them on the lines above sketched out.

23. The members of Nagar and Tirthahalli brought to notice the importance of a good road between the two places and requested that early measures might be adopted for its construction. The Dewan assured them that the estimates were under consideration, and a road would be early taken in hand.

24. In view to prevent fabrication of false documents, some of the representatives urged upon the attention of Government the advisability of legislating that Stamp Vendors should invariably sell the stamps to the real purchaser on his written application and afert obtaining his signature in the Vendors' books. The Dewan pointed out to them the inconvenience which such a rigid procedure would involve and remarked that fabrication of false documents would not be less by reason of such a precaution as generally the victims of such documents were ignorant men unable to read and write whose mark, very often a single stroke and but occasionally a " Srikàra," was so easily imitated and forged He saw no use therefore in legislating in the manner proposed.

25. In reply to the suggestion that the occupants should not be allowed to resign their holdings in favor of others till the consent to such resignation or knowledge of it by the occupants' hissedars was certified to by the Shanbhog, the Dewan observed that the Survey Acts and the proposed Revenue Code sufficiently provide on this point and that further restriction would interfere materially with free powers of alienation without which the value of landed property would be considerably decreased.

26. The last point urged by Shimoga was with reference to the order in the Police Department calling on villagers to watch by turns in the Police Station of the village; this order it was said was peculiarly inapplicable in the Malnad where houses scattered about did not form a compact village, and where a house very often was a village by itself: in such instances the withdrawal of a male from the house was felt a hardship. The Dewan thought there was force in the argument and promised to consider the subject and confine the application of the rule to large villages only where the houses formed a compact whole village.

27. The members from Kolar recommended that the old batayi cultivation might be revived in Taluks where, owing to famine or want of means in the agricultural population, large tracts of country consisting of good arable land were waste. The Dewan reminded them of the malpractices which were inseparable from such a tenure and which resulted in heavy loss to Government. He strongly objected to the revival of this system which as a rule was opposed to the interests of the industrious ryot, the idle and careless man alone advocating it. The Dewan moreover doubted the fact that such large tracts of good arable land were lying waste and would be cultivated if batayi were permitted.

28. The next subject touched upon was the settlement of the Chickballapur Taluk, which the Chickballapur member considered as very high.

The Dewan explained to them that far from being high the settlement was in fact a loss to Government, that the net revenue to Government was less after settlement than it was before, and that the Taluk had exceptionally good advantages in its superior soil, its good roads, markets and climate. He was surprised to hear therefore that the settlement was high; it was most carefully worked out, and the Dewan fully approved of it.

29. The complaint against selling land when more than one application is put in for it by different individuals was pressed with some force not only by the Kolar members but by all present. It was contended that it excited unhealthy rivalry and often deprived the first darkhastadar of the fruits of his trouble in selecting the land and obtaining all the information about it. The Dewan replied that he was not quite certain that the rule worked a hardship in every case, that such rival applications would as a matter of fact be confined to really valuable lands in which case he failed to see why the Government should not derive as much benefit from it as possible, and that the existence of unhealthy rivalry or factious feeling in stray cases should not be a sufficient argument for cancelling the existing order. He was however prepared to consider individual cases on the report of the Revenue Officers and set aside the usual procedure on sufficient grounds being put forward for the adoption of such a course. He declined to cancel the order till further advised on the subject.

30. The Goribidnur members brought to notice the great want of firewood for the sugar boiling industry. The Dewan promised to consider favorably any proposal which after consulting the Deputy Commissioner they might submit for his decision.

31. The Kolar members having finished their discussion, they took leave of the Dewan to go back to their places, regretting that they could not stay longer on account of private emergent work which compelled their early return home. The Tumkur members continued the discussion. The Koratagere member complained that the order of Government directing the sub-division of large numbers was not given effect to in that Taluk properly, that a few numbers were sub-divided but the work was by no means completed. The Dewan replied that it was a subject which should be disposed of by local authorities and directed the member to the Deputy Commissioner who was bound to carry out the Government order satisfactorily.

32. The second complaint was a general one, and from the whole Province; it was against the rule which governed the "hulbanni" or grazing on the Government waste in a village; the existing practice which is in force for many years directed the annual sale of the right to graze to the highest bidder who of course might not be one of the villagers but any one that offered the highest bid. He thus held the villagers at his mercy who, compelled from want of other pasture lands, to send their cattle on to the Government waste, paid the fee which the purchaser most arbitrarily fixed for each head of cattle, and the rates were often prohibitive.

The Dewan said that the complaint was not without foundation but regretted that it was beyond thorough remedy; Government, he explained, always reserved the hulbanni as one of the sources of its revenue and it could not afford to give it up. To remedy the defect of the existing system, it was proposed by some of the Revenue Officers to fix the hulbanni of the village at a figure with reference to the sale realizations of the previous five or ten years and collect the amount of that figure from the whole village as part of land assessment, distributing that sum among the ryots. Another proposal was to impose a small tax upon each head of cattle which a ryot might own. The obvious objection against this arrangement would be the yearly examination and enumeration of the cattle held by each ryot: this work would naturally be entrusted to the Shanbhog and Patel on whose accuracy and fair dealing would depend the liability of each ryot, and the Dewan was not certain that he could safely rely on them. He trusted much to the discretion of the Revenue Officers who have power to exclude from bidding in the sale, men whose object was solely to annoy the ryots. The Dewan added that he saw no objection why the Government should not interfere in securing a reasonable rate per head of cattle, thus preventing the purchaser from exacting high prices: this interference of course should in the Dewan's opinion be discreet and previously provided for in the sale notices.

33. It was brought to notice that there was a practice in Tumkur of selling yearly the leaves of honge trees standing on Government land; the leaves were largely used for manure and the monopoly of collecting them was annually sold to the great inconvenience of poorer ryots. The Dewan said he was not aware of this practice and that it was not authorized by His Highness' Government. He directed its immediate abolition.

34. Some minor points were discussed, such as the location of the Tumkur Munsiffs' Court at Kibbanhalli to bring the court nearer the Budihal Taluk litigants; the inefficient state of the Vaccine Department in the Tumkur District, and the collection of irrigation cess on gardens irrigated by private wells and private tanks. The Dewan said in reference to the 1st point that the present station of Tumkur was selected after full consideration and that its transfer to Kibbanhalli would be a source of great inconvenience to the large majority of clients; for the Budihal part on the contrary gave in comparison but few suits in the year. As regards the Vaccine Department, he promised to communicate the complaint to the Head of that Department who would no doubt adopt early measures for its improvement. The third and last point, the Dewan said he could not pronounce an opinion upon without fuller information. Such cases should, he said, be brought up with all details, when he promised to give them his best consideration.

35. The Kadur representatives addressed the Dewan on the want of a good road from Chikmagalur to Bababuddan; the Dewan sanctioned it and said the necessary estimates would soon be framed.

36. As regards the new coffee pattas, the members requested that the pattas might be issued to all estates without distinction; this was urged in reference to the report that the government intended giving pattas only to estates of large extent which have come under permanent settlement. The Dewan assured them that no such distinction was under contemplation, and that all coffee lands would be given a title deed with the exception of small hittals and gardens of say 20 acres and below, for which the Dewan was of opinion the usual receipt book issued to kandayam ryots was sufficient. The members expressed their satisfaction with this arrangement.

37. The formation of a telegraph station at Chicamagalur was urged, and the Dewan replied that the necessity for it had not yet arisen. He thought the subject was worth consideration when the Railway reached Birur.

38. The next request of the members was worthy of consideration: it was that the proceedings of the Government in all its departments might be published in the Government Gazette. The Dewan thoroughly approved of the idea, but said the publication would be limited only to proceedings of general interest and circulars in the nature of revenue rulings.

39. The introduction of a system for insuring postal packets was advocated and likewise rules defining the remuneration to Apothecaries and Medical Subordinates for private practice. The Dewan replied that the latter subject was engaging the attention of the Government and a fair scale would be published after the organization of the Provincial Medical Department. As regards the system of insurance, the Dewan said he was not certain that the absence of it was much felt in Mysore, valuable parcels being as a rule very rare. He would, however, put himself in communication with the Anche Bakshi and collect information on the subject and decide on it.

40. The great work of restoration of the Patnagere anicut was next discussed, and the Dewan said that the Public Works Department would be soon engaged in discussing the project.

41. An alteration was suggested in the Darkhast rules; the member wished that the authorities might be permitted to receive the applications from November as this would in some instances permit the applicants gathering a crop before the end of the official year. The Dewan saw no objection to the alteration but would consult the Deputy Commissioners on the subject before sanctioning the change.

42. In the Judicial branch the members requested legislation against gambling, which they said was gradually but steadily increasing in Chikamagalur and other big towns in the District; they also noticed the want of a fixed scale for remunerating Pleaders in small causes: on both points the Dewan promised early consideration.

43. The last point urged was the recommendation that courts might in fairness remit half court costs in all cases of admission; the Dewan pointed out that the only result of this procedure would be that all ex parte cases would be admitted cases, inflicting heavy loss upon the plaintiffs. He said that courts however had the discretion to remit portion of costs in certain cases, and if the discretion were rightly used individual cases of real hardship would fairly be relieved.

44. The Hassan ryots and merchants stood up next, and the first point to which they drew attention was the absence of all uniformity in the weights and measures in use in that Sub-Division. The Dewan replied that the inconvenience was not confined to Hassan, but to the whole Province; indeed he said he might add that the inconvenience was not unknown in British India. He pointed out the difficulty of the subject and the danger of hasty regulation, and said that the correspondence on the subject found in his office extended over upwards of seven or eight years. He was of opinion, however, that the necessity for immediate action was not evident and the point might be reserved for future discussion and decision.

45. The coffee planters then requested information as to their rights over trees in their estates. The Dewan replied that the future coffee pattas would early and definitely settle the point.

46. Some of the Hassan Pleaders who were also representatives complained that the transfer of appeal jurisdiction from the Mysore Sessions' Court to that of Shimoga was a source of great trouble and expense to the clients and requested that the old state of things might be restored. They also pointed out the inconvenience of sending the civil prisoners to Shimoga and suggested their being kept in the Taluk Lock-ups, and finally they recommended that the Munsiffs might be invested with jurisdiction under the Insolvency Chapter of the Civil Procedure Code. The Dewan promised to consider all these points.

47. It being late the Meeting was adjourned to the following afternoon at 3, when the representatives again assembled for further discussion. Those of Chitaldroog being called, they represented that they had nothing specially to urge on behalf of their District, the general subjects of interest having been discussed by the representatives of the other Districts.

48. The Mysore members then came forward and the first subject they drew attention to was the want of building sites in the Mysore Town and the absence of fixed rates per square foot of building site. The Dewan replied that building sites within the present town limits were undoubtedly scarce, but that there was plenty of room for extension on all sides; as regards fixed rates, the Dewan was of opinion that they were not wanted and that public sale of eligible building sites was the best possible arrangement in large Municipalities like Mysore. He deprecated the principle of selling the sites at fixed upset prices.

49. The next subject discussed was the irregular water supply to wet fields under the channels. The ryots complained that they were absolutely at the mercy of the lower officials of the Channel Department and that complaints against them were resented by the Heads of the Department as personal insults. The result was extremely disappointing and the members appealed to the Revenue authorities in confirmation of the truthfulness of their complaints. The Dewan regretted that such should be the case and he apprehended that due allowance being made for some exaggeration on the part of the ryots, there was a substratum of truth in the charge, and he trusted to the earnest efforts of both the Revenue and Public Works Department for removing all causes of complaint. The Dewan said that it was under contemplation to place the establishment charged with the distribution of water under the Amildar.

50. The Hulbanni sales were again referred to, and the Dewan said that he had nothing more to add to what he had already observed on it.

51. The want of mutual reciprocity in the execution of warrants under the Breach of Contract Act, between Mysore and British India, was discussed with much earnestness, the members begging that a representation might be made to the Government of India urging upon it the necessity of executing Mysore warrants in British India. The Dewan admitted that in this respect Mysore was at some disadvantage and hoped that it might be early removed, and the Government of India would be pleased to grant the relief which Mysore needed.

52. The erection of earth bándhs on wet lands was again in this year deprecated on the grounds that the bàndhs took up too much land, were expensive, gave shelter to rats and required constant repairs. The Dewan in reply informed them of the orders already passed on the subject directing the substitution of stones, provided the stones used were of the standard sizes prescribed by the Survey rules; it was pointed out at the same time that the stones would prove more expensive in the long run and liable to be more easily tampered with than earth bàndhs.

53. The Arkálgud ryots and merchants applied for a Treasury at that station urging that the place was a busy mercantile one and the absence of ready resources for exchange of currency notes was seriously felt; the ryots also added that great difficulties were experienced in the payment of kandayám which had to be carried to a great distance. The Dewan replied that the subject had been throughly discussed two years back when the Taluk-head quarters were removed from Arkalgud to Narsipur and it was too late and inadvisable to re-open the settlement. He however added that the difficulties expressed were considerably exaggerated, and Arkalgud was not worse off than many another place of greater commercial importance.

54. To the request for a Police Station at Hanagód, the Dewan said that it it would be considered, and if the requirements of the place necessarily needed this protective measure, it would be sanctioned.

55. The last subject discussed was the exclusion of Date leaves from the toddy contract and leaving them free for the poor cooly classes who manufacture baskets and mats out of them. The Dewan quite approved of the suggestion and declared that this small item of revenue would be given up; he knew that the contractors were charging heavily for the use of the leaves and he quite concurred in the recommendation, and promised to exclude Date leaves from future Toddy contracts.

56. The Dewan then wound up the proceedings by saying a few words to the assembled Representatives in regard to the great importance of their representative character and functions. He begged they would rapidly educate themselves in the science of administration, thoroughly familiarizing themselves with all the wants of the people whom they had the honor of representing in the Assembly. He earnestly hoped that they would subordinate their own interests to those of the public and assist the Government in the difficult work of administration by bringing forward all real grievances and helping to remove them. He thanked them for their cheerful attendance and the intelligent interest with which they conducted the discussions.

57. The Representatives in return thanked the Dewan for his very considerate treatment of them and prayed that their grateful thanks might be conveyed to His Highness the Maharaja for the important privileges which His Highness had so graciously and condescendingly bestowed upon them, of representing to His Highness' Government in an annual assembly like this, the views and wishes of his humble and faithful subjects.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE ASSEMBLY OF REPRESENTATIVE RYOTS AND MERCHANTS FROM ALL TALUKS OF THE PROVINCE OF MYSORE, HELD AT MYSORE ON THE 1st OCTOBER 1884.

The fourth Annual Meeting of the Assembly of Representative ryots and merchants from various parts of the Province was held at Mysore on the 1st October 1884. The Dewan K. Sheshadri Iyer, Esq., presided. There were present:—the Assistant to the Resident, the Councillors to His Highness the Maharaja, the Chief Judge, the Consulting Engineer, and other chief officers of the Mysore State. The number of representatives present was 183, vide Appendix.

2 The Dewan read the following English address containing a review of the past year's administration :—

GENTLEMEN—By desire of His Highness the Maharaja, I place before you to-day the financial statements for the past year. Excluding the receipts from the State Railway, the ordinary revenue during 1883—84 was Rs. 1,06,35,179 as follows :—

The surplus at the close of the year was Rs. 4,96,066 including the surplus revenue of the Assigned Tract, Rs. 1,64,534. This result may be accepted as satisfactory, being a very considerable improvement upon the figures for the previous year when the surplus was only Rs. 1,18,896. This is due almost exclusively to the increased land revenue realized during the year. The actual collections under this head were Rs. 73,34,476 against Rs. 70,21,777 in 1882—83, showing an increase of Rs. 3,12,699. About one-half of this increase was due to the larger collection of past years' arrears, and the other half to the increased land revenue demand which occurred chiefly in the taluks comprised within the present Districts of Mysore and Kadur, and which was attributable to extended cultivation following on successive favorable seasons.

Akbari, Forests, and stamps yielded very nearly the same amount in both years; while Sayer, an important item of revenue in former years, which stood before the Famine at 6 lakhs, and went down to 3½ lakhs in 1882—83, has decreased still further, and yielded in the past year only Rs. 2,83,426. This marked fall was due to the prevalence of koleroga disease among the areca trees of the Malnad.

The ordinary expenditure during the past year was Rs. 1,01,39,513 or about a lakh less than in the previous year. It includes items of an exceptional nature, amounting to about 2 lakhs, which are not likely to recur in future years, such as the price paid to the Madras Government for Amrut Mahal cattle, Rs. 1,00,000; obsolete and mutilated copper coins, Rs. 70,053, &c. The normal expenditure may therefore be assumed to be about 99½ lakhs.

The most remarkable decrease of expenditure was under "Law and Justice including Jails." There was a decrease of Rs. 28,587 in the cost of the Civil and Sessions Courts owing to the appointment of 2 Native in lieu of European Judges, of Rs. 41,968 by the abolition of 5 Sub-Judges' Courts, and of Rs. 13,487 by the reduction of 4 Munsiffs' Courts, making a total decrease of Rs. 84,042. Under "Jails" the cost of rations was less by about Rs. 12,424, and the charges on account of Mysore convicts at Port Blair by Rs. 1,02,378. This accounts for the total decrease of about 2 lakhs under "Law and Justice including Jails."

The new Department of Amrut Mahal was nearly self-supporting if we exclude the lakh of rupees paid to the Madras Government as the price of the Amrut Mahal cattle.

The reductions of establishments in all Departments have nearly been completed, and a High Court with 3 Judges has been formed as promised in my address to you last year. The increased cost on account of this Court has been met by the abolition of the District Court at Bangalore and of the Subordinate Judges' Courts at Mysore and Chikmagalur.

The revision of village establishments by the substitution of service inam lands for cash payments from the Treasury is still under discussion owing to some differences of opinion in regard to the advantages of the proposed measure. The subject is one of great importance, and the Government will be glad to have your opinion on it.

You will observe from the foregoing remarks that the normal income of the past year, after excluding items of an extraordinary nature, such as the $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakh of arrears of land revenue, $\frac{1}{4}$ lakh, sale proceeds of obsolete copper coins, &c., was about $104\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs, against a normal expenditure of $99\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs. The expenditure is likely to remain at the same figure for some years to come, but the maintenance of the income at $104\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs is entirely dependent upon the permanence of the improvement in the land revenue which took place last year, and upon our getting not less than $4\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs from the sale of sandalwood.

The foregoing figures include the revenue and expenditure of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore. The revenue amounted to Rs. 3,32,325, and the expenditure to Rs. 1,67,791, leaving a surplus of Rs. 1,64,534. Under orders from the Government of India, the Revenue Administration of the Civil and Military Station was transferred to the Resident on 1st April 1884. The Mysore Government has been allowed to retain the surplus revenue of the Tract in question for the years 1881—82 and 1882—83, and the disposal of the surplus of 1883—84 and of future years is now under the consideration of His Excellency the Viceroy.

In the State Railway, Mysore to Bangalore, 87 miles, the receipts amounted to Rs. 3,11,429 and the expenditure to Rs, 190,625, the net earnings being Rs. 1,20,804 or 2·72 per cent on a capital outlay of 44 lakhs.

The capital expenditure on the State Railway during the past year amounted to Rs. 7,55,464 as follows :—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| On Bangalore-Mysore line ... ... ... | 91,443 |

During the current year, a further expenditure of about $1\frac{1}{4}$ lakh has been incurred in completing the Tumkur line which was recently opened for public traffic. The capital expenditure on this section amounts to Rs. 16,46,955. It promises to be fairly remunerative, for, since the 11th August 1884, when it was opened, it has yielded an average net profit of over Rs. 1,000 per week, being at the rate of 3·27 per cent per annum on the capital outlay. The Government are anxious to push on this railway as soon as possible to Harihar, so as to connect it with the Southern Mahratta Railway. They have already succeeded in carrying it a further distance of 11 miles to Gubbi, an important centre of trade, by using surplus stores and by a cash outlay of about $1\frac{1}{4}$ lakh in the current year. The total cost of the Tumkur-Gubbi section, including all charges, and the maintenance for one year, will be Rs. 2,94,924.

Thus on the Railway from Bangalore to Gubbi, 54 miles, the total outlay amounts to Rs. 19,41,879 at a rate of Rs. 36,000 a mile, and very nearly absorbs the proceeds of the Railway loan of 20 lakhs which, in my speech of last year I represented to you, had realized Rs. 19,56,064.

Thus if we take the whole system of railway open from Mysore to Gubbi, the State possesses 141 miles costing Rs. 63½ lakhs at a rate of about Rs. 45,000 per mile. This result may be considered satisfactory, inasmuch as the average cost of construction in Mysore is Rs. 25,000 less per mile than the average on 7 other metre gauge lines in India.

By strict economy in first construction, the State anticipates a larger return for its money, and I think that by the end of the year the State may fairly expect to raise its rate of profit on the whole of its Railway capital from 2¾ to more than 3 per cent.

It is now in contemplation at once to carry on the railway from Gubbi to Tiptur, a further distance of 33 miles, and the Government expect to be able to provide for this purpose 8½ lakhs during the current year ; a further sum of 6 lakhs will probably be required next year for the complete equipment of this section.

The section from Tiptur to Harihar, 125 miles, has already been surveyed, and for its construction a capital of about 60 lakhs is required. It will be impossible to provide this sum out of current revenue. We have already constructed 141 miles of railway, and we propose adding to it 33 miles in the current year. The total length constructed out of current revenue, and a small loan of 20 lakhs, will thus amount to 174 miles, representing a State property of the most useful kind of the value of over 80 lakhs of rupees.

But this most desirable result has not been obtained without the resources of the State being strained to the utmost. The completion of the project therefore is contingent upon the necessary capital being secured from outside. I need not assure you that Government have been unremitting in their endeavours to find the necessary capital. They are deeply impressed with the importance of the line as a safe-guard against famines, and the present uncertainty in the weather would point to the necessity of the work being pushed on without avoidable delay.

This leads naturally to a consideration of the unfavorable prospect of this year's seasons. The south-west monsoon has been a failure, more or less, throughout the greater part of the Districts of Tumkur, Chitaldroog, Bangalore, Kolar and Mysore. In the Mysore District, except in a few taluks, nearly the whole of the early crop has been lost ; the later and more important dry crop throughout the whole of the affected area is in a precarious condition ; cattle are beginning to suffer from want of fodder, and prices show a tendency to rise. An early north-east monsoon may enable the Province to return to its normal condition without appreciable suffering ; but if, unfortunately, the seasons continue unfavorable, the Government will have to face ere long a condition of serious and wide-spread distress. At the present moment, therefore, the enquiry naturally suggests itself whether we are better prepared now to meet a famine than we were 8 years ago.

Among measures of protection, the first place undoubtedly belongs to works of irrigation. Owing to the physical peculiarities of Mysore, however, there is very little scope for extension of irrigation by means of new works. The area under irrigation is only about 15 per cent of the total cultivation, and excepting the small tract commanded by channels drawn from perennial rivers, the whole of the irrigation in the country is dependent upon its numerous rainfed tanks. There are about 38,000 such tanks, large and small, which so cover every part of the country that it is now extremely difficult to find a site suitable for a new tank. Little therefore remains to be done by the Government of the present day beyond restoring and maintaining the old works.

We cannot conceal from ourselves the fact that a large number of these tanks are in complete ruin. The failure of our system of tank management is due to the non-recognition of the important fact that the ryot is jointly interested with Government in the maintenance of this chief source of irrigation. At one time undue importance was given to the responsibility of Government for the up-keep of the tanks, the ryot's liability being altogether ignored, and when Government found that its costly agency could not, with any prospect of an adequate return for its capital, undertake the management of the tanks in the Province, the ryot was called upon to take charge of the majority of the tanks. But the ryot had by this time lost all traditions of combination for works of public utility, nor were the Civil officers in a position to enforce the ryot's liabilities in an efficient manner. The various inams and privileges attaching to up-keep by ryots had been swept away, and cesses had been imposed on the understanding that the work would be done by Government. Thus by emphasizing at different times, the responsibility of one or the other of the two bodies interested in the tanks, and by neglecting the interests of the other, the tanks on the preservation of which so much depends, have been allowed to deteriorate.

Any reform in our tank system must start with a clear recognition of the fact that it is beyond the ability of Government to undertake the repair and maintenance of all the tanks in the Province with any ultimate benefit to its revenue, nor will it be equitable to throw the burden on the ryots after the village system or what little remained of it has been disorganized, and after the ryot has tacitly been relieved of his responsibilities by the imposition of special cesses for the repair of tanks.

Under these circumstances, it is now proposed to draw a clear line between tanks which Government should reserve for direct management through its Public Works Department, and tanks that should be left to be dealt with by ryots under the supervision of the Revenue Department. Though from long disuse, there may not be the same skill available in villagers for the construction and repair of tanks, it is hoped that under a system of Local Government in respect of tanks which I shall indicate below, and with sympathetic watching and seasonable advice from the Revenue and Public Works Departments, the ryots will before long be able to restore such of the tanks as may be assigned to their management. The proposal is to reserve tanks yielding more than Rs. 500 revenue under the direct control of the Public Works Department. The number of such tanks is only 790, and from the large revenue they yield, from the heaviness of the cost of their repair and from the risk involved in their breech, it is desirable that they should be managed by the skilled agency under Government. Tanks yielding less than Rs. 500 will be handed over to the management of the villagers concerned, subject however to the responsible control of the Revenue officer. But in enforcing the responsibilities of the villagers, no hard and fast rules will be laid down. It is the rigidity of general rules applied without regard to local and traditional peculiarities that have made all the well-meant efforts of Government to better the condition of the ryots almost nugatory. In many instances, concessions granted to the ryots have been so hampered by conditions, or the process for obtaining them has been so complicated, that practically little benefit has resulted from them. The system proposed will, it is hoped, be sufficiently elastic to admit of its easy application to the varying conditions of the Maidan and the Malnad, or of places where capital and intelligence are forthcoming, and places where ryots are too poor and ignorant to do any thing without State aid.

In the first place it is proposed to relieve the ryot of the one anna irrigation cess under tanks yielding less than 500 Rs. revenue, on condition of his doing the annual repairs to his tank. In the case of all works other than maintenance, whole or partial remissions of wet kandayam for one or more years will be granted in order to enable the ryots immediately to carry out the needful works. The remission thus granted will in each case be fixed with reference to the probable cost of the work. For instance, in the case of tanks requiring earth-work which might exceed what would be required under annual repairs, one or two years' wet kandayam may be remitted. If masonry and stone work has to be done, a remission of wet kandayam for 3 or 4 years may probably be required, and a similar concession for 5 or 7 years may suffice if a tank requires complete restoration. If, from want of capital, enterprise or combination in the village, it is not possible to have the tank work done by the ryots, the Deputy Commissioner will have authority to undertake it, with the advice of the Department Public Works, wholly at the expense of Government, or to do the portion of work requiring skill or capital and to get the remainder (chiefly earth-work) done by the villagers on concessions similar to those specified above. Thus in the case of every tank yielding below Rs. 500 and requiring repair or restoration, it will rest with the ryots interested whether, with the liberal concessions above indicated, they will promptly do the work themselves or await the more tardy process of Government execution.

If the motives of self-interest which will thus be enlisted in our service, should fail to have the desired effect, the restoration of the most important tanks now in disue will be thrown open to private capital and enterprise under what is already well known to you as the "Chauthayi" system. This system will be symplified and the remission of one-fourth of the assessment, instead of being limited as at present to 20 years, or until the introduction of the survey settlement, will be made a permanent concession. In the case of tanks requiring an exceptionally heavy outlay for their repair or restoration, concessions even more liberal will be granted.

There need be no apprehension that, under any of the proposals above made, there will be any needless sacrifice of Government interests. Under the present system, when a tank breaches, it is many years before it is repaired. As a partial relief half the wet assessment is remitted. The ryots pay half assessment for some years, and when the prospects of the tank being repaired get more and more remote, they resign their lands altogether, and Government loses the entire revenue on the "Atchkat" until the tank is restored. The partial and temporary remissions of revenue under the proposed scheme will generally be but a small fraction of the cost of repair and restoration by Government agency, and the continuous prosperity which will result from the prompt restoration of tanks will be an advantage upon which no money value can be paid.

I hope I have now sufficiently explained to you the proposed new scheme for the working of our tank system. How far the Public Works Department shall aid the Amildars in the performance of their "Maramat" duties and in what manner the Deputy Commissioners shall carry out the concessions above noted, are matters of detail which shall be elaborated with due care in consultation with the responsible officers of Government.

By the adoption of this scheme, His Highness' Government are sanguine that the tank system throughout the Province can be restored to a condition of thorough efficiency within the next 10 or 15 years. A forecast of all the important works to be undertaken by the Government within the next 10 years is already in course of preparation.

After all that may be done to improve our tanks, however, irrigation is but a broken reed to lean upon in times of famine. It has already been explained to you that the irrigable area is only 15 per cent of the area under cultivation. Of this small area the greater portion is dependent upon tanks for irrigation, and these tanks, which are themselves fed by the rains, fail us just when their support is needed most. We have thus to throw ourselves on our railways as our sure and only protection against some of the chief dangers of recurrent famines. The services which railways are capable of rendering during times of famine are well known to you. A railway is able to carry food to distressed tracts at a very small cost, varying from $\frac{1}{4}$th to 1/6th of a pie per maund per mile. In the famine of 1876—78, the tract which suffered most was over 50 and 100 miles away from the nearest railway, and it is right through the whole length of this tract that the proposed Bangalore-Hurihar Railway will run. When completed it will readily distribute food for 25 miles on either side or 50 miles in all. The tract served by it will thus be 50 miles wide by 212 miles long, or 10,600 square miles, which is fully $\frac{2}{3}$rds of the area where the most intense distress was felt in the years 1876 to 1878. But to place this extent of country beyond the risk of suffering, it becomes a matter of vital necessity that the railway from Tiptur to Harihar, which I have already alluded to, should be completed at once. The dreadful teachings of the famine of 1876—78 are still fresh in our minds. Despite a liberal expenditure of 160 lakhs of rupees and the adoption of every measure which an enlightened humanity could suggest, fully a million of the population was swept away by that famine. Six years have scarcely elapsed since the close of that calamity, and the condition of the country is again causing grave anxiety. There is however no occasion as yet to apprehend a famine. The present position merely demands close watchfulness and preparedness for every contingency. But I take this opportunity of giving you the assurance that if, owing to the failure of the north-east monsoon, the laboring classes should be left without employment, Government will be able to meet the difficulty by the extension of its ordinary public works, but if the pressure should increase, it will become necessary to provide suitable relief works in convenient localities, and to organize a system of village relief which has been demonstrated to be the most humane and efficient method of helping those who may be unable to work without any disruption of the ordinary bonds of village society and without the demoralization inevitable in the establishment of relief kitchens.

I will now refer to a few of the more important matters connected with the ordinary administration, to which you drew attention last year. The representatives of some Districts complained of the hardship caused by the annual public sale of the pasturage on unoccupied Government lands, and pointed out that the system subjected the villagers to extortion and annoyance at the hands of the purchaser of this right. The two most important proposals made to remedy this evil are :—1*stly*, to substitute for the annual sale a small rate of, say, $\frac{1}{4}$ anna on every rupee of the Land revenue; and 2*ndly*, to levy a small tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ anna per head of cattle. These measures would not be wholly free from objection; the former, which would possess the advantage of simplicity, is likely to be regarded as imposing an additional burden on the land, while the latter, though quite legitimate in itself, will place too much power in the hands of the Village Shanbhog, and may not unfrequently lead to frauds. Pending further consideration therefore, the Government have, during the current year, adopted tentatively a scheme whereunder each village is given the option of securing the right to the pasturage within its limits for a price fixed upon the average realization during the past two years. I shall be glad to have your views on this subject in our subsequent meetings.

Another question discussed last year was the levy of an irrigation cess from Inam villages. I am glad to be able to inform you that Government now see their way to abolishing it.

The mode of dealing with excess in minor inams has also recently engaged the attention of Government. The present rule is to ascertain the authorized extent and to confirm it with the addition of 10 per cent, resuming and assessing the remainder, if any, under enjoyment. This rule is doubtless liberal, if the true extent of the original grant can be ascertained. But this is seldom the case, as the inamdar is generally unable to adduce any proof beyond long enjoyment, and as the boundaries specified in the grant are scarcely identifiable. With a view therefore to remove any just cause for dissatisfaction on the part of this numerous class of petty inamdars, the Government have directed that all inams, the survey valuation of which, as now enjoyed, does not exceed Rs. 5, should be confirmed in full, and that in the case of inams exceeding Rs. 5 in value, one-half of the excess should be confirmed as inam, the other half being charged with full assessment; provided that, in no case, more than three times the survey valuation is confirmed as inam. This rule will apply to all inams which are enjoyed in land. But in cases where the inam is not located, as is generally the case in the Malnad, where merely so much money is granted out of a particular warg, it will be impossible to apply the foregoing rule. It is believed that such cases will be liberally dealt with by confirming land equivalent to 11/10ths of the original money value of the inam, with the additional concession that lands included in the inamdar's warg and converted into garden after the grant of the inam, shall be valued at rice and not garden rates.

The proposed Land Revenue and Local Funds Regulations which where discussed at our last year's meeting, have not yet been passed into law. The opinions of all Revenue and Judicial officers have been obtained in regard to them. Both Regulations with the opinions collected have been referred to Committees composed of able and experienced officers. I have not yet been favored with the recommendations of the Committee appointed to consider the Local Funds Regulation, but I understand that their recommendations do not involve any material alterations of the Draft already before the public. The Committee on the Land Revenue Code have submitted their recommendations. They do not suggest any material alterations except upon two points; one of them relates to the relations of inamdar and tenant (Chapter VII of the Draft). The Committee are of opinion that no "right of occupancy" as defined in Section 86 of the Draft, should be acquired by mere possession for 12 or any number of years, but they provide for the preservation of the right of all "Kadm" tenants, whether they pay rent in kind or money.

Another alteration of importance which the Committee recommend is the omission of Clauses (b) and (c) of Section 124 of the Draft. Section 123 and 124 follow Sections 106 and 107 of the Bombay Code. The former provides that, at the end of the term fixed for the present settlement, a revised assessment shall be fixed, not with reference to improvements made from private capital and resources, but with reference to general considerations of the value of the land, whether as to soil or situation, prices of produce or facilities of communication. The next section provides that nothing in the proceding section shall prevent a revised assessment being fixed—

(a) with reference to any improvement effected at the cost of Government;

(b) or with reference to the value of any natural advantage, when the improvement effected from private capital and resources consists only in having created the means of utilizing such advantage; or

(c) with reference to any improvement which is the result only of the ordinary operations of husbandry.

Clause (a) is in every way reasonable. But clause (b) has been so construed as to authorize the taxing of private wells, which in practice are the only kind of tenant's improvements in this country.

Water below the surface is a "natural advantage," and the digging of well by the ryot is only "creating the means for utilizing such advantage." Upon this ground the strict justice of the law which permits the taxing of private wells is perhaps defensible, but there can be no doubt whatever of the inexpediency of taxing these useful works which owe their origin so much to the labor and capital of the ryot. I believe that in omitting this provision from our Code, we are only slightly anticipating the course of legislation in British India. Clause (c), which refers to the taxing of improvements which are the result of the ordinary operations of husbandry, may also be omitted, as there have been such great differences of opinion as to its meaning. These alterations will give to the ryots's tenure under our settlement, an element of certainty and permanency to a much larger extent than now enjoyed. It will perhaps be a further gain in this direction to provide in Section 123 that a revised assessment should only be made with reference to the general value of the land as to situation, price of produce, and facilities of communication, and thereby to obviate the necessity for a re-classification of soils at the revised settlement. The ryot will thus be freed once for all from the inconveniences attending a re-survey and re-classification of his fields. On these and other questions connected with the Code, the Government will be glad to have your views. The papers placed at your disposal explain all the proposed alterations in full. The Government are anxious that this most important measure should come into effect from 1st April next and hope to be able to secure that end.

The details of the revision of the Medical and Educational Establishments recently carried out, are well known to you. By the substitution of Native for European subordinate medical staff, that Department will be made more suitable for the requirements of the Native State. The Educational scheme, which provides for definite and gradual promotions to all grades of Educational officers, will, it is believed, secure for that Department, an efficient staff of teachers working under a healthy stimulus and enjoying prospects of advancement which compare not unfavorably with those offered by other branches of the public service.

Mysore, as you may remember, was represented at the Calcutta Exhibition in 1883—84. Owing to short notice and the difficulty in collecting suitable exhibits, the arts and industries of Mysore could neither be fully nor fairly represented.

The report of the Local Committee is not yet to hand, but as soon as it is received, copies will be distributed for information throughout the different districts. The net cost to the State has been about 6,000 Rs., a very small sum considering the interests involved.

The exhibits from Mysore, few as they were, attracted considerable attention, and I am happy to say that the Province obtained

2 gold medals.
9 first class certificates and silver medals.
11 second do and bronze medals.
8 third class certificates.

The works most highly appreciated, were wood inlaid with ivory and sandalwood carvings.

Raw products, silk fabrics, spices, medicines, honey, coffee, &c., attracted attention, while the paintings by Mr. T. Rangasami Pille, and the plans by the students of the Engineering School, were highly praised. The model railway carriages exhibited by Messrs. Apparu Chetti and Sons were excellent, and I am glad to say that Foreign Railways have already given orders to that Firm for the construction of some passenger vehicles. There was also a demand for Mysore metal-ware, goods in horn, and fancy work.

Exhibitions are shortly to be held both in London and Bombay, and to secure a proper representation of Mysore at those places, steps will now be taken to collect some of the best specimens in art and manufacture, and at the same time a collection of all kinds will be made in Bangalore with a view to making our industries better known and appreciated locally.

Gentlemen, it now only remains for me to assure you of the great interest which His Highness the Maharaja takes in the success of these annual meetings. It is his hope and wish that this assembly will become, year after year, more and more useful to the country. By careful watching of the working of the Administration in all branches and by bringing to notice any defects or shortcomings in them, and by practical suggestions for improving the condition of all classes of His Highness' subsubjects, you have it in your power to contribute in some measure to the good government of the country. The lively interest you evince in the discussion of public questions, and your intelligent appreciation of the intentions and policy of Government, are a source of strength to His Highness' advisers.

In conclusion, let me thank you, gentlemen, most heartily for the trouble you have taken to attend this meeting.

5. At the conclusion of the address, the Dewan briefly explained the salient points of the address in Canarese. Printed copies of translations of the address had been supplied to the representatives previous to the opening of the meeting. The Dewan then adjourned the meeting to the following day, the 2nd October 1884, for general discussion.

4. The representatives of the Bangalore District opened the discussion. The various points discussed are given below district by district.

BANGALORE DISTRICT.

The representatives of the Bangalore District through Doddi Venkataramana Setti expressed their satisfaction with the policy of the Dewan with regard to tanks, minor inams, and the Revenue Code, and asked leave to make a few representations.

The first proposal was to impose octroi duty on all cloths whether imported or manufactured at home. The object of the proposal was not clearly explained, but in common with traders in other Municipalities, the Bangalore traders would appear to be anxious to prevent, by a general tax on cloths, the sale of cloths in isolated villages and suburbs outside municipal limits. The Dewan regretted that he could not accede to the proposal made.

With regard to the remuneration of Patels and Shanbhogs, the representatives were in favour of assignments of lands in preference to cash payments subject to forfeiture of inam tenure on loss of office.

As regard kulbanni sales, they urged that the charge per head must be adjusted according to the extent of waste land available for pasturage. They then discussed the comparative merits of a rate on kandayam and a rate per head of cattle, and were in favor of imposing a special pasturage rate on the lands available for grazing and letting the villagers distribute the total amount among themselves.

The representatives urged strongly the inconveniences resulting from the order to sell land when there is more than one darkhast for it. The Dewan said he would consider this and the previous questions.

Regarding measures of protection from famine, the representatives urged the expediency of reverting to the batayi system in regard to the cultivation of paddy and horse-gram. They also asked for the repeal of the insolvency clauses in the Civil Procedure Code.

The next subject discussed was the granting of bechirag villages on shraya and kayamgutta tenure. The Dewan drew their attention to the existing orders which granted bechirag villages on shraya. As to the kayamgutta tenure, he said that this was a question on which he could express no general opinion, but that every consideration would be given to the merits of individual cases.

With regard to allowing ryots of villages without forests attached to them, to take wood for agricultural implements from forests of other villages, the Dewan saw no objection to this being done, provided wood was not available in one's own village. He observed that this was the existing practice.

The next question raised was with reference to granting remissions on portions of a whole number of wet land lying waste through want of water and also remissions when there is loss of crop. The Dewan remarked that he had grave doubts regarding the policy of granting remissions even on whole numbers, that the assessments were fixed on a moderate scale taking bad with good seasons, and the granting of remissions had a demoralizing effect and was attended with fraud. He was in favor of doing away with individual remissions altogether.

The representatives further urged that the realizations from sale of fishing right should be given to the villagers under the tanks to enable them to keep up the tanks The Dewan said that the question would be considered in connection with the general scheme regarding handing over charge of maintenance of tanks to ryots.

Regarding leave to cut grass in Government forests, this was a question to be decided by District officers with reference to the merits of individual cases and the urgency there may exist for the indulgence being shown.

The next question was regarding non-attachment of Government salaries below Rs. 20. This provision had been adopted from the Legislation for all India, and the Dewan did not see grounds for departure in Mysore from the general policy of the British Government.

As regards the "Aya" remuneration for Totis and Talavars, the Dewan after making inquiries of the representatives themselves thought the present rates were not much higher than what obtained under the old rules and "mámúl."

Mysore District.

The first question raised by the representatives of the Mysore District was regarding the extension of the present "khists" for kandayam. The proposal, the Dewan remarked, was in itself reasonable, but he thought any modifications were impracticable in the present state of fixed financial demands before the close of the year.

As regards the prohibition of the slaughter of cows, the Dewan regretted nothing could be done now. The matter was one of long practice from the time of the Muhammadan rule and nothing had been done in abrogation of it even during the late Maharaja's time

The representatives next took objection to imprisonment for default in payment of revenue "khists." The Dewan observed that no exceptional procedure had been provided for Mysore. Imprisonment was one of the modes of recovery that would be found in the Codes of all Provinces in British India. There were no grounds for the apprehension of the representatives that the provision would be prejudical to their liberties. The question bad been well considered by the select committee and certain modifications had been introduced by them in the original draft which would disarm the clauses of any tendency to work hardship.

There were complaints regarding the working of Act XIII of 1859. The Dewan remarked that there might be cases of arrest on insufficient grounds and that the workin of the Act was being watched by Government. He was in favor of a simple system of registration of contracts with a view to guard against abuse of processes. He could not, however, accede to the wishes of the petitioners to have reciprocity with regard to the Act, which would only be increasing the chances of its abuse.

The representatives of this District urged that the Patels and the Shanbhogs would prefer to have no lands assigned as remuneration. The Dewan observed that the representatives were under a misapprehension regarding the assignment of lands. The assignment would be in inam and as it exonerated the village officials from payment of kandayam, the assignment of land should be welcomed by them.

Like the representatives of Bangalore, the representatives of Mysore suggested that the imposition of octroi duty should be made general throughout the Province, and that its limitation to Municipalities was inexpedient. No exception should be allowed in favor of English piece-goods after the abolition of the import duty by the British Government. The Dewan remarked that he saw nothing unreasonable in the remarks of the representatives.

In the same strain were the remarks of the Mysore representatives regarding a general tax on cloths, arecanuts and tobacco. They showed a preference for indirect taxation and were against imposing additional cesses on land to meet the demands on the State.

Regarding the framing of Municipal Rules they were told that the question would be taken up without delay.

KADUR DISTRICT.

The first subject touched upon by the representatives of the Kadur District was, about the ryots of Koppa being allowed the same privileges as regards cutting wood in the jungles of "the Maidan" portion as they have in "the Malnad." The Dewan was not in favor of this proposal, as the "Maidan" forests wanted rest, and might almost disappear if the privilege was conceded. The Dewan said he would consider the proposal about allowing Amildars to issue licenses for wood, for sugar mills, &c. He would also consider their request to invest the Mudgere and Tarikere Amildars with powers under Act XIII of 1859.

The representatives further urged the question of waste gardens being granted on shraya: they were told that orders had been issued on the subject.

With reference to the suggestion that in the case of coffee land newly taken up, no kandayam should be demanded for the first 3 years, that only half kandayam should be taken for the 4th year and full assessment levied from the 5th year, the Dewan said the present rules fully provided for these cases.

The representatives made some general remarks regarding primary schools in villages and the improvement of the Police, both of which subjects, the Dewan said, were engaging his attention.

With regard to trees on coffee lands they wanted their rights to extend to all trees except teak and sandalwood, and also wanted permission to use the wood as they pleased. They were told that the new coffee patta had anticipated their wishes in almost all particulars.

They also asked that arrangements might be made for sale of medicines at hospitals at cost price, but were told that as the system would necessitate the employment of a costly establishment, it could not be thought of for the present.

The representatives recommended the adoption of the contract system for collection of octroi duty. The question, it was pointed out to them, was reserved for consideration in connection with the orders of the Government of India on the subject. The Dewan remarked that the proposal regarding the deputation of men trained in agriculture to exhibit improved implements and impart lessons in improved methods of husbandry was under the consideration of Government.

The Dewan said that the proposal of the representatives to offer waste land applied for to the neighbouring occupant before giving it to the darkhastdar was impracticable.

He was in favor of relieving the inhabitants of Municipal Towns of the liability to do watching duty by night.

HASSAN SUB-DIVISION.

The first subject put forward by the Hassan representatives was the desirability of transferring appeals against the Hassan Judiciary from Shimoga to Mysore.

Their next proposal was about the introduction of the money order system between Taluks. The Dewan said he would institute inquires regarding the proposal.

The Dewan also agreed with the representatives that giving proprietors of land on which sandal wood is growing some interest in the wood, would tend to the conservation and extension of this valuable tree.

Tumkur District.

The representatives of this District were in favor of a fixed tax on cattle, with provision for the amount payable by each ryot being adjusted every four years with reference to cattle in his possession, and on the condition that the cattle were to be pastured on Government waste wherever situated.

The Dewan remarked with reference to the proposal of the representatives that Totis should get only half of the remuneration of Talavars, that he would take the matter into his early consideration.

The Dewan did not see the expediency of acceding to the next proposal that, when so desired, unoccupied waste gardens should be classed as wet and given out for cultivation. He would prefer to give such garden on shraya tenure and was opposed to interfering with classification. He also remarked that he would take into his consideration the next two proposals regarding the issuing of printed "Khirdi" books and exempting from mohatarfa agricultural coolies located in separate Palyas or hamlets by a landed proprietor.

On some of the members representing that something should be done for the preservation of fodder, they were told that experiments were already being conducted in Kunigal with what is called the Ensclage system.

Kolar District.

The representatives urged the desirabilty of opium cultivation in the Taluks of Sidlaghatta, Chikballapur, Devanhalli, Malur and Chintamani. The land benefitted by a rotation of crops and yielded good profits to the cultvator. The culivation of the popy had been put down in pursuance of the policy of Government of India adopted for the whole of India, and nothing could now be done in the matter.

Regarding separate numbers being given to assessed excess in minor inams, the Dewan remarked that the present orders were to number the excess separately.

The Kolar representatives advocated the introduction of science primers in schools and the teaching of Revenue and Police rules.

French Rocks Sub-Division.

The rspresentatives were in favor of a tax assessed on the acreage at pasturage rates. They expressed their approval of the minor inam rules which they said were liberal and would satisfy the inam holders.

They urged that the present pratice of closing irrigation channels in January should be altered and water should be allowed for sugar-cane, &c., till February. The Dewan was in favor of the proposal, but said that no general rules could be framed as the cases of individual channels differed, but that every facility would be given for water being supplied till February in channels that would allow of the period being so extended.

The next subject discussed was the granting of garden entirely waste on 10 years' shraya: the Dewan promised to consider it favorably, pointing out at the same time that the existing orders provide for 4 and 6 years' shraya in cases of gardens partly waste.

Shimoga District.

Regarding the remuneration of village servants some of the representatives were in favor of cash payments, others in favor of alloting land, half from the land in the official's holding and half from the village waste.

The representatives expressed their approval of the Local Fund Regulation, and of the omission of the occupancy clauses from the Revenue Code.

The representatives were prepared to give "Aya" to Totis and Talavars, but complained that the minor village officials were not employed on the prevention and detection of crime as they ought to be.

The village punchayet system was next advocated, also the lowering of court fee charges.

The Dewan approved of their suggestion with regard to refunding spoiled court fee stamps when a plaint is not presented.

The next question urged was the taxing of imported arecanut. The proposal was reasonable, but there were objections to its being adopted.

The members of this District, in common with other representatives, advocated the imposition of a sayer duty on tobacco, arecanut and cardmoms. The Dewan was in favour of simplifying the rules for levy of sayer on arecanut, and said he would take up the matter early in consultation with the Deputy Commissioners.

The representatives next applied to have the causes of Koleroga, which is so fatal to arecanut investigated by competent scientific men. Early consideration was promised.

The Dewan agreed to the proposal to have the proceedings in Munsiff's Courts conducted in Canarese. As regard the limitation rules, nothing however, he observed, could be done to alter them.

In addition to the subjects discussed above, some of the representatives urged matters only of local interest, and these have been separately noticed in the various departments.

At the request of some of the members copies of the Revenue Draft Code in Canarese, as also translation of the select committee's report, were ordered to be distributed to the representatives, and one month's time given them for expression of their opinions.

At the conclusion of the proceedings, Mr. Ganesa Rao, a planter in Kadur, read the address given below on behalf of the representatives, and a representative from the same District conveyed the thanks of the meeting in Canarese.

The Dewan remarked that it would give him great pleasure to convey to His Highness, the loyal and affectionate sentiments of the representatives and assured them that every attention would be paid to the representations made by them.

ADDRESS.

His Excellency the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja,

On behalf of the gentleman assembled here, I humbly beg to say a few words and crave the indulgence of your Excellency to excuse me for the liberty taken.

It is almost needless on my part to express the heartfelt gratitude of all the representative members for the opportunity you have been pleased to give to communicate the local wants and grievances directly to you. The various suggestions made in your able speech, this year, comprise most of our wants, and as you have thereby anticipated them, we are highly impressed with the breadth of your views and the depth of the interest you take in our welfare. The great honor conferred upon His Highness the Maharaja by Her Majesty the Empress, and the birth of the Heir-Apparent to our State are joyful events for which we all return thanks to Heaven.

I beg to conclude with my humble thanks for the attention bestowed by you upon the welfare of us all and humbly pray that you will be pleased to communicate to His Highness the Maharaja the feelings of loyalty and gratitude for his kind and benevolent administration.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE ASSEMBLY OF REPRESENTATIVE RYOTS AND MERCHANTS FROM ALL TALUKS OF THE PROVINCE OF MYSORE, HELD AT MYSORE ON THE 21st OCTOBER 1885.

---

The fifth Annual Assembly of Representative Ryots and Merchants of Mysore was held in the Rangacharlu Memorial Hall, Mysore, on the 21st October 1885, the Dewan Mr. K. Sheshadri Iyer presiding. There were present on the occasion, the Councillors, the Judges of the Chief Court, the Heads of Departments, the Deputy Commissioners of Mysore and Shimoga, and the Civil and Sessions Judges of Mysore and Shimoga, and other officers of the State.

The Dewan read the following speech, which was afterwards read in Kanarese by the Officiating Under-Secretary.

GENTLEMEN:—It is my privilege to lay before you to-day, by command of His Highness the Maharajah, a brief statement of the important facts connected with the administration of the Province during the past year.

Postponement of Enhanced Subsidy.—Before submitting to you the usual financial statements, I beg to announce to you the important fact that the Government of India have been graciously pleased to recommend to the Secretary of State the postponement of the enhanced subsidy for a further period of 10 years. A brief reference to the history of this question will not be uninteresting to you. The amount of the subsidy, as fixed by the Treaty of 1799 and as hitherto paid, is 24½ lahks of Rupees. Under that Treaty, however, Mysore was also bound to pay contributions to the British Government towards the increased expenses of war. This indefinite liability for contributions in time of war, was commuted by the Treaty of 1807 into an obligation to maintain a body of 4,000 effective Horse in peace and war, such portion of this force as, in the opinion of the British Government, may not be required for the internal protection of the country, being maintained at all times ready to accompany the British Army on service beyond the Mysore Territory. The Instrument by which the administration of the Province was transferred to His Highness the Maharajah, commuted this obligation to maintain a Cavalry Force for external service, into one to pay 10½ lakhs of rupees per annum by way of an addition to the subsidy. Acting, however, under the influence of a sincere desire not to place an undue burden on the finances of Mysore in the early stage of the Maharajah's rule, the British Government postponed this addition of 10½ lakhs to the subsidy, for a period of 5 years from the date of Rendition. During the past four years, the financial position of the State has received the careful consideration of His Excellency the Viceroy in Council. His Excellency has recognized the fact that the revenue of Mysore is not now so large as was anticipated at the time when the addition of 10½ lakhs to the subsidy was fixed, and, in view of the present embarrassed condition of the Mysore finances and of the demands upon the resources of the State, His Excellency has been pleased, as already stated, to recommend to the Secretary of State that the enhanced subsidy shall be forgone for an additional period of 10 years. This is only a fresh but a very signal illustration of the generous treatment which the Mysore State has invariably received at the hands of the Paramount Power. His Highness' Government are deeply grateful for this boon, for without it, it would not at present be possible to maintain the administration of the Province at its present standard of efficiency. The ten years' postponement, however, gives the State sufficient time within which to recover from the effects of the late famine, and I beg to give you the assurance that His Highness' Government will spare no efforts, loyally to meet the Treaty obligation in question at the expiry of the time so graciously allowed.

Surplus Revenue of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.—Another subject which has been decided by the Government of India is that the surplus revenue of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, which is administered by the British Government, shall be credited in the Imperial accounts.

In accordance with this decision, the receipts and expenditure of the Civil and Military Station have had to be excluded from the Provincial revenue and expenditure.

Receipts and Expenditure for 1884—85.—After making this deduction, the ordinary revenue of the State amounted to Rs. 1,00,70,975 and the expenditure to Rs. 99,55,601 as shown in the following statements:—

At the close of the year, there was only a small surplus of Rs. 1,15,374, which compares rather unfavorably with the surplus of nearly $3\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs at the close of the previous year. This result was not due to any increased expenditure. It was due entirely to a falling off in the revenue. Under Land Revenue, the realizations were $6\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs less than in the previous year, because the year was one of partial drought throughout the northern and eastern parts of the Province, and the Government had either to postpone or to remit a portion of the Land Revenue in the affected tract.

Abkari, however, yielded $2\frac{1}{4}$ lakhs more than in 1883—84, owing to the larger amounts which the Government were able to secure from the new toddy and arrack contracts entered into in the beginning of 1884—85. These contracts are, usual, for a period of 3 years. Sayer shows a slight improvement of about half a lakh. Under Forest Revenue, the demand for sandalwood was unusually slack, and the sales realized only Rs. 3,22,308, or $1\frac{1}{4}$ lakhs less than in 1883—84. This however was made good by the larger sale of timber to the public, and by the supply of sleepers and fuel to the Railway. Thus, on the whole, the Forest Revenue amounted to Rs. 6,57,564, i. e., about a $\frac{1}{4}$ lakh better than in the year previous. We ought not, however, to calculate upon sales of timber and fuel on such an extensive scale, for, the forests, especially the Fuel Reserves, require some rest. Under Miscellaneous items of Revenue, there was an increase of nearly 1 lakh. This was due chiefly to the Secretary of State's decision which recognized the services of British Officers in Mysore prior to 30th September 1882, as British Service for purposes of pension and leave allowances. This order secured to the State a refund of the contributions on account of their pensions and leave allowances which had previously been paid to the British Government. Thus the large decrease of $6\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs under Land Revenue being made good in part by increase under other heads of revenue, the total income was only $2\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs less than in 1883—84. Among items of expenditure, there have been no important variations of any kind, and the total expenditure has been maintained as in the previous year at the normal figure of about $99\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs.

As already remarked, the foregoing figures exclude the revenue and expenditure of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore. The surplus revenue of the Station, which was included in the Provincial Cash Balances till the beginning ~~of the last year,~~ may be estimated at about $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs per annum.

Budget Estimates for 1885—86.—The Budget for the current year, as finally revised, estimates for an income of Rs. 1,04,23,500. Under all heads of revenue except "Land Revenue," the estimates are based upon the actual realizations of the past and previous years. Under Land Revenue, an income of Rs. 73,11,000 has been estimated for, though the actual realizations in the past year amounted to only Rs. 66,83,886. After the late Famine, the Land Ravenue decreased to about 70¼ lakhs, which was the amount realized in 1881—82 and 1882—83. The average realizations in the years immediately preceding the Famine were about 73 lakhs, and this figure was again reached in 1883—84. This improvement has not unfortunately been permanent, for, the last year was one of very scanty rain fall and short harvests, and it is followed by the exceptionally unfavorable season of the present year. Under such circumstances, the Land Revenue demand for the current year is likely to be only about 70 lakhs, but I believe it probable that the actual realizations, inclu ing the postponements of 1884—85, may be about 73 lakhs as estimated in the Budget, if the present favorable aspect of the season continues.

The Budget estimates for an expenditure in the current year of Rs. 1,02,39,810 against an actual expenditure of Rs. 99,55,601 in the past year. The increase is almost entirely due to the grant for Public Works being increased from 9½ to 12 lakhs, under circumstances which will be explained hereafter. "Police," "Education" and "Medical" are the only other heads, the increase under which calls for any remark. In the Police Department, it was found necessary, in the interests of its efficiency, to revert to the former system of employing separate Assistant Commissioners for the exclusive charge of the Police, under the orders of the District Officers. This measure has necessitated a redistribution of the cost of Assistant Commissioners between the Revenue, Judicial and Police Departments.

The improvement of the status of School Masters and a larger provision for grants-in-aid account for the slight *increase under "Education," while †that under "Medical" is due to the gradual substitution of Assistant Surgeons in the place of Apothecaries, and to the increased provision for purchase of medicines.

State Railway.—I shall now proceed to place before you the statistics connected with the State Railway. At present 140 miles of Railway from Mysore to Gubbi is open for traffic. The total cost of this length up to the end of 1884—85 amounted to Rs. 62,94,170, as follows:

|---|---|
| Bangalore-Mysore Section, 86 miles open throughout the year ... | 43,56,690 |
| Bangalore-Tumkur Section, 43 miles opened on 11th August 1884 ... | 16,48,476 |
| Tumkur-Gubbi Section, 11 miles opened on 26th December 1884 ... | 2,89,004 |
| Total..... | 62,94,170 |

The revenue receipts amounted to Rs. 3,80,875, and the expenses to Rs. 2,07,087 leaving as net earnings Rs. 1,73,788, which added to the surplus of ordinary revenue, Rs. 1,15,379, gave a total cash balance of Rs 2,89,167 at the close of the last year. The net railway earnings were about 2·76 per cent on a capital outlay of about 63 lakhs till the close of the last year; but as only a portion of the total line of 140 miles was open throughout the year, the mean mileage worked was about 105 miles, and the net earnings pro rata are 3·68 per cent.

In addition to the capital expenditnre up to the close of 1884—85, a further sum of Rs. 2,51,040 is provided for expenditure in the current year to meet the cost of six new engines which have lately arrived, and of some additional wagons and of improvements to the line. The total cost will thus be Rs. 65,45,210, or Rs. 46,751 per mile; and the earnings may be said to return 3·53 per cent on the capital.

The extension from Gubbi to Harihar, 157·282 miles, has still to be constructed. Surveys, plans and estimates as far as Tiptur, (32·81 miles), received the approval of the Government of India in January 1884, and similar papers for the portion between Tiptur and Harihar (124·472 miles) were forwarded to the Resident on 13th July 1885, for submission to the Government of India. The estimated cost of continuing the Railway beyond Gubbi to Harihar, (157·282 miles), amounts to Rs. 63,00,939 at a rate of Rs. 40,062 per mile. The difference in cost between what has been done and what has to be done is thus Rs. 6,689 per mile, the saving being due to cheaper survey, less bridging, accommodation already established at Head-quarters, plant now available, less equipment in rolling stock at outset, and saving in establishment.

The durbar has lately accepted a proposal made by the Government of India that the extension from Gubbi to Harihar should be executed with foreign capital. Negotiations are, it is believed, in progress between the Secretary of State for India on behalf of Mysore, and the Southern Mahratta Company, whereby the present line of 140 miles is to be hypothecated for the amount of its cost to the Company, who are to raise the additional capital required and carry out the extension. The amount which Mysore is to receive on the hypothecation of its present line is to be paid to the British Government in part liquidation of the Famine Loan. The terms under which the Company is to construct the extension and maintain, manage and work the whole system of the "Mysore State Railway" are to be similar to those of the existing contract between the Secretary of State and the Company as regards the Deccan Railways. Under this arrangement, Mysore will guarantee to the Company interest on its capital during the first five years, the State receiving the whole of the net earnings of the Railway during that period. After the first five years, the rate of guaranteed interest payable to the Company will be reduced to $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, and the Company will then, in addition, retain for itself $\frac{1}{4}$th of the net earnings the remaining $\frac{3}{4}$ths being handed over to Mysore. Due provision will be made for the Government retaining in its hands a control over the accounts and expenditure of the Company, and for Police arrangements on the line. The whole Railway is redeemable at the end of the 25th, 35th, or 45th year. These terms are, it will be seen, not unfavorable to Mysore. The amount to be received by the hypothecation of the open line, which, as already shown, has cost about 65 lakhs, will go a great way towards liquidating the Famine Loan which now amounts to about $77\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of rupees. In this way Mysore will soon be free to apply to its own advantage, the heavy payments it now makes towards the re-payment of this loan; while the liability on account of the guranteed interest will not be serious, if the returns on the completed system are maintained at a figure which Mysore has a right to expect from its own experience in managing the small sections it has already constructed. If the cost of construction is limited to the amount provided by Mysore estimates, the difference between the $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent guarantee and the Mysore share ($\frac{3}{4}$ths) of the 3 per cent earnings, will only amount to about Rs. 78,000 per annum. This charge is not to be considered as too high a price to be paid for a few years, for the advantage of securing at an early date a long length of Railway within the Province, with the option of purchasing it hereafter when the finances are in a more flourishing condition. The annual charge above referred to will cease when the Railway begins to earn $4\frac{2}{3}$ per cent on the capital; and, when it earns more than that rate, it will become a source of revenue to the State. Thus, on the whole the proposed arrangement with the Southern Mahratta Company is one which is calculated in every way to advance the best interests of the State.

In connection with the subject of Railways, I regret to have to inform you that our Consulting Engineer Colonel A. LeMessurier is shortly to leave us. He came to Mysore in November 1879, when the construction of the Mysore-Bangalore Railway had made very little progress beyond the earth-work done as relief work during the late famine. The early and satisfactory completion of this line, as well as its further extension to Gubbi was in a large measure due to his untiring energy. The Government always found in him a valuable adviser in all D. P. W. matters generally, and his exertions to train the young Native Engineers for Railway survey and construction, have been eminently successful. His Highness' Government regret very much that they are so soon to lose his services, and I take this opportunity of expressing their high appreciation of the valuable services rendered by him to the State during the six years he has been with us.

Season Prospects.—In my address to you on the occasion of the last annual meeting, I alluded to the then unfavourable prospects of the year. Happily the apprehensions at that time entertained were not realized. The north-east monsoon proved favorable and was sufficient to save a portion of the standing crops, though quite insufficient to fill the tanks, or to allow of more than one-half of the usual amount of wet cultivation under them. The dry crops in the north-eastern and eastern Districts yielded only a harvest, which varied from $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ of the usual average. On the whole, however, a moderate harvest was secured and proved sufficient to avert immediate distress. During this year again, the unfavorable conditions of the first half of 1883—84 have repeated themselves in a more aggravated form. The south-west monsoon began very well in May, and continued to promise fair during that month and June. In July, however, it showed signs of failing, and, as the season advanced, the drought became greater and more general. Till about the end of September, the rain which fell was extremely scanty. The dry crops began to wither from the long continued drought. The early crops were entirely lost in parts of Mysore, Chitaldroog and Tumkur. In parts of Kolar and the Maidan portions of Kadur, the early rains were so scanty as not to allow of sowings to the usual extent. The tanks everywhere were empty, and no Kartik wet cultivation was carried on under them; and even in the Malnad, the rains were insufficient for the paddy crops. In Maidan Taluks the springs rapidly dried up, and much difficulty was experienced as regards drinking water. Fodder for cattle became scarce, and the Government had to open its Reserved Forests for purposes of pasture. Prices began to rise, and the mortality among cattle sensibly increased. There was thus every sign that the Province was in a most critical condition. It was evident that if the drought continued much longer, there would be widespread scarcity, which, if the north-east monsoon too failed, would soon deepen into a famine. When the prospect looked so gloomy, the rains of the 25th September and the following days removed all cause for immediate apprehension. The season has since assumed a very favorable aspect, and if this continues, we may calculate upon a tolerably fair harvest; though one rather below the usual average.

Relief Measures.—It will however be satisfactory to you to know that in view to meeting the apparently impending calamity, His Highness' Government had adopted measures for the inauguration of a system of relief work which, it was hoped, would afford the threatened Districts the means of tiding over the months of scarcity likely to intervene between the failure of the later crops, and the early harvest of the coming year. The system of relief which, it was decided to adopt, was the same as that which is prescribed for all British Provinces. There is, however, one point connected with the administration of relief, upon the importance of which His Highness' Government lay special stress. In their opinion it is essential that a scheme of relief, in order to be efficient, must provide, on an extensive scale, for works specially intended for the relief of the agricultural population in the vicinity of their villages. Our main object should be to prevent the dispersion of families in quest of distant works. Near every inhabited village, it will be easy to provide abundance of suitable work, such as the improvement of tanks, the making of wells and village-roads, the improvement of the existing local sanitary arrangements, the digging and weeding of fields, construction of Saguvali Kattes and other similar works. The employment of the people on such works will enable them to return to their homes at the end of each day's work, and thus it will be possible to preserve the mutually helpful bonds of village society. The early commencement of works of this kind is of paramount importance, for it is only in that way, we can induce the people to resort to relief works at the outset. Experience shows that in the earlier stages of distress, they prefer to cling to their homes upon unwholesome or insufficient food rather than seek employment on distant works. It is only when even such food fails and when emaciation sets in that they leave their homes in quest of work or food, and enter upon that career of aimless wandering which was so fruitful a source of suffering during the last Famine.

In organizing relief measures, therefore, my first endeavour was to arrange for a programme of works near the homes of the people. For some of the most affected parts of Tumkur and Chitaldroog, such a programme has already been mapped out on the principle of leaving no inhabited village without suitable work within a radius of 5 miles. It is in contemplation to complete the programme at an early date for the whole of the area likely to be affected by a succession of bad seasons.

In addition to these works intended chiefly for the agricultural population, and under the supervision of the Civil Officers, arrangements had also been made for undertaking, when required, a system of works under the professional control of the Public Works Department, and intended chiefly for persons who generally resort to such works for employment. The D. P. W. Relief Scheme to meet which an additional grant of $2\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs was provisionally made to that Department, comprised the restoration or repair of a large number of tanks and the formation of a few useful new roads, and improvement of existing ones, the works being so situated that the laboring and even the agricultural classes could reach them without losing touch of their village homes. These projects would, it must be admitted, be entirely insufficient to meet the demand for work that would arise in the event of wide-spread and intense distress, but it was never apprehended that we should have to cope with a famine at all approaching in severity that of 1876—78. For the amount of distress anticipated, the works projected seemed sufficient. They would not entail profuse expenditure, and would prove remunerative, whilst affording for a limited period ample occupation to the landless classes and field-laborers. Should, indeed, a desolating famine again come on the land, it would be difficult to initiate D P. W. relief works on a sufficiently large scale, without resorting to the immediate extension of our Railway lines, and starting the much discussed great Marikanave Reservoir and its subsidiary channels.

Prospects however, have, as already stated, materially improved; abundant rains have recently fallen all over the Taluks which at one time were most sorely threatened; the tanks have partially filled, the withering crops have revived, and under Providence there is now every reason to hope that the need for exceptional measures of relief has, for the present, entirely ceased.

In congratulating the country on the narrow escape we have had, I must not omit to mention that in maturing my plans to meet the threatened calamity, it has been my good fortune to receive from Mr. Girdlestone, the British Resident, most valuable advice and support. The active interest he invariably evinced in the elaboration of relief measures has been a source of strength to me and of encouragement to my officers; and I take this opportunity to acknowledge thus publicly, on behalf of His Highness Government, the cordial sympathy which they invariably received from him, during the anxious period the State has just passed through. My acknowledgments are also due to the District officers for their active watchfulness of the state of the country and for their preparedness for prompt action in case of need. I have also received valuable aid and co-operation from my Chief Secretary, Mr. Vijayindra Rao, in the organization of relief measures generally and from Major Bowen, the Public Works Secretary, in arranging, in the very short time at his disposal, an adequate programme of professional agency works.

Irrigation Works.—I must now touch on a subject as intimately connected with the averting of the dangers arising from abnormal seasons, as with the well-being of the Province in ordinary years. I mean our Irrigation Works. I shall first enumerate briefly what has been done to our tanks and channels in the years immediately preceding the great Famine, and what has been done since, and then I shall discuss the policy to be pursued in the near future.

In the years from 1871—72 to 1875—76 inclusive, the total outlay on Irrigation was Rs. 20,07,539, of which Rs. 11,32,464 was on original works,—that is, on the restoration of abandoned tanks, or on the radical improvement and extension of our channels; and Rs. 8,75,075 on repairs,—that is, on the maintenance of already existing works yielding revenue. This gives in round numbers an average of Rs 4,00,000 on new and old works for each of the five years. Much useful work was done in the same direction during 1876—77, 1877—78 and 1878—79, which I shall call the famine years; but this expenditure was mostly abnormal, and its primary object was the alleviation of distress, and but partially, the benefit of the works themselves. So I shall pass those years by. From 1879—80 to 1884—85, both inclusive, the total outlay on irrigation was Rs. 18,56,668, or an average of over 3 lakhs for each of the six years. This average expenditure on works of vital importance though exhibiting no neglect of irrigation, was below that of the first five years of the last decade; but you will remember that not only did the Rendition of the Province and the disastrous results of the Famine lead to the breaking up of the expensive establishments previously employed on the so-called serial restoration of tanks, but in the years succeeding, the greater part of the resources of the State were wisely diverted to the rapid completion of a part of our projected Railway system. The further development of that system will, as already stated, shortly pass out of our hands under very favorable conditions, and the sensible relief of financial pressure that will then be afforded will enable us, it is hoped, to give greater attention and more ample funds to the furtherance of irrigation.

Tank policy—In my speech last year, I sketched the outlines of a scheme then under consideration for dealing with the maintenance of our tanks. The proposal I brought forward was to throw on the Public Works Department full responsibility for all tanks yielding a revenue of Rs. 500 and upwards. The onerous duties connected with the improvement and up-keep of the tanks were, it was thought, as much as the limited staff of the Public Works Department could well undertake. The up-keep of all tanks with a revenue less than Rs. 500 was to rest with the ryots themselves under the control of the revenue officers, whilst private capital and enterprize were to be enlisted in our service for the restoration, under favorable conditions, of old abandoned tanks. That scheme which is, it must be admitted, beset with many difficulties, has not yet been completely matured; and authorities on the subject differ as to the limit to be fixed in regard to the relative responsibilities of the Public Works Department and the ryots. The settlement of the question one way or the other is, however, one of the crying wants of the Province, and the Government have decided to test the feasibility of the five hundred rupee limit scheme by introducing it in the first instance into seven selected Taluks, one in each District. In these Taluks, the responsibilities of the Public Works staff will cease as regards tanks with a revenue less than Rs. 500, excepting in cases where the Revenue officers may find it necessary to call on the Engineers to construct masonry works, such as sluices, kodis and aqueducts, which the ryots themselves cannot well undertake. And, as the ryots can hardly be compelled to build or repair the stone revetments of such tanks, works to which they are unaccustomed, funds will be placed at the disposal of the Deputy Commissioner for this purpose. It seems to me that this tentative measure will have the effect of putting to a crucial test the feasibility of the policy above indicated; and after the lapse of a reasonable period, the results of the trial now proposed will enable the Government finally to decide as to what limit and what system should be adopted in the future. I believe that, with the cordial co-operation of the Revenue and Public Works officers, the tentative scheme now to be adopted will be found to work so satisfactorily as to enable the Government to introduce it into the whole Province at no distant date.

Marikanave Reservoir.—The old project for a reservoir at Marikanave near Hiriyur is now being reconsidered. The proposal was originally brought forward as a feasible scheme by Major Dobbs in 1855, and then examined by Colonel Green at the express desire of Sir Mark Cubbon. In 1869, Major Sankey's design was submitted to the Government of India, but, as it did not contain full estimates for irrigation channels, the papers were returned. Surveys were afterwards continued till 1873, when the project was abandoned for want of funds. The site offers great natural advantages for the formation of a reservoir of very considerable capacity, and it is the intention of the Durbar to resume the project and at an early date to complete the necessary enquiries and surveys, with detailed estimates as to cost of head works and irrigating channels. It is probable that the work will eventually yield a return of about 7 per cent on the capital of about 20 lakhs which may be required, and, as it will be the means of relieving the State of its constant anxiety regarding portions of Chitaldroog, no effort will be spared to push it to an early completion.

Collection and Scrutiny of Statistics.—The imminence of the famine this year has brought to notice some defects in the present machinery for the collection and scrutiny of statistics—agricultural, vital and economic. For a small Province like Mysore, it may perhaps not be necessary to have a separate Department of Agriculture, but it is absolutely necessary to have at the head-quarters an officer of standing and experience, who could "collect and deal with the satistical returns relating to the weather, the agriculture, the health and the well-being of the people, and thus secure the most prompt and accurate knowledge attainable of a probable failure of crops, and of the extent and consequences of any failure that actually takes place." In ordinary times this work may not be sufficient for a separate officer. It is therefore in contemplation to combine the office of Director of Statistics with that of the Inspector General of Police and of Forests and Plantations.

Re-constitution of Chitaldroog and Hassan Districts.—The experience of the past three years has convinced the Maharaja's Government of the necessity of having a regular District in the place of the present Sub-Division in such a large and distant place as Chitaldroog. The tract, as you know, is one of the border Districts of the Mysore State, with a long line of frontier, wild and hilly in parts, and affording shelter to dacoits, and from its being constantly subject to drought, has always been a source of anxiety to Government. The reconstitution of this Sub-Division into a District with all the machinery necessary for an efficient Revenue and Police administration will go a great way towards promoting local responsibility and prevention of crime, and it will be an important step towards an efficient administration of famine relief.

At some future time, it may be advisable to consider whether Hassan also should not be restored to its former position, thus reducing to its original manageable size the Mysore District, which, at present, is rather unwieldy. But the question of the re-constitution of Hassan is not so pressing as that of Chitaldroog.

Re-constitution of certain abolished Taluks.—Experience has also convinced us of the great public inconvenience caused by amalgamating some of the important frontier Taluks with the neighbouring ones, and this is especially the case with the Taluks of Malvalli, Arkalgud, Malur and Kankuppa, and perhaps of Devanhalli also. Ever since these Taluks were broken up there have been complaints of the inconvenience, and, in some instances, of the positive hardship, resulting from the change. I have been unwilling to disturb the new arrangement without a fair trial. Later experience, however, makes it clear that, while the resultant saving is inappreciable, the breaking up of these Taluks has not promoted administrative efficiency, and has been attended with great inconvenience to the ryots and village officials, and has had a prejudicial effect on local trade and local prosperity. His Highness' Government have therefore resolved to re-constitute at an early date some of the abolished Taluks.

Legislation.—In the Legislative Department the Local Board's Regulation, which came under discussion in previous meetings of this Assembly, was submitted in April last to the Government of India for sanction.

The Draft Revenue Code as finally revised by the Mysore Government was, some short time back, published in the official Gazette, and it is now being submitted to the Government of India.

The important Forest Regulation is still under discussion. The subject is surrounded by many difficulties, and this will be readily understood when it is said that in Forest matters, even the British Legislature, with its great experience, has not yet arrived at a final decision. The Forest Code is under revision in Bombay, the existing arrangements being deemed very unsatisfactory in the interests of the ryots. In Mysore, the subject is at present receiving careful consideration, and I may here mention that the Government of His Highness the Maharaja will enforce as a fundamental principle, that local wants, local customs, and local systems of tenure should not be disturbed. On the other hand, however, it must be distinctly understood that, as population and cultivation increase, it will be necessary for Government to interfere to prevent the wasteful destruction of forests and to ensure their conservation in the best interests of the people. It will be strongly impressed on the minds of Forest officers that their aim should be to conciliate the villagers in forest tracts, and secure their co-operation by liberal treatment in respect of their domestic wants.

In connection with Forest Legislation, I may add that it is proposed to place the Department under an Inspector General of Forests and Plantations. The Government are training three students in the Forest School at Dehra Dun for the post of Assistant Conservators, and it is proposed eventually to give an officer of this class to each District.

Though not strictly connected with the subject of Legislation, I may in this place mention that, at this moment, there is under consideration the introduction of an exhaustive Code of Rules based upon the Famine Code of the Madras Presidency and upon the provisional Famine Code of the Government of India. Such a Code will be a guide to our administrative officers of all grades in the inauguration and execution of relief measures in times of distress.

Pasture.—The important subject of pasture reserves is also now engaging the attention of Government. In a country like Mysore, where cattle-breeding is carried on to a large extent by the Government as well as by private individuals, the subject of pasture land is of the utmost importance. For the Government cattle, valuable pasture land has been reserved, and for private cattle the Survey Department has allotted to each village free Gomal or pasture land, this allotment being supplemented yearly by the sale to the villagers of the right to graze on Government waste-land, which, in many places, is extensive. In ordinary seasons, the existing provision is understood to be sufficient. In years of scanty rain-fall, there is invariably a general cry against the insufficiency of the existing grazing provision, and all the District Officers and Amildars consulted affirm that the cry is not without reason. The deficiency is generally met by temporarily placing the Reserved Forests at the disposal of villagers for the purpose of grazing, an arrangement inadequate in itself and not considered as a rule, a safe one, as there is always a risk of the privilege being abused. It is, under the circumstances, proposed to make a permanent provision that may, to some extent, meet the requirements of good and bad years, and to make the ryot independent, as much as possible, of Government Reserved Forests. It is admitted that the present Amrut Mahal allotment is far in excess of what is actually utilized by the Government cattle, and it is therefore proposed to reduce it to some extent. When this is done, some of the surplus Kavals would be utilized for fuel and pasture reserves, which could be thrown open to the public in exceptional years, while other surplus Kavals could be placed at the disposal of the public, on the moderate assessment of Hulgaval tenure, and on the distinct understanding of liability to enhanced assessment for lands brought under cultivation. The experiment of preserving green fodder in silos is being carried on on a large scale by the Military Secretary, who is in hopes of being able to report favorably upon it at an early date. The reports when received, will be published in the Gazette in English and Canarese.

Anche or Local Post.—A question of great importance which is now before the Government, relates to the Anche or the Local Post. It is undoubted that the Department is capable of much improvement. Two alternative proposals have been made to us by the Director General of the Post Office in India. The first proposal is that the complete control of Postal arrangements in Mysore should be surrendered by the Durbar to the Imperial Postal Department, that that Department should take over the whole of the Mysore Postal establishments, pay them from Imperial revenues, and treat Mysore in all postal matters exactly as if it were a British Province, the service correspondence of the State being carried at the cheap official postage rates prepaid by service stamps. The proposal is advantageous in many ways. It secures that centralization and uniformity of rules and organization, which is the essence of every efficient Postal system. It remedies that public inconvenience which naturally results from Mysore being isolated from the rest of India in Postal matters, and it saves the Maharaja's Government the trouble and cost of maintaining a local Postal Department, which, at best, only imitates the Imperial system in a manner necessarily imperfect. It involves no interfence, administrative or political, though the liability of the State in respect of Mail robberies will increase as the British Postal system expands.

The alternative proposal submitted for the consideration of the Maharaja's Government is—

1*st*—that Mysore should adopt all British rules and rates of postage, using British Postage Stamps over-printed "Mysore," which will be supplied to it for the mere cost of manufacture;

2*ndly*—that all paid inland correspondence, official or non-official, transferred from Mysore to British Post Offices or vice-versa be delivered free, each Post Office keeping whatever it collects in stamps or on bearing letters; and

3*rdly*—that Mysore introduces the Money order, Insurance, Value-payable parcel, Postal note and other systems peculiar to the British Indian Post Office, retaining any fees it earns on account of them.

You will observe that this alternative proposal secures complete reciprocity in all Postal matters, but it must not be forgotten that its adoption throws a great responsibility upon the State, and is likely to involve some additional expenditure for the improvement of the present establishment. His Highness' Government have considered the subject with great care and in all its bearing; but, before coming to a final decision, they desire that it should be fully discussed at this Meeting.

Gentlemen, before conc uding this address, let me assure you that it is a source of great satisfaction to His Highness the Maharaja that the opportunity afforded by this annual Assembly for the representation of public wants, and the suggestion of measures calculated to better the condition of the people, is prized as a valuable privilege by his subjects in all parts of the Province. At the outset, the institution was regarded by some as premature, but the continued interest you evince in public affairs and the practical common sense which characterizes your discussions have served to refute the assumption so often made that the institution is in advance of the times. The success achieved in the past is an encouragement for further endeavours to secure at these annual meetings a fuller representation of the wants and wishes of the people. In view to attaining this end, His Highness has been pleased to direct that the various Local Boards, now about to be constituted, shall be empowered to select their representatives for this Assembly, thereby investing it with the authority and weight which belong to a body formally deputed for the representation of the people.

The Dewan then adjourned the Meeting to the 22nd October for purposes of discussions.

22nd October 1885.

The Bangalore District.

Mr. Seshachari of the Magadi Taluk, Bangalore District, submitted that in repairing the tanks, the Public Works Officers invariably lowered the kodis, thereby decreasing the irrigation under the tanks; he mentioned as instances, the Nagarkere in the Dodballapur Taluk, and Banavadi tank in Magadi.

The Dewan condemned the lowering of kodis; in special cases it might be necessary, and the Public Works Department should not take action without the previous sanction of Government in such cases. The Public Works Secretary, who was present at the discussion, was asked to make a note of the point for the information and guidance of that Department.

2. The same member complained against the existing rules, which confer on the inamdars of whole villages little or no power of dismissing or appointing their village officers, the toti and the talawar.

The Dewan said that in the existing orders there was ample provision on this point and that the inamdars might dismiss and appoint these officers, their proceedings however being subject to the confirmation by the Deputy Commissioner of the District, which reservation was necessary in the interests of the village officials against arbitrary dismissals.

3. The member also recommended the abolition of Shanbhogs in inam villages alleging that the Shanbhogs generally did not help the inamdars and often obstructed them, putting up the ryots against the inamdars. He said that the inamdars themselves would undertake the duties of the office.

The Dewan declined to grant the request for obvious reasons, and observed that the obstruction complained of was not general. He added that the Government would always help the inamdar in getting rid of his troublesome Shanbhog on good cause being shown.

4. Another grievance was, collection of irrigation cess on inam tanks constructed by the inamdars. The Dewan said that the cess had been abolished and that enquiries would be made regarding the alleged demand and collection.

5. There was a general request from the representatives of all the Districts for six instalments of revenue demand, instead of four, the present number: it was urged that in the months of December and January and especially in December, the ryots did not harvest any crop and that the heavy demand in those months ($\frac{1}{8}$th and $\frac{3}{8}$ths) compelled them to borrow at great disadvantage. The Dewan fully sympathised with them and said that the question required careful study with reference to matters affecting other interests of the State. He promised to give the subject his earnest attention.

6. Mr. Seshachari thought that the survey rates of assessment were high and the reduction of them would increase cultivation. The Dewan replied that the complaint against the rates was unjust, and that the best proof of the fairness of the rates was in the increased cultivation in almost all the taluks surveyed and settled. There was no complaint of over-assessment as a rule. Reduction of the survey rates would simply be a wanton sacrifice of revenue.

7. Complaint was made that the rules regarding remission of half wet assessment were not attended to in the current year by the jamabandi officers.

The Dewan said that he was not in favor of these remission rules, the object with which the Government had sanctioned them not having been realized. It was considered that the favourable rules would bring more wet land under cultivation, and the Deputy Commissioners who were unanimously of opinion from the beginning that the indulgence was uncalled for, strongly advocated its withdrawal, urging that it had not in the least tended to increase wet cultivation. The wet rates of survey assessment were, in themselves, the Dewan added, quite reasonable, and call for no remission rules.

8. Mr. Iranna of Kankanhalli submitted that reservation of land by Forest Department was a mistake, that it unnecessarily interfered with the grazing rights of the villagers, that the grass in the reserved tracts was often not utilized, and that in dry and hot season when usually fires broke out, the existence of this grass was dangerous to trees on the land.

The Dewan replied that, at the settlement of a taluk, adequate provision was always made for the village free grazing, and that in seasons of scarcity the Government was prepared to throw open its reserves. In addition to these privileges, the ryots had the waste lands arable as well as unarable, the grazing over which was annually rented out by the Government. The Dewan added that the reservation of useful forest land or land adjacent to reserved forests likely in time to become forests from reservations, was an important duty of the Government and could not be neglected.

9. Complaint was made against Public Cattle Department, that the men in charge of the cattle were constantly encroaching on the neighbouring kavals not belonging to that Department: the following places were mentioned: Golhalli, Subedar kaval, Bettahalli kaval, Gubbadi kaval and Churkarkere kaval.

The Dewan drew the attention of the Bangalore Deputy Commissioner who was present, to the complaint with a view to the institution of necessary enquiry.

10. Referring to the order of Government prohibiting the annual sale of Hulbanni in places where the villagers were prepared to take it up at an average valuation by the Deputy Commissioner, Mr. Iranna contended that though the average rate was lighter than the highest bids at the sales, it was still heavy and should be lowered. The Dewan replied that the concession went as far as it could, consistent with the legitimate claims of Government, and that further reduction would be a loss to Government.

11. A request was made for the location of a Munsiff's Court at Closepet giving to it jurisdiction over the Kankanhalli Taluk which now forms a part of the jurisdiction of the Bangalore Munsiff.

The Dewan said that the existing arrangement was adopted after careful consideration, and that the change advocated would unnecessarily increase the State expenditure without adequate work to the Closepet Court. He regretted he could not sanction the proposition.

12. It was represented by the same member that village sites were now sold to the highest bidder in a public auction instead of giving them, under the old rules, to the first applicants free of all charge. He suggested that the old practice might be revived The Dewan objected to the suggestion, observing that the sales put a stop to the abuse of the old practice, and that the bids after all were in most cases very low.

13. It was urged that the scale of remuneration fixed for the totis and talawars was high and should be lowered.

The Dewan declined to interfere, pointing out that the work of these minor village officials was getting onerous daily, and that they were fairly entitled to the compensation which was only reasonable. Several other members concurred in this opinion of the Dewan.

14. The standing complaint against selling arable waste land to the highest bidder in a public auction when more than one application might be put in for the same piece, was revived. The Dewan pointed out that the rule was not absolute, and that the Deputy Commissioners had a certain discretionary power which they might exercise in cases where a sale might be injurious to the interests of some of the applicants: the Deputy Commissioner has the power in such cases to dispose of the land without a sale, and give it to the applicant who, in equity, should have it. There are cases again where disposal by sale would meet the ends of justice.

15. The suggestion that orders of Government should be published in the Government Gazette in Kanarese, was approved.

16. Mr. Iranna recommended the revival of batayi cultivation, restricting it to the lands resigned and not taken up at once. The Dewan objected to such a course on the well known ground that it led to much abuse.

17. Objection was taken to the sale of "Pachwar" in Government tanks recommending that the right to fish in them should be free to the villagers. The Dewan thought that the existing rule was fair, namely, that the right should be freely enjoyed by the villagers in cases where they rendered any service to the tank, and that it should be sold annually in all other cases; in small tanks and kattes, the item was not sold.

18. Complaint was made against the mohatarfa taxation of houses of ryots; it was brought to the notice that the term ryot was not uniformly understood: in some Taluks it was understood to mean one who owned land and cultivated it himself; in some Taluks it was considered sufficient simply to own land; in some Taluks again a cultivator was a ryot whether he owned land or not. In taxing his houses too there was wanting uniformity. A ryot living in one village and owning land in another was taxed because he had no land where his house was situated; a simple shikmidar in some taluks was exempted, while in other places he was taxed on the ground that he owned no land.

The Dewan admitted that there was a diversity of opinion on the subject and divers practice. The Government would consider it carefully and amend the existing rules.

19. The proposition to reorganize the late Channapatna Taluk was rejected.

As stated in the Dewan's Speech, the representatives were asked their opinion on the point of retaining or giving up the local Anche. They were unanimously for keeping it and working it, if necessary, at a loss: they considered the surrender as undignifying.

Shimoga District.

20. The representatives, as a body, applied for six instalments instead of four; they however admitted that the four instalments did not press heavily on them, as their garden crop came in earlier than the 1st khist and they had thus the means of paying up the demand; in the cases of those who owned no garden, the rice crop came in in January and it would be easy for the ryots to have the khists from January to April.

The Dewan said that the subject was one for future consideration and did not require immediate decision.

21. Mr. Hosabele Subba Rao contended that the Taluk of Sorab, classed as Maidan for forest purposes, should properly come under Malnad, and that in consequence of the present incorrect classification the ryots living in the Malnad portion of the Taluk (and the major part of the Taluk is Malnad) were under great disadvantage in regard to forest privileges. The Dewan made a note of this grievance and promised redress after consulting the Revenue and the Forest officers of the District.

22. He also contended that the Government Shendi Ijaradars should be excluded from khans held under assessment. The Dewan could not grant the request, as the mere fact of this assessment did not give the khan-owner the right of collecting shendi in it. The payment of assessment gives him certain privileges under the rules, and the money value of those privileges was sufficiently high and required no enhancement.

23. The withdrawal of certain unauthorized Sayer Circular Rules issued by a former Deputy Commissioner of the District was urged upon the Government. The Dewan replied that the Circulars had no force, not having been issued by the Government, and that the present Deputy Commissioner had been instructed to withdraw those that were either inconsistent with the standing orders of the Government or were calculated to annoy the public without adequate cause and necessity.

24. Mr. Subba Rao and along with him, representatives of other Districts, brought to notice that several important temples were in ruins from want of funds for their restoration ; private devotees were willing to undertake the task of restoration, provided the Government also paid a part of the expenditure ; they suggested free grant of timber as Government contribution towards the cost of the work. The Dewan promised the Government aid applied for in cases of important institutions ; it was however out of the question to extend the grant to all the temples in the Mysore State.

25. Revival of Kumri cultivation was again recommended by the representatives of all the Malnad Taluks ; the Dewan was doubtful of the advantages of this system, and said he was not prepared to grant it without further consideration.

26. Honnavar Magani is a small bit of Her Majesty's territories situated in the Nagar Taluk and surrounded by its villages ; the representatives of the Taluk suggested that the magani might be taken over by the Maharaja's Government giving up an equivalent tract of country elsewhere. The Dewan replied that such tracts of British territory were many in the Mysore country and that the inconvenience of their situation for administration purposes was undoubtedly a point for consideration for the British Government, but that he would not interfere with the present state of things.

27 The transfer of the Taluk Head-quarters from Nagar to Kallurkatte was submitted for consideration. The Dewan admitted that the latter place was more eligible, and that there was a good road and the place not wanting in accommodation. He however would not decide at once, but promised to give the subject his best consideration.

28. Similarly he would consider the request for English schools at all Taluk Head-quarters, pointing out to the representatives at the same time the importance of the boys giving early and earnest attention to the study of the Vernacular and Sanskrit.

29. It was represented that the proceedings of the Civil Courts were always in English and that in 99 cases out of a hundred the parties, being ignorant of that language, were obliged to get Canarese translations of them at a heavy cost for their own information, besides getting English copies at the same heavy cost for the information of the Lawyers, whose knowledge, as a rule, of Canarese was very slight. They were thus obliged to incur " double cost," and begged that the Government might either lower the rate of fees or remit the cost on either set of copies. The Dewan felt for them, but said there was no remedy, the present rate of copying fees being low enough, and the Government could not remit the cost as suggested.

30. Regarding the spontaneous growth of sandal on private land, the representatives said that there was a great destruction of young plants, the owner of the land having no interest in their growth and development; they recommended that a certain commission might be offered the land-holders, on the net value of the sandal realized on their property. The Dewan said that a former order of the Chief Commissioner was framed to that effect and that it was subsequently withdrawn owing to the inherent difficulty of guarding against smuggling, &c. The subject however would be disscussed in connection with the Forest Legislation for Mysore.

31. With reference to the standing rule that a house built upon assessed land under cultivation should go with the land, it was submitted that the more equitable arrangement would be to give the house a separate number, so that the land owner might resign the land keeping the house for himself if he so chose; the Dewan said that such a rule would be a source of dispute and inconvenience and could not be adopted.

32. The grievance of "double tax" on supari gardens was discussed with some force; the garden was highly assessed and there was besides a sayer tax on the produce. The Dewan said that the finances of the State would not suffer him to make any remission.

33. The Shimoga District like the Bangalore District was for retaining the Anche and not giving it up to Her Majesty's Government; only one individual member Davangere Adivappa suggested that it might be given up as its working by the Mysore Durbar was a loss. The other representatives en masse said "No; loss with dignity is welcome; surrender is undignifying."

Further discussion was adjourned to 23rd instant.

23rd October 1885.

Present.—Dewan and principal officers of Government.

34. Inconvenience, it was urged, was felt at present by the hissedars of a land when they sought to obtain free wood for agricultural purposes; the standing rule requiring them to produce certificates from the wargadars of the land, vouching for the fact that the applicants were bona fide hissedars, and had a right to the free grant of wood: the representatives wished that the rule should be withdrawn, as very often the wargadars were on bad terms with the hissedars and either declined to grant the prescribed certificates, or delayed granting them.

The Dewan said that there was a necessity for this arrangement, the Government not knowing the names of the hissedars, not having all the hissedars' names entered in the accounts. In cases where the wargadars wantonly put obstructions in the way of the hissedars, the latter had a right to go up to the Taluk authorities and obtain redress. It was further pointed out that the rule was not absolute as, in many Taluks, such applications from hissedars were granted on the certificates of the Shanbhogs, or Shekdars or Patels: the point was one of minor detail, which Deputy Commissioners should settle with reference to the circumstances of each Taluk.

35. Dissatisfaction was expressed in regard to the free vend of stamp papers that they were sold to the address and name of any one on the application of third parties, without any enquiry whether the third parties had any power to make such purchases. It was requested that the papers should be sold to applicants on their written applications and that the papers should contain the year, in water-mark, of their issue from the Press.

The Dewan thought the latter request reasonable and should be granted; as to the necessity for a written application for getting a stamp paper, he would consult the Stamp Superintendent before finally deciding on the subject.

36. Permission was asked for distilling "Akki Boja" on the ground that it was surreptitiously distilled at present and it would be far better to legalise it. The Dewan objected to the suggestion, as it would materially affect the Abkari revenue. Surreptitious distilling should be severely put down, and the representatives ought to help the Government in detecting this fraud on the Government.

37. The representatives of the maidan parts of Shimoga, notably those of Honnali, complained that the owners of lands taken up for gold mining purposes sold the Hulbanni on those lands to any one who paid the highest amount, and that the villagers were thus at the mercy of these high bidders: it was requested that the miners might be asked to give the grazing to the villagers on a moderate fixed rent. The Dewan regretted he could not interfere with the private rights of the mining companies.

38. The construction of an anicut across the Sogalu-Hirehalli stream on the Shikarpur-Shimoga road was pressed on the attention of Government. The Public Works Secretary was asked to make a note of it and study the details for the future consideration of the Government.

39. It was represented that formerly houses were taxed with reference to the "ankanams" which yield a good sum for the Municipality, and that the present taxation on the value of houses reduced the income from this source; the representatives recommended the revival of the former system. The Dewan said he would not interfere in a matter which was entirely within the jurisdiction of Municipalities.

40. It was pointed out as a grievance that applications for waste building sites were required to be on stamps of eight annas each; that there was not the least certainty of the applicants getting the sites, as they had to be sold to the highest bidder, and that the stamp duty was often a penalty for having presented the application. In reply it was said that the practice was not uniform in all the districts, and that after enquiry, the Government would issue final orders.

41. To restore Bechirakh villages and abandoned gardens, the representatives suggested that the lands should be let on progressive rent or "Ulve." The Dewan said that the Government had adopted this course and sanctioned several applications on this tenure, the first year paying a fourth of the full assessment, the second a half, the third three quarters, and the fourth year the entire assessment. The Government was prepared to extend the period to 6 or even 8 years on the recommendation of the Deputy Commissioner, and on good cause being shown.

42. It was recommended that Bechirakh villages might be granted on Kayamgutta tenure: The Dewan said that Government would sanction it on the payment as "Kayamgu'ta" of the full survey assessment, no enhancement of that amount being guaranteed to the owner at the expiry of the 30 years survey guarantee. The Dewan observed that this was not a profitable arrangement to the ryot, and that a better arrangement was the system of "Ulve" tenure, which the Government was prepared to sanction liberally.

43. The restoration of the Kumudvati anicut,—in ruins for the last 200 years it is said, called Tirugani Madavu between Kilmane and Choradi—as a project, the Government would consider when funds were available.

The Kolar District.

44. The representatives opened the discussion by hoping that the Government would not surrender the Anche to the British Government; they urged that it was an inseparable symbol of royalty, that it was an old and respected institution, and a little loss in the working of it should not force the Government to give it up.

45. The construction of a Railway between Bangalore and Madanapalli and a road from Chintamani in the Kolar District to Chelur in Her Majesty's territory adjoining, were recommended. The Dewan said that the projects could not be entertained for the present. He also could not promise them the revival of poppy cultivation, as the existing arrangement between Mysore and the Government of India would not permit it.

46. In reply to their grievance against the existing Forest Rules, the Dewan observed that the rules in Mysore were considerably better than similar rules elsewhere, but that every consideration possible would be shown them in the next Forest Legislation which was pending before the Government.

47. A general request was made for the extension of the rules for the remission of wet-land assessment: remission of full assessment was recommended in cases where either the wet land was waste or failed to secure any crop, half remission being given to partial failure of crops.

The Dewan replied that the whole principle of remission was a mistake, that in surveyed taluks assessment was fixed with reference to good and bad years, and the rates were fair average rates, not in the least pressing on the ryots in the long run; and that the object of the rules granting remission of half assessment was to encourage increase in wet cultivation, which result not having been secured according to the unanimous opinion of the Deputy Commissioners and Amildars, the Government had decided upon withdrawing them altogether.

48. The formation of Village Munsiff and Magistrate's circles was recommended; in reply, it was said that the project was under consideration and that the experience of men having opportunities of forming correct opinion on the subject, in countries where the system was in force, was not altogether in its favor, and that the Mysore Government would not adopt it hastily, but would give the subject full consideration.

49. Establishment of dispensaries in every taluk was advocated. The Dewan replied that every attention was being paid to this important subject, and that the number of dispensaries was steadily increasing, and that the recommendations of the Deputy Commissioners and Municipal Bodies were, as a rule, attended to.

50. The members from Chintamani applied for the location of an English School at the station. The Dewan promised to consider it favorably on the receipt of the application through the proper channel.

51. In reply to the suggestion that wet assessment remission rules should be extended to cases of "Pik Sukki" (failure of crops), the Dewan pointed out the necessity of withdrawing altogether the remission rules on the ground of their utter failure in realising the hopes of increased wet cultivation, entertained by Government.

52. The revival of poppy cultivation was again this year pressed upon the consideration of Government, but the Dewan declined to discuss the question, as the rules prohibiting this cultivation were framed in compliance with the wishes of the Government of India.

53. Construction of a road between Chintamani in His Highness' dominions and Chelur in Her Majesty's territories was requested. The Dewan promised to consider the project. The Madanapalli-Bangalore Railway was also discussed.

Kadur District.

54. Complaint was made that the ryots of the Yedahalli Sub-division could not get their timber either free or on payment, from the jungles in the Sub-division. The Dewan replied that there were no general rules prohibiting the felling of timber in these jungles, and that an early enquiry would be made and any grievance existing removed.

55. The request for the location of a Taluk Treasury at Yedahalli was not granted, no grounds being shown for its necessity.

56. The Patel of Tarikere Mr. Chenna Basappa urged upon the Government the desirability of utilising the water of the Kalhatti water fall for repairing and restoring the Hosakere and Nagankere tanks situated about 8 or 9 miles from Tarikere. The Dewan referred the projects to the Secretary, Public Works Department, for early investigation.

57. Mr. Konodi Shankarappa of Yedahalli applied for the grant of "Ulve" in wet waste lands, stating that several tracts of such waste lands would at once be taken up if so granted. The Dewan declined to consider the proposal which would be to sacrifice Government revenue; he pointed out that the wet rates in the Malnad were very reasonable and in some places low, and that the grant of "Ulve" for supari gardens, waste for many years, was on just and equitable consideration which were wanting in cases of paddy flats.

58. Mr. Santappa of Koppa Taluk requested that octroi in the Municipality in the Koppa Taluk should be abolished. The Dewan said he would leave the subject to the discretion of the Municipalities and not interfere.

59. Chikmagalur Mr. Chenna Basappa Chetti pointed out that hissedars as well as wargdars should be exempted from the house-tax, as the former were as much land-holders as the latter. The point was noted, and the Dewan promised to consider it in the revision of the Mohatarfa rules.

Hassan Sub-Division.

60. Mr. Saklespore Srikantaiya wished to draw the attention of the Government to the unnecessarily large area of each survey number and to the absence of all reference in accounts to the old designation of fields by which they are known in old documents. It was asked that the survey numbers might be made smaller than they are at present, and that in the survey accounts, the old names of fields might be noted opposite each number. It was pointed out in reply that the area of each number at present was not inconveniently large, and that such a complaint had some force about three years back, but that subsequent orders had materially changed the extent of the survey number, and that the complaint has ceased in almost all parts of the country. The suggestion to write the old names of fields could not, for obvious reasons, be accepted.

61. Mr. Vakil Surnaranappa recommended the repairs and restoration of Chendravellikatte, breached about 8 years back. The Secretary, Public Works Department, took a note of the project.

62. Recommended also the increase in the number of khists, discussed elsewhere.

63. Hardship was experienced, it was said, in sending civil debtors of Hassan to Shimoga. The Dewan said the formation of the Hassan District might materially remove the hardship, and if it did not, he would consult the Chief Court and grant such relief as the circumstances demanded. Similarly, appeals from Hassan to Shimoga would, in future, go to Mysore and remove the present difficulties on this point.

64. Delay in confirming sales of Government land held for recovery of land revenue, was causing grievous loss to purchasers, and the Dewan was requested to warn the executive officers against the irregularity. The Dewan observed that the rules were quite clear on the subject, and that the Revenue Code would remove all doubts. There might arise exceptional cases, and delay might occur in their disposal, almost unavoidable.

65. Restoration of temple inams attached and resumed by the Government for disrepair of institutions, was strongly advocated: it was said in reply that no inams would be resumed, so long as the institutions existed in fairly good order and worship was rendered to the deity in them, and that on this principle, several resumed inams had been restored on the report of the District officers that the devotees had repaired the temples and revived worship in them.

66. The last point discussed was "who are the persons entitled to claim puttas." It was urged that every hissedar in a land should have a separate patta or receipt book with the particulars of the land belonging to him entered in it in full detail: that is to say the receipt book of each hissedar should be a complete document evidencing his title to it. Again it often happened that the pattadar had no title of any kind in the land, and that the party in possession was the real owner. Who should have the right to hold the patta or receipt book in such cases? Dewan:—The Government cannot possibly furnish either the pattadar or hissedar with a document concerning his land describing in the document in full detail all his title to it. The present form of receipt book gives the holding registered in the name of the ryot with its number or numbers and assessment; the hissedars are not known to Government and all their names cannot possibly be entered in the book: the hissedars may certainly obtain duplicates of the book. The holder may resign any part of his holding as laid down in the Survey Rules in favor of his hissedar, and the latter then get a receipt book. In the case of a party in possession being the rightful owner, and the holder of the receipt book being only in name "Wargadar," the former will hold the book in the absence of all disputes. The Wargadar as long as he remains a wargadar and insists upon having the book, must have it. The party in possession, in disputed cases, should get his right to hold the receipt book proved before and declared by a competent authority.

Chitaldroog Sub-Division.

The address of Nanjunda Rao was read and recorded.—(vide Appendix).

67. Mr. Saudagar Muhammad Isuf thanked the Government for the reconstitution of the Chitaldroog District.

68. He pressed upon the Government the necessity of taking up the repairs and restorations of irrigation works and mentioned that the Bhimasandra tank feeders were out of order. The Secretary, Public Works Department, was asked to make a note of it. The member advocated remission of school fees in Taluk English schools in the case of poor boys. The Dewan said the fees charged in the Taluk schools were extremely light, and that indiscriminate admission of free students merely on the ground of poverty was not discreet. He would however admit free boys who might be poor and show special aptitude and earnestness for study. In reply to the same member's suggestion that each village should have a cattle pound and the fines under the Act should be reduced by half, the Dewan observed he did not think that each village wanted a pound, but would grant one for a cluster of villages. He did not think the fine amount was heavy, and there was no general complaint on this point.

69. Mr. Rudrappa of Challakere complained against the rule which prohibited the granting of lands for cultivation when there were date trees on them. The member urged that the toddy trees were more than the demand for toddy and that in consequence of the prohibition considerable extent of land was kept waste. The Dewan explained that the object of the rule was to preserve one of the sources of Government revenue, a very important item of revenue. He had frequently received complaints from the Abkari contractors of wholesale and reckless felling of date trees which of course the Government would not permit. The action of Deputy Commissioners and Amildars had been found inconsistent with the repeated orders of Government prohibiting the destruction of date trees and there was thus felt a necessity for stringent measure. The present rules however did not absolutely prevent granting of lands with date trees on them for cultivation: lands which had a regulur tope on them or by their situation near date topes were likely in time to become valuable topes, were not to be granted. The limitation was necessary, and the Dewan was sure, would not be found interfering with the increase of cultivation in the country.

70. Mr. Challakere Murugaiya stated that, when in certain years a ryot took water to his dry fields and irrigated them, he was charged water rate, and the rate was kept on permanently against the lands in subsequent years whether the ryot irrigated them or not. He advocated the remission of water rate in years of non-irrigation. The Dewan regretted he could not sanction the suggestion as it would leave too much power for abuse in the hands of the village officials; the present rule would not be interfered with.

Tumkur District.

The written address presented by the members will be found in the Appendix.

71. The members advocated that as garden lands were more heavily assessed than wet lands, the former should have a larger supply of water. The Dewan observed that it was impossible to fix the ratio, but that satisfactory arrangements would always be made, as much as might be practicable by Deputy Commissioners to give valuable gardens sufficient water.

72. It was urged with some force that Vakils should be directed to conduct their cases and address the Courts in the Vernacular. The Dewan concurred in the view as regards the original courts, and promised to consult the Chief Court on the subject.

73. The jodi inamdars stated that in fixing the jodi at the time of grant, the Government at the time took a certain ratio of the entire yield of the village, and that yield consisted of items of revenue some of which had been subsequently abolished during the rule of the British Commission; they questioned the right of the Government to collect the original jodi under the altered circumstances; complaint was also made that the relation of the inamdars to the Government abkari contractors was not well defined, that while the former were prohibited from selling the Shendi of their villages to persons other than the contractors, they were placed at the mercy of the contractors who declined or took the toddy as they chose, offering for it any thing they thought fit. It was observed in reply that as regards the jodi amount, the Government would not reopen the subject disposed of years back by the administration of British Commission. As regards the Shendi of the inam villages, the existing rule was to compel the contractor to take up the Shendi at the valuation of the Deputy Commissioner, and the arrangement was reasonable. He further thought it might be more satisfactory to buy up once for all the Shendi right of inamdars for a lump sum.

Other subjects brought up by the members of this District were those discussed already by other District members.

Adjourned to 24th October.

24th October.

Mysore District.

74. Hutchegauda of Heggaddevankote recommended that Hampapur jungle should not be reserved as that would prove a source of great annoyance to the ryots of the surrounding villages. The Dewan desired the Deputy Commissioner, Mysore, present, to enquire into the complaint and report if necessary for the orders of Government.

75. The members urged that Mysore being a Native State, the slaughter of cows should be strictly prohibited, that in the Mysore Town it was not done during the life-time of the late Maharaja ; subsequent to his death, the butchers started it. The Dewan suggested the point for the consideration of the Municipality of Mysore, and said that he would see what could be done on the receipt of their views.

76. As regards the complaint that irrigation channels were badly constructed and water did not flow easily in them, the members were told that it was a minor point for rectification on reference to Deputy Commissioners and Executive Engineers.

77. Mr. Arkalgud Venkatakrishna Chetti advocated the abolition of octroi which the Dewan said was a matter for the Municipality of each place to consider. In reply to his proposal to revive sayer on tobacco and other articles, the Dewan pointed out in detail the petty annoyance, not to say tyranny, to which poor people were subjected by the collectors of the tax. He was not prepared to consider the proposal.

78. He complained against the heavy wet assessment of lands really dry but at certain seasons capable of irrigation by percolation of water from Government tanks. It was explained to him that wet rates in the Arkalgud Taluk were by no means high, and that if he would point out cases where the assessment was unreasonable, enquiry would be made.

79. Mysore Municipal Commissioner Virasangappa requested permission to present an address of thanks to the Supreme Government through the Durbar for the postponement of the enhancement in the Subsidy ; permission was granted.

80. He advocated the lowering of survey settlement rates, creation of Village Munsiffs, revival of sayer and formation of industrial schools, points upon which the Dewan had expressed the opinion of the Durbar elsewhere. He thought the provisions of the Civil Law in favor of insolvents were unsatisfactory, and that capable men obtained the benefit of the Act. The Dewan said that the point could not be easily decided without further experience. In reply to the suggestion that lands sold in satisfaction of civil decrees should be sold primarily in the villages in which they were situated, the Dewan admitted that this might be done, and he would consult the Chief Court. He was not in favor of the next suggestion of this member for an appointment of a separate officer for the muzarayi of the whole Province, the existing arrangement working satisfactorily.

81. In addition to examinations in English, in general subjects, the member recommended that such examinations should be held in the Vernacular also. The Dewan said he would consider the proposition. In reply to the request that Girls' schools should be established in all large towns, he was told that Government was prepared to encourage such education by grant-in-aid.

82. Objection was taken to the different octroi rates in different Municipalities ; that however was a point for the settlement by the Municipalities ; likewise the point as to what articles of trade should be taxed. Municipalities that could afford to give up the tax on several articles might so give up ; while others again could not do so without impairing the Municipal administration.

83. The heavy fees in small causes was the next point brought up. Plaintiff might employ a Pleader or an Advocate ; for the Pleader the fees were Rs. 5 and for the Advocate Rs. 16 ; the latter would affect a poor defendant considerably ; it was therefore proposed that in suits of Rs. 50 or up to Rs. 100, the fees might be fixed at Rs. 5. The Dewan would consult the Chief Court.

84. Mr. Anniya Pandit recommended the early settlement of water supply question for the town of Mysore ; the subject, the Dewan said, was under consideration. The member advocated the issue of joint pattas in the names of all the parties having interest in the land and begged that all bona fide receipts written on loose papers or in receipt books granted by the Shanbhogs acknowledging payments of kandayam might be recognized by Government. It was explained by the member that the Mysore District orders declined to recognize receipts on loose papers and insisted upon having them in the printed receipt book. The Dewan wished the Deputy Commissioner, present, to withdraw the order, and added that it was regular to have the receipt entered in the book, but that failure of this was the mistake of the Shanbhog who should be censured. Dewan could not sanction the entry of the names of all hissedars in the book as asked for by the member.

85. It was said that alienations of inams were not now recorded in Government Revenue accounts ; the title-deed granted by the Inam Superintendent was not altered as alienations occurred, and the Amildar had no power to enter the alienations in the accounts. The Dewan said that when alienations took place, the inamdars might put in razinamas and the alienee a kabulnama. He would consult the Inam Superintendent.

86. Mr. Advocate Raghavachar spoke in favor of appointments of Honorary Magistrates and of institution of orders of title to be conferred on eminent public men of the State. He also recommended compulsory vaccination.

87. The repairs of Maddur Ané were requested, and the Dewan asked the Secretary, Public Works Department, to make a note of the same.

88. All the representative members were unanimous in advocating the retention by the Durbar of the Anche Department ; it was unbecoming the dignity of Government, in their opinion, to surrender it.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE ASSEMBLY OF REPRESENTATIVE RYOTS AND MERCHANTS FROM ALL TALUKS OF THE PROVINCE OF MYSORE, HELD AT MYSORE ON THE 9TH OCTOBER 1886.

---

The sixth Annual Assembly of Representative Ryots and Merchants of Mysore was held on the 9th October 1886 at 12 noon in the Rangacharlu Memorial Hall, the Dewan presiding. There were present on the occasion, the Resident and his staff, the Councillors of the Mysore State, the Judges of the Chief Court, the Heads of Departments, the Chief and other Secretaries of the Government and the Deputy Commissioners of Bangalore, Tumkur, Mysore, Hassan and Shimoga.

2. The following address was read by the Dewan.

GENTLEMEN :—I have much pleasure in laying before you to-day, by command of His Highness the Maharaja, a statement showing the principal features of the administration of the Province during the past official year ; and in doing so, it is particularly gratifying to me to be able to premise that this is the first year since the Rendition of the Province, in which the prospects of the season have occasioned no anxiety to His Highness' Government. At every previous meeting of this Assembly reference had to be made to a failure of the rains, more or less general, and in my address to you last year, I dwelt at considerable length on the scanty rainfall of two successive years, and the consequent apprehensions of widespread scarcity and distress,—apprehensions which at the time of our last meeting were beginning to be dispelled by the advent of a favorable north-east monsoon. In October and the following months copious and seasonable rain fell, which allowed of fair crops being raised in every part of the Province, and the year on the whole proved to be one of average agricultural prosperity. Again during the current year the season has so far been exceptionally good ; the rain-fall up to the end of the last month in the dry Districts on the north and north-east is fully twice the quantity gauged during the corresponding months of the last year ; almost all our important tanks are already full or nearly full ; and altogether the year promises to be one of the most prosperous we have had for a long time past.

I now proceed to read to you the usual statements, showing the income and expenditure under all heads except the Railway, which I reserve for separate treatment.

It will thus be seen that the ordinary revenue of the State was Rs. 1,14,30,754 against Rs. 1,00,70,957 in 1884—85, and the expenditure Rs. 1,01,16,957 against Rs. 99,55,601.

In the statement of income the most striking feature is the large increase of 9½ lakhs under Land Revenue. It includes a sum of 3½ lakhs which was collected out of the deferred demand of 1884—85; during which year, owing to the bad season, considerable remissions and postponements of revenue to the aggregate extent of 5½ lakhs were found necessary. If the deferred collections of 1884—85 (viz. about 3½ lakhs) be deducted from the land revenue receipts of 1885—86, the income pertaining to the latter year is reduced to about 73 lakhs, which, you may remember, was the maximum amount of annual land revenue ever realized in Mysore.

The history of this important item of our revenue during the past half-century shows continued improvement during the first four decades, when the averages were 50¼, 53, 67½, and 72½ lakhs, respectively. Then there was a great fall due to the disastrous famine of 1876—78; but during the past five years, there has been going on a steady process of recovery.

The pre-famine figure of 73 lakhs was reached in 1883—84 and again in 1885—86, and the demand for the intervening year 1884—85 was also about 73 lakhs, though, owing to the exceptional circumstance already adverted to, a much smaller amount was actually realized before the close of that year. Thus our land revenue may now be said to have recovered from the effects of the famine of 1876—78, and we may fairly assume that the extent of land now under cultivation is about the same as before that famine.

The improvement under "Forests" was mainly due to the revival of the market for sandalwood from the depression of the previous year, and to a smaller extent to an increased supply of Railway sleepers.

All other items of revenue participate in the general improvement due to a prosperous season.

The total expenditure in 1885—86 was Rs. 1,01,16,957 and exceeded that of the previous year by Rs. 1,61,556. The increase under Public Works alone was Rs. 2,38,612, the usual annual grant of 9½ lakhs having had to be raised to 12 lakhs for the improvement of Irrigation Works under circumstances which I explained to you last year.

Deducting expenditure from income, the surplus of the year amounted to Rs. 13,13,797 which however included the realizations on account of the previous year's arrears under all heads to the extent of about 4½ lakhs.

The budget estimates of receipts and disbursements for the current year are based mainly upon the actuals of the two previous years.

A total estimated expenditure of Rs. 1,10,58,000 is provided against an actual of Rs. 1,01,17,000 in 1885—86. The large increase of Rs. 9,41,000 is accounted for as follows :—

Provision has been made for the addition of Rs. 3,00,000 to His Highness the Maharaja's Civil List in accordance with the arrangement made at the time of the Rendition. The reconstitution of abolished Districts and Taluks accounts for an increase of about ¾ lakh in Revenue Establishments, while the Office of Inspector General of Police, Police Assistants for the two new Districts and the reconstitution of the Sub-Judge's Court at Mysore involve an additional expenditure of about Rs. 36,000. The large increase of Rs. 1,86,000 in the remuneration of village servants is due to the fact that the payments to these servants which had been held in abeyance in some of the recently settled taluks have to be paid in full, until alteration of the present system. An increased expenditure of Rs. 1,16,000 under 'Forests' is anticipated, owing to proposed extension both of felling and planting operations. Entries under "Mint" appear on both sides of the account, and are nominal transactions referring to the supply of copper and small silver coins. The Public Works Department grant being fixed at 12 lakhs as in the previous year accounts for an excess of Rs. 68,000 over that year's actual expenditure of Rs. 11,32,000. A grant-in-aid of Rs. 60,000 has been given for sanitary improvements in the city of Mysore.

The foregoing are the principal heads under which the budget for the current year provides for an increased expenditure. These increases amount in the aggregate to over 9 lakhs of rupees. But I may here add that the budget provides for a maximum expenditure according to sanctioned scale, and that savings anticipated are likely to reduce the budget provision by about 1½ lakhs.

Railway.—On the State Railway during the past year, the capital expenditure incurred amounted to Rs. 4,16,833 and was almost exclusively on the Tumkur-Gubbi section. The gross earnings of the entire system of 140 miles amounted to Rs. 4,43,021, and deducting the maintenance charges of Rs. 2,27,048 left a surplus of Rs. 2,15,973. This net income represented a return of 3·31 per cent on the capital outlay of Rs. 65,18,777 up to 31st March 1886.

Last year I explained to you at some length the nature of the negotiations then in progress for the transfer of the Railway on hypothecation to the Southern Mahratta Company. Since then, the contract with that Company has been concluded by the Secretary of State acting on behalf of Mysore, and in accordance with that contract, a loan of £ 1,200,000 has been raised by the Company and the proceeds paid to the credit of the Secretary of State. The loan, owing to the condition of the money market of the day, had to be raised at an interest of 4 per cent. The rate of guaranteed interest payable by Mysore to the Company will therefore be 4 per cent instead of 3½ per cent I mentioned last year. Also this higher rate of interest has to be paid upon a much larger capital than what I specified on that occasion; and in consequence of this, the financial forecast I then made has now to be considerably modified. In other respects the arrangement concluded appears to be identical with what I described at the last Annual Meeting, but as a copy of the contract and the further instructions of the Government of India on the subject have not yet been received, I am at present unable to give you fuller information or to say what definite financial arrangements are required for meeting the large annual liability for guaranteed interest, or for the repayment of the loan at the end of 50 years, when, by the terms of the contract, it seems to be repayable.

Under instructions from the Government of India the actual transfer of the management of the Railway to the Southern Mahratta Company was effected on 1st July 1886. Thus the interests of this wealthy and powerful Company in the development of the open line and the early construction of the extension have become identical with ours. The Company's staff will ere long take the field, and, actual construction once begun, I have not the slightest doubt that the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed.

A proposal to have a more direct and shorter line than that followed by the Mysore Engineers from Gubbi to Harihar was at one time under discussion. You will be glad to hear that His Highness' Government still adhere to their original opinion that the route most suitable for the trade requirements of this Province is decidedly the more westerly, though somewhat circuitous, one viâ Tiptur, Arsikere, Kadur and Birur; and there is little probability of this route being changed.

In view of the possible extension in the future of our Railway system in the direction of Bellary, a line from Bangalore to Hindupur has been surveyed and is now being marked out.

I give below a statement showing the entire cost of the State Railway (in construction and surveys) from the commencement up to the date of its transfer to the Southern Mahratta Company :—

Financial Retrospect.—As five years have now elapsed since the Rendition of the Province, a brief survey of the progress of our finances during that period will probably be of some interest to you. I therefore proceed to place before you a short statement showing the result of the transactions under all heads of revenue and expenditure, during the five years from 1st April 1881 to 31st March 1886.

| Cr. | Rs. | Dr. | Rs. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Opening Revenue cash balance on 31st March 1881 ... ... | 24,07,438 | Expenditure under all heads except Railway .. ... | 5,21,52,468 |
| Revenue receipts under all heads for 5 years from 1st April 1881 to 31st March 1886 ... ... | 5,52,08,280 | Expenditure on Railway Capital ... | 41,97,295 |
| Railway Loan ... ... | 20,00,000 | Total Expenditure..... | 5,63,49,763 |
| | | Closing Revenue cash balance on 31st March 1886 ... ... | 32,65,955 |
| Total..... | 5,96,15,718 | Total..... | 5,96,15,718 |

It will be seen from this statement that the Maharaja's Government started with a cash balance of Rs. 24,07,438, and that by the addition of the surplus of the next five years, it now amounts to Rs. 32,65,955, that is to say, an increase of Rs. 8,58,517 has been secured. In addition to this we have been able to invest in the construction of the Mysore-Gubbi Railway the large sum of Rs. 41,97,295, twenty lakhs being obtained by the Railway Loan of 1882, and the remainder (Rs. 21,97,295) being provided out of current ordinary revenue. Thus the total of five years' savings and investments amounts to about 30½ lakhs. This result, satisfactory as far as it goes, has not however been achieved without to some extent starving ordinary Public Works, such as tanks, channels and roads, and without resorting to the most stringent measures of retrenchment in all Departments, and in the case of some Departments, even beyond the limit of complete efficiency.

This policy was pursued, as you are aware, not with a view to accumulate an idle surplus in the Treasury, but for the express purpose of providing funds for the construction of the Railway. The importance of this work for purposes of famine protection was brought to prominent notice by the disastrous events of 1876—78, and it was commenced by the British Government who, before the Rendition, spent over 23 lakhs upon it. Immediately after the Rendition the Durbar resolved to complete it up to Tiptur at as early a date as possible, and to obtain the funds required for this purpose by a large reduction of the cash balance, by a loan of 20 lakhs and by retrenchments in all Departments. The measures thus adopted were eminently successful; for we have been able to complete the Railway as far as Gubbi (140 miles) and (but for the instructions of the Government of India in connection with the proposed negotiations with the Southern Mahratta Railway Company) we could also have carried it to Tiptur, a further distance of 32 miles. But as I explained to you on previous occasions, the extension of our system so as to connect it with that of the Southern Mahratta Company with its outlet on the Western Coast, is a work which cannot be done out of the ordinary revenue within a time which can be regarded as reasonable, or without involving a considerable neglect of the claims of numerous minor works of vital importance. From this point of view the surrender of the Railway to foreign capitalists is a measure of distinct advantage to the State. It provides within a brief period a complete Railway system which we so much need, and at the same time it leaves us free to devote our ordinary revenue resources to their more legitimate purposes.

Irrigation.—First and foremost among these stand "Irrigation Works," upon which the well-being of Mysore so much depends. The annual expenditure upon these works since the Rendition is given below :—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| 1881—82 .. .. .. .. | 3,28,368 |
| 1882—83 .. .. . .. | 2,85,297 |
| 1883—84 .. .. .. .. | 3,54,189 |
| 1884—85 .. .. .. .. | 3,41,520 |
| 1885—86 .. .. .. .. | 4,54,145 |
| 1886—87 .. .. .. .. | 6,85,800 (estimate) |

Public Works Department Policy.—You will see from these figures that the prospect of the transfer of the Railway to foreign capitalists enabled us in 1885—86 to devote to irrigation a larger sum than theretofore, and during the present year, with the completion of the Railway transfer, we propose to spend the large sum of 6½ lakhs on restoring, improving and extending irrigation works of all kinds. As our financial prosperity so much depends upon the vicissitudes of the seasons, and as years of depression alternate with periods of plenty, it is of course impossible to forecast with exactitude the extent to which the resources of the State can be annually devoted to the development and improvement of irrigation works ; but I can assure you that no effort shall be wanting on our part to assign for this purpose the largest allotments compatible with other demands on our finances. This may be accepted as the cardinal feature of our Public Works Department policy ; for, we are conscious that a vast deal remains to be done in the way of general improvements to our truly magnificent system of tanks, of the reconstruction of ruined abandoned tanks likely to be remunerative, of the restoration and, where practicable, the extension of channels drawn from the Cauvery and other rivers, of the construction of the great Marikanave Reservoir and smaller new works where required. The magnitude of these works in the aggregate is so great that we accept it as a settled principle that our annual operations on them ought to be limited only by the extent of the resources at our disposal for the time being.

Special Irrigation Projects.—The liberal provision for Irrigation Works made in the current year's budget has led to several important works being undertaken. Among these, I may make special mention of—

(i) the Rampur Channel development and extension, from which considerable benefit, I am confident, will accrue. The project for this is now before me ;

(ii) an extension of the Virjanadi Channel, the feasibility of which is at present under investigation ; and

(iii) a similar extension of the Maddur Ané Channel ; and improvements to the Ramasamudram and Rajaparamésvari Channels, which are now under execution.

That the more important of our old tanks are not being neglected, a glance at the items of the Budget will show, upwards of 150 restorations or improvements of large tanks being provided for, apart from numerous smaller tanks.

In my address last year, I described to you the proposal for the tentative introduction into a few selected taluks of a scheme for enlisting the co-operation of the ryots in the matter of the maintenance of the smaller irrigation tanks scattered over the country. It was then in contemplation to apply the scheme to tanks with a revenue of less than Rs. 500, but after consultation with experienced officers and in the interests of the ryots themselves, it was decided to reduce the 500 rupee limit to one of 300. With this modification, the scheme has been introduced into eight selected taluks, one in each District, and is reported to be in operation. The experiment is being closely watched by the Government, and I am glad to find that the local Revenue officers concerned are directing their best energies to ensure its success.

Referring to the Marikanave Reservoir, I said last year that the project was being examined by the Government. On mature consideration of the general prospects of the country and the financial bearings of this great work, it has been deemed prudent to defer further action for the present owing to the superior claims of smaller works more likely to produce immediate increased prosperity. To defer indefinitely a work of such importance is not in our mind ; for it must be acknowledged that its cost, great though it be, sinks into insignificance when weighed against what Government holds to be the imperative duty of famine protection in the arid tracts of Chitaldroog. It is true that recent professional opinion tends to show that the difficulties and risks of the work proposed are greater than had previously been apprehended by our Engineers. The cost of getting in the foundation alone across the river has been roughly estimated at 3 lakhs of rupees, and there is apparently the danger of even entire waste of that large amount, should the rock prove treacherous or unsound in any part. Nevertheless the work will not be lost sight of when funds sufficient are forthcoming to justify a reasonable expenditure in the attempt to secure a perfectly reliable foundation on which to commence the building of the great dam.

During the next few years of Railway extension, the demand on account of guaranteed interest will not allow of our undertaking so costly a work. Moreover there are, as already stated, several comparatively smaller works which have a prior claim upon us as they are likely to lead to a large immediate extension of cultivation in parts of the country much more thickly populated than the dry taluks of Chitaldroog. These considerations have led to the formation of a new Public Works Department Division called the "Channel Division" to deal with the restoration and extension of channels drawn from the Cauvery, Hemavati, Kapini and Lakshmana-tirtha. These important works are, as I before pointed out, being pushed on with vigour and may absorb the whole of our available resources for the next 3 or 4 years.

Other Public Works.—Before taking leave of this subject of special public works, I think it well to say that the wants of the Province in regard to roads and bridges are not being forgotten, and that irrigation works, though of first importance, are not being attended to, to the exclusion of our means of internal communication. These will always receive their due share of attention and of money, and I may mention that this year, whilst we have several minor roads and railway feeders in hand, we have also under execution two important bridges, that over the Hebhalla between Maddur and Malvalli, and that over the Sulikere river between Harihar and Malebennur. A project for a bridge of the first importance—that across the Yagachi river close to Belur, the pressing necessity for which was prominently brought to His Highness' notice during his tour last year—is now before me, and I hope soon to be in a position to accord sanction to the estimate.

Before concluding this section of my address, I may state for your information that the average amount of provincial revenue devoted annually to public works during the past five years is Rs. 9,90,374, as compared with Rs. 16,23,290 in the five years immediately preceding the late famine. During the current year, as already stated, it is proposed to spend 12 lakhs.

Gold Mining.—The recent revival of the Gold Mining industry under the influence of the favorable results obtained by the Mysore Gold Mining Company in Kolar promises to have an important bearing on the prosperity of the country. Mining operations are being already prosecuted with renewed vigour by several companies in the neighbourhood of the Mysore Company's mines, while elsewhere, other companies are preparing to begin or resume work. In the Kolar field especially the works undertaken are on an important scale. Shafts of great depth have been sunk through the most promising reefs, costly machinery has been erected for extracting and crushing the ore, and substantial buildings have sprung up all round for the housing of those engaged on the mines.

It is now beyond doubt that gold bearing strata have been reached and gold in considerable quantities is being brought to the surface day by day. Already have Rs. 33,368 been paid into His Highness' Treasury by one Company alone (namely, the Mysore Company) as royalty for the gold extracted. But in forecasting the future of this industry, it is needless to say that it behoves us to speak with great caution, for, in Gold Mining everywhere, there is always an element of speculation and uncertainty. But there can be no harm in my referring to a fact, of which you are so well aware, that history and tradition alike point to Mysore as a country which, in the past, produced large quantities of gold, and that there are to be seen in the present day the remains of extensive ancient workings scattered all over the country. If the experience gained in the Kolar field can be accepted as a guide, there is little reason to doubt that the extraction of the precious metal in remunerative quantities in various parts of the Province awaits only the application of modern appliances on a suitable scale. His Highness' Government are therefore prepared to afford to the enterprise—as indeed they have always afforded—every facility compatible with the rights of the people and the claims of the State. It has always been our object to attract bonâ-fide working companies to the enterprise. In granting 30 year leases of one square mile blocks instead of 20 year leases of smaller blocks as elsewhere, we have aimed at offering adequate inducement to the employment of large capital. In levying a royalty on actual yield instead of a heavy acreage assessment so prohibitive in the early stage of mining operations, we have sought to protect the permanent interests of Government without hampering the development of the mines. Our policy, though conceived on such essentially liberal lines, has not, it must be admitted, as yet attracted to the enterprize sound working companies to the full extent we anticipated, in parts of the Province beyond the Kolar field. Such companies most naturally object to pay a large price for a thing of unknown value, and their attitude of caution is justified by the experience of their predecessors who suffered from the material reduction of their working capital by the heavy prices paid to intermediate concessionaires. To what extent our present system must be modified so as to place our auriferous lands within the direct reach of sound working companies is thus a question which calls for an early solution. As at present advised, His Highness' Government are of opinion that the present stage of the mining enterprize in the Province would justify their seeking to solve this question somewhat on the following lines :—

1*st*. To leave the whole country open for the operations of prospecting parties free of charge.

2*ndly.* To guarantee to each prospector the mining rights over a fixed quantity of land, provided that he conforms to prescribed conditions of diligent prospecting by means of suitable boring and other operations.

3*rdly.* To require that the selection by him be made within a prescribed reasonable time his claim being restricted to the locality over which he has actually prospected.

4*thly.* To provide that before the Government actually make the grant, the necessary working capital shall be forthcoming ; and that in default, such prospector's mining rights shall be forfeited ;

5*thly.* To fix the extent of land for each grant so as to bear a previously prescribed proportion to the actual amount of working capital forthcoming ; and

6*thly.* To stipulate for the due commencement and prosecution of work on a scale commensurate with the extent of the grant and for a moderate royalty, regulated at first according to the proportion of gold extracted to quartz crushed, but never exceeding a fixed maximum rate on the actual out-turn of gold.

Such a system will, it is believed, reduce to a minimum all elements of risk and uncertainty for the investor. The comparatively small outlay required for efficient prospecting operations is not likely to deter the intending investor as he will be able to start such operations with a distinct Government guarantee for the grant of a fixed area, when the results of prospecting induce him to demand such a grant. By adopting such a system, His Highness' Government hope to be able to place the whole of our auriferous lands within the direct reach of English capital, and thus to ensure the extension and permanence of the enterprize in Mysore.

With a view to add to the knowledge of the public concerning our mineral resources and the history of Gold Mining under ancient dynasties, a small prospecting party has been organized for the purpose of locating on the sheets of the Topographical Survey the principal runs of gold-bearing strata as indicated by the remains of ancient workings, and for drawing up a general report on the subject after a careful examination of the whole Province. This work is expected to be completed within the next few months, after which the State will be in a position to arrange for the verification by a Government geologist of the results reported by the prospecting party and to place the whole of the information thus secured at the disposal of the public. Such information cannot of course enable one to judge whether gold in paying quantities exists in any particular locality, but an exact knowledge as to the situation and extent of the main runs and of the old workings, will doubtless be of great help to intending prospectors.

It may also be desirable to establish an arrangement under which an intending prospector may find within easy reach the means for making small borings with diamond drills or other appliances. But this is of course a matter in which the Government will not be called upon to take action until a demand for such facilities springs up.

To sum up—the object which the Government have in view is, while affording the amplest facilities for prospecting operations, to restrict grants to such bonâ fide companies as are capable of working them, promoting thereby the influx of capital for the development of a most promising industry and placing it on a practical basis beyond the sphere of speculation.

Education.—The subject of education is one which the Government regard as of the foremost importance. Their policy may be briefly summed up as aiming at the following ends : to maintain unimpaired and in thorough efficiency all the means of elementary and secondary education, and to bring them within the reach of all classes both by direct agency and by assisting private effort ; to promote a scholarly study of the local vernacular and of our ancient classical languages; to elevate and extend female education and to conduct it on a system strictly national so as to enlist popular sympathy in its progress ; to encourage higher education and train young men for the professions of medicine, engineering, &c.

Of the means adopted by His Highness' Government for the attainment of the various objects in view, the following are some of the principal. A Mysore local examination has been instituted which will lend more importance to vernacular study ; tests demanding high attainments in all branches of Sanscrit learning have been established in connection with the Sanscrit College at Mysore ; and on a large scale has been given to the Maharani's Girls' School which, from the soundness of its system, is attracting general attention as a model and a guide ; the teaching staff of the English Colleges and High Schools has been strengthened with several men of special talent, while the pay and promotion of the masters generally have been placed on a footing calculated to encourage exertion and permanently to retain for the Department the services of an efficient staff ; and liberal scholarships have been given to selected students of proved ability to go through a professional course in the large and fully equipped Medical, Engineering, Agricultural and Forest Colleges of British India.

Archæology. – Systematic archæological research began in Mysore in the beginning of the last year. The arrangements made provide for a complete examination throughout the Province of ancient inscriptions which are very numerous, and which, to judge from what have already been deciphered, promise to yield important results.

Regular archæological surveys have already been established in the neighbouring Bombay and Madras Presidencies, but it is believed that in Mysore, by its occupying an intermediate position, will often be found the key or connecting link to much that is being there discovered.

We have entrusted this important work to Mr. L. Rice, C. I. E., who by his high scholarly attainments and varied researches in Indian antiquities is specially qualified to do full justice to it. Up to the present time he has surveyed 18 taluks more or less completely, and collected upwards of 1,500 inscriptions. The results of what have been found will, from time to time, be issued from the Press where special arrangements have been made for the purpose. The Government feel confident that the researches now in progress will be the means of throwing much new and valuable light upon the interesting ancient history of Mysore.

Legislation.—In the Legislative Department, there is but little new work to report. Regulation I of 1886 (the Criminal Procedure Code Regulation) was passed into law in April last. In connection with this Regulation, the Government of India have been pleased to empower Police officers and Magistrates in this Province to exercise with respect to European British subjects, the same powers as are exercised by Police officers and by Magistrates other than Justices of the Peace, in British India beyond the limits of the Presidency Towns.

The Draft Revenue Code to which I referred last year, has been finally revised and submitted recently to the Resident. A Draft of the required subsidiary rules under this Regulation has also been prepared and is under consideration.

The Local Boards Regulation which was submitted to the Government of India by the late Officiating Resident Mr. C. E. R. Girdlestone, with an exhaustive Minute, has been received back, and is now under discussion.

Another Draft Regulation relating to Hackney Carriages in the Bangalore Town has been submitted for the approval of the Government of India.

A Draft of the "Mysore Law Amendment Regulation" has been prepared and is under discussion. It deals with all British enactments introduced into Mysore from time to time before the Rendition and provides for the verbal modifications required to adapt them to the altered circumstances of the Province after Rendition.

Drafts of Regulations on the subjects of 'Companies,' 'Prisons,' 'Prisoners' Testimony,' 'Administration of Municipalities,' and 'Administration of Forests' are also under consideration.

Anche or Local Post.—At the last Annual Meeting, I took occasion to bring to your notice two alternative proposals made by the Director General of the Post Office of India relative to the local Anche Department. One proposal was that the complete control of Postal arrangements in Mysore should be surrendered by the Durbar to the Imperial Postal Department, and that Mysore be treated in all postal matters exactly as if it were a British Province. The other alternative proposal was that Mysore should adopt all British Rules and Rates of postage and use British postage stamps overprinted "Mysore", that the Money Order, Insurance, Value payable parcel and other systems obtaining in British India, be introduced by Mysore, and that all paid inland correspondence, official or non-official, transferred from Mysore to British Post Offices or vice versa be delivered free. You were unanimously of opinion that the Department should be retained by the Durbar and worked, if necessary, at a loss. The Government of His Highness thereupon informed the British Resident that it considered it inexpedient to transfer the local Post to the Imperial system, but that it was ready to accept the other alternative proposal and to introduce into Mysore all the Rules of the Imperial Postal system and ensure complete reciprocity between the two Departments. To this communication a reply has been received to the effect that the alternative proposal in question has led to some practical inconvenience in the States to which it has been applied, and that until further experience of the system has been obtained, it will not be introduced elsewhere. The question therefore has had to be dropped for the present.

Before concluding this address, I may remind you that during the last year His Highness the Maharaja made his first tour through the Province since his assumption of the Government.

The route lay for the most part through the interesting Western Districts of Mysore where the conditions of climate and agriculture, the customs and manners of the people, are so different from those of other parts of the Province. His Highness feels that the opportunities afforded by a lengthened and leisurely progress through his dominions for seeing the people in their homes and surroundings, have added largely to his experience and to his knowledge of the country.

It is His Highness' command that I should take advantage of this meeting of the representatives of the people from all parts of the Province, to acknowledge how deeply he was impressed with the attachment and devotion manifested by all classes of his subjects. And it is his special desire that I should assure you that with the help of the insight into your wants and aspirations which a personal observation during the time passed in your midst has given him, he will devote his best energies to the promotion of measures calculated to advance your welfare.

10*th October* 1886.—8 A. M.

BANGALORE DISTRICT.

3. The Representatives assembled at the appointed hour and the Dewan with his staff and the Heads of Departments received them. The members of the Bangalore District opened the discussion. The improvement of agriculture was the first point pressed on the notice of Government ; it was urged that the Land Improvement Act was almost a dead letter, and little or no advantage was taken of its provisions, and that Government ought to lend money largely at a low rate of interest for sinking wells. In reply, the Dewan drew their attention to the fact that money was lent to the Kolar and Tumkur Districts under the Act for sinking new wells and improving old ones, and said that such help would be most freely extended to other Districts on bonâ fide applications. It was further pointed out to the ryots that very great facility had been granted to them by the removal of the old clause in the rules which required the borrower to find personal surety for the sum advanced to him, the only security now insisted upon being the land of the ryot borrowing and the well sunk or inproved. Bonâ fide industrious ryots found, under the existing arrangement, no difficulty in obtaining this State loan, and the interest which was 6¼ per cent was as moderate as could be. The Government, it was added, was prepared to extend State aid to applications other than those for sinking and improving wells, provided the projects were practical and fairly remunerative.

4. A trained midwife for the Dodballapur Dispensary was applied for, the members pointing out the immense risk which the women were exposed to, during confinement, at the hands of the ignorant local midwives. The Dewan fully sympathized with them, but said that the experience of an English midwife in Shimoga was anything but satisfactory, due to want of sympathy between the European or Eurasian woman, and the Native patient ; that owing to this want of sympathy, little or no call was made in Shimoga upon her services by the inhabitants ; and that he would therefore not hastily sanction the application. He was, however, sure that a remedy was imperative and hoped that trained Native women would soon be in the field to remove the existing general complaint. There was also another difficulty in the way of granting this application, namely, want of funds. The Local Funds could not afford the extra expenditure ; the Municipality, however, might, by additional taxation or other legitimate means in its power, bear the cost and employ a midwife.

5 On this reference to the Municipality, the members requested that the whole of the collections within the Municipal limits might be handed over to that body, in which case it would bear the cost of the midwife and the Police as in the town of Seringapatam in the Mysore District. The Dewan expressed his inability to alienate any portion of the State revenue without careful investigation and examination of figures and without previously ascertaining the effect this alienation would have upon the general revenue of the State. He promised however to call for information on the subject and give it his earnest study.

6. As in previous years, the complaint was repeated against the sale of waste lands on receipt of more than one application for them. The Dewan said that he fully understood their case and that he could not deny that there was hardship to a certain extent in the existing rules, though the hardship was not by any means so great as was represented. The existing rule directed the sale of waste lands either when more than one application was received for any block, or when there was a good number of trees standing on it, which by themselves added much to its value. He saw no reason why, in the latter case, the Government should not claim a fair price for the trees ; and the most satisfactory way of ascertaining this value was by selling it to the highest bidder. Mistakes have been occasionally made by Amildars either from want of experience or from an anxiety to avoid responsibility, by selling every land which had on it a few miserable trees worth within five or ten rupees. The rules did not anticipate this indiscretion and it would be ample remedy against the alleged complaint if Deputy Commissioners would authorize the Amildars to grant the lands to the applicants without sale provided the trees on them were not worth more than ten rupees, that amount, or any thing below it as the case might be, being treated as the upset price by Government and recovered from the applicants. As regards the sale of lands in cases in which more than one application might be received, the Dewan was of the opinion that such cases formed the exception rather than the rule, that such application indicated either the more than ordinary good character of the land applied for, or the paucity of land and therefore the greater demand for it in the village and in its immediate neighbourhood, or as some cases, it might be due to bad feeling in the village and opposition to a bonâ fide applicant, for the sake of opposition; it was only in the last case, the Dewan said, the Government ought to step in and prevent the hardship, and he would grant the Deputy Commissioners discretion to negative the sale and grant the land to the first applicant on proved existence of opposition for the sake of opposition, and satisfaction of private "zid". In all other cases, he was not of opinion that the sale was an injurious or hard proceeding. The Madras rules provided for the rights of Talakatdars and other rights more imaginary than real, but it was the opinion of several officers and competent judges connected with that administration, that those rules were by no means just. The Dewan promised to issue early definite rules on this subject, providing also for the early disposal of the darkhasts regarding which there were frequent complaints of long and unnecessary delays.

7. The revival of the octroi and sayer was advocated; it was urged that the items of taxation were old and the people had no complaint to make against its imposition, and the giving up of it was an uncalled-for sacrifice of the State revenue. The Dewan pointed out to them that the tax was not altogether given up, but that small items which yielded little revenue and caused the greatest hardship by the annoying interference of petty sayer peons were removed from the list retaining larger items which owing to the large revenue involved could not be now given up. The great objection to such taxation was that there was very little efficient check against fraud in the collections, that all that was collected seldom got into the State treasury, and that annoyance to people was great; that not seldom the rich and the influential evaded this taxation, while the poor were often subjected to undue exaction. As regards octroi and taxation within the Municipalities, he would undoubtedly give greater powers to the Board if it proved to the satisfaction of Government that taxation would not be objected to by the residents, and that it was absolutely necessary for the efficient working of the Municipality.

8. The assessing of excess land in the Brahmadayam and Devadayam inams was recommended to be given up; it was pleaded that the long enjoyment of the extent as found by the Survey, should be considered as giving to the inam holder adequate strong title to the excess as well as the recorded extent. The Dewan was perfectly in accord with that opinion; only he was not sure and nothing could prove it to his satisfaction that the excess was always in the inamdar's holding and enjoyment and that he did not gradually encroach on the adjacent waste and other lands. When this proof was forthcoming or when the boundaries were unmistakeable and the enjoyed extent was within those boundaries, he would not assess the excess; but he was informed by competent authorities, both Government and unofficial, that such cases never came up; it was therefore incumbent on Government to tax the excess and the recently revised rule was as liberal as could be wished; fifty per cent of the excess is added to the jari inam and the other half only is assessed. The Dewan did not think that greater consideration could be shown.

9. The Representatives of the Dodballapur Taluk suggested the construction of a chuttur and sinking of a well at Subrayana Kanve where there was an annual jatra in honor of the Subramanya Deity and a large assembly of pilgrims. The Dewan recommended the project for the consideration of the District Local Fund Board as the charge would be against that fund.

10. The next and last complaint of this part of the District, and a complaint which was subsequently urged by the rest of the Bangalore, Tumkur and Kolar Districts, was in connection with the recent taxation of fuel. The only argument against it was that the people had fuel gratis heretofore and that there was no restriction against their going into the jungle for fuel collection and felling. The Dewan observed in reply that villages had from time immemorial a certain extent of scrub jungle land allotted to them for the free and unrestricted collection of fuel, that through indiscretion and reckless felling the tracts so set apart were now bare of trees and that unless restrictions were placed on this overfelling, there was no chance of securing the fuel-supply of the Province and that it was in the interests of the public and not so much of the State revenue, that Government had directed the collection of a small fee when fuel was removed from Government jungles. The Dewan suggested that each ryot should grow his own fuel by planting trees on the borders of his field and corners ; such was the practice in some of the Maidan Taluks bare of jungles and forests, and the ryot's field trees supplied the demand not of the occupants only but of a large part of the village community as well.

11. Mr. Subakarna Singh and other members of the Closepet Taluk pleaded that the fee of four annas per head of cattle grazing in the Government State forests was a high charge and that it should be reduced to one anna. The Dewan pointed out that under the old rules the forests were shut entirely against private cattle which depended entirely on the pasture lands allotted to each village at the Survey and Settlement and the grazing on the unarable and arable waste lands sold yearly to the highest bidders. The arrangement was quite ample for the requirements of the village cattle ; at all events, it was as much as Government could possibly be expected to do in the matter. The throwing open of the Government forests was entirely in the interests of large breeders of, and traders in, cattle; who realized a very good profit in the concern, and who were required to pay to Government for a concession they never at any time enjoyed, the very small sum of four annas per head for the whole grazing season, which extended over two-thirds of the year very often. The charge of four annas was therefore not by any means high, and it was a check against indiscriminate rush of cattle, which the reduced one anna charge advocated by the members, would cause, thereby indirectly damaging the forests and reducing the fodder supply in the dry season. The Government therefore could not sanction the request.

12. Regarding the sale of hulbanni, the members were unanimous in the opinion that the existing arrangement was quite satisfactory, namely, that the grazing should be sold at the average price of the previous few years : it was however requested that when any part of the unarable or arable land was given out for cultivation or other purposes, in fixing the average, a corresponding deduction should be made on account of the decrease in the grazing area caused by the grant of the portion as aforesaid. The Dewan concurred in the justice of the demand and said that it was being done and attended to and he would remedy, mistakes if any, should they be brought to his notice.

13. As in previous years, the members advocated increase in the number of Government khists or instalments for collection of Government revenue ; they were told in reply that the subject was a difficult one to deal with, and it was under consideration , the Dewan at the same time inform them of the unanimous opinion of all officers concerned regarding the thorough adequacy of the existing arrangements and the absence of serious grievance. He would, moreover, warn them that it was in their power to provide themselves with funds to meet the demand easily, if they were economical and saved from the previous years' proceeds.

14. Regarding the petition for the revival of the poppy cultivation, also brought up in the previous years, the Dewan drew their attention to what he had said in the previous years, that he could not possibly sanction it without interfering with the existing arrangements in regard to the British Opium Revenue. He was glad to assure them that the State revenue from the item had by no means suffered, on the contrary had increased under the present system.

15. The members said that the disposal of the toddy contract by Districts placed the whole concern in the hands of a few Sahukars, and gave no chance for smaller capitalists; they advocated the sale of it talukvar. It was shown to them in reply, that in several taluks there were no toddy trees and that it was by no means certain that the experiment would prove remunerative to Government ; it had not proved so in administrations where the scheme was tried and the Government therefore was not prepared to deviate from the existing system at the risk of sacrifice of its revenue which was considerable. But the subject will be thoroughly investigated, and if found practicable, the system advocated would be introduced into a few taluks, if not in the next contract at least in the one succeeding it.

16. The following petition was addressed by the Rate payers of the Town of Bangalore. The Dewan's reply is noted against each point in it in the margin.

Petition of the Rate-Payers' Association.

I. Constitution and Proceedings of the Assembly.

The Dewan's Reply.

The members of the Assembly should be nominated and their names should be published in the official Gazette at least a month before the Dasara Assembly.

The Dewan never intended that the names of members selected should be kept secret. Rules would be issued on this subject.

The present practice of nominating members just before the Dasara and keeping their names in secrecy does not allow sufficient time and opportunity for the people to hold public meetings and to instruct the Representatives in reference to various subjects of local and general interest, which they wish to bring for discussion before the Assembly through their Representatives.

2. The members thus nominated may have the privilege to give notice to Government of such subjects as they may intend to lay before the Assembly, from the time of their nomination to a week before the first day of the Assembly. Government should circulate a list of such subjects among the Representatives of all taluks 3 days before the meeting.

This measure will be very useful to Government as they will know before hand what subjects will be mooted and will enable the Government to be prepared with facts and figures bearing on the subject.

3. The final answers given by the Dewan on any subject before the Assembly should be considered as Government orders and be embodied in Dewan's Proceedings within a fortnight after such orders are given.

This wholesome rule will prevent much dissatisfaction which seems to prevail among the members of the Assembly and the general public who complain that many measures promised by Government have not been carried out.

II. Revenue Administration.

The whole subject has been thoroughly discussed in the Dewan's Proceedings No. 2032-41—85, dated 5th June 1886, printed in the appendix for convenience of reference.

The Government are unable to reconsider the orders already passed after very mature deliberation.

1. The orders lately passed declining to remit a moiety of kandayam in cases where tanks are not filled by rain and even in the first year after any tank is breached, should be cancelled.

The recent orders are very hard upon ryots who pay heavy kandayam on wet lands. Various complaints were made on the subject by the people and the late Dewan Rangacharlu, seeing the ruinous loss to which ryots would be put, granted in 1882 remission of half assessment. In the neighbouring taluks of British Provinces, liberal remissions are granted in such cases. Therefore the existing order looks very unfair and ruinous to those holding wet lands and should at once be cancelled.

Answered in para 13.

2. The khists for collection of revenue begin too early in December. As at present four khists may be retained but beginning with January and ending in April.

In December the crops will not have been cut and ryots will necessarily have to borrow money from Sahukars at ruinous rates of interest. Government should demand money from the ryot just when he has got the produce of his land into his hands. Therefore collection should not begin in December.

Ample provision in the existing rules.

3. The duty on firewood should be collected in the forest and not in the place of consumption, as is done at Bangalore and other towns for the last few months.

This innovation was once tried and abandoned. Firewood cut not only in Government forests but also in inam and jodi lands is imported into towns and Forest officials levy tax on both. It is very difficult for inamdars, &c., to get free licenses from Deputy Commissioners for exporting fuel cut on their lands. Since the new procedure was introduced, the price of firewood has become doubly dear. The Forest authorities may very well guard their forests and collect the tax in the forests, but they should not be allowed to tease importers at the entrances to towns, &c.

The tax is not general; enquiries would be made; the poor mat-makers and basket-makers are exempted.

4. The duty now levied on date mats and sticks in Mysore and other towns should be abolished.

Such duty or price may be collected in date groves by contractors as is now done, but the poor people who bring mats and sticks worth a few pies should not be taxed a second time as is done now. When toddy contracts may be given in future, the contractors should be warned not to levy this tax which falls on the poorest people.

The Government will early revise the Mohatarfa Rules.

5. The duty on local industries should be abolished including loom tax.

The duty on English cotton goods in some Municipalities is 3 per cent while that on country goods is 5 per cent. This is a direct blow to the local industry which is already becoming extinct.

This is not a fact. Gardens in some tracts have deteriorated it is true, but not from high assessment. The late famine has been the only cause. To encourage garden owners and capitalists, the Mysore Government has sanctioned progressive rates of assessment on the shraya tenure, the shraya period extending according to the circumstances of each case over a period of from 4 to 10 or 12 years, an ample concession to genuine and bonâ fide ryots.

6. A total revision of assessment on gardens is most necessary for the preservation of gardens, a great number of which have been destroyed since the Survey Settlement was made.

The Settlement authorities have assessed garden lands most unfairly. On principle as admitted by the late Dewan, the enhanced rates on gardens cannot be defended. Garden land differs in no way from ordinary wet land, and Government tanks too supply much less quantity of water to gardens. Areca and cocoanut gardens are taxed at more than double the acreage on wet lands. This is therefore obviously a tax on capital laid out by the proprietor, which is objectionable on principle. This undue excess of assessment on gardens threatens to make the arecanut industry extinct throughout the Province and especially in Tumkur District. It is very difficult to introduce a new industry and even to revive an extinct one. Therefore the sense of duty to the people should move the Government to take early steps to protect this industry.

This is done now.

7. The bechirakh or depopulated villages should be given to applicants on moderate assessment or on favorable shraya tenure.

Immigration should be encouraged by this means to people the depopulated villages.

Applications will be very liberally dealt with.

8. A large tract of country is now waste. Men of property would gladly take up and improve such tracts if they were assured that some adequate return would accrue to them for their exceptional efforts in reclaiming waste lands. They cannot be tempted with the present heavy assessment on those lands, which according to the Survey Rules is liable to be changed every 30 years.

No special rates are called for.
The dry assessment on such soil is very moderate. Good cotton soil is not found in large extent in the Mysore State.

9. Cotton cultivation should be encouraged by giving lands moderately assessed or under special concessions for some years.

There are large tracts of cotton soil and consumption of cotton is increasing in all parts of India. Cotton is one of those few products which Mysore can export. This will be a source of revenue to Government and of wealth to agricultural laborers who are miserably poor.

Applications will be considered.

10. Cultivation of aloes for fibre should be encouraged. Many waste lands unfit for the cultivation of food grains may be given on small assessment for growing aloes which produce strong fibres for cardage and sail cloths.

The suggestion is very difficult to carry out. The practical difficulties in the way, such as, guarding against smuggling, &c., are great. Besides, the demand for sandal is very limited, while the supply is abundant from Government

11. The right over sandal trees grown on kandayam lands should at once be given away to such as have grown them or as may grow hereafter. The late Dewan promised to land. It is thus not worth the while of Government to enter into any arrangement with private holders or to give them a share in what has always been and what is a very harmless monopoly.

give a moiety of right over such trees to the land-holders, but it has not yet been carried out. There is no principle on which Government may lay claim to this kind of trees. The only excuse is that the right was always reserved by old Governments. It is an undeniable fact that many private individuals destroy tender sandal plants to escape from much trouble from the hands of Police, Forest, and Revenue officials and menials, since they may at their pleasure concoct a case against any man of having cut down a branch or twig of that tree. In Bangalore City itself, "Ballabrooie," Mr. Rice's residence, and other bungalows have many sandal trees growing in their compounds. It is very unfair to deprive their proprietors of any profits in the trees grown by them at a great cost. The proposed concession will greatly encourage sandal cultivation and add to the material wealth of the country.

A natural growth and no cost whatever incurred.

The existing rules give sufficient concessions to capitalists.

12. One-third of the bengar tari kandayam should be levied on lands under tanks built by private enterprise.

The Dewan is not in favor of it or of any tax upon any industry whatsoever.

13. Tax should be levied on goldsmiths since they manufacture jewels which are mere articles of luxury.

III. Educational.

A Science class is organized in the Central College. The establishment of an Industrial class will be considered, though the subject of technical education is one of great difficulty for satisfactory solution in a small Province.

1. An Industrial and Science Department promised to be opened immediately is not yet organized. This is of the highest importance to the country. In all parts of British India steps are being taken to give industrial education to people. Industrial schools to teach new industries should be opened without any delay.

Do do do

2. Night school should be encouraged by special grants-in-aid for the education of working classes in cities.

As vacancies occur, the staff will be improved.

3. The inspecting staff in the Educational Department requires thorough improvement. Better educated men can easily be had for this important agency.

IV. Municipal, &c.

1. The elective system of representation in Bangalore City can no longer be delayed, but should at once be given.

The matter will receive due consideration.

Bangalore is the 9th City in the Indian Empire and two-thirds of this city, that is, the Cantonment, enjoys the privilege for some years. Many of the Municipal Commissioners of the City do not in the least show regard or consideration to the various suggestions made by the Rate-payers for improvement in sanitation, &c., in their wards. Besides many of the Commissioners are not educated men, know nothing of sanitation, taxation or any other of the various subjects connected with Municipal administration. Bangalore public containing the most educated and advanced gentry would no longer be contented with such Commissioners.

To effect this desirable reform, the existing law need not be altered, since the Regulation of 1871 provides for the appointment of Commissioners either by nomination by Government or election by the Rate-payers.

The point will be noted.

2. The Deputy Commissioner should not be the President of Bangalore Municipality. Now the Deputy Commissioner draws Rs. 100 for Municipal work and the Vice-President is paid Rs. 150 per mensem. These 2 offices may be combined in one and the President be paid Rs. 250, the salary of a 1st Class Amildar. A few years hence, the Commissioners may be allowed to elect their own President.

The City Municipality cannot afford to resign this item of revenue.

3. Octroi duty has been abolished in the Civil and Military Station by the Resident on the motion of the Municipality. The City portion cannot retain this objectionable tax without giving much room for smuggling. Mysore Government too has abolished this in minor Municipalities. The same ought to be done in Bangalore City.

Noted.

4. The Local Funds and Municipalities Bills should be passed early so that the Local Boards may be in working order before the next Dasara to enable them to elect representatives to the Assembly as was promised by Government at the close of last year's Address by the Dewan.

The subject is under discussion.

5. The Municipalities Bill now published is not intended to apply to Bangalore City and nothing is yet known as to what Regulation will be introduced to improve the City Municipality. The Madras City Act is proposed to be introduced into the Civil and Military Station. The same may be introduced with necessary modifications into the City of Bangalore.

V. Anche or Local Post.

Noted.

Nothing was done during past year to improve this Department. The public opinion is against giving over this Department to the British Post Office. The local papers reported that introduction of Post Cards was suggested and was not sanctioned by Government. All improvements cannot be made in a day. Every year should bring one or two changes. Better educated men on larger salaries should be appointed and improvements should be made gradually.

VI. Miscellaneous.

Every consideration is shown to the Inamdar. The difficulty experienced is not so much owing to the poor circumstances of the defaulters, as it is to the obstinacy and indifference of a few minor share-holders who have other means of livelihood, and who, out of apathy, keep the demand unsatisfied and bring about the attachment and sale. The Inamdars have been treated with exceptional leniency in almost every case, and 2 or 3 and sometimes 4 years have been granted them for discharge of arrears.

Inam and Jodi villages should not be resumed for arrears of jodi, &c.

Many of these were granted by the late Maharaja and others by ancient Rajas in perpetuity. It is very unjust to resume them at a time shortly after a terrible famine when the owners were reduced to such poverty as to be unable to pay even the quit-rent, &c. Time should be allowed to pay up the arrears in annual instalments.

17. The following Memo of suggestions was then read by Mr. D. Venkatramaiya, Representative Member, Bangalore; the Dewan's replies are noted opposite each item.

The Dewan's reply.

The payment of money on account of Government demand is now entered in the Government Khate and Khirdi, and an extract from it is the receipt given to the ryot; these accounts are quite ample safeguards against fraud: the difficulty is in making the ryot insist upon getting a correct receipt, which he often neglects through ignorance or over-confidence in the Shanbhog and Patel, an evil which the Dewan understands is gradually going down.

1. At the time of collection, the Shanbhogs must be furnished with receipt books, each receipt being in triplicate, to admit of one form being given to the ryot who pays money, the second being sent to the Taluk Treasury and the third left with the Shanbhog himself. The advantages of such books are manifold. Defalcations will be minimized.

The Dewan would take time to consider; it would be a serious innovation and granting of power to inexperienced men.

2. The Panchayat system should at once be introduced into Bangalore and Mysore; the Panchayat disposing of civil cases within Rs. 20. If the system is found to work well, it may be extended to other places.

This is not necessary just yet; a relief to our courts in the civil side perhaps would be better welcome.

3. For the disposal of small criminal cases, Honorary Magistrates may be appointed at Bangalore and Mysore.

See reply above.

4. The Elective system should be introduced into the Municipalities of Bangalore and Mysore. The Civil and Military Station and Her Majesty's Territories long ago introduced this system into their Municipalities.

The abolition of these taxes should be considered by the Municipality of Bangalore. If they could give them up without detriment to the satisfactory working of the Municipality, the Government would not stand in the way of doing away with them. There is no tax on fuel, but a license fee is—and must continue to be paid for cutting fuel in Government jungles.

5. The octroi, the loom-tax and the tax on firewood must be abolished. The mode of collecting the octroi is very annoying to the people. The loom-tax deprives the weavers of their livelihood which has become precarious by machine-made cloths filling the markets. The tax on such a necessary article as firewood is a mistake.

The Survey settlement is very reasonable and its justice is acquiesced in generally; the member was requested to say which taluk was heavily assessed. He said he did not know but wanted a committee to sit to enquire. The Dewan did not think it was called for in the absence of complaint.

6. A committee must be appointed to revise the assessment in certain settled taluks where it is a hardship on ryots.

Noted.

7. It is necessary to rule that Revenue officers, on receipt of petitions, should fix dates for hearing them.

This will be considered; the difficulty was in getting the ryots to attend; one or two attempts had been made and proved unsuccessful.

8. It is necessary to open Hobli Schools for an hour or an hour and a half in the night to such of the cultivating ryots as desire it. It is also necessary to establish schools in certain important places for imparting instruction during nights.

The Dewan was not in favor of it; Government students were now apprentices in Railway workshops and those were better adapted to impart instruction than private firms.

9. Firms like Appavu Chetty and Co.'s should be given grants for giving technical education to people.

The question is under consideration.

10. The jury system should be introduced into Bangalore, Mysore and Shimoga for important cases.

The petitions are heard one day in a week in person; every day however they are received and disposed of without unnecessary delay; the Dewan pointed out that two-thirds of the petitions received were those that had no business to come to him, but should have gone to the Amildars and the Deputy Commissioners in the first instance.

11. The Dewan should hold Durbar for three days in the week for hearing petitions.

The present Council was sufficiently strong for the purpose.

12. Some Honorary Councillors must be appointed for the Maharaja's Council; and in matters or questions affecting public interest, the opinions of the members should be published.

Important Proceedings would be published.

13. Orders should issue to print the Dewan's Proceedings in the Mysore Gazette.

The scale is very reasonable as at present provided.

14. The pay of the taluk establishments should be increased.

Virtually this is done now.

15. It is desirable to grade the Revenue Sheristadars of Districts with Amildars, the Revenue and Judicial Head Munshis with Deputy Amildars and the Sheristadars of Sessions Courts with Munsiffs, so that deserving officials may change places and the importance attaching solely to Executive Officers may cease to exist.

The Inspector General of Forests and Plantations who has charge of them makes proper use of these Inspectors in the way suggested as well as otherwise.

16. The Agricultural Inspectors should be directed to go from village to village to teach ryots the mode of cultivation and the use of planting trees.

17. The following highly paid appointments may be abolished :—

The Legislative Secretary is only a temporary Officer and would cease to exist when the work of legislation on hand is wound up. He is now Registrar General as well.

(1). Legislative Secretary.

(2). The Special Assistant Commissioner of the Bangalore District.

The other officers are essential for effective administration, and the Dewan cannot do away with them just yet.

(3). Superintendent, Central Jail.

(4). Education Secretary.

(5). The Military Secretary.

No. (3) may be held as formerly by a Medical Officer.

No. (4) may be held by the Under-Secretary.

The allowance sanctioned is an accordance with rules in other administrations and cannot be modified without impairing efficiency of work.

18. Highly paid officers like the Deputy Commissioners should not get any travelling allowance. If the allowance cannot all at once be withdrawn, they may be given the actual travelling allowance.

The demand in the Public Works Department for competent officers is very great. Mr. Bayly's services are absolutely required in connection with various schemes of irrigation extensions in the Mysore District.

19. There are more officers than there are works in certain Districts and such officers of the Public Works Department should be dispensed with. The officer who was sent for carrying out the Marikanave project may be allowed to go back.

The rules for the regular conduct of the Assembly will be published.

20. A meeting for the nomination of the Representatives must be held not less than a month before the Dasara time; the names of such members must be published; and they must be allowed to have access to Government records so that they may speak at the Asshmbly.

Such a rule absolute may not be very safe; the point would be left to the decision of Judges in each case.

21. In civil suits decided exparte and in those in which claims are admitted, half of the cost should be refunded.

Will be considered.

22. The High Court Regulation allowing a Judge on the original side to sit to hear the same case in appeal requires modification.

The Member's attention was drawn to the important fact that as Mysore was bound to supply Madras with a definite number of bulls every year, the Department could not be abolished, but measures were under consideration for reducing it to the requirements of Madras and Mysore.

23. The Amrut Mahal Department in which expenditure is out of all proportion to receipts and which keeps out such large extents of hulgaval lands from ryots should be abolished.

Yes; tenders would be considered if received.

24. Some carrying company using horses may be given the contract of carrying the anché, provided they give ample securities and that expenditure under anché is diminished.

Yes; but they are not so cheap; they are rather expensive.

25. The manufacture of cumblies at Mandya, Kolar and Davangere may be encouraged by ordering large quantities from these places for the Police uniforms, if cumbly is as cheap as the cloth now used.

Answered above.

26. Resumption and assessing of lands in excess of the Inams of more than 50 years' enjoyment is bad and must be given up.

18. The Representatives of Anekal brought to notice that some of their villages recently transferred to Hoskote were very close to Anekal and at considerable distance from Hoskote and might therefore conveniently be transferred back to

Anekal. The Dewan requested them to discuss the subject with the Deputy Commissioner who had the best information on the subject, adding that the Deputy Commissioner would submit proposals if he thought the transfer convenient for all parties concerned.

19. The charge of four annas for a license for having fire arms was considered excessive : one anna was advocated. The members were told that the fee did not in the least affect the poorer classes who seldom had the chance of buying fire arms, and that the richer men who could afford to buy an expensive fire arm would not find a four anna charge heavy. The complaint was frivolous.

20. Complaint was made against the wet rates of the Hoskote Taluk at the recent Survey Settlement. The Dewan reminded the members of the full discussion of the subject which he had with them at the time, when he pointed out how fair and reasonable the rates were, especially when compared with the rates in the adjoining taluks, and how equitable they were in comparison with the old rates. He was satisfied that there was no cause for grievance and as a matter of fact, the ryots of the taluk had not found the rates heavy.

21. Ryots' contribution of labor on village tanks was then discussed at some length. The contribution was enforced under the new tank system of repairs sketched out in the last year's Dasara Address of the Dewan. It was ruled that tanks with a revenue of Rs. 300 and under should be repaired and restored (Earthwork portion of them) by the ryots as their contribution. The objections now brought forward by the members were 1st, that this contribution was very heavy, and 2ndly, that there was no reason to limit the liability ; if the principle of ryots' contribution were recognized, it ought to apply to all ryots under all the tanks. As regards the 1st objection, the Dewan said that there was no other alternative, that the numerous tanks in the Province could not possibly be repaired and restored in anything like reasonable time if the ryots depended entirely on the State annual grant, which should necessarily be limited, and that further loss of time would only tend to increase the difficulty. He pointed out to them that the demand now made on the ryot was not new, but that it was the old rule in Mysore as in all other parts of India, that the ryot should contribute under the arrangement known in Madras as "Kudi maramat" and that the State had only neglected to enforce its legitimate right to the ruin of its own and the ryots' interests. As to the objection against the limitation of this liability, he was of their opinion and thought that it should be extended to all. The scheme however would be further considered.

22. The application for an English and Sanskrit school at Anekal was referred to the Bangalore Deputy Commissioner for disposal in the usual course of business ; it was however pointed out to the members that their chief attention should be directed to the securing of a thorough knowledge of the Vernacular only spare time and energy and money being devoted to the acquisition of English and Sanskrit.

23. The revival of batayi cultivation was again advocated, and the Dewan declined to accede to this request as the system had been once tried and found exceedingly wanting.

24. The Hoskote kodagi inamdars discussed the important subject of their inams. They were during the time of the British administration either resumed or confirmed to the inamdars for life subject to a small quit-rent, their liability to repair and maintain the tanks being entirely withdrawn, and the Government taking up that responsibility. Soon after the Rendition the Kolar inamdar advocated the restoration of the inams subject to all the old conditions of repairing and maintaining the tanks in order. The late Dewan inclined to the proposal, called for information as to the number of inamdars who were willing to abide by the existing arrangement and those who advocated the return to the abandoned system. The Hoskote inamdars now said they were all in favor of the existing system, that the inamdars were not in a position to undertake the responsibility and that they had all kinds of difficulties to contend against, chiefly caused by obstinate or pauper shareholders of the inams. The Dewan promised to decide after hearing the Kolar District inamdars.

The Meeting was adjourned to 11th idem, 8 A. M.

11TH OCTOBER 1886, 8 A. M.

Shimoga District.

Present.—Dewan and Staff, Councillors and Heads of Departments and Deputy Commissioners of Districts as on the previous day.

25. Mr. Hosbale Subba Rao brought again to notice the fact that Sorab was classed for all forest purposes as maidan, whereas it should be treated as malnad. It was stated to him in reply that the question had been referred to the Deputy Commissioner for careful enquiry and report after personal inspection and that it would be finally disposed of on receipt of the report.

26. Delay, it was urged, was now caused by the system under which licenses for felling wood for agricultural and other purposes were issued by the Forest officer instead of by the Amildar. The member recommended that, to save considerable delay, the Amildar might be given the power. The Dewan thought the system was good, as it was the Forest officer who was best informed as to the locality where timber might be felled without damaging the forests. Cases of delay would be enquired into and if unexplained, would be brought to the notice of Government and severely condemned.

27. The same member further recommended that no license might be demanded for removing small bamboos and brambles from jungles for fencing ryots' lands and gardens. The Dewan concurred and said the concession would be limited to the malnad tracts only.

28. A very strong protest was made against including the matti tree in the list of reserved trees, as it was pleaded that that was the only tree useful for building and other agricultural purposes and should be granted free to the ryots. The Inspector General of Forests on the other hand objected to the petition, stating that the tree was very valuable and the ryots were reckless in cutting it down, adding that very often the tree was used for fuel. The Dewan concurred in the necessity for restriction and said he would make considerable abatement in the charge of seigniorage.

29. The often discussed subject of sandal on private holdings was again pressed on the attention of Government : it was said that by not granting a share in its yield to the occupant of the field, the Government was losing largely under the item, and that the occupant put down the growth of the plants by destroying the young shoots. The Dewan said that he would not waste time in going through the whole question, and that it was the opinion of the Government of India when the subject was before it in full detail previous to the Rendition, and it was also the opinion of His Highness' Government, that the measure suggested labored under many practical difficulties and could not be adopted.

30. A hulbanni rate was advocated for all grass lands lying waste, subject to full Survey assessment when any part of it was taken up for cultivation. The Dewan promised to give an early decision on the subject after consulting the Heads of Departments and Deputy Commissioners.

31. It was represented that the revision of village officers' remuneration under the Revenue Survey was unnecessary and subjected Government to great loss. 1st the scale of remuneration fixed was out of all proportion to what the officers received at one time, and secondly, the Shanbhogs' charges were multiplied under the Survey without any call for the measure ; the old charges of one Shanbhog being now split up into two or more, each being granted a large annual remuneration. The Dewan admitted the fact that the revision entailed on Government considerable expense, but he was sure that the measure was a true relief to the royts who were before paying the officers a considerable amount by way of mirasi, which they would not pay after the settlement, and which properly ought to be paid by Government, as the Shanbhogs and Patels were Government servants and doing Government work. The old system was an injustice on the ryot.

32. The members requested that the Public Works Department might be warned not to give contracts to outsiders against the application of villagers in whose villages the contracts had to be worked, as the villagers having greater interest in the proper execution of works, would do them better than the outsiders. The members were assured in reply that that was the strict rule of the Government, and that outsiders were entertained only in the absence of competent local men. Individual cases of breach of the rule would be severely noticed, if brought to the knowledge of Government in the D. P. W.

33. The subject of increase of the number of khists was again discussed. The Dewan pointed out that the application came without any reason from the Shimoga and other Malnad tracts, the garden owners got their crops early enough to pay the first khist in December, while the wet land owners should not in the least grumble as the wet rates were very low in the Malnad. If however the ryots preferred the arrangement, he would reduce the khists to two—January and March—months by which all the ryots would have had their crops. The members requested time to consider.

34. Complaint was made that the same cloth taxed in one Municipality was taxed in another Municipality when the trader carried his cloth to the latter, finding no sale in the first. The Dewan said that he could not interfere, that the Municipal rules should be obeyed and that each Municipality was obliged to secure its revenue, the principle being that goods were subject to taxation when they broke their bulk in the Municipality.

35. The construction of the following roads was recommended :—

1. Mambadi-Malali Ghat-road.
2. Talkuppe-Ammatti.
3. Ayanur-Serigeri.
4. Hurugerekatte-Tirthahalli.
5. Saugar-Siddapur (direct.)
6. Nagodi-Thalkuppe.

The Secretary, Public Works Department, was asked to make a note of them.

36. The creation of Panchayat Courts for the trial of small-cause cases was advocated. The Dewan said the subject was engaging the attention of Government and required patient investigation and study.

37. The members said that the proceedings in Courts ought always to be in Kanarese and Kanarese only, and not partly in English and partly in Kanarese, as the parties in cases, most of them ignorant of the English language, were entirely at the mercy of pleaders, and were besides put to unnecessary expenditure in procuring copies both of the English and the vernacular proceedings, the former for the information of the pleaders and the latter of themselves. The Dewan said that the subject had been brought up in the previous year and that he had since obtained the opinion of the Chief Court on the subject. He was of opinion that the present system could not well be altered. In all original Courts, the proceedings were in Kanarese, the depositions, the judgments and the decrees, and that when they were in English, the Courts always furnished the parties with Kanarese translation of them without cost for the work of translation, and this was ample.

38. Translation in Kanarese of Acts and Regulations in force in Mysore, Local examination in Kanarese to qualify men for service in the State, establishment of Sanskrit schools in Hoblis, doing away with the Kanarese schools in them, were recommended. The Dewan promised early consideration of them, adding that the Government had organized a scheme for examination in Kanarese; and that the rules were being published in the Government Gazette. He could not sanction the abolition of Kanarese Hobli schools which were decidedly more useful than Sanskrit schools.

39. The withdrawal of the Sawar Regiment from Shimoga was considered by the members quite an indiscreet proceeding, as that District and the adjoining District of Kadur were becoming less safe than before. Location of a regiment at Shimoga and of small detachments from it at some of the border isolated and unsafe stations was suggested.

40. Application for kumari was renewed and the members were told that no general permission could be granted, as that would have a mischievous effect upon the growth of forests; individual applications for such cultivation in certain parts of the Nagar Taluk and other thick forest tracts would be favorably considered, the same being submitted to Government through the Deputy Commissioner. The only ground to justify that permission would be that the jungles had spread and are encroaching upon the villages and the occupied lands of the ryots.

41. Mr. Nadig Sivappa suggested the construction of a dam across the Dandavati river between Udri and Kuppegudde, and said that the work would prove very remunerative and irrigate lands of many villages. He also recommended the construction of a road from Banavasi to Tilavalli as a part of the Railway feeder to Bavery Railway Station in Her Majesty's Territories. The Dewan took note of the project for consideration in the Public Works Department.

42. Mr. Sivappa requested that the Inam and Watandar Acts in force in the Bombay Presidency might be introduced. As regards the Inam Act, he was told that the proposal came a little too late, as the Inam Settlement had been completed some years back. The introduction of the Watandar Act was under consideration.

43. The revival of the old Magani Shanbhogs was asked for, but declined on the ground that there was no work for them and their interference in the village administration was often a nuisance and created factions.

44. A mistake was pointed out in the recent order of Government regarding the taxing of umbli lands; on the introduction of the Pottige Settlement, the village officers of course had no right to keep the umbli inam as well in addition to the ready money remuneration: but the whole umbli it was never intended to bring under full assessment, a certain remission was made at the Survey Settlement which the recent Government order had the effect of withdrawing. The Dewan promised to correct the mistake which was unintentional.

45. Messrs. Venkannachari and Timmappa, members of the Honnali Taluk complained against the mining companies in the Taluk, who had taken up all the gomal lands of the surrounding villages for mining purposes. The ryots were thus put to great inconvenience as the companies sold the grazing annually to the highest bidders at whose mercy the villagers were placed. The Dewan said that he could not interfere summarily as the companies had acquired the lands under deed and express contract, which gave them the right over the lands in question, but that he would put himself in communication with them with the view of alleviating the grievance as much as possible, should the ryots submit to Government through the Deputy Commissioner the extent of land they required for grazing purposes, defining the locality by giving the Survey numbers and extent or other clear particulars for the identification of the blocks required.

46. Mr. Humchada Subba Rao enquired if it would not be an improvement to reinvest Amildars with power to dispose of claims for rent from shikmidars; these cases were disposed of by them at one time generally and although there was no definite order of Government withdrawing this jurisdiction, the Amildars seldom took up such cases, which, as a rule, were being now disposed of by Civil Courts. The Dewan did not consider the proposal an improvement, as very often claims for rent involved questions of proprietary right, which a trained Civil Judge was better able to decide than an untrained Executive officer accustomed to summary procedure.

47. In reply to the same member's request for investing Amildars with powers for trying cases under the Breach of Contract Act, it was observed that the Act was a difficult Act to construe and not seldom mistakes were committed by even experienced Magistrates, bringing pure cases of civil nature under the Act and thus abusing its provisions; the Dewan enquired if the member did not include within the phrase "Breach of Service" default that might be committed by his "Jitadalu or Huttalu"; the member admitted that he did, and the Dewan pointed out to him at once the mistake he committed, as such men never could be brought under the Act. He declined to grant the power to inexperienced officers and certainly not as a rule to all Amildars or even Assistant Commissioners.

48. Construction of minor roads in the Tirthahalli Taluk was recommended, which Mr. Subba Rao was asked to submit for the consideration and decision of the District Local Fund Board who had jurisdiction over such matters.

49. He brought to the notice of the Dewan that there were several small tanks, rather kattes, scattered all over the Taluk, which were in a state of disrepair and which it was not likely the Government would ever restore, the work being very small and not remunerative. He begged that permission might be given to the ryots restoring them at their own cost and keeping them up and treating them as their hak. The Dewan saw no objection to it, provided the restorers did not disturb vested rights of other ryots under the tanks or kattes.

50. The English address read by Mr. Tirumalachari of Sulikere will be found printed in the Appendix.

51. Mr. Sankarappa of Yedahalli of the Kadur District read a paper, (printed in the Appendix), representing the views of the members of that part of the District Their recommendations were that a taluk should be formed of the Yedahalli Sub-Division, that the forest privileges enjoyed by the ryots of the Kasaba Yedahalli magani should be extended to all the ryots of the Sub-Division, that to secure extension of cultivation, and as an encouragement to capitalists, waste assessed lands should be leased out on progressive rent, extending over a period of from 4 to 6 years the assessment fixed by the Survey being heavy; that large coffee numbers should be divided into smaller blocks at the cost of the applicant, and that the matti trees should not be included under the class "Reserved." The Dewan, in reply, stated that the formation of a taluk of the Sub-Division was not necessary for administrative purposes and that the Deputy Commissioner did not recommend it when consulted He did not see that the people of the Sub-Division labored under any disadvantage by not having a full-taluk establishment at Yedahalli; at all events the question was not pressing, and might be postponed for sometime. As regards the forest privileges he said the Government rules did not at any time limit them to the enjoyment of ryots of the Kasaba magani; the Deputy Commissioner when consulted had however explained that owing to abuse of the indulgence sanctioned by Government, he was obliged to prescribe certain restrictions, evidently a fair proceeding to adopt.

52. The Dewan observed that the members were not correct in their view of the Survey assessment on the lands in their part of the country, the assessment was very fair and did not require any change. With reference to the gardens which in some parts had deteriorated in value, he was prepared to lease them on progressive tenure, the period in each case depending on the individual merits of each garden. He also brought to their notice that several such leases had been issued in the Malnad tracts. He did not think it necessary to show similar consideration to wet paddy lands for obvious reasons. Regarding the division of coffee land numbers, he said that, on receipt of applications, he would decide after consulting the Deputy Commissioner and Superintendent of Revenue Survey; he would assure the members that Government would do all it can to remove obstacles in the way of their advancement.

53. He drew their attention to what he had already stated in reply to the Shimoga members on the point of matti trees.

54. The same member advocated that tanks with Rs. 50 achkat might be given over to ryots for their up-keep. He was informed that the whole subject of tank restoration was under consideration.

55. Permission was asked to clear the ground without the previous sanction of the Forest Department around the Maland villages of thorny and other useless jungle plants which grow rapidly in the monsoons; the Dewan was not aware of any restrictions and said that the villagers were of course at liberty to do this for the bonâ fide purpose of keeping the surrounding grounds of their village free from scrub and thorns.

56. Complaint was made against the annual renewal of licenses for fire arms, the members suggesting that the licenses might be made permanent. The Dewan regretted he could not grant the request and did not think that the grievance was general.

57. In reply to the enquiry whether coffee land owners might carry timber from their estate to their houses for construction outside the estate, he said that the subject was engaging the attention of Government, that there was a divided opinion on it, and that early decision would be communicated to the public.

58. The application for an English school at Yédahallí was referred to the Deputy Commissioner for submission in due course.

59 Attention of the Government was drawn to the Civil Rule of Practice which fixed the feeding charge of attached cattle; the charge, it was said, might probably be necessary in the maidan where grass was dear; in the malnad it was almost without value and the prescribed rate was unduly heavy; it was requested that the rate might be reduced The Dewan promised to refer the question to the Chief Court.

60. The ryots of Koppa complained that they were paying the old kan shist which had been abolished throughout the Province. They were told that the collection of the shist was a mistake, and report would be called for from the Deputy Commissioner.

61. Mr. Gundappa of Chikmagalur read an address which will be found in the Appendix. The points discussed were—

Firstly, the construction of a road from Chikmagalur to the Jagar and Bababudan hills through the Kavikal saddle promised to the coffee planters in that part by His Highness during his late tour.

Secondly, construction of channel by throwing an anicut across the Kandemundanahalla stream, running to the west of the Bababudan hills, carrying the channel for purpose of irrigation through the villages of Karadihalli, Chikmagalur, Hiregauji, Chikgauji, Lakya and other villages.

Thirdly, larger collection of sandalwood from distant jungles and coffee estates which were seldom visited by the Forest Department, especially the distant jungles.

Fourthly, the great loss of revenue to Government incident to the existing system of renting Amrut Mahal kavals to Servegars for a trifling sum, while the kavals might be sold annually for the grazing on them to the great increase of the revenue.

Fifthly, re-establishment of a Sub-Judge's Court at Chikmagalur.

Sixthly, the transfer to Chikmagalur of some of the villages of the Belur Taluk situated within a distance of four or five miles from Chikmagalur, so that those villagers might be saved the trouble of going all the distance to Hassan, the Head-quarters of the District.

Seventhly, the restriction against felling timber in the coffee estates and their removal outside the estates, and

Eighthly, the advisability of granting scholarships to Muhammadan students in the schools.

62. The same member also suggested that the Patels and the Police in general might be given lists of all the released convicts, and of men having no ostensible means of livelihood, and directed to have an eye on them which would prevent commission of crimes. Establishment of Police stations on ghat roads and high roads was requested.

63. The Dewan said, in reply to the 1st point, that the construction of the road would prove a heavy charge which could scarcely be incurred with justice either by the State or the local funds to the neglect of more useful and urgent works in which people at large were interested; that the road was comparatively speaking of use to a small community of limited interests: namely, the coffee planters of the Jagar valley, that the promise to undertake the construction was undoubtedly made and will be duly fulfilled as early as possible, but they must not be disappointed if it could not be carried out at once; not certainly till the more urgent and useful demands against the local funds were satisfied, but that the Government would consider the project earlier if the interested community would make a fair contribution. As regards the irrigation project of constructing an anicut across the Kandamundan-halla stream, the idea is worthy of consideration, and the Public Works Department would discuss it.

64. The collection of sandal, the Dewan admitted, did labor under certain disadvantages; this valuable tree in the distant and out of the way jungles was to some extent neglected and the annual damage was in consequence not inconsiderable; the difficulty in the way of more extended collection was want of communication, and the very heavy outlay necessary for making the communications through very bad country. He would also add that the collection as it was far exceeded the demand. He would draw, however, the attention of the Forest Department to this subject. Regarding the loss of revenue under the Amrut Mahal kavals, he would assure them that the existing arrangement was simply temporary, that the Department was to be considerably reduced, and the kavals would be thrown open for cultivation, and that such as might be unfit for cultivation would be sold annually for the pasture.

65. The request for the re-establishment of a Sub-Judge's Court, he could not reasonably grant, as the work was light, on which ground it was abolished. He would consider the application for transfer of villages if the persons concerned made them, namely, the Representatives of Belur Taluk.

66. The rights and liabilities of coffee planters regarding the trees in their estates were under consideration.

67. On the subject of granting scholarships to Muhammadan students, the Dewan observed that he was willing to do his utmost to encourage the youths of that denomination, and would make special grants for their encouragement, not however on the sole ground of indigent circumstances, but that combined with general aptitude for study and ordinary intelligence and a guarantee that the students would not be withdrawn from study before a certain test was passed. A circular issued in July 1878 calling on Deputy Commissioners to submit names of Muhammadan youths for special grants was almost a dead letter for want of applications; of course it was unnecessary for him to add that the annual expenditure under this head should be limited to a certain sum.

68. The suggestion for the suppression of crime was not practical, and it could not be asserted with confidence that the petty Patels and the Police Constabulary would not use the information for purposes of extortion; the establishment of Police stations on ghat and high roads was a good idea, and the Dewan would assure them that such stations were in existence. Additional ones would be granted on well grounded applications.

69. The point was brought up that villagers having no pasture land were prevented from taking their cattle to the adjacent villages which had the land in abundance sufficient for their own supply and the supply of the outsiders. The Dewan regretted that such a practice should have been permitted and said that it was the order of Government that in providing the village cattle with gomal in the annual sales, care should be taken to club villages together and grant the land to them to avoid the very difficulty complained of. He promised to draw the District Officer's attention to this subject.

70. Mr. Duggappaiya of Koppa complained that the old grant of Soppinabetta to supari garden owners, withdrawn under the Revenue Survey, had materially prejudiced the garden cultivation, and that the jungles originally confined to the use of the garden owners, now being thrown open to the public, lost much of their value by indiscriminate felling. He recommended the revival of the old system under certain conditions, namely, that the sandal was the exclusive property of Government, that reserved trees might be cut and used by the garden owners to whom the Soppinabetta belonged, on payment of a certain fee, and that these owners were responsible for the reserved trees in them. The Dewan thought that the revival of the system in its entirety would be a mistake, but that every facility would be afforded and was afforded to the garden cultivators in the way of supplying them with manure for the gardens, the chief ground on which the Soppinabetta was once granted. There was also, he pointed out to them, provision in the present arrangement for supplying them with timber, &c., free for agricultural purposes.

71. Mr. Mallesaiya of the same Taluk recommended that the Amildar, instead of the Forest Department, might be entrusted with the duty of granting licenses to ryots for felling timber. He was referred to the reply already given to the Shimoga members.

72. Mr. Puttu Rao of Kigga addressed the Dewan at some length on the subject of garden cultivation. He pointed out that there were no rules under which ryots might take up fresh lands for garden purposes; that gardens seldom yielded a good crop within 12 years; that it was not possible to pay assessment to Government, always heavy, during that long period, drawing from the land little or no profit, that the cultivation was a costly undertaking, requiring large outlay and constant watching; and that unless Government granted special conditions in the way of exemption from assessment for a certain number of years, there would be no inducements for ryots to increase this valuable cultivation. He earnestly pressed the subject on the attention of Government which he said would benefit directly and indirectly by the increase of gardens. The Dewan said he would discuss the subject with all the malnad members, and requested them to think over the subject and come up with a definite proposal the next day. He thought some such arrangement as the following might be fair.

1. First three years, the land taken up would be free of all assessment.
2. The next nine years, the land would pay assessment on progressive rate beginning with $\frac{1}{9}$th, and ending with the full assessment in the 12th year, the rates being the adjoining Survey wet rates or the average survey wet rates of the village.
3. From the 12th year, full Survey wet assessment,

or

1. The first six years, free of assessment.
2. The seventh year to pay progressive rate of $\frac{1}{6}$th of the average Survey garden rate of the village, reaching the full garden assessment in the 12th year.

The members promised to represent again the next day, to which the meeting was adjourned.

---

12th October 1886.—8 A. M.

73. The subject of garden tenure was again discussed at some length and it was decided in consultation with the Heads of Departments and the Councillors that the following concessions might be granted:—

135

1. That the applicant might have the land for nine years free.

2. That for the 10th, 11th and 12th years he should be called upon to pay ¼th, ½ and ¾th of average Survey garden rate of the village, or if there be no garden in the village, the highest garden rate of neighbouring villages.

3. That for the 13th and the next following years, he should pay the full amount.

4. That within the 3rd year of the grant, the land should be entirely planted up, in default full assessment would be collected from that year, the progressive rent being cancelled ; also a fine would be collected from the applicant equal to the value of the jungle which might have stood on the land taken up, the Amildars having previous to the grant, estimated the value of such jungle, if any, and duly entered the same in the kaul granted.

The members expressed their thorough satisfaction with these concessions.

74. Mr. Halgar Sinappa suggested that the Agricultural Inspectors might be directed to start model farms at District Head-quarters and teach the ryots by actual experiments, the defects in the old existing system of agriculture and the advantages of the improved system. The Dewan promised consideration.

75. The Tarikere members requested that Government orders might be printed in the Government Gazette in Canarese ; they were told that orders which affected the public and were of general interest were being published now. With reference to their recommendation that villages which from time immemorial had more than one Patel, might be permitted to keep the full number, the different men being put in possession of the office and emoluments for a term of years each, the Dewan said that the arrangement would be very inconvenient, and that after mature consideration, the late Commission had decided in favor of one Patel, which was a decided improvement, and he would not revive an abandoned policy.

76. The other points discussed were that ryots should have free timber for building their houses ; that ryots' contribution in labor should be fixed, which it was not now ; that the Amrut Mahal kavals not absolutely required for that Department should be granted for cultivation ; that the khists should be increased ; that owing to great distance from District Head-quarters there should be located an Assistant Commissioner at Tarikere, and that the road from Huralihalli Anchemane to Benkipur was in the midst of thick jungle, giving shelter to dacoits and that the jungle should be cut down to render the road safe.

77. The members were told in reply that as they had been already informed of the views and policy of Government with reference to the existing khists and the Amrut Mahal kavals, it was not necessary to repeat what had been said. As regards free timber to ryots, the Dewan drew their attention to the existing privileges which they were enjoing in regard to timber, privileges which he might tell them, were not granted to their neighbours in the Madras or Bombay Presidency ; he could not without injury to Government interests extend those privileges which were very liberal. With reference to contribution in labor on tanks, the liability of each ryot was apportioned according to the amount of land he held under the tank ; it required no clearer definition, and if cases of unjust and heavy contribution were brought up before Government, they would be severely noticed. The request for the location of an Assistant Commissioner at Tarikere could not, the Dewan regretted, be granted, as it was, 1stly, not clear that the absence of an Assistant Commissioner was a real disadvantage, remembering that there never was an Assistant Commissioner there at any time, and 2ndly, there was other stations in the Province similarly situated with regard to the District Head-quarters, and which might with equal reason apply from an Assistant Commissioner ; the Government was not prepared to incur an extravagant charge to secure no adequate result. Regarding the suggestions for rendering the Benkipur road safe, the Dewan could not sanction the destruction of the forests ; Police arrangements should be strengthened.

78. Messrs. Sitaramappa and Lakshmaiya brought to notice that the channels from Iyanakere were out of repair. They were informed of projects for their repair.

Hassan District.

79. Mr. Surnarnappa discussed again the subject of khists, recommending increase in the number ; of Amrut Mahal kavals, proposing a good number of them might be given over for cultivation ; of the tax on fuel, protesting against it ; and of the liability of ryots to contribute in labor to the tank work of repairs, urging the withdrawal of the order on the ground of the poverty of ryots. The Dewan drew attention of the member to what had already been said in reply to members of the Districts of Shimoga, Bangalore and Kadur.

80. Suggestion was made that in taxing supari, the Government should distinguish between superior and inferior kinds and tax the article accordingly. The Dewan regretted he could not entertain the proposal as it would give too much power to the small and ill-paid Sayer servants who would have to make the distinction suggested. The existing system was fair enough and could not be modified without creating considerable opportunities for fraud.

81. The standing grievance against the Survey rules with reference to the liabilities of share-holders of an occupancy in cases of default by the registered occupant was brought up ; the chief complaint was that when default was committed by the registered occupant, the share-holders having paid up their shares of the assessment, the rule directed the sale of the whole occupancy unless the share-holders paid up the demand against the defaulter, which in many cases they were unwilling or unable to do, very often on the ground that the land of the defaulter was not worth having. Again, it was hard that the Government should ask the share-holders thus to come to its help in making up the Government demand, while it kept itself aloof and did not insist upon the registered occupant, in cases of intended sale or mortgage of his land by him, to offer it to his share-holders in the first instance, so that outsiders might be kept away from the occupancy. The Dewan said in reply that the rules were similar to those elsewhere in the British Government, that he could not interfere with any satisfactory result, with the power of free alienation ; that though the hardship urged was to some extent a fact, it was incidental to property owners ; that the only remedy could be in dividing off and defining on the ground the share of the registered holder, which might in many cases render necessary minute subdivisions of survey numbers which could not be tolerated. He promised further consideration of the subject.

82. The Channarayapatna members complained that contractors of honge trees on Government land prohibited ryots from taking the leaves for manure and requested that the prohibition might be withdrawn ; it was observed in reply that the contract was a valuable item of Government revenue, and that the cutting of leaves would damage the fruit and the prohibition therefore was necessary.

82. Request was made that the Taluk of Channarayapatna which was within the jurisdiction of the Munsiff of Narsipur might be added to the Hassan Munsiff's ; the Dewan promised to do so if the Channarayapatna people applied for it and wished the Deputy Commissioner of Hassan, present, to make the necessary enquiry and submit report. The recommendation that the sessions of the Hassan District might be held in Hassan and not in Mysore, was favorably viewed by the Dewan, who said that he was all along of that opinion and the present arrangement was sanctioned at the pressing suggestion of the Chief Court, the Judges being of the opinion that the work was too heavy in the Mysore Court, and the journey to Hassan and back would much interfere with the speedy disposal of cases. He would again consult the Chief Court on this point and likewise on a similar complaint from Chitaldroog, where also sessions should be held instead of the cases going up to Shimoga.

84. On the ground of convenience to parties and to save expense, suggestion was offered that Munsiffs might be invested with power to dispose of insolvency applications in small cause cases ; the Dewan did not think it necessary, and pointed out that the Code did not allow it. Against this application Mr. Venkatakrishna Chetti from the Arkalgud Taluk protested, stating that already ample facilities were within the reach of "the disgraceful class" called insolvents and that to increase the facilities would have a demoralizing effect. He begged that Government would not interfere in the matter unless it be to make the provisions stricter against the insolvents.

85. An irrigation project for repairing the dam across the Belur river south of Belur, Rangnatta, was mentioned ; the Dewan said he could not hold out much hopes of undertaking it : 1st, the river was a difficult one to deal with, and 2ndly, the work would not be remunerative. He would take note of the project and call for figures.

86. Defect was pointed out in the clubbing of villages by the Survey Department, which upsets the rights of Patels, the Settlement appointing one Patel for the entire block of villages, annihilating summarily the hereditary rights of Patels of the villages clubbed together. Instances were mentioned : Yelsur, Byadahalli and other villages. Enquiry was promised, the Survey Superintendent present having said that the Department did not interfere with such hereditary claims.

87. Mr. Appanna Chetti begged that Government forests might be opened for cardamom cultivation on permanent tenure, reserving to Government rights to all trees, except those required to be felled for the bonâ fide purpose of cardamom cultivation ; the Dewan could not, he said, grant permanent tenure in Government reserved forests, he would however consider applications in certain tracts ; land to be granted for a definite term ; the Deputy Commissioner was asked to take the opinion of large planters and submit report with a set of rules regulating the grant.

88. The Government was asked to take over the Rangacharlu Chûttur at Arsikere under its management, transferring to it the chuttrum establishment of Banavar ; the Deputy Commissioner was directed by the Dewan to submit proposals in due course after consulting the wants of Banavar.

89. The other points discussed were that uncalled-for restrictions existed in the way of granting for cultivation lands with date trees on them, that for the adequate water supply to the villages, wells and small kattes should be constructed, that repairs to tanks should be early undertaken, that tank beds should be reserved against cultivation, and that a line of rail should be taken via Hassan, Arsikere to Cannanore and Mercara. The Dewan said that there was no absolute prohibition against granting for cultivation lands with date trees on them, that the prohibition was against giving out date groves and patches of lands amidst date groves and the reservation was necessary to protect an important item of Government revenue ; the construction of wells and kattes in villages, he said, was a proper subject for discussion and disposal by the District local boards, the charge being met from the Local Funds. As regards tank repairs, he assured them that the Government was as much interested in the speedy execution of the repairs, but that the work should necessarily be limited by the amount of money at disposal. The tank beds, he added, were never given out for cultivation unless the tanks were old ruined tanks, the repair and restoration of which were not expected. The Railway project was too great a scheme for the State revenue ; besides the British Government would originate it, if practicable, Cananore and Mercara being within its jurisdiction.

Further discussion was adjourned to 13th, 8 A. M.

13th OCTOBER 1886,—8 A. M.

Chitaldroog District.

90. Mr. Malebennur Venkat Rao read an* address on behalf of the members of the Davangere and other taluks of the Chitaldroog District. The inconvenience of unrecognized shareholders having to suffer for the default of the registered occupant ; the opposition which villages having no hulgaval experience in taking their cattle to villages having hulgaval sufficient for their own use and to meet the demand of the outsiders ; the recent tax on fuel ; the restriction against the free use of the matti tree ; the sale of the toddy contract talukvar : the introduction of the Wattandar Act and the prohibition against throwing open land with date trees on them for cultivation and other subjects discussed by the members who had been heard already were again commented upon, and the Dewan in consequence requested their attention to previous replies.

91. The new subjects brought up were—

(1). That the local taluk authorities directed criminal prosecution for felling trees of unreserved kinds standing on the margin of ryots' fields and belonging to the ryot.

(2) That "Totis" should be remunerated in the same manner as Talaris and Nirgantis.

(3). That repairs of tanks with atchkat of Rs. 100 and under should be taken up by Government, the ryot being too poor to bear the cost.

(4). That the standing order against the cultivation of tank beds should be strictly enforced.

(5). That the ryots should not be called upon to contribute for the repairs of tanks the Government having decided upon collecting water-cess which, in the old days, the ryots did not pay and therefore did not object to labor on the tank bunds.

(6). That large amounts should be spent in sinking wells in villages for drinking purposes and the work should be given to the villagers for execution in preference to outsiders and professional contractors.

(7). That the late Harihar Taluk should be revived as the place is likely to assume great importance when it becomes one of the chief stations of the future Railway.

(8). That the Mysore Gazette should contain in full detail the orders in Kanarese of the Dewan.

92. In reply to the 1st point, the members were assured that no criminal prosecution could possibly stand under the circumstance stated ; that either the full details of the fact were not known to them or that the case referred to was due entirely to the ignorance of the taluk authorities ; they were required to take up the case before the District Magistrate or submit for Government reference with all details. The proposal of remunerating the Toti was a fair one and the point was under consideration : these village officers were remunerated by payment in grain by the ryots in the Bangalore, Tumkur and Kolar Districts, and very often complaints were made that the rate sanctioned was unduly high. Dewan promised to obtain further opinion before deciding the question. With regard to the next 3 points relating to tanks and their repairs and the liability of ryots to contribute, the Dewan said that he could not dispense with the item of contribution if the ryots required the thorough repairs of these useful works of irrigation finished in anything like reasonable time. Government unaided could not hope to take the repairs in hand and finish them, the yearly allotment in the budget being inadequate, he would remind the ryots that the irrigation cess was not imposed in commutation of the labor contribution, and he hoped the Representative Members would clearly explain the fact to the ryots and secure their co-operation. In the case of tanks with Rs. 100 achkat and less, he said he would sanction Government repairs provided funds were available, and larger and more useful works did not claim prior attention. The rule against cultivation of tank beds was strict and breach of the rules would be severely noticed if the members would report the case to Government officers.

93. The prayer for sinking wells in the Chitaldroog District was, in the Dewan's opinion, quite reasonable : the dry tract required this source of water supply more than any other part of Mysore. He explained to them that more money was spent on this kind of work in the Chitaldroog District the previous year than in any other District, and the best arrangement would be made to continue this work which it was nothing but right should be given to the villagers to do in preference to outsiders. The Secretary, Public Works Department, was asked to make a note of the point. In reply to the application for the re-constitution of the late Harihar Taluk the members were told that the growing importance of the place would be watched, and if it required a Taluk Head-quarters, arrangements would be made accordingly. The Dewan was, however, of the opinion that a Deputy Amildar would be ample to meet all requirements. With regard to the Government Gazette, he said that arrangements would be made to publish in it all general orders of Government.

94. The re-establishment of a Distillery in Chitaldroog was advocated, to which the Dewan declined to accede, as the arrack manufactured there, far from the supervision and control of the Head-quarters staff in Bangalore, was unwholesome and otherwise bad.

95. The construction was proposed of an anicut near Belakere across the stream there, which was the united flow of the Sulekere surplus water and Sagala jungle stream; another project was the construction of an anicut across the Tungabhadra near Bagadadahalli where the river cuts through a hill; this would benfit large tracts of Mysore and Dharwar. The Dewan made a note of both the projects for discussion with the Revenue and Engineering Departments.

96. Mr. Nanjunda Rao of Davangere recommended that the Representative Members should be the Local Fund Board members and Municipal members and that they should be warned not to leave Mysore till the discussions of all the District subjects were over. He also suggested that the members should be given a uniform to wear on the occasion of the Dasara Meetings. It was pointed out to the member that to a great extent the selection of members would, when the Local Fund Regulation came into force, depend upon the Board members and that though he would very much wish all the members of Dasara Assembly continue to sit till the discussions were over, he could not force them to do so. As regards "the uniform," he would not interfere; the members were quite orderly in their national costume and neat in appearance and he was quite satisfied.

97. The member contended that remuneration to Totis and Talaris should be borne by Government and not the ryots, and he was told that these officials were essential to guard the property of the villagers, their crops, &c., and that Government had little use of their services, and that reasonably the ryots should bear the cost. The other points mentioned by him were those heard and disposed of in the previous discussion.

Tumkur District.

98. Mr. Kappanna and other members of the Tiptur and the neighbouring Taluks submitted a memorandum which will be found in the appendix. In it they advocated that the Local Fund collected from Sarva Inam Villages should be devoted to charitable purposes, such as the restoration of ruined temples, construction of drinking wells, formation of village topes, construction of new roads and improvement of old ones, all in the Inam Villages only, as the object of the original inam grant by the donors was charity and as any collection from the grantees should not be utilized elsewhere than in the Inam Villages consistently with the original charitable object. The Dewan observed in reply that the Local Fund was set apart for the public use of the taluk in which it was collected, that it was not possible to separate the collections for each village and utilize them for those villages as the collection very often was small; that the construction of wells, &c., mentioned by the members was duly attended to, but the contention that the fund collected from the Inam villages should be devoted for the improvement and benefit of those villages only could not be recognized, as the improvement of the country around inam villages was as much to the benefit of the Inamdars as of the outsiders, and that the requirements of the Inamdars should as well be reasonably attended to, should be their only claim. The members were assured that the State did not appropriate for State purposes any part of this Local Fund.

99. Permission was asked to put up stone bandhs in the place of earthen bandhs. The Superintendent of Revenue Survey who was present at the discussion protested against granting the request, as the permission wherever given was grossly abused, the stones being constantly shifted about or removed altogether or small wretched stones being put up to satisfy the word of the rule. The Dewan was informed of the serious breach of the rules in the Seringapatam Taluk. After full discussion, permission was granted on the following conditions, viz :—that the entire village should apply for the change ; that the stones should be of the dimensions to be decided by the Deputy Commissioner in consultation with the Survey Superintendent ; that before the stones were set up, the Amildar should satisfy himself by personal inspection that they were of the prescribed dimensions, penalty for breach of any of the conditions or for unauthorized removal or change of stones being fine equal to the assessment of the land to which the bandh belonged.

100. Regarding the liability of Government to pay for the bandhs on waste lands, the Dewan said that this was recognized and payment was made by Government ; the cases where ryots were forced to pay for this work should be brought to the notice of Government through the Deputy Commissioner.

101. Complaint was made that the Courts of the Nundydroog Division had no second appeal as the appeals were disposed of by one of the Judges of the Chief Court. The Dewan said this was really no grievance. Members advocated the revival of a Sub-Court in Tumkur, which the Dewan regretted he could not sanction, as the arrangement once proved waste of money and strength ; there was not sufficient work for this officer.

102. As regards the members' request for an English School at the Head-Quarters of each Taluk, the Dewan said that this would be done as much as possible ; he gave them to understand that the employment of Kanarese tutors in the interior was the first important step to take and hoped they would spare no effort in securing them.

103. It was urged as a standing grievance that the Police rules directing the night watch of villages by the residents required that the number to be sent from each house should be in proportion to the number of male members of the family and not that each household should send one member. The latter should be the rule. The Dewan drew the attention of the Inspector General of Police to the point and asked for an enquiry and amendment of rules if necessary.

104. A scheme was suggested for the improvement and reform of the Lambani and Korchar castes, that they should be given advances of money and settled on land as cultivators in bechurakh villages on large tracts of waste land. It was urged that this would turn a wandering and desperate tribe into honest householders and occupants of Government land, benefitting the State by diminution of crime and increase of revenue. The Dewan was not sanguine of the success of the scheme and said that the tribes had hereditary inclinations for crime and mischief. He would further consider the scheme.

105. Early orders were solicited on the subject of Local Fund works being entrusted to the members of the Board ; the Local Fund Regulation, the Dewan said, was before the Government and would soon be introduced.

106. Government attention was drawn to the increase of dacoities in the border taluks, and the members were told that every arrangement was being made to put them down, but that much depended upon the village Patels whose vigilance would to a considerable extent discourage the inroads of these criminal tribes from Her Majesty's Districts around Tumkur.

107. The remaining points discussed were the advisability of resanctioning the wet land remission rules, introduction of panchayat system for the disposal of small cause suits, the sale of toddy contract talukwar, the granting of waste and deteriorated gardens on progressive rent, the reconstitution of the late Koratagere Taluk ; all of which had been once discussed and decided by the Government.

108. Mr. Gangadhara Rao from Kunigal recommended (1) the early repairs of Gavanikatte anicut across the Kodihalla of Kunigal Taluk, adding that the repairs of the anicut and of the channel drawn from it would amply irrigate the lands under the channel, and fill several other tanks in the series ; (2) the restoration of the anicut across the Simsha river near Chinnahalli, not far from Edavanne in the Amratur Sammat of the Kunigal Taluk, stating that the work was an old ruined dam, out of order from 20 years upwards, and irrigated once a very large tract of land now classed as dry for want of that irrigation ; (3) construction of a dam over the surplus water of Devambudhi tank near Huliyurdurga ; (4) construction of a bridge across a "Halla" on the new Kunigal-Amratur road ; and (5) the connection of this road with the Huliyurdurga-Maddur road. The Dewan promised to consider the projects in due course in the Public Works Department.

109. On behalf of the Jodi and Kayamguttadars whose villages had been resumed by Government for default of payment of the fixed quit-rent and gutta, the members requested that the villages might be restored to the owners if they paid up the arrears now, including cost of Survey Settlement introduced into those villages subsequent to the Government resumption, pleading that the inamdars had suffered much during the famine, and had consequently found themselves unable to meet the demand of the Government for the quit-rent. The Dewan regretted he could not possibly sanction such a step which would be highly irregular and encourage default.

110. The Irrigation Cess on inam villages, the Dewan said, had ceased.

111. Mr. Holvanhalli Purnachar did not think the Government was justified in selling the lands under tanks which had been restored by private individuals at their cost, and which they or their descendants subsequently had abandoned through inability to keep the work up to efficient condition ; he advocated that such lands should be given to the original restorers of the tanks or their descendants, on full assessment if they applied for the lands, in preference to selling them. The Dewan reminded the member that the individuals who restored the tanks were given a fourth remission of the assessment on the lands irrigated by the tanks in consideration not merely of restoring the tanks but of keeping them up by timely repairs ; breach of the condition led to forfeiture of all rights and the Dewan saw no reason for showing any indulgence.

112. Complaint was made that when jungle streams were utilized by ryots in irrigating their fields or in providing and securing sufficient water-supply for their cattle, the Revenue authorities imposed a water-cess on the ryots, the Dewan said that such a cess was undoubtedly irregular and ought not to be paid, but he was not sure that the member had given him all the facts of the case ; if the stream supplied any Government water works or was the kodihalla of a tank running into another tank, or other Government source of irrigation, the water was clearly Government water and subject to taxation for use.

113. Honge trees on the margin of fields, but beyond pahani stones, growing along the sides of streams were disposed of by Government as Government trees ; Mr. Purnachari urged that they should be given to the ryots whose fields were adjoining ; the Dewan replied that this could not be done as the very fact of the trees being beyond the field boundary stones showed that the field owner had no right to them ; such trees grew in great numbers along the margin of streams in Mysore and the trees were always treated as Government property.

114. Regarding the complaint repeated by more than one member of the District of unnecessarily long delay in the disposal of darkhasts for lands, the Dewan said that strict orders would be issued for their early disposal.

115. On the point of the ryot's liability to turf the tank and channel bunds the Dewan said he could not relieve them of it ; they had always done it, and he saw no reason why they should complain against it now.

116. On the subject of permanent occupancy right acceded to the tenants of inamdars in their villages, the member contended that the recognition of such a right was a great disadvantage to the inamdars and placed them at the mercy of the tenants ; he was told in reply that the right was not a new creation by the Revenue Code ; that it was a settled and well understood and well recognized rule of law in Mysore ; which defined the kandim shikmi ryots' privileges and that the proposed Code only defined them in distinct terms.

117. Free grant of thorns for fencing fields was authorized.

118. The jodi inamdars, it was said, had no easy procedure now in collecting the dues either from their hissedars or their tenants. Claims against individual defaulters were often small and recourse to Civil Courts in such cases multiplied litigation and increased the cost. Mr. Purnachari called the attention of the Dewan to this fact, and requested that Government might prescribe easy rules on the subject; the point was noted, and the Dewan added that the Revenue Code would grant relief to some extent.

KOLAR DISTRICT.

119. Mr. Seshanna representing the Goribidnur Taluk read an address recommending the following points for consideration :—

I. Conversion of Government kandayam land into inam by collection in a lump sum of 20 years' annual assessment on the land.
II. Substitution of stone boundary marks for the existing earth marks.
III. Grant of waste arable lands on shraya or low assessment.
IV. Exemption from mohatarfa tax in favor of hissedars and shikmidars.
V. Remission of a fourth in the wet assessment on lands newly irrigated under private tanks.
VI. Execution of tank repairs by the Revenue authorities; and
VII. Construction of a musafarkhana and the establishment of an English school at Goribidnur.

120. The Dewan replied that His Highness' Government was not in favor of the proposal to convert kandayam land into inam, as such an arrangement, if generally adopted by the ryots in a small Province like Mysore, might, under certain circumstances, put the Administration in embarrassments and cripple the usual sources of revenue. He also added that the arrangement was not very popular in the Governments where it was in force, judging from the extremely few applications for the conversion. He did not see why such an arrangement should be preferred to the existing one which, as long as the occupants paid the Government its reasonable demand, secured to them their property in the land. As regards the stone bandhs, he referred the Representatives to orders already passed to the effect that stone bandhs might be substituted, provided the stones were of the prescribed dimensions. He did not think there was a necessity for a general rule permitting the grant of all waste arable tracts for cultivation on small progressive rates of assessment. Where, from peculiar circumstances, such as great cost in preparing the land for cultivation, cost in bringing water to it, &c, the Deputy Commissioner found the settled assessment heavy, he would be justified in recommending progressive rates. The question of subjecting or not the shikmidars to the mohatarfa house tax was, the Dewan said, an intricate one and required careful consideration which the Government would give it early. The demand for remission of a fourth in the wet assessment of lands newly irrigated by private tanks was reasonable, and he said that the chautaya system provided for it. The orders were not definite though the intention was no doubt that on all lands that might be irrigated by the tank restored and kept in efficient state of repair by private individuals, there should be a remission of a fourth. In reply to the suggestion that tank repairs might be entrusted to the Revenue Department, the Dewan said that small works might be, and were, so disposed of, but he did not think it advisable to hand over all works. He was not sure the Revenue authorities would find time to do this work efficiently. The construction of a musafarkhana was promised when money was available. The application for an English school was referred to the Deputy Commissioner for submission to Government for orders in the usual course of business.

121. Mr. Ramanna requested that Sri Sankarachariyar's Punyadivasa might be declared a public holiday. The Dewan pointed out that no such holiday could exist, and one certainly is not observed.

122. Mr. Ramanna discussed the question of kodagi inams. He was in favor of restoring the inams, and all the Kolar members were unanimous in this recommendation. It was also brought to the notice of the Dewan that in carrying out the orders of the Government of India published in Chief Commissioner's Proceedings of 1876, both the Inam Department and the Deputy Commissioners had mixed up the provisions prescribed for the two distinct classes of inams, namely those for the construction and up-keep and those for the up-keep only, and applied the provisions of the latter to the former, thus subjecting the inamdars to considerable loss. The Dewan replied that the general question of restoring the Kodagi would early be decided by His Highness' Government, and promised to enquire into the complaint regarding the misapplication of the Government of India rules.

123. Taluk Sheristadars, it was recommended, might be invested with magisterial powers to prevent delay in the disposal of cases during the Amildar's absence from head-quarters; the members were told that the complaint of delay was not real and that the cases were with rare exceptions disposed of with fair amount of expedition and that increase in the number of Magistrates within such a small locality as a Taluk was uncalled for.

124. The members suggested that, in accordance with the mámúl in Her Majesty's Territories, the rights of talkatdars in the Mysore Province also, should be respected in the disposal of darkhasts for waste lands, and that the first applicant should not get it, nor should it be sold. The subject, the Dewan observed, had been fully discussed in the previous discussions and he was unwilling to reopen it. He was perfectly aware of the practice in Her Majesty's Dominions and he was equally aware of the unsatisfactory working of those rules.

125. It was urged that in many places of the unsettled parts of the Province, the Patels had no, or but scanty, remuneration, and that pending Survey Settlement a fair remuneration should be granted. The Dewan regretted he could not interfere and observed that the Patels were not worse off now than hitherto and an ad-interim settlement was always an unsatisfactory one.

126. The introduction of village panchayat system, it was thought, was inadvisable for the present.

127. The members suggested that the Gazette might contain all rulings of Government in every Department and of the High Court, as well as notifications of appointments and dismissals of officials and generally all papers of interest. The Dewan quite approved of the suggestion and promised compliance.

128. Complaint was made that trees planted by occupants on their fields had been excluded by the Survey Settlement and declared Government property. He pointed out that that was not the rule and that the members evidently had not full information of the cases they referred to. He would direct immediate enquiry if the cases were put before him.

129. Restoration of an old ruined anicut across the Palar, called Timmarathi Vaddu, and construction of a road from Ramasamudra to Chintamani, Tadagal and Srinivaspur, were advocated. The Dewan promised to consider the projects and also to enquire into the complaint that ryots of Her Majesty's Territories had seriously interfered with their water supply.

130. He declined to amend the Limitation Act by raising the period of limitation for ordinary debts to six years from three, as proposed by the members.

131. The remaining subjects discussed by this District were the desirability of selling the toddy contract by taluks, the revival of rules granting remission of half wet assessment when the wet lands were left uncultivated, the permission to graze in reserved jungles, the reconstitution of the Srinivaspur Taluk,—subjects all thoroughly discussed and decided more than once.

14th October 1886.—8 A. M.

MYSORE DISTRICT AND MYSORE TOWN.

132. Mr. Malvalli Anche Sitaramaiya complained that the Ramaswami Nullah was irrigating a large tract of land in former days, that from the neglect of Government and Jahgirdar of Sivasamudram, the channel repairs were not attended to and that in consequence of the neglect, a very extensive tract of land was unirrigated subjecting the land-holders under the channel to considerable loss. He prayed that the channel might be restored to its former state of efficiency. The Dewan replied that the project was under the consideration of His Highness' Government, that it was not quite certain that the water supply towards the end of the channel to which the members' complaint referred could be always relied upon and that the Jahgirdar's liability to contribute was being enquired into.

133. The member represented that the Maddur-Kollegal and Malvalli-Halgur roads were getting quite unsafe and that Police beats should be organized. The question was referred to the Inspector General of Police present at the discussion. The application for repair of the Bannur tank was considered unnecessary as the tank was in excellent state.

134. Repairs to the Narasambudhi tank, extension of Hulhalli Rampur channels, repairs to the Halepur tank, all in the Nanjangud Taluk, extension of the Chikdevarayasagar channel towards Mandya from Kalasasana, extension of the Hangode channel, and of Anandur Purna Prasanna channel and the tunnelling of the Chunchankatte road were recommended. The Dewan replied that most of these works were under consideration and that they would be undertaken gradually, funds enabling Government to do so.

135. Suggestion was made that Amrut Mahal kavals given over to Revenue Department for cultivation should be divided into convenient plots and granted on darkhasts for cultivation. The suggestion was noted and the member was told that the Government rules on the subject of these kavals would early issue.

136. Revival of Kerebandi Inam was advocated; the Dewan did not think it answered the purpose and declined to support it.

137. A general wish was expressed that applications for assessed waste should not be rejected on the ground of there being on them a certain number of reserved trees, and that in granting the applications the trees might be valued and sold to the applicants. It was observed in reply that the members must have some stray cases in their minds to justify this representation as the very fact that the lands were assessed wastes was proof that such lands were not to be reserved, the trees on them would be sold of course, but applications for cultivation would not and should not be rejected as a rule on the alleged ground.

138. The Yedatore ryots holding wet lands under channels prayed that as in Seringapatam they might be given water for sugar-cane during hot seasons. The Executive Engineer who was present, on being consulted as regards the sufficiency of water, said that the supply was not insufficient and the sugar-cane fields might be granted a fair supply in hot seasons. The Dewan directed that this might be done in future.

139. Complaint was made that land fit for cultivation and under cultivation had been added on to the channel bunds and river beds during the Survey Settlement, and that this was a hardship; the members were requested to bring up the cases, and were told that enquiries would be instituted.

140. The Ashtagram ryots pointed out that the Public Works Department in removing the silt from the channels and throwing them on the channel bunds, could easily remove the weeds as well by a very slight increase to the cost and that this would release the ryots from the liability they now labored under, unjustly in their opinion, of removing the weeds. The Dewan replied that the Public Works Department did not remove the silt from the entire bed, but from a small portion of it in the centre and that the weeds had to be removed from the entire bed. He said that the labor was slight and they had been long doing it. He declined to remit the duty.

141. The application for a road to Naguvanahalli and Melapur from Mysore was noted.

142. Complaint was made that water cess of four rupees per acre levied for supply of Government water to inam dry fields was excessive. The Dewan observed that that was the maximum rate, and that it could be lowered on sufficient grounds being shown.

143. Orders were issued for the early printing of Kanarese translation of the Criminal Procedure Code and issue of Kanarese translations of important orders of Government as requested by the members.

140

Mr. RAGHAVACHARLU.

144. Subjects not decided at the meeting of the members should be decided by a committee composed of some of the members, the Dewan presiding.

Reply of the Dewan.—The suggestion is not practical; questions not decided in the general meeting are always such as require further consideration by Government, or information from and opinion of the Departmental Heads and District and Taluk officials, which are not likely to be obtained without some delay in most cases and considerable delay in some cases. The season of the year (October, November and December) is generaly a very busy season, Officers preparing for jamabandi, &c. The committee recommended therefore would be sitting almost for 6 or 7 months, and it would be hard on members to insist upon their stay in Mysore and in Bangalore all that time. Nothing is likely to be gained by the proposed arrangement.

145. The Legislative Secretary's appointment should be abolished on the ground that he has little work which might be entrusted to the Government Advocate, remunerating him by a slight increase to his present pay.

Reply.—The Legislative Department is not permanent, it will be kept for some time longer to collect and revise the existing codes and regulations, which work requires the special study and attention of an exclusive officer, the time at the command of the Government Advocate is not enough for the purpose. The Legislative Secretary has besides the charge of the Registration Department.

146. A complete code, Revenue and Judicial, should be framed for Mysore, the Judicial including the Hindu law.

Reply.—The collection and revision have begun; the Hindu Law is neither a code nor a regulation.

147. Sufficient attention has not been paid to the collection of old Sanskrit and Kanarese works; the Educational Secretary might be assisted in this work by a competent Board of Sanskrit and Kanarese scholars empowered to go round the country, collect and copy old works of interest and use. The Board might also prepare Kanarese Text Books for Schools and Colleges.

Reply.—Noted, the subject is more for private enterprize supported if necessary by a Government grant.

148. The Maharaja's Government should confer honorary titles on deserving men.

Reply.—Noted.

149. The general rule should be that when vacancies in Government offices occurred, the Head of Departments should appoint competent men of the country if available.

Reply.—The general rule is so.

150. The Amildars travel as much as other officers and they are not paid batta, higher officers such as Assistant Commissioners, Deputy Commissioners, &c., are paid batta though better paid; this is inconsistent, the batta must be stopped or reduced.

Reply.—Mysore is not singular in this arrangement; the Tahsildars in Her Majesty's Territories do not get batta; the principle on which batta is given is evidently not understood by the member.

151. The Mysore Municipality is heavily burdened by the Police charges amounting to Rs. 25,000; this prevents works of improvement in the town; the Government may bear the charge.

Reply.—Yes, if the Municipality undertakes some other item. The Municipality is very largely assisted by State grants and it would be unfair to show it further indulgence. Large projects for the improvement of the town will always be helped by Government.

152. There has been a large increase of population in the Mysore Town and there is hence a great want of good building site; the west of the town labors under the disadvantage of want of water; the east is good; permission is requested to build on the maidans round the Karanji tank.

Reply.—The disadvantage alleged against building towards the west is purely imaginary; the Kukarhalli tank pipe cisterns are scattered throughout the parts marked off for building purposes and the water supply there is just as good as elsewhere in Mysore; the open ground near the Karanji tank cannot be granted for building purposes, as it is unfit for residence on sanitary grounds.

153. Judicial appointments should invariably be conferred on Lawyers and others who have passed the requisite Law tests.

Reply.—This is generally done.

154. The member could not see why the Patels and Shanbhogs should be remunerated by Government so heavily as under the Survey Settlement; the former arrangement was better; small inam from Government, added to miras, &c., from ryots. The Government remuneration might be withdrawn.

Reply.—There is the Survey guarantee against the continuance of miras; the Government could not now withdraw; it is not equitable to charge the ryots with this remuneration for work done for Government and not for the ryot; the old arrangement was an anomaly and unfair.

Mr. Amble Annaiya Pandit rose and protested against the proposal of Mr. Raghavacharlu who was not a ryot he thought, and could not understand the subject.

155. The Municipality of Mysore is obstructed in matters of detail by orders of Government, such as spending of money in excess of budget grants under a particular head, though the total budget grant is not exceeded.

Reply.—Obstruction is not the right word. There is the budget system in force and it is necessary that the Board should adhere to it and work out a carefully prepared budget. Explanations must be called for when budget grants are exceeded.

MR. VIRASANGAPPA.

156. He requested the attention of the Dewan to the fact of considerable extension of the Municipal Boundary of the Mysore Town, and begged that the land revenue within the limits might be made over to the Board.

Reply.—The proposition should come before Government in due form from the Board, when it would be carefully considered.

157. In disposing of old building sites, he thought the Municipality should give a notice to hakdars that might be for the sites, fixing a time for their appearance and proving their ownership, in default the Municipality might dispose of the land, the hakdars forfeiting their claims whatever they might be.

Reply.—The member was on the Municipal Board and might propose such a Bye-Law for consideration.

158. The Amildar should have all civil execution cases inasmuch as having ample knowledge of the people in the taluk and their circumstances, he would be best able to detect fraud of the judgment-debtor.

Reply.—The Amildar's time was already too heavily occupied to add any thing to his work.

159. Extension of drinking water-supply to the Town of Mysore was recommended. The Dewan said the subject was under consideration.

MR. AMBLE ANNAIYA PANDIT.

160. He was glad to learn from the Dewan's address that the Government intended giving up the tax on looms, oil-mills, carts and shops, retaining the tax on houses only. He would however point out that the tax on houses was in some places heavy, heavier than in the Municipalities and required revision. The Dewan promised full consideration.

161. A general complaint was made against the Channel officials, the Monegars and the Sowdis, to the effect that they had no superior to check them, that in distribution of water, they were whimsical and partial; that they were not under the Amildar's orders and that the Overseers and the Engineers were generally at too great a distance from the channels to appeal to.

Reply.—The Dewan was sure that the complaint was considerably exaggerated, that stray instances of partial distribution of water might occur which the Amildar should enquire into and report to the Local Engineer who would promptly punish the delinquent. The difficulty alleged however would early disappear when, like the Chikdevaraj Sagar Channel, all the sluices were put down and made permanent.

162. Agricultural Inspectors should move about the taluks and give practical instruction to the ryots.

Reply.—Will be considered.

163. Requested that a body of Siladars might be permanently located at Chamarajnagar to prevent rioting and assault.

Reply.—Will be considered. The Local Police and the Military ought to suffice if they did their work well.

164. A fair number of representative ryots should form a part of the Local Fund Board of a District.

Reply.—The rules provide for this.

165. Panchayats to have charge of the muzarayi institutions of the taluk.

Reply.—The Local Fund Regulation would give the Boards ample other work. Experience elsewhere has shown that temples under the management of Panchayats often deteriorate.

166. Complaint was made that the Public Works Department interfered in the appropriation by ryots of the products of avenue trees planted by them; it was urged that the Department should not sell the branches felled and take the sale proceeds, but should hand over the branches to the ryots. Dewan said the request was very reasonable and should be conceded.

167. Objection was taken to the levy of Rs. 4 per acre as water cess for water supplied to irrigation of dry inam land, the Rs. 4 rate was considered high.

Reply.—This is the maximum rate; if good cause were shown, it would be lowered.

APPENDIX I.

No. 2032-41—85, DATED 5TH JUNE 1886.

ORDER.—In Proceedings No. 4461—123, dated 29th August 1881, the following Rules were provisionally sanctioned in regard to the grant of remissions on account of wet lands laid waste from want of water.

I. Entire fields of wet lands or other lands irrigated from Government works laid waste will be allowed a remission of half their assessment.

II. The above rule is not to apply to lands irrigated from river channels or other perennial and abundant means of irrigation, in which case the remission will only be allowed, if the source of irrigation has breached or is otherwise not available for irrigation.

III. The above remission is not claimable as a matter of right, and where the occupant of the land is found to keep the land waste for more than one year from mere neglect and not from any want of water, or with the view of using it for pasture and other purposes, the remission will not be allowed.

2. These rules were framed with the object of relieving the ryots from the obligation of paying full assessment on wet lands which could not be cultivated from want of water, and of preventing the ryots from throwing up lands possessing insufficient irrigation at the beginning of the year and taking them up again when the prospects of water supply became more assured. There being reason to believe that these objects were not fulfilled, enquiries were set afoot in July 1885, with a view to ascertain how the rules in question were working in practice.

3. From reports received from the District and Sub-Division officers in reply to Circular No. 2197—81, dated 30th July 1885, it is apparent that the rules in question have been productive of more harm than good. They have encouraged lands being left waste by ryots through wilful neglect, and as, where the irrigation is not of a permanent kind, no enquiry even is required in regard to the insufficiency of water or the cause of the land being laid waste in the first year, there is no check on false claims to remission. Again, no remission is allowed in the case of land which the ryot may have cultivated, but the crops on which may have failed owing to the failure of the water-supply

4. There is, on the whole, a consensus of opinion that the rules in question have not afforded any relief to the bonâ fide cultivator. They have not resulted in increasing the area of wet land under occupation, nor in preventing the system, where such exists, of the ryots throwing up lands at the beginning of the year with the view of taking them up again on the improvement of agricultural prospects. They moreover open a wide door to fraud which it is impossible to prevent, except by a system of personal inspection of individual fields by superior officers; such a system cannot however be adequately worked with our present administrative machinery.

5. Under such circumstances it is clear that the existing rules require very considerable revision. The assessment on wet lands in surveyed taluks being fixed with reference to the value of the water supply in good as well as in bad years, no remission can be required in the case of individual fields laid waste from an insufficient supply of water in any particular year. The only occasion on which any remission may be called for is when the source of irrigation is breached or otherwise damaged so as to render wet cultivation in lands depending on it impossible, or when there is a general drought. In the former cases relief is best afforded by foregoing half of the assessment pending the restoration of the source of irrigation. The Survey Superintendent's proposal to remit only that portion of the assessment which represents the value of the irrigation entails needless trouble, and is not likely to be understood and appreciated by the public. The system of levying reduced assessment on lands under breached works under the designation of "Bengar Kandayam" is familiar to the ryots and is readily understood by them.

6. Under such circumstances, His Highness' Government resolve to cancel the existing rules and to promulgate the following rules for adoption from the current year 1886—87. These rules will also apply to all wet lands cultivable with Vaisakh crops in the current season, whether the land revenue on account of the same is creditable to the accounts of 1885—86 or 1886—87.

I. Dewan's Notification No. 151, dated 30th August 1881, is hereby cancelled with effect from 1st April 1886.

II. When, by breaching or any other accident, a tank or other work of irrigation becomes not available for irrigation, no remission of the wet assessment on lands situated under such tank or other work shall, as a rule, be granted for the official year during which the breach or accident occurs. Special cases in which the Deputy Commissioner may think some remission of assessment necessary during such year, should be submitted for the orders of the Dewan.

III. But, for the second and succeeding years during which the tank or other work may remain unrestored and unavailable for irrigation, a temporary reduced assessment of half of the full wet assessment shall alone be levied as Bengar Kandayam, the remaining half being shown in the accounts as a remission, without reference to any dry crops which may be raised.

IV. Lands which, by their situation, are capable of being cultivated with wet crops, notwithstanding the breach or other accident, shall not be entitled to the reduction of assessment referred to in the preceding rule.

V. In the year following the one in which the breach or other accident occurs, the Deputy Commissioner or one of his Assistants shall, after personal inspection during the cultivation season, decide once for all what lands are entitled to the reduced temporary assessment under Rule III.

VI. This temporary reduced assessment shall be adopted at each Jamabandi settlement, till the irrigation work is again made efficiently by the Government, a statement in the accompanying form being submitted to the Chief Secretary to the Dewan as soon after the close of the Jamabandi as possible.

VII. In cases not covered by the foregoing rules, no remission shall be granted without the previous sanction of Government.

VIII. The existing rates of wet assessment have been fixed after a full consideration of the value of the source of irrigation and upon the basis of an average of good and bad seasons. These rates are not liable to be reduced on the ground that the land has been allowed to lie waste.

IX. In exceptional years, it will rest with the Government to direct the grant of special remissions of land revenue for particular tracts suffering from a scanty rain-fall.

7. The above rules will be published in the Gazette for the information and guidance of all concerned.

APPENDIX II.

SHIMOGA DISTRICT.

Address presented by Mr. K. Tirumalachari of Sulikere in the Channagiri Taluk.

To the Dewan of Mysore.

Sir,

I, the undersigned member of the Mysore Representative Assembly, humbly beg to lay before you in the interests of the public the following suggestions on agricultural education in this Province for your consideration and approval.

I. Agricultural Education.—As the Government is in a position to consider these suggestions in connection with the Local Board Bill which is under their consideration, I take this opportunity of soliciting your attention to such an important subject.

Native agriculture, it is admitted by all, is gradually deteriorating. A comparison of figures in official agricultural returns will clearly prove this fact. I am sure that you have clearly perceived this with your usual foresight. I can fully calculate upon your hearty support in doing some more good to our conservative fellow country-men in their natural progress. With a view to this object, I submit the following scheme for your kind consideration, approval and support.

It has been proved to the satisfaction of Government that the present system of education imparted to our ryots and others in village and hobli schools is utterly unsuited to the requirements of the people concerned. The Local Board Bill now under the consideration of the Government makes provisions for the transfer of all these schools to the control of Taluk Local Boards. The Government have taken the responsibility of prescribing suitable text books. I hope that the course of instruction now pursued at these schools will be changed and a new system introduced so as to suit all the requirements of the tillers of soil, breeders of cattle and other minor handicrafts.

The sons of farmers and other laborers find very little in reading and mastering foreign Geography, History, Amarakos'a, Padyasara, &c., as these would be, in nine cases out of ten, of very little use to them in their after-life. The want of text books suited to the taste and requirements of farmers and laborers is a great desideratum. The appointment of a committee to investigate such requirements and compile or translate suitable books for the use of these schools rests with the Government alone. I respectfully lay before you a list of the following books that might be serviceable to the amelioration of our ryot community :—

(1) A series of story books, teaching morality, love of work, and depreciation of idleness and indolence.

(2) A geography of their own District in detail, together with a compendium geography of the Province, as is used in the Madras Presidency, dealing particularly with the agricultural, industrial, and mineral productions of places.

(3) Arithmetic with village accounts.

(4) Laws of health and sanitation, only such of the portions as the ryots can practically adopt within their means.

(5) An Agricultural class book based on native methods, suggesting improvements as to manures, special and industrial crops, agricultural implements, &c.

(6) A manual of Govaidya (గో వైద్య) containing the causes, symptoms, and treatment of various cattle diseases based on native methods and treatment.

The first four books could be prepared by the Educational Department, while for the preparation of the last two, special study of the subject is required ; and this portion of the work could be conveniently left in the hands of professional men, offering them prizes for the best production.

The preparation and mere circulation of such books to Hobli Schools produce but little good. There can be seen now in all these Hobli Schools a book on Hygeine, another on foreign scientific agriculture, and a third on the more deadly forms of cattle diseases, all lying unopened in the box. To ensure then, a thorough instruction on these important subjects, the present Hobli School masters must first receive instruction, both practical and theoretical, for a period of not less than nine months in a Normal School instituted for that purpose. Agriculture should always form one of the subjects for Amildar's test. For of all the Revenue officers, the officer that is closely in contact with ryots and their land and who has several opportunities to speak and advise on the subject of improved agriculture is the Amildar. Therefore it is highly desirable that such an important officer should be either a professional man or a candidate who has undergone an examination in that special branch of Agriculture.

The future Hobli Shekdars also must be made to personally acquaint themselves with all the methods of improved agriculture, and should be better paid and chosen from educated classes. For under the present system the Shekdar will have to serve the purpose of a Surveyor, Engineer, Forester and what not.

When these important men get a knowledge of improved system of agriculture and other industries, they would be of immense service to the ryots and the industrial community. The trained Hobli School masters can instruct the rising generation on these matters. Amildars and Shekdars who are in contact with ryots and who chiefly work under Local Boards will, with that special knowledge and authority, be able to work up the whole people simultaneously, check the Hobli School masters and guide agricultural education. Another advantage which Government can derive is, that trustworthy satistics could be collected by these men and numerous agricultural associations started in different parts of the Province; for the present executive officials have not the least idea of the use of statistics.

To realize these ends, a Normal School and an Experimental Farm on a small scale are quite necessary; the former to give an elementary theoretical education, and the latter to show practically what was taught theoretically.

The Dewan's Proceedings, dated 27th October 1884, clearly state that Experimental Farms must be established in various parts of the Districts. Nothing has yet been done in the direction of starting such a Farm.

I beg to place before you for consideration the above scheme. This may be brought to practical working system, as a tentative measure, in any of the Districts where most people meet.

II. Holding Agricultural Exhibitions in the Province.

The Mysore Province being purely an Agricultural State and three-fourths of its revenue being purely from agricultural source, any moderate sum spent by the Government in the improvement of that branch is in no way a loss to the State. There are various ways of improving the agriculture of a country. I have already stated one, viz., 'Agricultural education'. In addition to it I beg to state, holding of Agricultural Exhibitions is another means of encouraging agriculture. The various advantages which ryots can derive from these exhibition I need not point out, for it would be too long to dwell upon the subject. I propose that as there are 8 Districts in the Province, for every two Districts an annual exhibition might be held, the cost of the exhibition being borne out of the local fund amount collected within those Districts.

III. Introduction of Money-order system in Taluk Treasuries.

The public feel very much the want of the money-order system in Taluk treasuries. At present only remittance receipt is granted and this again has to be sent to the District treasury to get the proper money order, by which means unusual delay is caused in cases of emergency. At Taluk treasuries it is sometimes even very hard to get currency notes of smaller value. The introduction of money-order system in Taluk treasuries would be a great blessing upon the public. As there is a separate Treasury officer to the Taluk, this responsible work might safely be entrusted to him.

IV. Cancelling of Contribution amount.

During the close of last year, nearly 20 or 25 tanks breached in the Chiannagiri Taluk owing to heavy rains. I regret very much to bring to the notice of the Government that most of the tanks have not yet been restored although nearly two years have passed since they breached. It is impossible to describe how those villagers and their live-stock suffered for want of sufficient supply of water during last summer. Though this year there was plenty of rain, yet the suffering is in no way alleviated. Whether ryots under those breached tanks pay banjar kandayam for want of supply of water to raise a crop or pay tari kandayam, raising kushki crop, is a matter of very litle consequence to the Government; for in no case remission is granted. When petitions are sent requesting for the restoration of the tank, the ryots are pressed with "contribution amount." The ryots in spite of paying tank fund, which collection I believe is mainly made for restoring tanks and turfing and other minor works for no payment, are still pressed with the demand of "contribution amount." I most humbly request on behalf of the ryot community that this demand of contribution amount should be ordered to be cancelled.

Cattle breeding is very much discouraged in this Province, especially local cattle breeding. Any encouragement given to local cattle breeding is an encouragement to agriculture and indirectly a profit to the Government; for cattle form the back-bone of the ryots, who in their turn form the back-bone of the Government. All the best available grazing grounds are preserved by the Government for the Amrut Mahal Department. It was promised last year that some of the surplus Amrut Mahal kavals would be placed at the disposal of the public on the moderate assessment of hulgaval tenure, nothing has yet been done towards that. The Trijayi system which was to a certain extent an encouragement to local cattle breeders was also lately abolished. Under the present system of hulbanni, during summer when there is scarcity of water and grass in all villages, the cattle of these villages cannot go to other villages where plenty of water and grass are available. I know of some villages where even gomal lands have been granted away for cultivation. The cases of such villagers are still worse. I beg most respectfully that the promise given should be brought to force very soon or to grant pasture lands for grazing purposes on moderate assessment.

I beg to remain,

Respected Sir,

Your most obedient and humble Servant,

K. TIRUMALACHAR,

Representative Member,

Sulekere Estate.

APPENDIX III

To

R. VIJAYINDRA RÁO, ESQ.,
Chief Secretary to H. E. the
Dewan of Mysore.

RESPECTED SIR,

The members of the Nagar Sabha most respectfully submit the following Memorial for consideration and orders of Government at the approaching Dasara Meeting.

Shimoga is the Chief Town and the seat of the principal Judicial and Revenue Officers in the western part of His Highness' dominions. In short, it was selected as the Capital of the old and rich Kingdom of Nagar on its amalgamation with Mysore, and we are fully sensible, and with gratitude, that the Government are exerting themselves in aid of the growing importance of the Town, and to contribute towards the comfort and advancement of the inhabitants, in consideration of its great distance from the eastern capitals of Mysore and Bangalore.

We humbly submit for orders some of the wants and grievances of a public nature.

Dewan's reply.

Will be considered.
The proposed line would run not far from Shimoga.

1. The first and foremost is to connect Shimoga with the system of Indain Railway communications, on administrative as well as on social and mercantile considerations. At the last Dasara, H. E. the Dewan, in his consultation with the members of this District, had kindly mentioned that the matter would be considered, as the extension of Railway from Birur tapping the important market of Tarikere, can with much ease be taken across only the Benkipur bridge, the Shimoga Station house being constructed at the southern end of the Tunga bridge. Later on His Highness was graciously pleased to say, in reply to our humble address submitted on the 29th December 1885 at this place, that due consideration will be given to our application to connect Shimoga with the Railway line.

The Deputy Commissioner will discuss the subject in a Municipal Meeting and submit the proposal if approved of by the Board to the Government for orders.

2. The Hospital is at present situated in one end of the Town at a distance of more than one mile from the opposite end. A branch Local Fund Dispensary towards Sigahatti will be of immense relief to the patients of the western half of the Town.

The Deputy Commissioner will enquire into this without delay and suggest better arrangement if necessary.

3. The " Inquest " house is very inconveniently situated directly opposite the Durga Devi's Temple. Annual car festival and periodical feeding (Santarpanas) and worships are held and large numbers of people, shops, &c., gather around and in front of the temple. On every one of such occasions the people make a howl about the situation of the Inquest house, as hurting their feelings in a religious point of view. We pray that the house may be removed to some other part outside the Town.

The Senior Surgeon will enquire into this grievance and grant such remedy as may be possible to grant.

4. As at present low caste servants are employed in compounding medicines very often in water in the Hospital, many poor patients shrink from taking medicines at the hands of those servants as deregatory to their religious scruples, and the result is much suffering without complaint. The employment of better class of servants will remedy this very serious grievance.

Vide answer in Para 28.

5. Matti tree has been recently included in the list of reserved trees; this left the agriculturist ryots (who consider themselves the children of Government as contributing to the main part of State revenue) without any substantial timber tree to fall back upon. Some years ago when matti tree was proposed to be so reserved the great hardship the ryots will be subjected to was represented and after enquiry and consideration the question was dropped. We earnestly pray that the ryots may be allowed to have it free as heretofore.

This is under consideration of Government.

6. As Harihar is to be the terminus of the Mysore Railway system, and to all intents and purposes, the great station of junction with the Southern Mahratta Railway line, it is hoped that Government will be pleased to think it advisable to reconstitute a Taluk or a Sub-Taluk there. It is solicited that Harihar may be reattached to Shimoga to which it was always attached. It is in contemplation to start a Company to establish Kotis or ware-house at Harihar for the storage of supari produced in the Taluks of the Shimoga District, and this will add to the importance of the place.

It is very inconvenient to alter the proposed line and the Dewan regrets that it cannot be done.

7. It is reported that the Southern Mahratta Railway Company authorities are working very hard indeed with a veiw to open out the line for traffic up to Harihar as speedily as possible, and would soon after commence with operations this side of Harihar on the Mysore Line. In lieu of the proposed line vid Ajjampur-Dumi or Holalkere across an arid open country without tapping any important places, it appears to be a good plan to stretch out the line at once from Birur vid Tarikere to Benkipur and from Benkipur to take the line northward viâ Holehonnur and Malebennur, keeping the Tungabhadra river to the left, joining at Harihar. If this is decided upon, as being more profitable in the long run, we beg that early intimation may be given of the alteration to the authorities of the Company.

8. We beg that such of the points represented at the last year's Dasara Assembly Meeting as still remain undisposed of may be kindly taken into consideration.

REPORTS ON SILO OPERATIONS.

Letter No. 756—294, dated 15th September 1884, from the Military Secretary to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, to the Secretary to the Dewan of Mysore.

---

I have the honor to submit a report of two experiments made with silos at the Mysore Government Stud Farm at Kunigal—one being an underground silo, and the other a pile of freshly cut forage under an open-sided shed, weighted with stones in the manner described by M. Houles, by whom the method was successfully tried in France.

The underground silo was excavated in dry gravelly soil with no plastering of any kind, but protected from rain by a light thatched roof supported on forked posts. The dimensions were—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Length | ... | ... | 16 feet. |
| Breadth | ... | ... | 11 „ |
| Depth | ... | ... | 10 „ |

with a gradual slope of four inches from top to bottom, the cubic capacity being 1,715 cubic feet.

Work was commenced with the silo early in the morning of 28th December last when the grass in paddock No. 1 was mown with scythes, and as it was cut carted off and deposited in the silo. Before packing the green grass a layer of paddy straw was placed at the bottom of the silo to keep out any damp, and the grass was then laid on it to a depth of 3 feet, great care being taken to have the four sides well trampled down by women coolies. As it was determined to try the effect on different descriptions of forage, the following layers were successively packed and trodden down :—harriali grass at the bottom, followed by intermediate layers of chaffed oats, sorghum, harriali grass, chaffed sorghum, and harriali, with a final layer of chaffed sorghum. On this was spread a layer of paddy straw three feet thick, and a platform made of the branches of the honge tree was laid on the top and weighted with large rough rubble stones. The work was finished on the 24th January, three days being occupied in weighting, &c. The silo was opened on the morning of the 16th August, seven months having elapsed since it was closed, and the mass having sunk four feet in the interval. I had no apparatus for forcing down a thermometer to a greater depth than three feet below the surface, but the temperature at that depth was 96°, or 14° higher than that of the air, which was 82° under cover of the shed. When opened the top layer of sorghum was a dark-brown color warm and damp to the touch and containing so much moisture that on pressure a reddish juice exuded at once. The harriali grass was not so moist, but was appreciably damp and looked like inferior hay. The vinous smell from both was most overpowering, and at the edges of the silo the forage was of a different color and emitted a very offensive smell.

A cubic foot of the ensilage was cut out at 1 P. M., when it weighed 21 lb. and on being weighed again three hours after it had lost 3 lb. by evaporation under a strong wind.

In the course of the afternoon 56 cubic feet were cut out evenly from top to bottom at one of the corners, the contents being so consolidated that it required two men using a sharp spade-shaped steel knife to do it.

The mass weighed 1,099 lb. or 22lb. per cubic foot, and the stones on being weighed were found to be 31,360lb. in weight, giving a pressure of 178lb. per square foot.

Some of this forage was at once given to the farm cattle, which ~~ate it with~~ avidity, and it was with one or two exceptions readily eaten by all the horses to which it was offered. On the following day the vinous smell had passed off and was succeeded by an offensive odour which gradually subsided when the forage was loosely spread out, and when I left Kunigal it was being consumed by the farm cattle.

A cubic foot of the harriali grass was brought into Bangalore and is now quite dry and much like inferior hay, except that it retains rather a peculiar smell.

Cattle and horses eat it at once when given to them.

The pile of forage treated on M. Houle's system consisted of green lucerne and Guinea-grass cut on the morning of 27th January. On that date a quantity of this was cut and packed under an open thatched shed of the same kind; on the 28th more was added, and on the evening of that day the pile was covered in and weighted with stones.

The dimensions before weighting were:—

| | | | Feet. | Inches. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Height | ... | ... | 5 | 3 |
| Length | ... | ... | 7 | 0 |
| Breadth | ... | ... | 7 | 6 |

but in the course of a month the mass had sunk to within 1½ feet from the ground.

On being opened it was found that the top and sides were entirely decomposed and smelt abominably, but by gradually cutting away the outside portion, it was ascertained that a portion in the centre was very well preserved. The lucerne was of a dark brownish green, moist and warm, without much smell, and readily eaten by the cattle.

On the 16th August a cubic foot of this ensilage weighed 42lb. and on the 18th 40lb., showing a loss of 2 lb. by evaporation, the pressure having been 105 lb. per square foot.

A cubic foot was brought into Bangalore and when examined a week after the centre of the block was still slightly heated, the thermometer showing 83° against 79°, which was the temperature of the room at the time.

These experiments are useful, but in the case of the underground silo the work was not carried out exactly in accordance with my instructions, and the result did not appear at the time as satisfactory as was expected.

This silo took a much longer time to fill than was anticipated, and the stones used for weighting were, through a misapprehension of the orders, not covered with earth. The weight both on this silo and on the other was unequally distributed, so that a uniform pressure was not imposed on the whole mass.

The filling of the underground silo was in fact accidentally carried out somewhat in the manner described in a paper in the North British Agriculurist by Mr. G. Fry, F. L. S., Chobbam, headed "The Production of Sweet Ensilage," in which case the product is said to possess all the characterstics of hay, except that it is moist instead of dry.

The cavity from which a portion was taken out was filled with earth at once and closed, as it was considered best to reserve the remaining portion for a further trial.

I returned to Kunigal on the 8th instant, accompanied by Colonel Magrath, the Commissary General, who was anxious to see the silo, which was re-opened on the morning of the 9th in our presence and a large portion cut out for examination.

It was most satisfactory to find that all offensive odour had disappeared. The vinous smell was not nearly as strong.

A half-inch gas pipe was driven down to the centre of the mass, and the temperature as shown by a thermometer lowered down the pipe was apparently 29° centigrade, equal to 84·5° Fahrenheit. It, however, rose in 10 minutes to 32° centigrade, equal to 89·5° Fahrenheit, and the actual temperature of the fodder when the thermometer was brought into direct contact with it in the centre of a block was 40° centigrade, equal to 104° Fahrenheit.

Two cubic feet of the harriali grass were cut out and each cubic foot weighed separately with the following results :—

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| No. | 1 at 11·30 A. M. | weighed | ... | ... | ... | 22lb. |
| „ | 1 „ 2-30 P. M. | „ | ... | ... | ... | 18 „ |
| „ | 2 „ 11-30 A. M. | „ | ... | ... | .. | 22 „ |

Spread out and dried as hay weighed 13lb. having lost 9 lb. by drying.

The harriali grass was slightly discolored with white mould at the edges and for about an inch or two of the surface, otherwise it was moist, sound and sweet, and was eaten greedily by cattle as well as by the horses.

The chaffed sorghum contained more moisture, but was in admirable condition, and was eaten readily by all the animals except one or two. In some cases they left the green grass which they were eating and took the ensilage in preference.

Colonel Magrath and myself were entirely satisfied with the success of the experiment, which has shown clearly that green forage can be stored and preserved with less difficulty and labor than hay.

The experiment with the surface silo showed that green lucerne and Guinea-grass were more easily compressed than harriali ; and from the condition of the lucerne in the centre, I have no doubt that if the forage had been in an underground air-tight silo, the whole would have been in excellent condition.

The pressure in both of these silos does not, however, appear to have been nearly as great as is recommended elsewhere, and it might apparently be increased with advantage to 300lb. per square foot, the weight being calculated and arranged previously instead of being, as in this case, put on by guess.

There seems to be no necessity for cutting up grass lucerne or Guinea-grass ; but the chaffed sorghum was found to be a very convenient form for giving it to animals. As required, quantities were at once lifted out and carried away in baskets.

A point on which also I entertain no doubt is that in practice it will be found better to have a number of silos of a comparatively small size than a few large ones. It is impossible to fill, weight, and close a large silo without great delay and interruption, and the carriage of the grass from a distance adds to the trouble and expense.

The trials to be made in the Amrit Mahal Kavals will, therefore, be with silos of the dimensions recommended by Sir Herbert Macpherson, who has very kindly given me much information on the subject, and who has shown by his own experiments that the most convenient and easily filled silo contains the grass of from 2 to 6 acres cut from the land immediately surrounding the silo.

REPORT ON SILO OPERATIONS, HUNSUR, 1885—86,

by Colonel A. C. Hay, Officer in charge of the Amrut Mahal Department.

Nine silos were filled at Hunsur in 1885 ; a statement showing the measurements, contents, dates of filling, cost per ton and other particulars is appended. A few observations on the operations conducted may prove of use.

Silo No. 1—dimensions 32′ × 12′ × 8′—was filled in November 1884 as per report for that year (Silo No. 3 of 1884) ; the silo was opened on the 31st October 1885 and a small quantity taken out, the smell was strong but not offensive and the silage which was moist and of good color was eaten readily by the cattle ; as it is desired to test the length of time for which silage may be kept, the silo has not again been opened.

Silo No. 2—dimensions 32′ × 12 × 8′—was filled in September 1885 with green cholam, not yet opened.

Silo No. 3—dimensions 32′ × 12′ × 9′—was filled in October 1885 with karada grass, not yet opened.

148

Silo No. 4—dimensions 32′ × 12′ × 8′—filled in November 1885; 2′ of hay and 2′ of green grass was put in the silo on the first day, the hay being at the bottom, on the third day the temperature had only risen to 99° F. when another 3′ of green grass was put in, on the fourth day the temperature was 121° F. and again 3′ of green grass was put in, on the sixth day the temperature was 124° F. when the silo was filled to the top and covered.

The grass was cut in the morning and laid in small heaps until about 2 P. M., when it was put into silo, the temperature never exceeded 124° F.

When opened, the silage was of a bright brown color, moist and the smell very much resembling new clover hay, the grass had sunk down 2½′ and weighed 40lbs. per cubic foot. Issued to working bullocks and sick cattle.

Silo No. 5—dimensions 32′ × 12′ × 7′—was filled in November 1885, with the same kind of grass as No. 4, freshly cut and wet with dew; 5′ of green grass was put in each day, the temperature rose to 133° F. On opening, the silage had a strong and offensive smell, very moist, and of a dark-brown color, but was eaten by cattle as readily as the contents of No. 4; the grass had sunk down 2½′ and weighed 45 lbs. per cubic foot; issued to working bullocks and sick cattle.

Silo No. 6—6′ diam. 9′ deep, small experimental silo filled with gemjain grass, a long tough grass opened on the 28th June 1886, cattle refused to eat it. This grass is not eaten by cattle even when growing green.

Silo No. 7—6′ diam. 8′ deep.

Same as No. 6.

Silo No. 8—dimensions 32′ × 12′ × 8′—was filled in October 1885 in 2 days, no temperature or other observations taken, contents course jungle grasses; when opened, found good and eaten readily by cattle, grass had sunk down 3′ below the top of silo; weight 43 lbs. per cubic foot; issued to steers and home-herd cows and calves.

Silo No. 9—dimensions 42′ × 9′ × 10′—same as No. 8. Grass had sunk down 2½′; weight 45 lbs. per cubic foot, issued to steers and home-herd cows and calves.

Silo No. 10—dimensions 42′ × 9′ × 10′—was filled in December 1885, with course grass from the bed of a tank. When opened, it was found that the grass had sunk down 3′ and weighed 43 lbs. per cubic foot, the silage had a very offensive smell, but was eaten by the cattle readily; about a foot from the bottom the silage was mouldly and rotten.

The whole of the silos were trodden down by elephant except Nos. 6 and 7 and were then covered with the excavated earth; the average weight of pressure per square foot was from 210 to 244 lbs. The cattle fed on silage improved very much in condition especially the young steers which were very low but are now equal to what they are at any time during the year; the improvement may, however, be partly attributed to a few showers of rain which fell in May and brought up the young grass in the kavals in which the cattle were grazing. When first fed on ensilage, the cattle suffered from diarrhœa which only lasted a short time, viz. 14 to 21 days.

A number of working bullocks were weighed and a statement of weights as taken on 21st April and 30th June 1886 is appended.

Four cows were obtained for experiment, two to be fed on ensilage and two on the same kind of grass made into hay; a table showing weights of cows and calves on different dates is also appended. Observations on the yield of milk show that the yield of the two cows fed on ensilage increased at the end of one month about 80 per cent and at the end of the second month to nearly 200 per cent, at the same time the cows and calves improved in condition, while the yield of milk from the cows fed on dry grass became gradually less and at the end of two months was about 30 per cent worse than at the commencement of the experiment.

The cost per ton of ensilage is Rs. 1—1—6 which will be reduced next year as a mowing machine has been received for the use of the Depôt.

I append a report from the Chaudri in charge of the cattle fed on ensilage at Kodagihalli.

The warrant officer in charge also noticed the same symptoms in the case of the young steers fed on ensilage, but he attributed it to their previous weakly condition as the silo at other places did not produce similar effects on strong and healthy cattle and the steers were not affected after the first few days.

This is the first instance, I have heard of, in which the use of ensilage has produced any peculiar effects

The description given to me verbally was that the cattle after eating the fodder lay down and appeared very dull and disinclined to move and if made to get up seemed for some little time to be very unsteady on their legs, this however soon passed off and no bad effects followed.

I. A. PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY.

2. Character of the Surface.

| Nature of different Tracts. | Names, Area and Physical Description of each Tract. | Where situated, in British or Native Territory. | Prevailing Soils, Minerals and Products. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Mountains and elevated Tracts. | The Mysore country above the ghats is often called the "Table Land," a denomination very little descriptive of its appearance, as it is by no means plain or flat, but in some parts mountainous, and every where undulating. The Eastern Ghats form the frontier by which it is separated from the Carnatic. They constitute the exterior of the east ranges of hills, which run along the whole length of the Peninsula from Cape Comorin, stretching up to the Continent of Asia. In many parts the ascent over them into Mysore is very high and difficult, while in others it is more sloping and protracted. The country rises gradually from these ghats towards Bangalore, which is situated in the most elevated portion of the Mysore plateau, and is 3,031 feet above the sea level. | | The soils, in the order of their prevailing kinds are as follows :—1. Red soil mixed with loam and vegetable mould.2. Inferior red sandy soil.3. Black cotton, free from stones.4. Stony and gravelly soil.5. Rich garden soil.6. White stiff loam.7. Black cotton, but light and stony.8. Soil impregnated with salt. |
| Plains. | The descent from Bangalore on all sides is perceptible though not rapid. On the north-west, after passing the Chitaldroog range of hills, there is a gradual fall through the broad valley which leads to the river Tungabhadra, near which is the station of Harihar, probably the lowest point in Mysore, its altitude above the sea being only 1,800 feet. To the south-west and west by Seringapatam and Hassan, there is perhaps a more marked descent, until it is abruptly terminated by the western range of ghats comprising in this direction the Nilgiri and Coorg hills, and further north, the Manjarabad and Nagar ranges.A marked feature of the country is the number of isolated hills called Droogs, on the most inaccessible of which the former Pallegars or petty chiefs built forts, afterwards in many instances strengthened and improved by Hyder and Tippu, and still in good preservation, but now without guns. | | The great rock, which may be said to constitute the basis of the whole country, is a kind of sienite, composed for the most part of four different ingredients, viz, quartz, felspar, hornblende and mica. The quartz has usually a dull greyish white color, and veins of it from 4 to 10 inches thick, often traverse the rock in different directions. The felspar varies in color from a silver white to a deep brick red, and is the most copious constituent of the rock. The hornblende is black, very abundant, and very much given to decomposition. The mica is easily distinguished from the hornblende, even when the stone is nearly in a state of disintegration. The hornblende in that state has assumed a brown ochre color, and has lost all lustre and cohesion, while the mica retains both its color, lustre and cohesion to the last, and becomes only more apparent by the progress of disintegration. This is particularly exemplified in the Mysore country, where the undulating high ground consists of sienite, decomposed into pipe clay, intermixed with micaceous shining particles and grains of quartz. From the structure of the country, which is entirely primitive, no coals could be expected. |
| Forests. | The principal forests are found clothing the sides of the western mountains. They abound in teak, blackwood and other valuable kinds of timber. There are no forests in the Eastern Ghats. Sandalwood grows in the country bordering the hills. | | |
| Rivers. | The Tunga and Bhadra rise in the north-west of Mysore and uniting form the Tungabhadra, which flows northwards and eastwards till it joins the Krishna below Kurnool. The banks of Tungabhadra are too high for irrigation purposes. The Cauvery rises in Coorg and passes through and out of Mysore in a south-easterly direction, after receiving the Hemavati, the Lokapavani, the Shamsha, and the Arkavati from the north, and the Lakshmantirtha and the Kapani from the south. The Cauvery and its tributaries supply numerous irrigation channels and tanks. The Pennair, the Palar and Penar rise in the eastern part of Mysore, in their short course through which their waters are detained and converted into chains of tanks. They become large rivers before they reach the sea.None of these rivers are suitable for navigation. | | Chlorite slate is found near Sira, and drawing slate in the neighbourhood of Chitaldroog. Other minerals are the following :—Clay Iron stone.Schorl in quartz.Mica slate.Magnetic Iron stone.Pot stone.Actinolite.Ligniform Asbestos.Brown Spar.Common Salt.Carbonate of soda.Gold is found near Betmangala by washing the alluvial soil. |
| Lakes. | There are no natural lakes in Mysore ; but there are nearly 20,000 artificial reservoirs, some of which are of considerable magnitude. | | The chief products are :—Paddy.Ragi—the principal food of the people.Ballar—a kind of small bean.Gram.Wheat.Millet.Oil seeds.Sugar-cane.Cotton.Hemp.Tobacco.Mulberry.Coffee.Cocoanuts.Betel-nuts.Potatoes for export. |
| Marshes. | None of any consequence. | | |
